City Elections In November?

Councilmen learned Monday evening that they have until Jan. 22 to act on an odd year election bill passed last month by the legislature in Lansing.

Their decision will determine whether city elections will be held in the spring, as in effect now, or on odd years in the fall. One purpose of the bill is to save monies by fewer elections.

Council has the choice of continuing elections here as in the past. If officials decide in favor of the bill, those in office now would continue their terms until November 1971.

It was pointed out that new councilmen elected in the fall would have a few months to become acquainted with city affairs before tackling the next fiscal budget. At the present, officials are elected in April and almost immediately face the task of reviewing and approving a new budget.

Although it was not clarified at Monday evening's session, terms in office could run for four years, instead of the maximum two at the present. Several officials felt four years was too long, and also stated preference for staggered terms.

The option features proposed by the Michigan Municipal League practically allows a home rule city, such as Tecumseh, to set its own spring or fall election dates. If Council fails to take any action, the city would automatically come under the provisions of the new bill.

In its communications to municipalities, the League believes that greater voter participation would be achieved at fall elections, and that adoption last month of the bill in Lansing was a step towards ballot reform.

Since the legislature is expected to place statewide issues on the odd year November ballot, cities, therefore, will be required to hold elections then, most cities are expected to adopt the odd year election system, according to the League, and eliminate the cost of other elections.

HAPPY NEW YEAR — Little Timothy Scott Oyler ushered in a new year for Mom and Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Oyler of Blissfield. Ronald Gerten Killed Thursday In Vietnam

Pfc. Ronald E. Gerten, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gerten, 9586 Tonneberger Dr., was killed in action last Thursday, Dec. 31, near Chu Lai in Vietnam.

The family has yet to be informed as to the details, but he is the fourth Tecumseh soldier - the third Tecumseh High School graduate - to be killed in the Southeast Asian conflict.

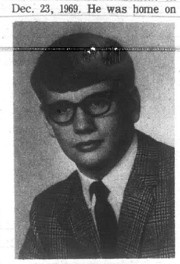

Funeral arrangements to be handled by the Proctor Funeral Home are still incomplete.

He was born on April 6, 1951 at Tiffin, Ohio, and graduated here from high school in 1969. The family moved to Tecumseh in the summer of 1966.

Ron worked at the Ford plant at Saline and for the Tecumseh schools until his enlistment on Dec. 23, 1969. He was home on leave last summer and left for Vietnam on July 4. He was serving with the First American Cavalry.

Survivors, besides the parents, are four brothers, Daniel, Richard, Fred and Edward, and two sisters, Rosanne and Linda.

Other Tecumseh men killed in combat were Lt. William Brown in July 1965; Sgt. David Brooks, November 1967; and HM2 Don Rudd, March 1969.

Fire Estimate Over $5,000

Fire caused damages estimated between $5,000 and $10,000 to the Richard Beasley residence at 207 N. Democrat Sunday morning.

Firemen at the scene for nearly two hours, report that the blaze started from a ceiling fixture in the recreation room. It charred joists and sub-flooring and burned a hole through a partition.

Although flames were quickly extinguished, thick smoke filled the entire house. The local department estimated damages to the house at $2,500 and to contents, $2,500. Reports now indicate the loss will be considerably greater.

Another fire Tuesday noon of last week practically ruined a garage and burned a section of the Robert Ford home at 511 W. Brown St.

Damages were extimated at $2,500 to building and $1,000 to contents.

When firemen arrived, the garage was in flames, which in turn were burning a corner of the house just a few feet away. Before putting the blaze out, a acetyline tank for welding in the garage blew-up.

The Tecumseh department also made a run to the John Walhon home at 1104 Murphy Rd. Saturday. Damages to a chimney were listed at $100.

Tammy Sits Up, Speaks to Family

Tammy Whelan, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whelan surprised her family on New Year's Eve when she sat up and spoke to them at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. The youngster has multiple fractures to both legs and her arm and she was only semi-conscious since an automobile accident Dec. 6 in which her grandfather, Archie Scheffler lost his life.

Entry Is Gained at Lamb's, Foiled at Party Shop

One break-in and an attempted break-in of two Tecumseh businesses were investigated by Tecumseh police last Thursday morning.

Entry was gained to Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy in downtown Tecumseh by breaking a lock on a rear door. Carl Lamb, owner, reports nothing was apparently taken.

Although no entry was achieved at the Party Shop, Delbert and Ruth King discovered their locks were jammed and tampered with at their business on S. Maumee St.

Friday Last Day

Residents expecting the Tecumseh Street Department to pick up their Christmas trees should have them out to the curbs by Friday.

Report Loss

Inflation and a gradual dropping of patient days over the past few years has been felt at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Council learned Monday night that the hospital is operating at a loss and at a loss that is increasing.

Officials discussed the losses briefly and then proposed that members attend the next hospital board meeting, or have a joint meeting.

Mayor George McCombs said the losses seem to be increasing, and since the city owns the hospital, it could become a liability to the city.

William Groover, hospital administrator, confirmed the problems and losses. Records passed on to Council show that in 1970, through November, the hospital has a loss of $52,000, including depreciation. Without depreciation, the loss would be about $11,000.

Mr. Groover said the board is very concerned over the financial picture, and that he is conducting a study and will make a report to the board at a special meeting this month.

Only in January, February and August of 1970 did the hospital operate in the black.

Mr. Groover said the local hospital's financial problems are not unlike those of other similar institutions. He said inflation, along with a dropping of patient days, has been a major factor in losing money.

Records show that Herrick Hospital in 1969 showed a profit before depreciation of $75,681, and after depreciation, a profit of $21,267.

Until 1970, one of the worse years occured in 1966 when a loss of $46,592 was reported. This included the depreciation of equipment and facilities.

The local, 108-bed hospital is one of Tecumseh's finest assets, serving an area population of approximately 20,000. Over the years, it has continually been improved in services and facilities.

Ice Rinks for Skating

Tecumseh firemen will again volunteer their time this winter to flood ice skating rinks for local youngsters.

Rinks are planned behind city hall and at the corner of Brown and Brooks Sts.

Flooding was to have started Wednesday night with hopes that the rinks will be developed in time for some skating over the weekend.

Firemen have voluntarily readied rinks for youngsters for several years and are not paid for their time.

Although Tecumseh Park has been posted as unsafe for skating, Tuesday's and Wednesday's cold spell is expected to open the Park up for the youngsters.

5 Stolen Checks Are Recovered

Five checks which were stolen from Jerry's Bar and Grill on Christmas day have been recovered from a laundromat and service station at Jackson. All were from the Tecumseh Products.

Operator of the service station reportedly cashed one of the checks.

Jerry Quinn, owner of the tavern, says approximately 70 customers have been identified and are known to have cashed checks there Christmas Eve. He said the checks total between $7,000 and $8,000 of the $10,000 taken.

Tecumseh police lifted fingerprints from a safe in the tavern, but reports from Lansing have not been received yet.

City Manager Back To Work

City Manager Cal Zorn returned to his desk at city hall Monday, his first day at work since suffering a heart attack in November.

Tecumseh's top officail also attended Monday night's Council meeting.

Robert Hamden was acting city manager in his absence.

2 Appointments

Cecile Smith and Perry Satterthwaite were re-appointed by Council to one year terms on the Election Commission Monday night.

Information Worth $5

This is about all that Forest Abner has after being ticketed and fined by the police for parking his van in front of his house in Herrick Park.

The local businessman appeared before Council Monday night and complained about the ticket and ordinance against parking commercial vehicles on the streets.

Mayor George McCombs pulled out the ordinance and began reading.

According to the ordinance as read by the mayor, it does not apply to commercial vehicles under 4,000 pounds. Abner's van weighs 3,100 pounds.

In reply as to the dispostion of the $5, the mayor remarked that "it looks like you paid $5 for some information."

IT'S NOW TRICKEY'S — Owners Charlie and Betty Trickey, observing their first year in business in Tecumseh, have changed the name of their clothing store from Van-Mer's Department Store to "Trickey's, Inc." Signs have already been installed for the name change. The Trickeys purchased the store just a year ago from Chet and Goldye Merritt, and besides completely redecorating the interior, new clothing lines were added along with departmentalization for men, ladies, teenagers and babies.

15-Year-Old Suits For Band

By Dorothy Grigg

If Johnny wore his suit for 15 years, Mom would "blow her stack" and Dad would be hunting for some extra cash to clothe the poor child-but not many object when band students are asked to climb into uniforms that were purchased in 1956.

Tecumseh Band Boosters have been trying to do something about this situation that burns up the bandsmen in the summer and doesn't exactly make them the envy of the Band Festival crowd in the fall either.

Latest fund raising project of the group is long and short sleeved sweat shirts and water repellent poplin jackets. Sweat shirts are in school colors, orange and black, and the jackets are in black only with orange lettering. Both have the Indian head design in a circled border.

Shirts are available in sizes two through 16 and adult sizes small through X large, and the jackets, sizes 6 through 16 and small through X large.

Notices will be sent to each school stating the date of sale of shirts and jackets there. Anyone with questions may call Mrs. William Kukral, 431-2503, or Mrs. Francis Packard 423-4644.

Boys and girls of the band started the fund last October and thus far have $1,683.55 of the necessary $14,183.55 to purchase 100 uniforms.

Students sold Rex Household cleaner with a profit of $1,510.21. They have expressed thanks to those who have helped them: Fabricare Cleaners, $24; Girl Scout Cadet Troop No. 71, $79.90, given after disbanding their hard earned trip fund; FOE Auxiliary, No. 1563, $10, and the Santa box at the Christmas concert which amounted to $59.44.

Contributions may be made at United Savings Bank or to Mrs. Kukral, treasurer of Band Boosters, 9941 Nortley Hwy., Tipton, 49287.

In February of 1956, a similar project was started by the Band Boosters with Mrs. James Barton as chairman. Dr. and Mrs. M.R. Blanden purchased the first complete uniform of the needed 70 for about $70. The uniforms this year are estimated to cost about $125 each.

It would seem a good investment, considering that a man's suit at a similar price would hardly be expected to wear for 15 years, - and would only be of use to its owner, not a number of youngsters who will make use of the sturdy well made uniforms over many years.

Plans are to purchase cooler type suits this time so that clothing may be added beneath but the wearer won't need to swelter in the summertime.

Goal of the Boosters is to have the uniforms in time for the 25th annual Fall Festival. To do this they must be ordered by March or April.

Band students are planning a car wash, too, to boost the fund with date to be announced later.

Mrs. Kukral stated, "We have a long way to go before we reach our goal, and we need all the help we can get to see our band step out smartly in October at the Lenawee County Festival."

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Harvey and Doris Carpenter's visio... closing at noon Jan. 1 were completely shattered when persons touring Irish Hills area wound their way to Harvey's Grill for breakfast. First a couple, then a foursome and finally ten hungry folk kept Harvey at work for at least another hour. Perhaps this heralds good business during the New Year, folks. We hope so and thanks for the kind, courteous service.

Indians Record Easy Win, 87-63

The Bedford Mules didn't find Tecumseh to be very congenial hosts last Wednesday evening as the Indians showed their firepower, recording an easy 87-63 win.

Accurate shooting, teamwork and an unnerving full court press helped the Indians jump to a commanding 26-9 lead at the end on one quarter of play. The final outcome was for all practical purposes decided at halftime, with the Indians holding a 32 point advantage, 51-19.

Alex Gibson continued his strong play, hitting on eight of 10 shots from the floor and 10 of 13 charity shots for a game high 26 points. He tallied 21 of his points in the first half.

Craig Smith was right behind Gibson with 23 markers, connecting for 12 in the first period to beat the Bedford zone defense. Gary Alcock added 13 for the Indians.

Tecumseh was on target from the floor, making 31 of 55 shots for a sparkling 56 percent and 62.5 percent from the charity line, connecting on 25 of 40.

Wyoming Holiday Ends

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeFevre have returned from the Medicine Bow Mts. in Wyoming where they spent the holidays with their daughter, Audrey, and son-in-law, Capt. Lawrence Gray.

The couple went by train and were greeted in Rowlins, Wy., by the Grays and taken to their home at Encampment, Wy., where Capt. Gray is stationed with the U.S. Air Force. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Gray of Tecumseh.

Christmas Day they enjoyed an elk roast for dinner and scenery of the area, especially the Lodge in Federal Park where the elevation is 8,200 feet. They rode snowmobile trails and watched other winter sports.

Christmas, the Grays and LeFevres were awakened in the early morning hours by an expecially bright light which they later learned was indeed a grouping of three planets similar to the Star of Bethlehem.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

It seems ages ago, but do you recall Astronaut John Glenn's TV press conference following his first orbital flight? When asked if he said a special prayer before his journey into space, he replied, "No." . . Maybe you remember how he said, in effect, religion was a daily habit with him, not something to be turned on or off like a water faucet when needed.

His statement is worth remembering. . . Any clergyman will tell you it is never too late to turn to religion, even in times of turmoil or stress. And, have you ever noticed those who have happy, confidant, every day smiles are usually those who adhere to their beliefs in every day living?

Some call it prayer in time. Because time never stands still, it is worth remembering that in any one's life time, it is never too late. . . .

Commandments of Happiness Read

CLINTON--"Ten Commandments of Happiness" was read by Mrs. Norman Randall, president, for devotions of the Mary Martha Class at the United Church of Christ Monday evening.

To stimulate an interest in creativity, Mrs. Randall demonstrated how she paints an oil painting, completing the entire picture as members watched.

During the business meeting, members voted to give $100 to the general fund of the church. Plans for mission gifts will be further discussed at the February meeting.

Mrs. Donald Corwin, Mrs. Art Hill and Mrs. Harold Calhoun were named to the refreshment committee for the Jan. 28 meeting of the Women's Fellowship.

February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Corwin and will feature a grab bag hat auction.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

New Year's resolutions seem to be in order and some of the finest come from Optimist International, some that this writer hopes to make her own. How do they sound to you?

PROMISE YOURSELF

To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.

To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.

To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.

To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.

To think only of the best, to work only for the best and expect only the best.

To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.

To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.

To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.

To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Happy New Year!

Through My Window

1970 IN REVIEW II

Oh ho, June was great; much porch living with only a few days in the middle of the month throwing us bad storms. A pleasant habit was continued, all our old faithfuls out-did themselves.

In addition, three baby robins started June off right; a red-winged blackbird and a half lazy wren made the 2nd exiting; on the 3rd a Phoebe visited us and a chick-a-dee visited Gertie T.; a red-hooded woodpecker and a catbird showed up the 4th; and on the 7th there were orioles and cedar waxwings.

We laughed at an oriole chasing a bluejay on the 8th; heard a bobwhite on the 11th, saw goldfinches the same day; were relieved when wrens settled down to busy house building the 15th and on the 17th marveled at how tame baby squirrels were.

Warbling vereos appeared the 18th; baby orioles gone from nest in Cameron's yard the 26th; had a female goldfinch the 29th and Little Red the 30th.

Happy 4th! Much rain but still many days on proch. Hummingbird business started the 5th and that was also the day the orioles brought their youngsters to see us; noisy crows shattered our eardrums the 6th; a pair of hummingbirds, flickers and a firey red cardinal brightened up a rainy 8th and the kingfisher was busy the 10th.

A female rose-breasted grosbeak the 13th; fun the 16th with orioles and kids, flickers, brown thrasher, red-headed woodpecker, Phoebe and courting cardinals; next day found two playful kingfishers and a pair of blackbilled cuckoos. The 20th was busy too, hummingbirds, kingbird, bluejay family on feeder, waxwings and brown thrasher.

On the 21st there were a pair of kingbirds, song sparrows, three titmice dining together, and a yellow warbler; kingfishers rattled and flickers laughed the 26th; and the 27th was a bad day for birds as three flew into the window, one a female rose-breasted grosbeak. No fatalities.

Hooray, August, beautiful warm weather! Red-headed woodpeckers showed up the 5th; baby wrens left home the 6th; young orioles, a skiddish squirrel, and hundreds of baby sparrows kept the 13th busy.

A baby mourning dove sat in the maple tree and was fed on the 15th; a family of young downy woodpeckers appeared the 17th; fighting flickers and a brown billed cardinal on the 18th; cedar waxwings came by the 24th; on the 25th we had young male cardinal; a hummingbird the 26th; and a rattling kingfisher the 27th.

The good cardinal looking continued all through September. On the 2nd the feeder was busy with chick-a-dees, titmice, and red birds; the 3rd saw us laughing as both Papa and Mama C. worked hard at feeding a hungry kid and this also was the day the bald bluejay started showing a few feathers; Gertie T. thrilled to a kinglet the 4th.

The 8th was a confusion of warblers and a huge flicker splashed in the creek; hordes of cowbirds appeared the 9th; the 13th and 14th, even though rainy, were good hummingbird days. Ten days north were great! Hummingbirds greeted us the 27th and the first hard frost hit the 29th.

Wow, what an October! The 1st - goldfinches, hummers, young cardinals, countless warblers; 2nd - juncos, goldfinches, and warblers again, five bluejays, and white crowned sparrows; 14th - still warblers, pine siskins, waxwings, red birds, and white throats; 19th - pair of song sparrows, five cardinals, and a large flock of juncos; 21st - female cardinal still showing yellow bill; 28th - kingfisher rattled by, three bluejays, many juncos and ten cardinals.

November was equally charming birdwise. On the 5th we were surprised when four titmice dined together and a goldfinch showed up still wearing much summer yellow; three song sparrows helped us celebrate Veteran's Day; cedar waxwings returned the 12th and grackles were busy the 13th.

Five titmice visited the 17th; the waxwings were back on the 18th which was also the day a small squirrel showed up the 20th and Little Red appeared the 23rd; chick-a-dees shared our Thanksgiving dinner; and the month ended with titmice, song sparrows and bluejays.

As usual December was hectic. The bird watching was excellent but it came out a poor second best to inside things. The old regulars were more faithful than ever and if the unusuals are kind enough to return, I shall be telling you about them in future weeks – if they do not reappear, I shall simply call them poor sports and feel they deserve to be ignored.

Alma Soncrant was discharged from Bixby Hospital Dec. 23 after a bout with spinal meningitis and is recuperating at the home of her sister, Mrs. Anna Grigg. David Grigg arrived home Christmas eve for the holidays and returned to Muskegon Saturday.

'Sam' Too Busy To Write, Enjoying Stay in Tecumseh

Masahiko Akita, 18, better known as Sam to his Tecumseh friends seems to be completely happy in his Youth For Understanding home here with the Richard N. Lewis family at 503 Seminole Drive.

He is so taken up with his many interests in school and about the community that he has difficulty in finding time to write his family in Seto City, a suburb of Nagoya, Japan.

Sam is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Shoichi Akita. Mr. Akita did design airplanes and now operates an appliance store selling air conditioners, television sets, etc.

Sam is impressed with the size of everything in America, the large cars, roads and houses. He enjoys many hobbys including photography, music, amateur radio and he likes to play soccer.

The Japanese boy plans to study cancer research when he graduates. He is a senior here and has only one half year to complete high school in his own country.

Sam's adopted brother, Arthur Lewis, was an exchange student in Japan last year and the two boys did meet there. The have also visited Art's "adopted" Japanese brother who is presently living in Grand Rapids.

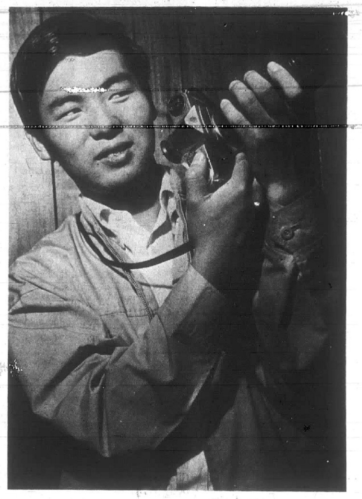

Members of the Lewis family are most enthusiastic when they speak of Sam. Cynthia, a student at Northern Michigan University at Marquette, home for the holidays remarked, "He's a real screwball and he fits right into the family. He has a really good sense of humor."

An older brother, Jerry Lewis is in Korea and Sam thoroughly enjoyed the wedding in September of Gilbert Lewis, a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee. Naturally it was quite different than those in Japan.

Of Thanksgiving and Christmas he quickly said they were "Okay, Okay." He seemed to like the American customs though so very different from those in his own land.

Sam is liked by people here. They say he is real friendly and a credit to his country. They have invited him to participate in many of their activities. He was in the senior play, manager of a basketball team and is taking pictures for the annual.

Of America, Sam says that he thinks they are building a good friendship and maybe in 20, 50 or 100 years the two countries will make a good combination.

Six Sophomores Play Santa Claus

Tecumseh sophomore class members initiated a project to provide candy canes for each child in the local elementary schools.

Wednesday before Christmas, six boys of the class dressed up in Santa suits and delivered the canes, about $40 worth, to a lot of surprised youngsters.

Jerry Barker, formerly of Tecumseh, was recently elected Worker of the Year 1971 for Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan.

Born in Brighton Oct. 30, 1942, he was stricken with polio in July 1950, but continued school through ninth grade, losing much time in the hospital.

In 1961, Jerry and his brother, Don, decided to make it on their own. Don eventually enlisted in the army and Jerry went to a convalescent home in Romulus where he started a home craft program.

When Don returned from service, he married and invited Jerry to live with him and his wife in Tecumseh.

A worker from the State Department of Social Services suggested that Jerry apply for evaluation and possible training at Goodwill Industries in Adrian.

He became a client in October 1967. By January 1968, Jerry had gained enough self-sufficiency and strength to handle himself so he moved into his own apartment.

He showed aptitude in the repair of electrical appliances, and eventually took over the repair and refurbishing of electrical appliances which are donated to Goodwill to be sold

On June 14, 1969, Jerry and Elizabeth Thornton, a former trainee at Goodwill, were married. On Sept. 16, 1970, their daughter Christine Lynn was born. The family is in Adrian.

Tax Exemption for Senior Citizens

Tax relief will be a reality for many older citizens this year.

The Michigan Commission on Aging reminds all people 65 and older that under Michigan's revised Homestead Tax Exemption law they might now qualify for this exemption.

Applicants, who must file for this exemption each year at their local assessor's office, may apply from Jan. 4 until sometime in March – a date set by each local assessor. Persons who qualify are exempt from the taxes on the first $2,500 of the valuation of their home.

To qualify under the revised Homestead Tax Exemption law, persons must have lived in Michigan for five of the past ten years, and in their home for at least six of the preceding twelve months. Total income from all sources can not exceed $6,000.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Unrealistic solutions, half-truths and gross exaggerations are making the problem of drug abuse more and more difficult to handle.

Some parents are beginning to panic, and politicians have grabbed this as a popular issue and the result can be grab-bag laws that only hamper the prevention and cure of drug abuse.

The problem is a serious one throughout the United States, but there are signs that the wave has crested in the centers of drug abuse on the East and West coasts. This could mean that the non-medical use of drugs will level off nationally.

Dr. Sidney Cohen, of Los Angeles, recently suggested there is now less peer pressure on adolescents to experiment with drugs. As a matter of fact, the youngster who has "stayed clean" is admired for resisting drug users' pressure.

It is even fashionable to be an ex-user, Dr. Cohen suggested, and for those on the lecture circuit, it may pay better. Former addicts have been found most persuasive in turning young people away from drugs.

Part of the national decline may stem from well-organized community programs dealing with prevention and cure. More people are facing the situation soberly, realistically and with concern. They aren't using scare tactics, which don't work anyway.

Experts assure us the epidemic of drug abuse can be stopped if we act calmly and before we become involved personally and emotionally.

The most worrisome part of the problem may be the drop in age of those using marijuana, LSD, amphetamines, barbiturates and hard drugs. We may have to start our drug education programs at lower levels, reaching our children before the pushers do.

Elementary and junior high school youngsters aren't turning to drugs because of mysticism or mind-expanding theories. They expect immediate pleasure, an escape, a magical solution to every minor social ache and pain.

Fortunately, these youngsters respond well to rational explanations of what drugs are and what they do. They are worried about the environment, and can be persuaded not to pollute their own minds.

Such educational programs may draw on informed health professionals, but every teacher and parent must have the facts to support the attack on drug abuse.

Do you believe in the tremendous capabilities of man? Christians do . . .

Do you, on the other hand, believe that man is quite helpless to overcome many of the forces that threaten his progress? Christians do . . .

How can the same religion support such contradictory views?

Well, we take for granted that a tank-load of gasoline will propel an automobile many miles. But there are cold mornings when we can't even get the engine started. What is missing?

A spark! A continuing series of sparks!

Never over-simplify the functioning of the human soul. Like the internal-combustion engine it can be powerless when denied the fire that unlocks its energy.

To be himself — to be all that God intended him to be — a man needs God.

Bring your hopes and frustrations to church next Sunday.

Both Mr. Piel and Mr. Okros indicated they may eventually move to this community.

WILLIAM MACBETH

Macbeth New TP President

William Macbeth, 44, executive vice president of the Tecumseh Products for the past year, has been named president, effective Jan. 1.

He succeeds Kenneth G. Herrick, who will be chairman of the board and chief executive officer, and who was president since 1966.

Mr. Macbeth's new position also includes being chief operating officer. His appointment by the board on Dec. 23 makes him the sixth president of the Products since its founding here in 1934 - and he assumes a position once held by Ray Herrick, now chairman emeritus of the board and a founder who guided the Products to its world leadership in refrigeration.

It has been rumored for months that Mr. Macbeth was to be promoted to the presidency. He had gained one promotion after another since joining the company in 1955.

He came to Tecumseh after graduating from the University of Michigan in 1950. At that time he joined the engineering department of Tresco, Inc., a sales and engineering firm acquired by the Products in 1955. When the Products bought Tresco, Mr. Macbeth became chief engineer, and seven years later in 1962, he was appointed general sales manager.

In 1966, he was made vice president in charge of refrigeration sales.

A native of Glen Cove, Long Island, N.Y., he holds a degree in mechanical industrial engineering from the U of M. During World War II, he served in the Army Air Force.

As president, he heads the world's largest producer of refrigeration and air conditioning compressors, plus the manufacturer of gasoline engines, differentials, transmissions and transaxles for the lawn and garden equipment industry.

Mr. Macbeth also has been on the Tecumseh School Board since Jan. 16, 1969, when he was appointed to succeed the late Orville Bishop. In July 1969 he was elected to a one year term, and in July 1970, he was elected to a four-year term on the Board.

He and his wife, June, and three children, Bill, Paula and Scott, live at 400 Outer Court in Herrick Park. The family attends Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Car Hits, Drags Boy 100 Feet on Street

Fourteen-year-old Mark Strand, son of Mrs. Henry Strand, 1205 Murray Dr., had a lucky escape from serious injury - or death - Wednesday noon of last week when he was run over by an automobile on E. Chicago Blvd.

Mark and two other boys were scooting across the street from Lee Fogelsong's Kitchen and Fabric Shop, stopped momentarily on the double yellow line and then darted in front of a car driven by Helen Stanifer.

She stopped but a car along side, operated by Ellen L. Campbell, 41, of 210 Cairns St. was unable to stop. The junior high student was knocked down by the left front corner of the auto and then dragged 101 feet underneath the car.

Several men lifted the car off the boy who was taken to Herrick Hospital.

Mark suffered head and chest lacerations plus burned legs from being dragged on the pavement. He was released from the hospital Tuesday but not before a pleasant occurence Sunday.

Sisters will do most anything for a younger brother, and Mrs. Donald Jones, Mark's sister, is no different.

She managed Sunday to deliver her first born son, Donald Jr., "just to please her brother," whose birthday was Sunday.

Mark wanted the baby to be born Jan. 10, and he wanted a boy, too. Sunday evening, he couldn't go to sleep until he heard the news at 11:05 p.m.

Chamber Plans

Several members of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday morning at Harry's Café to discuss a February sales promotion. Jim Springer will be chairman of the event.

Mary Bowers was appointed to chair a nominating committee for the annual election of chamber officers in February.

Face $23,000 Loss

If Gov. William Milliken's proposal to slash 2 percent in state aid for education from the state budget goes through the legislature, the Tecumseh schools will drop about $23,000, according to Robert Duhan assistant superintendent.

Since the governor's proposal is not quite clear, the loss could amount to about $26,000, if it includes state assistance for transportation, special education and other services provided by the schools.

Follies Planned for Jan. 29-30

Tecumseh Jaycees will hold their sixth annual Follies at the Croswell Theatre in Adrian on Jan. 29-30.

The variety show theme is "Do Your Thing" and will be directed by Victor Duntiere of New York.

As in the past, the variety show is open to the public and performers are needed. Those interested are urged to contact a local Jaycee. Talent night was held Tuesday at the Tecumseh Country Club for many.

The director, besides wanting individual peformers, has also notified the Jaycees that he wants 12 kick men, 12 singing couples, eight soloists, 12 girls for a comedy line, and 36 girls for three separate dancing lines.

Performances have always been well attended and appreciated by area folks. Last year the Jaycees took the show to Adrian for the first time, due to lack of proper facilities here.

Earl Crabtree is general chairman of the Follies, and Fred McCrate, advertising chairman. Many auxiliary members are assisting their husbands in organizing the show.

Tickets may be purchased from any Jaycee or at Flanders Music.

Primary purpose of the Follies is to raise money for community projects and services for which the Jaycees are noted for undertaking.

Two juveniles reportedly have admitted to breaking into Patterson School Saturday but have refused to admit taking $48 of milk money.

Ralph Block, principal, says entry was gained through a window in the boiler room. Besides losing the money, he says the youngsters took milk and potato chips out of the kitchen, and then left through a door in the gym.

ART EATON

Art Eaton Killed, Services Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Arthur J. Eaton, 60 well known farmer and public official in Tecumseh and Lenawee County, who was killed last Friday afternoon on Rogers Highway, just south of M-50, when his pickup struck a tree.

Results of an autopsy are still unknown, but it is suspected that he had suffered a heart attack prior to the accident. Tecumseh police report shows that his pickup started weaving back and forth on the road, some 465 feet south of the tree. The report also shows that the truck skidded about 75 feet before running headon into the tree.

Mr. Eaton was traveling north at the time and was alone. A passing motorist notified police.

For the past six years he was Tecumseh Township Supervisor, a post he relinquished the past year when he decided not to run again. The popular public official also served on the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors and for many years was township treasurer.

He was considered a strong leader, one who left no doubt how he stood on issues and problems, and one who was frank and sincere in dealing with township matters. As township supervisor he occasionally encountered problems with the city here, and he usually won.

His death stunned many who knew him. Earlier in the day he had stopped at the William M. Powell Real Estate office, where he had been associated for several years. He appeared all right then and left to do some things for his farm.

At the time of his death, he had a load of old tires he was taking to his farm, less than one mile from the accident scene.

Mr. Eaton was an active citizen, a past master of the Masonic Lodge No. 69, past master of the Tecumseh Grange, member of Tecumseh Rotary Club, member of Lenawee Farm Bureau and a member of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

He was born Sept. 26, 1910 in Tecumseh, the only son of Joseph and Ella Norris Eaton. Except for two years he spent his entire life on the Eaton Centennial farm at 5695 E. Monroe Rd., less than a half mile east of the city.

He graduated from high school here in 1929 and attended Michigan Agricultural College, now Michigan State University.

On Sept. 26, 1932, he married the former Myldred Everett.

Survivors, besides his wife, are three sons, Larrie, at home; Meryl, Adrian; and Gerald of Tecumseh; one daughter, Mrs. Franklin (Ardyth) Schroeder, Tecumseh, and eight grandchildren.

His mother-in-law, Mrs. George Everett, also survives. His parents and a grandson preceded him in death.

Masonic services were held Monday night at the Proctor Funeral Home.

The Rev. Donald Porteous officiated there at Tuesday afternoon's service. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Report Skating Hours for Park

New hours, effective this week, for skating at Tecumseh Park have been announced by the Parks and Recreation Dept.

The Park building will be open for warming and refreshments will be on sale, with all proceeds going to the Youth Hockey League program.

Lights are being placed on the ice for night skating and senior members of the hockey program will supervise the skating.

Arms Hurt In Accident

Clifford Hardy, 84, of Tipton, suffered serious injuries to his arms Monday evening when he was caught in the shaft from a power take-off on a manure spreader.

He was taken by ambulance to Herrick Hospital and then transferred to St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, where his condition is listed as satisfactory.

Mr. Hardy was attempting to tell his son, Raynor, who was in the spreader, that a bull was out when his arms were caught and wound around the shaft.

Raynor said Wednesday morning that a chain that needed replacing no doubt saved his father's life.

Physicians were to operate Wednesday afternoon on the broken left shoulder joint, and a break on the same arm above the elbow.

Local Jaycees Are Involved

Fifty years old and more than 9,000 strong....the Michigan Jaycees. This action group of young men are working each day to better the more than 300 communities across the state.

Tecumseh Jaycees, with a membership of 60 young men, are deserving of praise for their numerous community projects as they observe National Jaycee Week Jan. 17-23.

There are so many projects in which the local Jaycees are involved that it makes an impressive list, even briefly mentioned. Besides providing entertainment for the community residents, proceeds from their many money-making events are used for civic betterment.

Recent projects include: Carnival, Tecumseh Days, rodeo, turkey shoot, Tecumseh Park entrance, Punt, Pass and Kick Contest, Little League Baseball, J.C. Relays, Boys' State delegates, moved portable emergency hospital, Get-out-the-Vote Campaign, election day transportation and baby sitting, election service (conveying ballots) and census recount in city.

They worked on a pollution clean-up project on the Mill Race, participated in Michigan Week activities,sold Christmas trees, repaired damaged Santa house, built the Santa float, answered Santa calls and distributed Christmas baskets to the needy.

Monday night Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary members began three weeks of time consuming rehearsals for the annual Jaycee Follies to be staged Jan. 29 and 30 at Croswell Opera House, Adrian. This fun and frolic event is the biggest money-raiser of the year and involves a huge cast of local talented persons.

As soon as the Follies is over, Jaycees plan to conduct a community survey to determine what project residents most desire to have undertaken.

Any young man who cares about today's problems...who cares about the future direction of his country...who wants to get involved, this second generation group needs him. The United States Jaycees, 325,000 young men between the ages of 21 and 26, are involved in trying to solve the people problems of today.

During January, 1971, the Jaycees will celebrate their 51st anniversary. Their motto is "Creating Environment for Change Through People." For information about joining the Jaycees, call Charles Robinson, president, 423-2246 or Dr. Sidney Adams, membership chairman, 423-3600.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Kids and Drugs

Every year, you hear warnings about children swallowing aspirins and other pills taken from unlocked medicine cabinets. Now, pediatricians and pharmacists are warning parents about another danger: children who are accidentally poisoned by their mothers and fathers.

Some parents misjudge what is a "reasonable dose" of, for example, aspirin for a child under five years of age. A mother may notice a child's fever and, without realizing this is a sign of dehydration, will give him an aspirin. This increases the dehydration causes acidosis, and raises the fever to a critical point. Then the parent may give still more aspirin, making the problem even worse.

Another common situation arises when a child has an ear or throat infection, and the doctor prescribes a drug. Without consulting the doctor further, the mother gives the medicine for several days. The drug accumulates in the child (who doesn't excrete a drug as quickly as an adult, even when he's well) to the point where it becomes dangerous.

Or the child may be given an adult dose of medicine, and there are those who believe that if two pills are good, four pills are better. To make things worse, a child may be too young to describe symptoms that would alert us to danger.

The concerned doctors agree that modern drugs are useful in treating many childhood disorders, when given carefully and under medical supervision. The key word is careful!

COME SNOW COME BIRDS

One of the truest of truisms in bird watching and feeding can be summed up in four words, come snow come birds. No matter how void of birds a yard may seem nor how empty the feeding stations, everything changes overnight if there is a good snowfall.

Yes indeed, experience is talking. This year, of course, the snow has been well spaced and we have had many, many days of very busy feeders.

Cardinals are always favorite winter birds – of course, in the summer they are favorite birds and ditto for fall and spring. But anyway, there is something just a bit special about Papa and Mama Cardinal when the snow flies.

Lately we seem to have two pairs in residence. The especially brilliant male and his lovely lady are daily visitors and are entertaining us with some rather unusual behavior. Instead of being arrogant and almost treating his mate with disdain, bright Papa C. is downright friendly.

The two cardinals are together almost constantly, he even allows her to share the feeder with him. This is practically unheard of – in the past winters, and indeed this year with the other pair of cardinals, it is most distressing how badly the males treat the females.

The 'love birds', however, are behaving almost as if it were spring and, in fact, the other day I feared that Papa C. was going to break every rule in the book. They were eating sunflower seeds at the near-my-window feeder when all of a sudden he must have picked up what was an especially tasty one.

He actually started towards his gal but then thought better of it and ate the black seed himself. Had he not changed his mind they both might have been expelled—

Much more conventional behavior is being displayed by the pert little tufted titmice, the up-side-down nuthatches and the big bold bluejays. Well, no, that bluejay statement needs a bit of amending. We have two bluejays who are often friendly enough to dine together. It is not habitual but it does happen frequently enough to warrant the word often.

I wonder if the women's lib movement has reached the bird world and perhaps a few cardinals and bluejays have successfully rebelled against being second class citizens except during the spring of the year.

The steadiest, and almost the most numerous, freeloaders lately have been the winter-garbed goldfinches. How cute they are but oh, what a far cry their greenish-tan-yellowish is from that brilliant lemon yellow of summer. The black wings with their fine white markings are the same though and so are their ridiculously skinny, forked tails.

The impersonal statistics of a bird book fall woefully short in describing the goldfinch's size. A five inch goldfinch next to a six and a third inch English sparrow means absolutely nothing until one sees them side by each on the feeding tray.

Then what a gigantic clumsy oaf is the sparrow, how coarse he looks, how heavy and lumbering are his movements. The goldfinch, on the other hand, shows an exquisite fineness of build with delicate and subtle good adjectives.

And one last word. Please, oh please, if you have started or if you plan on starting, a winter bird feeding program be faithful. I've said it before but it does bear repeating - these are the desperately hard months for the birds and often our handouts are the difference between surviving and not surviving.

But they soon learn where the food is and come to depend on it so therefore it is vitally necessary that the free lunch counter always be well supplied. Come snow come birds – please make sure there is a well stocked larder for them to come to.

Ardith and Claude Sebring received the first enthusiastic letter they have had from Larry Wednesday since he has been in Vietnam. Cargo loading and unloading is his job in the army and as it turned out, he was also chosen to act as a stage hand for the Bob Hope show. Whoopee.

Staged at Camp Eagle, Phu Bai near Hue, Vietnam, the show gave life a rosy glow for Sebring who has been sticking it out in a place he calls "The Hole" over there. Needless to say, his folks and a lot of other Tecumsehites will have their noses glued to the tube Thursday night when the annual Hope show will be on, just in case the camera may have caught a glimpse of the sergeant.

His Mom allowed herself one good deep breath this week when she learned, too, that he has been on R & R since Jan. 5 in Australia, and expects to go to Thailand the fore part of February.

TO TURN AGAIN

In winter the pond freezes over, and the old mill wheel is idle. But although the landscape appears dormant, there is hidden life beneath the surface. One day it will be spring again, with water rushing over the mill wheel and corn being ground into meal.

If you have been living in a winter of your own, why not take a lesson from the old mill? The winters of our life are bleak—they are hard to weather. But forever and ever there is the chance to start again. Spring will come and your church will sustain you through doubt and disappointment and give you promise of another chance—another life.

Two Cars Collide, No One Injured

Walter Bird Jr., 62, 209 S. Maumee St. and Dillard L. Atkinson, 31, 1533 E. Munger Rd. were the drivers of two automobiles which collided head-on on Taylor Rd., two-tenths mile E. Wisner Hwy. Saturday.

Neither driver was injured in the mishap, which apparently could not be avoided because of the narrow, hilly road, slippery with ice.

Clinton State Police investigated.

FR Rolls Over Indians, 84-53

The Flat Rock Rams picked up their ninth win of the season Friday night at Tecumseh's expense, recording an impressive 84-53 win.

The league-leading Rams were tied early in the first period by the Indians at five apiece and held only a three point advantage at the end of the quarter.

But then they turned on the power, making the first eight points of the second period and out-scoring the Indians 23-14 in the stanza for a 38-26 halftime advantage.

The Rams came out strong to start the third period, scoring at a 11-4 advantage in the first four minutes to put the game out of reach. Flat Rock waited until the final period to do their most productive scoring, adding 27 points.

Craig Smith and Alex Gibson were the only two Tecumseh players to hit double figures, hitting for 15 and 13 points respectively. The well-balanced Flat Rock attack put five men players in double figures.

The loss drops the Indians' record to 3-5 overall and 2-3 in the Huron League and a fifth place standing.

Lack of the prolific scoring punch shown against non-league foe Bedford two weeks ago doomed the Indians to defeat against Monroe Catholic Central Jan. 5, 65-54.

Leading scorers for Tecumseh were Craig Smith with 16 points and Scott Dalton with 14.

Frosh Win After Loss To Adrian Wednesday

Tecumseh Indian freshman basketball team lost its first game of the season at Adrian in a real thriller last week.

Adrian put a good press on the Indians and forced many turnovers as they built up a 30 to 17 halftime lead. Adrian also dominated the boards.

The Indians rallied in the second half and closed the deficit to one point but were unable to pull the game out.

David Allen, Frank Bock, and Alan Schafer scored in double figures and Allen and Schafer led the team in rebounding.

Tuesday the frosh defeated Chelsea 48 to 30 on the Tecumseh court.

After playing to a 15 all tie in the first half, the Indians came on in the third quarter with a full court press and outscored their opponents 23 points to 5.

Tecumseh dominated the boards, 38 to 24 and shot 37 percent, 19 out of 51 from the floor, but were only 50 percent from the free throw line.

The young Indians play the Willow Run frosh here this Thursday evening at 6:30.

Young Couple Splurge, But No Money!!

A spending spree which ranged from Michigan to Colorado ended Saturday morning when a young Tecumseh couple were arrested at a Jackson motel.

Held in Jackson jail under $5,000 bond and awaiting a hearing in District Court there is Mervin Maynard, 18. His wife, Cathy, was released under $1,000 bail and is scheduled to appear before Judge Kenneth Glaser in District Court at Adrian next Monday.

Tecumseh police already have over $5,000 in bad checks accounted for, and this does not include thousands of dollars in merchandise which was recovered by retailers. Checks were written without sufficient funds and also after their checking account was closed.

Checks are reported from Tecumseh stores and also from Jackson, Adrian, Toledo, Saline and Metro Airport, where they purchased round-trip airline tickets to Vail, Colo., and even hosted another couple on the excursion.

Checks are still coming in and Chief Murell Clark says the total amount may not be known for several days, or even a couple of weeks.

They were evicted recently from their apartment at S. Adrian St. and Russell Rd., and reportedly have been living in motels since. Jackson police called here Friday and inquired about them after a motel had reported a back check.

Most of the checks were signed by Mrs. Maynard, and they ranged from a few dollars to over $1,000.

CAKE BRINGS SMILE — Tammy Whelan, 6, brightened up a lot when she saw the rose-covered heart cake, trimmed with clowns and bubble gum, a creation of octogenarian Rose Service. Tammy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whelan, has been in St. Joseph Hospital since an auto accident Dec. 6. She still has one leg in traction, but expects to be released in about two weeks, then return to the hospital for surgery at a later date.

Duhan Is Appointed School Superintendent

Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent and business manager for the Tecumseh schools over the past four years, was named superintendent by the School Board Monday night.

He was given a two-year contract, starting July 1.

Mr. Duhan succeeds James McDowell, who has headed the school system here since 1951, and prior to his elevation as superintendent, he was principal at the high school for six years.

The Board took initial steps last August for the change when Mr. McDowell announced that he would retire at the end of the 1970-71 term. He will be 65 in October, and although he legally could have stayed another year, he elected to retire, ending 43 years in education.

ROBERT DUHAN

Mr. Duhan, 41, has 20 years experience and most of it in administration. He came here from Garden City, where he was administrative assistant to the superintendent for two years. Previously, he was superintendent of the schools at Ubly in Michigan's Thumb area for four years, and once served for six years as high school principal at Manchester.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University and his masters from the University of Michigan. He also has 15 semester hours beyond his masters at Michigan State University.

He is a member of the Tecumseh Rotary Club, Tecumseh Country Club and St. Elizabeth Church. This last fall, he was co-chairman with Kenneth McElroy of the community's annual Foundation drive.

He and his wife, Lois, and five children reside at 220 Maple St.

Guilty Verdict for 2 Youths

A guilty verdict was handed down by Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court last Thursday against two Tecumseh youths charged with breaking and entering at a cottage in Rollin Twp. Nov. 2.

Thomas Aiuto, 18 and Marvin Maynard, 18, are free on bond pending their sentencing.

Items ranging from television sets to approximately $2,000 cash were found in the car driven by Aiuto and Maynard at the time of their arrest Nov. 30 by sheriff's deputies.

Through identification of the articles found, sheriff's officers were able to solve seven other cottage break-ins in the Wamplers and Devils Lake area.

Duncan Oliphant, George DiCarlo Are Appointed

Duncan Oliphant was reappointed to the Board of Review by Council Monday night, and George DiCarlo was picked to complete the unexpired term of Hugh Walters.

Mrs. Bernice I. Duncan and Chester Beach also were considered by officials for the Board.

State Grant of $13,800 for Police

A $13,800 grant, enabling Tecumseh police to purchase equipment to improve their communications system, has been approved by the Michigan Commission of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice.

The grant, made available under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, was awarded through the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs.

Township Ends Fire Contract

Tecumseh Council learned Monday evening that the city's fire protection agreement with Raisin Township would end Feb. 3.

In a letter from Kathleen Osburn, township clerk, the township gave the city 30-day notice that the pact was being cancelled. The letter also suggested a meeting between the two governments and a continuation of a mutual aid agreement.

City Manager Cal Zorn implied that the city should have mutual aid with the township but asked Council to delay any action until after the local fire department holds its regular monthly meeting, Feb. 2.

Through mutual aid, either fire department would assist the other if officially requested by one of the departments. Tecumseh has been providing fire protection in Raisin Township for residents on and north of Dinius Rd. since July 1969.

When the current fire pact expires, residents in this township section will be expected to call the township department for protection, and not the city. If the township needs assistance and a mutual aid agreement is approved, as it appears likely, city firemen would respond if requested by the township's department.

Cancellation of the pact was brought about by the equipping of the township's new fire station on Occidental Rd., just south of Fisher Body. The township also will continue maintaining its department at Holloway.

Schools Wait for Decision

Tecumseh School Board pondered purchasing 10-possibly 11-portable classrooms Monday night to relieve an elementary classroom shortage for the 1971-72 school year.

Faced with a large elementary enrollment, officials even discussed half-day sessions.

Since St. Elizabeth Church authorities are yet unable to inform the School Board as to whether their parochial school will continue or close, the exact number of new portable units has not been finalized.

Supt. James McDowell says he expects to learn yet this month whether St. Elizabeth will continue or close its six grades. Church officials have hinted that the school will be closed, but await word from the diocese in Detroit.

The public schools will need four 21 x 36 - foot portable classrooms, regardless what St. Elizabeth does. If the parochial school closes, six more units will be required. St. Elizabeth now has 158 students.

The 11th unit might be needed if next year's fourth grade requires 10 sections. There are currently eight sections, but next year's class total might number 229, if 28 pupils are transferred from the church school.

The Board discussed placing six portable units at Herrick Park and four at Sutton. If the 11th is needed, it will probably be erected at Tecumseh Acres.

Supt. McDowell and Robert Duhan, his assistant, were requested to investigate costs.

The church is apparently not interested in selling or leasing its buildings.

Table Purchase of Police Cars

Council tabled purchasing three police cars Monday night when officials learned that installation of police equipment on one of the makes might create a problem.

When Councilman William Holmes moved that the city acquire three Dodge Polaras from Les Dallas, Inc., Murell Clark, police chief, questioned the installation of necessary police equipment and told officials that he would like to investigate.

Low bid received was an Ambassador from Les Dallas, but Cal Zorn, city manager, reminded Council that the city once tried Ramblers for cruisers and was disappointed.

A proposal to purchase three cars for department heads was rejected, but Council hiked the monthly car allowance from $62.50 to $100, first increase since 1956, according Mr. Zorn.

Police car bids, opened Friday, were:

Les Dallas, Inc. - Ambassador, $2,670.02 and Dodge Polara, $2,773.54.

Albro Motors from Adrian - Plymouth Fury, $2,875.

George Underwood Fordland - Ford Custom, $2,882.10.

Fisher Ford from Blissfield - Ford Custom, $3,061.51.

Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac - Bel Air, $3,235.

Schneider Chevrolet-Buick - Biscayne, $3,361.

Building Doubles In 1970

Construction doubled in 1970, according to the annual report submitted to Council Monday night by Robert Hamden, building inspector.

Building, including new construction, additions and alterations, amounted to $1,388,206 last year. Total in 1969 was $680,755, and in 1968, $746,825.

There were nine permits for one family houses, $163,200; six permits for 81 apartment units, $795,000; 13 permits, garages and carports, $22,400; one permit, industrial, $25,000; and one permit for a store, $26,000.

Addition and alteration permits for residential buildings totaled 72 for $102,000, 24 permits for other buildings and structures, $254,525.

City Vote In Spring

Tecumseh Council passed a resolution Monday evening which will keep city elections the same as in the past and in accordance to the city's charter.

A recent state bill passed by the legislature in Lansing necessitated local action to keep spring elections. Otherwise, city officials would have been elected in the fall during odd years.

New Vehicle for Firemen

Purchase of a Dodge chasis for the Tecumseh Fire Department's new rescue vehicle was approved by Council Monday night.

Les Dallas, Inc., was low bidder at $3,537.51.

Officials also authorized Gertenslager Co. of Wooster, Ohio to build and install the body at a cost of $10,265. Delivery of the vehicle is expected here sometime in July.

Monday night's action ended the department's numerous requests for a new emergency wagon to replace the 15-year-old station wagon now used.

Cal Zorn, city manager, said the rescue vehicle not only would carry necessary equipment but also would be adaptable to transporting victims or patients in case of an emergency.

Wallace MacGeorge, fire chief, attended the session and answered questions from officials.

Rough Skating

The Tecumseh-Adrian Area Youth Hockey League has been skating on some very rough ice ever since its conception three months ago.

Formed in conjunction with the Adrian Recreation Dept., even this partnership has, apparently, fallen through a hole in the ice.

The program's intent was to organize all interested boys between the ages of seven and 18, providing instruction for the younger ones and combining the older boys, 15-18, from both cities into one team.

But, due to what seems to be a misunderstanding of program priorities, the two recreation departments have pulled apart and it appears each will play hockey by themselves.

The Adrian department recently announced it was starting a hockey instruction program for all junior and senior high school boys and informed Ward Eardley, Tecumseh's recreation director that they were taking back the goalie equipment which they had provided for the Youth Hockey League because it was needed for their own program.

The action's effect on Youth Hockey is twofold. One, it means an additional cost on an already over-strained budget of buying goalie equipment, and two, it takes boys the Youth Hockey team is being built for.

Eardley, however, says anyone from the Adrian area who would still like to play on the team is welcomed, and that they should not be punished for "adult selfishness."

In order for the Youth Hockey program to be run as intended, as Eardley says, a magic number of $2,600 was set to pay ice rental, player insurance, equipment and uniforms. Jerseys, helmets and socks have been purchased, but because of the financial difficulties the rest of the uniform will have to be bought as it can be afforded.

Thus far, the money-making projects have not produced the desired results. It appears from sales volume, and effort put forth, that the boys just want to play hockey and not pay with a little of their time.

A spaghetti dinner, which was to be a big money-raiser, attracted 200 persons, and although this was not as many as expected, the audience was receptive to the Youth Hockey presentation.

But what was to provide the majority of the financial support, contributions from business and industry here and in Adrian, has been grossly ignored. Eardley has sent out 80 letters explaining the program and asking for contributions to make it work.

Out of all those letters, four have been returned and only three, the Tecumseh Police, United Savings Bank and American Legion have made contributions, totalling $210.

The fourth letter, according to Eardley, came from Adrian and was one of the letters he had sent out, but defiantly scrawled across it was, "We don't need money for fun, we need money for schools."

Only one type of person could have written that. The person who, with pen in hand and a safe distance from his source of irratation, has an overabundance of courage, but who, when it comes time to sign his name, is wallowing in the mire of cowardice.

On Nov. 26, I wrote that the citizenry of Tecumseh and Adrian held a succeed or fail grip on the Youth Hockey program, with its fate to be decided by their acceptance or rejection of it.

Since the split with Adrian, success of the program is dependent entirely upon Tecumseh and from the meager support and overwhelming rejections which it has received, it seems obvious that local opinion is attempting to squeeze it to death.

Youth Hockey is not making any outlandish appeals. It only wants, and desperately needs, funds to keep the program on its feet and complete the uniforms.

Money to pay ice rental is occasionally coming out of the boys' own pockets, that's how eager they are to play hockey. Unfortunately, the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association is stopping them because its rules state that no one can participate in competitive hockey unless wearing uniforms and protective equipment.

What is needed is a show of public support, in the form of contributions, to get Youth Hockey solidly on its feet and on its way to becoming an important cog in Tecumseh activities.

But then, why should these industries and businesses show any concern for this? After all, they only work here, employ Tecumsehites, and live here. Why be interested–it's only their town.

I get a feeling of total frustration everytime I talk to Eardley. He has tried every possible avenue to get Youth Hockey moving and has been beaten down on each occasion.

But he keeps trying, looking for new ways, determined to make it work, although the refusals gnaw at him and must hurt deeply.

The man is only attempting to do his job, an impossible task unless public support is generated, and generated fast.

Men in big plush chairs philosophize about what this town needs. Right now, one man is trying to do something about that, but unfortunately, he probably won't make it without the support of the men in those big plush chairs.

Why is it whenever a worthwhile program comes along, it has to battle public apathy to survive? Wouldn't it be so much nicer if no one ever tried to do anything for the kids?

That my friends is pathetic and that's where apathy is. Where are you?

'Jennie' Practice

Nightly rehearsals are in full swing for "Portrait of Jennie," the Tecumseh Players winter production. New talented faces have been combined with the experience of past Players to assure an excellent performance.

Betty Flanders and Peg Frownfelder promise laughter as they portray the shrewish and suspicious landlady and hard-headed, yet soft hearted, art dealer respectively. These Tecumseh residents need no introduction to local theater goers.

Mrs. Flanders' multitude of talents and interests have entertained and brought pleasure in this area for years. Mrs. Frownfelder's extensive background with Player's performances, most notably as a lead in "Never Too Late," assure her usual marvelous portrayal of anything she attempts.

Their common target is Eben, a promising but starving young artist who pursues an elusive Jennie. Eben is ably characterized by Steven Church, who will be remembered for his excellent performance in "Inherit The Wind," Tecumseh High School's senior class presentation last fall.

"Jennie," portrayed by Mrs. Joel Rutherford (Debbie Osborn), weaves her compelling enchantment of Eben to the frustration of "Anna," the forlornly smitten daughter of Eben's landlady.

Debbie, a lifelong Tecumseh resident, is making her debut with the Players, based upon an excellent high school dramatics background.

Rae Ann Outman, of Tipton, provides the proper touch of sassy impudence needed to bring Anna to life, although this is Rae Ann's first appearance with the Players. She has worked backstage previously.

Dom Santangelo, as Eben's well meaning and funny friend, Gus the cab driver, does a superb job in this, his first production. Dom is from Ann Arbor and is a talent to watch most closely.

Tecumseh's Yogoslavian exchange student, Jelena "Candy" Dejanovic, is simply terrific as Jennie's school chum, "Emily". "Candy" not only provides the proper balance to the sweetness that is Jennie, but brings much European theater experience to this show, as well as lending her artistic talents to some of the tech work of this production. She appeared in "Inherit The Wind" last year.

Chuck Froehlich, of Tecumseh, uses his past experience with the Players and the Croswell Summer Theater to good advantage in the role of a pompous art dealer, a delightful foil for the barbs of Peg Frownfelder.

Chuck has appeared in numerous roles as well as performing many backstage functions.

Nancy Kinnard, teacher at Tecumseh High School, and Larry Meads complete the cast of "Jennie".

Mrs. Kinnard, as "Britta," offers a versatile background, ranging from college theater performances to excellent direction of some of the Tecumseh High School class plays, notably "Inherit The Wind".

Larry Meads, an Adrian resident, is a returned Vietnam veteran and a perfect compliment to Mrs. Kinnard in the role of her brother and Eben's friend, "Arnie." Although this production is Larry's first with the Players, he has appeared in the "Cinderella Complex."

Production will be February 12-13-18-19-20 at the Tecumseh Community Center. Tickets will be available at Flanders Music Company in Tecumseh, Rene's Do-Nuts in Irish Hills, or from cast members.

She said the young people came and went during the event and she found the trip down the slide, "very shocking." She also was shocked that more didn't attend since it was a rare opportunity for a county wide fun time for 4-H youth.

Readers Write

Dear Sir:

I would like to inform the general public of something happening in our midst which I believe is called "law enforcement and justice."

Certainly most of the people reading this letter have at some time, received a traffic ticket and had to pay a fine. But have they ever questioned as to where the money goes?

Recently it was my turn to receive a ticket. I was charged with having improper headlighting, one headlight out. I admitted that the light was out and paid the fine of $14.

Now I know very little of what a fair fine would be, but $14 seemed a bit too much for only having one headlight out. I asked where the money went and what it was used for.

Here is the answer I received: "Your fine is $2. Three dollars goes to Lansing along with the record of your violation. The rest goes to pay the judge's salary."

I don't mind paying a fine for a violation, but paying the judge $9 when I didn't even see him seems to me to be an altogether different matter. I realize that the judges have other duties and services to perform, but I say, "Let the people who profit most from these services pay their salaries."

Or, better yet, let the government pay their salaries. The Lord knows everyone pays enough taxes.

I appreciate the opportunity you have given me to voice my opinion. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Tom C. Smith

Safety Discussed By Goldenaires

At a recent meeting of the Goldenaires, they discussed environmental improvements which would be beneficial to the safety and welfare of Senior Citizens as well as others in this area.

Among the suggestions was the prompt removal of snow and ice from side-walks and cross walks including the mounds of ice-packed snow from the curb at street crossings; treatment of water so that it does not leave an oily film on bath tubs and on the top of coffee; paths should be shovelled around parked cars after snow plows have passed; completion of road construction.

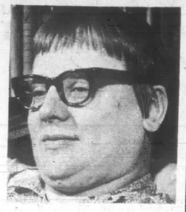

They agree that pedestrians have a difficult time getting around and many of them walk wherever they go--maybe for exercise and maybe not.

Tapes of "home made" music by Deta and Dean Van Valkenburg and their grand-daughter, Marjorie, using the organ and harmonica were enjoyed by all besides the assembly singing led by Glen Driscoll and Mrs. Frank Gray.

Mrs. Lily Beagle served refreshments. Due to inclement weather only 17 were present. Glen Driscoll will plan the program for next Wednesday and Mrs. Lillian Hoagland will be hostess.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

WHO NEEDS IT?

For several days last week my color was green. No, not the 100 percent green associated with full blown, all consuming envy but certainly it was slightly more than a trace of light green bespeaking deep sighs and thoughts tending towards the wouldn't-it-be-fun mood.

The cause of this disenchantment with Michigan and my way of bird watching was a Christmas book, A PARADISE OF BIRDS by Helen Gere Cruickshank. The sub-title, WHEN SPRING COMES TO TEXAS, tells the story.

Mrs. Cruickshank and her husband, Allen, are well known naturalists with many books and excellent pictures to their credit. Photographers, writers, lecturers and observers par excellence.

This book is an account of the glorious things which happen in the Lone Star State after it says goodbye to winter. Primarily the emphasis is on birds and some of the Cruickshanks' experiences while photographing them.

Most of their camera work is done from blinds and therein lies the reason for Marda's twinges of envy. Sitting in a blind and playing Peeping Tom is unbelievably exciting as Helen Cruickshank described it.

For example, one day she watched a flock of 123 spoonbills. Their eyes were cherry red and, had it been the breeding season, their heads would have been a bright apple green. As it was, she saw only a small greenish area around their eyes but that sounds pretty wild, doesn't it?

Their feet were black which shaded into rosy pink on the upper legs; their necks, upper breasts and shoulders were white; bodies and wings bright rose petal pink; and many highlights on wings, throat and upper breast were a deep rich red. Wow, what one does see at close range.

A few other things she noticed. The cinnamon teal's bill is a deep midnight blue with tinges of green; snowy egrets go into a highly animated dance routine when they gather sticks for nesting; and wild turkey toms may have spectacular feather displays but their 'warty, wrinkled heads and necks' are ugly beyond imagination.

Mrs. C. admits to being fascinated by birds'eyes. Many birds change the color of their feathers but how many of us realize that their eyes change too? Of course, one can learn these things from books yet how much more impact it is to see first hand that young brown pelicans have dark eyes which become almost white when the bird matures and the Mexican junco changes from jet black to a brilliant reddish orange.

My faith and enthusiasm in through-the-window bird watching was restored by the sudden appearance of two visitors from the far north. They were spending a merry winter holiday in the south and to them, we are south. Again, books are fine but absolutely nothing beats actually seeing, especially from a distance of only about four feet.

In pictures and in writing, tree sparrows are cute but oh, they are so much more too. Six and one-fourth inches long does not say that the birds are slender and trim and straight out of a band-box neat. Male and female are dressed alike. A brick red crown patch sometimes ruffles in the wind until it almost appears that the bird has a top knot.

Above and below the bright beady eyes are wide patches of soft gray and running from the back corner of the eye is a narrow, but very noticeable, brick red line. The upper part of the bird's breast is gray, the middle part is slightly whitish gray and a single stickpin of dark brown or black adorns this unstriped breast.

Two white bars mark the long pointed wings and between these, looking almost like rounds of a ladder, the feather markings are dark brown and yellow tan. The back is heavily striped with these same colors but one is usually conscious of the fact that this simple pattern is the result of highly intricate markings on each feather.

The narrow tail is deeply forked and, jumping back to the bird's head, the bill is most unusual. The upper mandible is a dull black while the lower is rather fleshy pink yellow.

So it is that as long as this type of looking continues just outside my window, I can think of Helen Gere Cruickshank's experiences in her Texas bird blinds, shrug my shoulders and think, who needs it!

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

You probably have noticed some people at times have peculiar ideas about clergymen. No minister, priest or rabbi is supernatural. They are human beings. The inner voice which beckoned them to their calling usually provides them with patience, tolerance and benevolence. But they are still human and have the same traits of curiosity and anxiety as other people.

We imagine most men of the cloth wonder at times about their adequacy — or inadequacies. Hours of preparation and prayer precede a worship service. Even so, no clergyman can strike a responsive chord to or for every one on every occasion. This is just as impossible as it is for a ball player to hit a home run every time at bat.

But, when a responsive chord is struck, wouldn't it be a good idea — at least once in a while — to write a note and say so? Remember — they're human too.

Book Records Village History

BRITTON—Village of Britton will soon be boasting about a book on the history of the village, thanks to the Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds and their leaders who have worked so diligently during the past year in accumulating all the history they could lay their hands on and came up with some very interesting facts and lots of pictures.

All this will soon be put into book form and will soon be available to anyone interested in obtaining a copy.

Many items received were very old, or keepsakes and had to be handled with great care. Several hours were spent calling on the phone, visits to homes and writing endless letters in search for more information.

The idea to put all the facts into a hard cover book resulted from last year's national theme "American Heritage," a project where the girls compiled all possible information on the history of Britton and each made scrapbooks, but the project "snowballed" and an all out effort on the part of each member was made to search further for more detailed facts and pictures.

All information collected was of such interest that residents and former residents were all soon "in the act" to help and the idea of compiling all the information into a book soon became the goal.

A contest was held last fall in search for a suitable name for the book. Each girl submitted suggestions, with the American Legion members selecting a winner. The title "Bygone Days," was chosen, submitted by Julie Osterhout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osterhout.

Financing the book was the next big problem, but several donations from families, interested in their own histories to be published helped to defray some of the expenses. The girls sponsored several money making projects and the local American Legion Glen H. Daykin Post 155, loaned the girls $1,800 for the first payment to the publisher for 1,000 books.

With this help, the goal of the girls and leaders is to sell enough subscriptions to meet the next two payments. A subscription drive will be held Saturday, Jan. 23, beginning at 9 a.m. Mrs. Dick Bruce and Mrs. Donald Farmer are co-chairmen.

Plans have been completed for the book, containing 200 pages of pictures and historical facts. Orders are being taken now by any Camp Fire leader.

Cost of the book is $6 until March, then the price will be $6.50.

First copy of "Bygone Days" will be presented to the Britton Library. Through donations it is hoped that several copies may be placed in other libraries and museums in the state.

Thelma Younglove, a retired teacher from the area, consented to prepare the final draft of the book to be sent to the publishing company.

Mrs. Gerald Price and Mrs. Lee Benedict are co-chairmen of the project.

Strings Crusade Is Club's Theme

Crusade for Strings was the theme of the January meeting of Tecumseh Music Club held in the home of Dorothy Ruthruff and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Wilson stated the reason for the crusade - few students are studying stringed instruments these days and if more do not take up violin, cello, etc. soon symphony music will suffer since strings are the mainstay of the large orchestras.

Mrs. James E. Danforth, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Edwin Walters composed a violin trio and played three selections accompanied by Miss Ruthruff.

It has now been determined by school officials that Gov. William Milliken's proposed 2 percent cut in state aid would cost the Tecumseh schools $25,927.97.

However, officials had figured $3,000 less in the present budget, and this sum plus an extra $6,676 in Title I money would affect the budget by only $15,386.93.

Two Killed In Head-On Crash

CLINTON–Earl Whitaker, 26, the driver, and Michael Risner, 19, his passenger, both of Ann Arbor, were pronounced dead at the scene of a head-on collision with a 2½ ton stake cattle truck driven by Melvin Roehm, 25, of Clinton, at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 13.

Crash occurred in the freezing rain on US-12 in Franklin Twp., three miles west of Clinton, 500 feet west of Hudson Rd. which is near the Washtenaw County border.

Coroner Donald Dunmore was called to the scene by Lenawee County Sheriff's deputies. It was reported that the truck driven by Roehm was traveling east on US-12 and the Whitaker vehicle was westbound when they collided.

Mr. Roehm, who not injured, told officers that prior to the collision, he saw a car in the distance coming toward him at a fast rate of speed. He said icy road conditions prevented him from avoiding the collision.

Betty Kowalski, 48, Lincoln Park, was the driver of a second car which struck the rear of the Roehm truck after the first accident. Mrs. Kowalski and her passenger were not injured.

School Named for Darwin C. Smith

Darwin C. Smith, former Tecumseh grade school principal, has been honored in New York State by having a school named for him.

Mr. Smith taught here in 1948, '49, and '50 and was replaced by Earl Greene.

His wife, Marge, is a sister of Mrs. Earl Lindsley. The couple became acquainted through family visitations both in New York and Michigan.

The teacher has devoted a large part of his life to education since his graduation from Cornell University in 1922. He has served as administrator, school clerk, tax collector and board member.

His first teaching job was as a special education teacher in Rochester, N.Y., where he taught for 12 years. After seven more years as trade school teacher, he returned to school and received his M.A. degree from the University of Rochester in 1941.

He and his wife came to Detroit and later to Tecumseh before deciding to return to the family estate in Lodi, N.Y., which dates back to the early 1800's.

He accepted the position as district clerk with Ovid Central School retiring in 1965. Since then he has served as a member of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services, playing a significant role in the total development of the organization.

Twelve classes of mentally handicapped and trainable mentally retarded children will meet at the new center, named the Darwin C. Smith Special Education Building serving three counties, Tompkins, Seneca and Tioga.

The honor was accorded Mr. Smith due to his intense interest in and his devoted teaching of special education.

A spokesman for BOCES stated, "There aren't many "Dar" Smiths around anywhere; and because there aren't, the world is that much poorer. BOCES has been most fortunate to have a man of his caliber playing such an important role in its development."

DARWIN S. SMITH

Named To Honors List

Douglas W. Bird Jr., Roger D. Mikesell and Joan E. Wilt of Tecumseh and Mark E. Wegner of Clinton have been named to academic honors list for scholastic excellence for the fall term at Ferris State College.

GIRL SCOUT COOKIE TIME — Frank Bock newly-elected president of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, bought the first box of cookies from Sandy Dunn, a Junior Girl Scout of Troop No. 130. Cookie sale officially gets under way Saturday, Jan. 23.

Cookie Sale Starts Saturday

Girl Scout Cookie sale begins Saturday, Jan. 23 and girls will be taking orders the following two weeks. There will be five flavors to choose from: sugared shortbreads, vanilla sandwich cremes, thin mints, frosties and peanut butter patties.

Cost of these Weston cookies will be 50 cents per box, but customers are asked not to pay until the cookies are delivered in the early part of March.

For each box of cookies a Girl Scout sells, she will receive a nickel for her troop treasury. Remaining profit of 19 cents will be used by her Irish Hills Girl Scout Council to maintain the Camp O' the Hills on Wamplers Lake.

Girl Scouting is unique in that it is the only girl organization which emphasizes self-government. Even at the Brownie level, the girls learn to vote on activities and abide by majority rule.

As they grow in Scouting, girls learn how representative government works by their use of the patrol system and court of honor. In Scouting a girl learns to choose, plan, carry out and evaluate her activities as a member of a democratic group.

Whether it's a camping trip, a service project, badge work or a party the girls learn to become self-reliant, and that in a group activity, everyone must "pull their own load."

Frosh Indians Beat WR, Saline

Tecumseh's freshman basketball team picked up two easy wins on the strength on good shooting and board control.

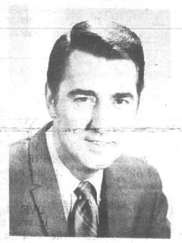

Led by Alan Schafer, Bob Lawson and David Allen, the frosh defeated Willow Run, 55-44 Jan. 14. They built up a 28-16 halftime lead and coasted on in for the victory.

Tecumseh shot 37 percent from the floor and 52 percent from the charity line.

On Jan. 19, the frosh outclassed Saline, who were without two key players, 63-28.

Schafer and Allen led the scoring parade with 19 and 16 points respectively. The Indians controlled both boards and everyone except one player scored as the reserves played most of the second half.

Tecumseh entertains the Blissfield frosh tonight at 5 p.m.

In 1951, Mr. Diles joined the Associated Press and in 1956 was named Michigan Sports Editor for Associated Press where for five years he was one of the foremost contributors to the national sports arena.

Public is invited.

Junior Indians Win Fifth, 63-44

Fine shooting and a strong 24 point third quarter led the Junior Indians to a 63-44 win over Gibralter Carlson Friday.

Mike Eggleston paced the victors with 15 points, followed by Dennis Dermeyer and Greg Bowen with nine each. Al Sellers and Dave Cook added eight apiece and Gaylord Long chipped in with seven.

Cook led the Junior Indians in rebounding, pulling down 13. Tecumseh had fine shooting, hitting at 65 percent clips from the floor and foul line.

Coach Jim Curth said teamwork and hustle by the Indians meant the difference in the game. They will try to even their record at 5-5 when the little Indians host New Boston Huron Friday night.

Winning Rotarians raised $830.73 and Kiwanians raised $337.08 in the record setting bell-ringing event before Christmas.

Rotarians hosted the dinner attended by 38 Rotarians and 24 Kiwanians.

Rotary President Paul Roekle was in charge of the program which included a good bit of friendly banter and silly prizes awarded to the team captains, Kiwanian Carl Lamb and Rotarian Ken McElroy.

Capt. John Werner of the Salvation Army Citadel, Adrian, spoke in appreciation of the collection by the two clubs, which he said raised as much as several Adrian Clubs had raised.

Challenge will be on again next year with the new goal set at $2,000.

Jaycees Presenting Follies Friday, Saturday in Adrian

Tecumseh Jaycees' sixth annual Follies hits the stage Friday and Saturday night in the Croswell Theatre at Adrian.

Curtain time is eight o'clock for what is probably the county's biggest variety production. Over 80 participants are involved in songs, skits and dances, not including those working back stage.

Theme is "Do Your Thing," and is under the direction of Victor Duntiere. There are 12 scenes in act one and 10 in act two.

The Jaycees, given much assistance from the Jaycee Auxiliary for the Follies, are selling tickets locally at Flanders Music and Helms Furniture. Members also have tickets.

Last year the local organization raised approximately $1,500 and spent most of it for a new entrance to Tecumseh Park, the Jaycee Relays and Tecumseh Days. There is no other similar organization here which devotes as much time and monies on civic projects as the Tecumseh Jaycees.

This year a survey in the community is tentatively planned to determine the next project. One thought is a skating rink which could be used by both the young and old. Other possible projects also have been suggested.

Earl Crabtree is general chairman of the Follies this year, assisted by Mrs. Walter Wonderly. One of the highlights will occur at Saturday's performance with the naming of Mr. and Mrs. Follies from 34 contestants.

'71 FOLLIES — This lineup of girls will perform Friday and Saturday in the Jaycee Follies at the Croswell Theatre in Adrian. "Georgie Girl" is the theme for the girls' dance and song routine. Performers are, from the left, Stephanie Hensen, Lauri Downard, Linda Korth, Vickie Wright, Terese Desmet, Lauri Lundquist, Vickie Vincze, Helen Williams, Vickie LaVoy and Ann Mende.

'Good Year'

"Another good year" highlighted remarks and the annual meeting of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh Tuesday afternoon at the Country Club.

J.W. "Pat" Meadows reviewed 1970, proclaiming a good year by pointing out that the bank's net operating earnings after taxes had increased by 18 percent, and forecast a good year in 1971.

Nearly 40 shareholders braved stormy weather to attend the session. The bank's annual meeting usually attracts 70 or more, plus the directors.

Mr. Meadows, board chairman, told shareholders that he believed we were in a depression but on our way out. He explained that the government's influence in lowering interest rates was bound to improve the economy.

In response to a question about the value of the bank's stock, he said that sales in recent months had varied from $81 to $100. And, last fall he sold some shares at $85 but "would not sell any now for less than $100 a share."

The bank chairman also told those present that the bank had purchased the former Keith Bailey Oldsmobile site for a new branch, and had hopes that the branch would be in operation yet this year.

Kenneth McElroy, bank president, explained the responsibility that the bank has for the community and area, and Merlyn Downing, vice president and cashier, discussed the bank's new, computer operating procedures at Fremont, Ohio.

Kenneth Herrick, director and board chairman of the Tecumseh Products, spoke briefly, praising the bank's management and the high regard his company has for the bank.

He said the bank has been good for the company, the Herrick family, and especially during the first years of the company's operations after 1934. He said that Mr. Meadows was largely responsible for the bank's growth.

He remarked that the Products had increased its sales from $420 million in 1969 to $426 million in 1970.

Of the bank's 125,000 shares of common stock, 47,067 were represented by proxy and 39,716 represented in person. Mrs. Gertrude Schneider and Perry Satterthwaite were tellers.

Following the shareholders' meeting, the board held its annual organizational session and re-elected all officers:

Mr. Meadows - chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

Mr. McElroy - president and chief operating officer.

Mr. Downing - vice president and cashier.

Earl D. Mason - vice president.

J.L. Stoner - vice president.

Mary A. Bowers - assistant vice president.

Arnold D. Sayler - assistant vice president.

Nina F. Wright - assistant vice president.

William Danley - assistant cashier.

Lincoln F. Lloyd - assistant cashier.

Local Youth Just Missed

Quick thinking Mark Service, 17, barely escaped the accident that resulted in the death of Earl Cattell of Hudson Saturday, about 8:50 p.m., on Occidental Hwy.

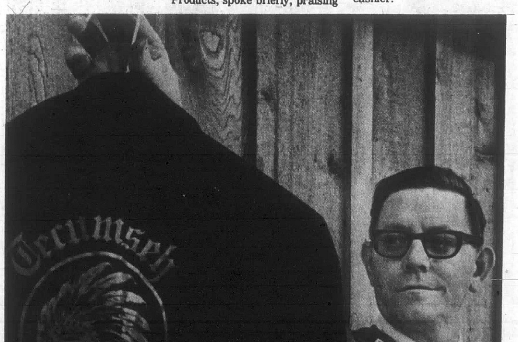

The Tecumseh High School junior saw the Cattell car coming toward him and go off the road onto the berm. Mark called the police.

The Cattell car struck nearly headon a truck driven by Dewey Byrd of Adrian, just behind the Service vehicle.

Sheriff's deputies said that Mr. Cattell was going south on Occidental when he drove across the centerline and collided with the pick-up truck, just south of Bailey Drive.

Mr. Byrd and Coy McCarley, also of Adrian, weere released after treatment at Bixby Hospital.

Services for Mr. Cattell, a Tecumseh Products employee for 23 years, were held Tuesday in Hudson.

HURRAH FOR THE ORANGE AND BLACK — William Kukral displays sweatshirts and jackets to be sold by Tecumseh Band Boosters to raise funds for the purchase of new uniforms for Tecumseh High School bandsmen. A sale will be held one day in each school in the system with notices being sent out early so that cash purchases may be made. Shirts are available in either long or short sleeves from size 2 to adults; jackets from 6 to extra large. Goal is to get uniforms for October Band Festival.

Shooter Is Nabbed In Detroit

Richard Carmean, 610 W. Logan St., received a call Tuesday morning from Detroit police, informing him that they had just taken in custody a man who had confessed to shooting Mr. Carmean last spring.

Mr. Carmean was staying in a Detroit Motel one night last March and when he went down to the parking lot, he was accosted by a man who demanded his money. When he refused, the thief backed up and shot Mr. Carmean in the abdomen.

Physicians showed him bits of twisted metal, all that remained of his tie clasp which had taken enough of the impact of the bullet to keep it from shattering his liver.

Players Rehearse for 'Jennie'

Were you a "Depression Kid?" Or do you wonder about such times? Do miracles exist? Or, are there such things?

"Portrait of Jennie" is a wistful and gentle story of the hardships a talented young man of depression days struggles against.

With the advent of the intriguing Jennie into his bleak life, an enthralling tale of enchantment unfolds, culminating in a fascinatingly unexpected, yet poignant, conclusion. Who is Jennie? What is she?

Martha Lear's slick direction of this Tecumseh Player's winter presentation is based upon an extensive background with the St. John Little Theater Group. Her family moved to Tecumseh last year.

In addition to directing and acting with that group, Mrs. Lear has appeared in "Mame" with the Croswell Summer Theater, as well as in the Player's fall production, "Web of Murder."

Mrs. Lear's husband, Ron, is an engineer with the Lenawee County Road Commission. They have two small sons.

Assisting Martha in this production is Mrs. Mel Wegner. "Jo" uses her vast background of theater experience expertly, and a smooth, delightful evening is assured. Although Jo has worked in all phases of little theater, she may be best, or most recently, remembered, in the title role of "Everbody Loves Opal" and "Nora" in "Web of Murder" respectively.

Cast members include Debbie Rutherford, Steve Church, "Candy" Dejanovic, Dom Santangelo, Betty Flanders, Rae Ann Outman, Peg Frownfelder, Chuck Froehlich, Nancy Kinnard, and Larry Meads.

Production will be February 12, 13, 18, 19, 20.

Tickets available on a reservation basis only from Flanders Music in Tecumseh, Rene's DoNuts in Irish Hills, or from cast members.

Police Handle Just 1

Tecumseh's weather was so nasty Tuesday that it probably accounted for the number of accidents investigated here by the police - just one!

In that mishap, an unknown motorist pulled out in front of Craig Van Camp, 17, of 501 Outer Dr., forcing him to stop suddenly. His car was then bumped from behind by Thomas H. Merz, 17, of 716 Occidental. Accident occured at E. Chicago and Ottawa.

A resume of the week's accident record is:

Jan. 20 - Teresa Ruttkofsky, 44, of 317 N. Pearl was cited for failure to yield after a mishap with May D. Brady, 52, Clinton, at N. Evans and Bidwell.

Jan. 22 - Mary E. Quinn, 20, of 507 W. Maumee, told police her car was struck from behind by another driver, who left the scene. Mishap happened at S. Evans and E. Patterson.

Jan. 22 - Gregory W. Dunbar, 18, Britton reported backing his auto into Kenneth L. Baker, 16, of 718 Ternes Rd., at the House of Pizza.

Jan. 24 - Harvey G. Bridges, 24, Britton was charged with failure to control his car after running into a parked auto, owned by Francis Z. Yoder, 8244 Clinton-Macon Rd.

Jan. 25 - Jean M. Fagan, 36, of 4939 Milwaukee Rd., was cited for failure to yield after turning in front of Herbert Emery, 46, Onsted, at W. Chicago and Union St.

Jan. 25 - Paciclis E. Tsipis, 29, Dearborn was charged with failure to control his auto after running into Frederick J. Steele, 25, Adrian, on S. Evans St.

State Is Busy

Numerous collisions in Tuesday morning's blinding blizzard kept Clinton State Police occupied, however no serious injuries were reported and damage was mainly limited to fender benders.

Among the serious traffic tie-ups was one which occurred at 7:55 a.m. on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., near the Staib Rd. intersection.

Kenneth Kimple, 505 W. Brown

Change of seasons is one of the joys of Michigan and in spite of all the snide remarks, we are still wishing for another 14 inches of white stuff.

Horse's Bite Breaks Arm

CLINTON--Mrs. Richard Robinson, nee Diane Walden, Clinton-Macon Rd., received a broken left arm when she was bitten by a horse. She was placed in traction at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mishap occurred early last Tuesday morning as Mrs. Robinson, who has worked around horses all her life, began working for the first time at the Bidwell horse farm, one mile west of Clinton on US-12.

As the stallion grabbed her left arm, the young woman and the horse both fell to their knees and the horse apparently could not let go of her arm. It was necessary for the farm manager, Terry Buter, to beat the horse off with a club to release her.

Only the fact that she was wearing a heavy coat prevented more extensive damage to Mrs. Robinson's arm.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

A teacher asked her high school class, "Who, in your opinion, is the most popular man in American history? State your reasons for your choice." The question was well intentioned; not intended to be tricky. Varied answers were given. Most students selected Washington or Lincoln and gave good reasons. Some selected sport personalities and also gave good reasons. One student surprised the teacher with a stunningly unexpected choice. He chose Christ.

He explained. "While Christ, since His birth, has had world wide prominence and popularity, He occupies a spot in American history unlike that of any other man. Without a Christ, there would have been no need for our birth as a nation for religious freedom. Christ is the ONLY Man in world OR American history to be popularized in thousands of songs. The songs surround His birth, His life, His death, His resurrection. Nothing of this sort has popularized ANY other man in world OR American history! As long as these songs are sung by growing numbers in America, no one need worry about a dead God — or an unpopular Christ."

Remarkable reasoning! Wouldn't you say so?

BEHIND the COUNTER with

BEHIND THE COUNTER SERIES FOUR SNORING

Snoring is more of a physical problem than a medical one, but a surprising amount of research has gone into the question of how to stop it. And, more recently, on how to cope with the person who snores.

Snoring has been defined as "breathing during sleep with a rough, hoarse noise," but that scarcely describes the wheezing, snorting, rasping and rumbling that can shake a bed room wall. Sometimes the volume is so great, there's no point in moving to another bedroom—at least, not one in the same house.

The sound is usually caused by a vibration of the soft palate and uvula, that cone-shaped piece of tissue hanging down from the palate between the tonsils at the back of the mouth. Or it can be caused by obstructions or deformities in the nose, mouth or throat; the retention of fluids in the post-nasal area; or a swelling of the throat membrane.

The cures? If a person sleeps with one pillow, try adding a second — or vice versa. Tie a large knot in the snorer's pajama string, so that it's impossible to sleep on the back. Take a sleeping pill, wear ear plugs.

Or, says one expert: "Train the subconscious mind to reject offensive acoustic snoring stimuli, just as it rejects various ambient noises amidst which one sleeps comfortably." He doesn't explain how that is done.

Through My Window

SOME FLICKERS DO ICE SKATE!

Unfortunately Dad had to be away all morning and thus missed the fun. Mother, however, was here and this is going to be one of the joys of her retirement, instead of hearing everything second hand she can now do a bit of window watching herself. And oh, what window watching there was this particular morning.

As soon as Gertie T. and I saw what was happening on the creek, we let out shouts and Mom came running. There are many times when it is nice to have 'collaborating witnesses' and I think each of us was glad, in this instance, that there were two other sets of eyes to verify what was happening. There are doubters in this world you know and an ice-skating flicker just might cause a few raised eyebrows.

The creek has, of course, been frozen for weeks. It takes a terribly long and severe cold snap to freeze it completely though – there are two or three places where the current is swift enough to resist freezing. These open spots are interesting to see and the birds and squirrels love them. Even in the worst of weather they need fresh water to drink.

It was towards the smallest of these 'drinking fountains' that the flicker was heading. The mode of his travel was what had the three of us convulsed. He was skating – or, if you are a purist, the technical word is probably coasting.

Anyway, this big handsome flicker would take a rapid three or four steps and then slide. Yes, you did read right – he slid. Not just once did he do this but many many times. Three of us, all wearing prescription glasses, saw him do it.

Often we have watched kids do this. If they come to the creek sans ice skates, almost as much fun can be had by running a few steps and then sliding. If the ice is particularly slick, it is amazing how far some of these skids are.

Always when we see either skaters or sliders on the creek, we comment on how much fun they are having. They act as though they were enjoying themselves and they look as though they were enjoying themselves. Well, the flicker acted as though he were enjoying himself and he certainly looked it too.

Seeing a bird ice skate down the creek does change his image slightly. It does something to his dignity. A flicker simply is not a bird who, until that morning, I would have thought of as having a sense of humor or a particular knack for having fun.

In the summer, when patrolling the yards in search of ants, he is all business and whenever one comes to the feeder it would appear that all he has in mind is gobbling down a quick lunch. This character, however, was most definitely having himself a good time.

Why else, except for fun, would he have been ice skating? A fast two or three steps and then a slide. He could walk, he could run, he could fly – we saw him do all three after satisfying his thirst with a long, cool drink. Going to the water fountain though, it was fun, fun, fun all the way.

So it is that we enjoyed the watching but do you see why, in the second paragraph, I voiced gratitude for two bird watchers who can back my statement that some flickers do ice skate!

3 Drug Films To Be Shown

General public is invited to view the following films at the Tecumseh Church of Christ, 302 E. Chicago Blvd. These films are provided by the Michigan Blue Shield and there is no charge.

"A Moveable Scene," 22 minutes, color, Monday, Feb. 1, 8 p.m. Part I of the Distant Drummer Trilogy, takes quick visits to the "Moveable Scene" in New Orleans, New York and London where drug usage is prevalent.

The film points up the evidence of the pervasiveness of drug abuse spanning all socio-economic classes. A more personal view through reports by abusers and parents, provides for compassionate insight into the reasons for the expanding drug problems. Narrated by Robert Mitchum.

"Flowers of Darkness," 22 minutes, color, Monday, Feb. 8, 8 p.m. The "beautiful but dangerous flower of darkness, the opium poppy" provides the focus around which the cameras invade the expansive, enticing world of drugs.

This film, Part II of the Distant Drummer Trilogy, graphically presents the drug culture; from the haunts of Istanbul to the American city street corners; introducing an historical insight into one of society's everpresent and growing problems. Narrated by Paul Newman.

"Bridge to Nowhere," 22 minutes, color, Monday Feb. 15, 8 Part III of the Distant Drummer Trilogy deals with society's attitudes about the addict and the development of rehabilitative methods in relations to the shifts in these attitudes.

The film points out that "there is no single bridge" and provides a look at the legal implications of attitudes towards addiction and the numerous means being developed to deal with the problems. Narrated by Rod Steiger.

Card of Thanks

IT IS with sincere feelings that we extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone who was so thoughtful and kind to our family during our recent bereavement. Friends were so sincere in their particular acts of kindness, including paying their tribute at the Proctor Funeral Home; such beautiful flowers and cards, also memorials. Also so many friends bringing food and offering their services in any way they could. The children and I can only say "Thank you."

Services Are Held for John Saling

Funeral services were held in the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon for John E. Saling, 59, Tecumseh businessman who died shortly after noon Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Although he had been in ill health for several weeks and had undergone an operation earlier, his death was unexpected.

Mr. Saling, who operated the Tecumseh Camera Shop in downtown Tecumseh since 1947, was well known in the community.

He retired May 31, 1968 after 25 years on the Tecumseh Fire Department and for the past few years was civil defense director for Lenawee County. At the time of his retirement as fireman, the department honored him with a plaque from the city, and a silver firemen's axe.

Mr. Saling was a member and elder of the Presbyterian Church and a member of the church's choir for 25 years. He was also a member of the Masonic Lodge and a former president of the Tecumseh Exchange Club. At one time he was city assessor.

He was born on Sept. 27, 1911 at Davenport, Iowa. On June 15, 1942, he married Magdaline Gygi Boyd.

Survivors, besides the window, are two sons, Charles at home and John, Western Michigan University student; daughter, Mrs. Victor (Janice) Paine; brother, Herbert, Omaha, Neb.; half-brother, Earl Kindred, Davenport; sister, Mrs. Ruth Rose, Davenport; half-sister, Mrs. John Gressman, Levingtown, N.Y.; and one grandchild.

The Rev. Edmund Watkins officiated at the services, and burial was in Brookside Cemetery. Proctor Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Back-up Systems for Fire Sirens Being Investigated

A back-up system for the fire alarms of the Tecumseh Fire Department was almost assured Monday night when Council generally agreed that such a step was needed.

Last Friday evening, only one siren was working when the department was called to a blaze on Robbins Rd. The siren on W. Chicago Blvd. sounded, but those located at the A&P, Tecumseh Acres school and the main siren atop the fire station were not working due to the weather.

Earlier Friday evening during a warm spell, moisture and snow clogged the sirens. Firemen were able to start the siren by the school Saturday, but the other two sirens are still disabled.

Several firemen were summoned by phone to answer the fire call.

Two back-up systems were discussed briefly at Council, one a radio-type with receivers in the firemen's homes. This system, which is portable, available now and would not incur any installation, would cost nearly $3,000.

Lonal Bishop, assistant fire chief, explained this system to city officials.

Cal Zorn, city manager, said that he had discussed a phone system with General Telephone. He stated the system would cost about $50 a month, but did not have all the details.

Deny Tavern 'C' License for Liquor

A request for a Class C liquor license was turned down by Council Monday for Jerry's Bar and Grill.

The rejection was based on an inspection report, submitted by Murell Clark, police chief. In his report he recommended that the license be denied.

The inspection cited many violations, including the building, toilets, garbage container, sanitization, refrigeration, bartenders not having food handlers license, and a faulty sewer in the basement.

Chief Clark says it will probably be three or four weeks before another inspection, giving the owner, Gerald W. Quinn, time to correct violations and qualify to serve liquor by the glass.

3 Police Cars To Be Leased

Council switched from a purchase plan to a lease Monday night and awarded Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac of Clinton with the city's bid for three police cruisers.

Cal Zorn, city manager, is hopeful that the patrol cars will be in operation here in March.

The Underwood bid was $260 a month for three Bel Airs, but it was not low.

George Underwood Fordland had bid $250 a month for three Ford Customs, and Fisher Ford of Blissfield likewise bid $250 but added a three-cent per mile charge.

Apparently, the reason to reject the Underwood Ford bid was a two-year lease, although bid specifications called for a lease of one or more years. Some city officials had assumed that the Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac bid was for two years, but are not sure now.

Les Dallas, Inc. had submitted low bids for purchasing, either for Ambassadors or Dodges. He did not give a lease bid.

Follies' Winners Are Roy Sharps

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sharp, 509 Herrick Park Dr., of Lenawee Glass Co., were voted Mr. and Mrs. Follies. They had 9,429 votes. Announcement was made at the Saturday night performance of the annual Jaycees Follies at the Croswell Opera House, Adrian.

Framed plaque was presented to the winners by Earl Crabtree, Follies chairman and Mrs. Roger Butler and Mrs. Darrell Staup, co-chairmen of the contest. Election was by penny a vote placed in canisters at locations throughout Tecumseh, Britton and Clinton.

Certificates were presented to runners-up Mr. and Mrs. Bob Meadows, Meadow Market, 6,817 votes; and third place finishers Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer, Auto Parts Co., Inc., 4,879 votes.

Contest raised more money than any previous Mr. and Mrs. Contest.

Schools Reporting Marks to Parents

Tecumseh schools will report grades to parents by mail for the junior and senior High School pupils. These reports will be sent this Thursday, and parents should receive them either Thursday or Friday.

Elementary reports are different than in previous years as there are no letter grades given and no comparisons between the child and other children. A report of that which the child actually does in relation to that which the teacher believes he should do is presented on these reports.

Growth in academic areas was reported on profile charts to parents in the fall and will be again at the end of the year.

Parents of children in the first and second grades will receive their reports at the parent-teacher conferences as scheduled by the teachers.

Parents of third through sixth grade children should have received these reports from their children on Wednesday, February 3.

Debbie is portrayed in the role of "Jennie" and Steve as the painter. Tickets are available in Tecumseh at Flanders Music and from cast members.

'Jennie' Ready for Stage

The Tecumseh Players' winter production, "Portrait of Jennie," will be presented next week for the first time at the Community Center.

Performances, scheduled to start at 8 p.m., will be given Feb. 12,13,18,19, and 20 in the Glass Room. Patrons are urged to buy their tickets and make reservations now.

Tickets are available from cast members or at Flanders Music and Rene's Donuts in the Irish Hills.

The production has involved more area people backstage than those in front of the curtain.

Ray Outman once more demonstrates superlative "know-how" in the designing and construction of a rather complicated set. With the help of Ron Wetter, Lyle Dornan, Hal Weakley, Guil Rothfuss, Bill Frownfelder, and cast members, the creation of various portable settings is again taking shape.

There are many vital jobs imperative to productions, such as the Players undertake, to provide entertainment for the people of Lenawee County. These unsung heroes contribute much of their own time and effort to ensure the finest productions possible.

Judy Dornan, Cheri Weakley, April Cook, Margene Frownfelder, Nancy Kinnard, Rene Crombez, Joy Dalton, Ruth Alivarez and Don Dobrosky are handling various production necessities in this nostalgic delight.

Director Martha Lear and assistant director, Jo Wegner, have an excellent show in nightly rehearsal with an unusually fine cast.

Steve Church, Debbie Rutherford, Dom Santangelo, Candy Dejanovic, Larry Meads, Nancy Kinnard, Betty Flanders, Rae Ann Outman, Peg Frownfelder and Chuck Froehlich have their wide divergence of characters under tight control and are diligently polishing their roles.

Firemen OK Aid for Township

Tecumseh firemen voted unanimously Tuesday night to accept a mutual aid fire agreement with Raisin Township.

One Killed, Driver Hurt In Mishap

An auto accident Saturday brought death to Andrew J. Pinter, 50, of 6444 Sutton Rd. only five days after the death of his daughter, Linda Jean.

Mr. Pinter was pronounced dead of a fractured skull by Coroner Donald Dunmore. It is believed that his head hit the dash board.

Wilbar was transferred from Bixby Hospital to Ypsilanti Veterans Hospital with a head injury. He is reported in good condition, but will require plastic surgery later.

2 Meeting for Sewer Discussion

Near blizzard conditions couldn't keep more that 400 folks from attending the Tecumseh Jaycee Follies Friday night at Croswell Opera House, Adrian. Saturday night, the audience of about 900 packed the house. What could have been a near disaster, served as an audience warm-up Saturday when the 500 lb. asbestos fire curtain was accidently dropped just a couple of feet in front of the line of singers during their opening number. Wood splinters in the feet of the barefoot dancers was the only other serious mishap in the otherwise highly successful show.

Now where did that picture go anyway? Probably it still reposes in The Herald file and that same is filled to the full with brides, engagements, 4-H kids, promotions, etc. Treasures that should be picked up by the owners.

Break Is Found In Water Main

CLINTON–A break in the main water line to the Clinton Elementary School was discovered by DeArle Brugger, custodian, as he was making an inspection tour of the property Saturday afternoon.

School opened as usual Monday morning.

CLINTON—Youth and children of the Clinton Baptist Church enjoyed a skating and sledding party Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Esther Kaiser, Wellwood Rd.

There were 27 persons present including the chaperons, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Wellman and Mr. and Mrs. Colston Watson.

After the party, the group came back to the church for refreshments.

Gun Explodes, Hand Is Injured

Patrick Harder, 17, Dearborn, was admitted to Herrick Hospital Saturday afternoon with severe injuries to his left thumb received when a 12 gauge shotgun exploded as he was target shooting.

Mishap occurred in Cambridge Township.

Clinton State Police said the gun apparently malfunctioned or might have had snow packed in it causing the explosion.

Contest Winners Are Announced

Mrs. Jim Murphy, 316 W. Patterson and her son, Dan, were among the winners at Trickey's Inc. drawing.

They were the only mother-son winners but others were Carol Hammack, Ruth Lowery, Donna Tomecek, Aina Bauman, Mrs. M. Graf, Irene Wurster, Floyd Brown, J. Hibbard, Alberta Crandall and Evelyn Hendricks.

Helen Smith, Shirley Van Camp, Sharon Creger, Nanci Vaughn, Barb Retan, Doris Underwood, Joan Brown, Carol Tuckerman, Mrs. R. Turner, Catherine Smith and Mrs. F. Hawthorne won, too.

Joe Hayden, Nancy Wegner, Cortland Hunt, Betty Osterhout and Peggy Reed concluded the list.

Friends Do All But Cook Meals

"I've never seen anything like it — the people downtown — they're great." Words came tumbling out as Rushia Coscarelli told of the helpfulness of customers in Larry's Grill which she was operating while her husband has been ill for the past two weeks.

After two weeks of staying home with a slipped disk in his back, Larry was back to work Monday part-time and on crutches.

Mrs. Coscarelli, with assistance of regular customers and friends, took care of the restaurant business while he was at home.

Rushia just couldn't get over the consideration she received. "A couple of merchants even mopped the floor, wearing their business suits. Goes to show, friends are priceless," she concluded.

Uniform Drive Continuing

Thirty-two members were present to see the sample band uniform Thursday evening at the Band Booster meeting conducted by President William Kukral.

Band Director Gerald Bach has been contacting uniform companies who will have representatives present with pictures of various types of uniforms at the next meeting.

Mrs. Francis Packard, chairman of the sweatshirt and jacket project, reported on the prices and methods of selling. The sweatshirts, available in adult and youth sizes, range from $2.25 for the short-sleeve to $3.25 for the long-sleeve and are orange on black or black on orange.

The jackets are black and priced from $5 for the youth sizes to $6 for the adult. They will be sold in the schools and also may be purchased from Flanders Music Company

Profits from these sales will be added to the $1,534 now in the uniform fund.

Mrs. William Kukral is the chairman of the fund-raising dinner the Band Boosters will be serving March 9 at the Father-Son Banquet of the Raisin Center Friends Church.

It was decided that band members will sell the liquid cleaner which was also sold the first part of the school year. Mrs. Douglas Bird, calendar chairman, reported a $242 profit from calendar sales.

Parents of fifth and sixth grade band students will also receive notices of the next meeting. Since the junior high band concert will be the same night as the next scheduled meeting, it was decided to hold the Band Boosters meeting a week earlier, Feb. 18.

Director Discusses Programs For 1971

Ward Eardley, park and recreation director, reviewed 1970 programs and outlined those for 1971 for 30 members of Rotary Tuesday night at Tecumseh Country Club.

He asked for more adult participation and cooperation. He spoke further on communications and enumerated activities by the dozen for all ages. It is the consensus of Rotarians that more people should take advantage of these programs and that few Tecumsehites realize the extensiveness of them.

Mr. Eardley was lauded for his interest and efforts especially with the city's juniors and teens. "They are great kids," he believes.

He expressed thanks for the publicity media, especially the press, in getting the time and dates of events to come.

Roy Briton, Adrian, and E.H. Kohlman of Blissfield were guests.

President Paul Roekle announced that Rotary would meet at Bauer Maner for the next three weeks as the Country Club will be closed.

After singing led by Ralph Comfort and fines by Al Merz, Vice-President Dick Lewis spoke briefly of the river clean-up project.

Don Nixon presented Mr. Eardley.

Extension Club Has Lesson On 'Clothing Wiseup'

"Wiseup on clothing" was the lesson given by Mrs. Ellsworth Robison and Mrs. Raymond Bird Jan. 26 at Northeast Extension Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Elmer Wilt.

Highlights of the lesson were–knits are more comfortable, durability isn't as important today as it once was, comfort, care and appearance are three things to think of when buying clothing and FTC, Federal Trade Commission, is asking for labels on all fabrics and clothing.

Instructors stated that if clothing doesn't meet with label statements one should write the company and that there are 20 textile fabrics today in comparison with four of years ago (cotton, wool, silk and rayon.)

Mrs. Elmer House gave a household products demonstration with proceeds from sale added to the treasury.

Members donated $2 to the Frances Snow Fund.

Readers Write

Dear Editor:

I must write a few more lines that I got a real Valentine, has lot of reading in it.

One year subscription, 1971, for Tecumseh Herald from sister Josephine. House cleaning time found one from my sister reads:

It isn't every sister
Who gets a Valentine,
She has to be somebody,
Who's extra nice like mine!
And I am glad as can be
To have that sort of Sis.
And to send her my best wishes
On a special day like this.

Then The Tecumseh Herald is every week a Valentine to last longer and like the news.

I still have school mates in Tecumseh and in other towns which are my age, 81. Think two are older.

Saw Gaston's store in Herald, always like the store. My folks went to this store because had best jewelry. I still wear all my jewlery which my folks gave me since ten years old first, then on till World War I

Never seen any like these no place else. Proud of that Gaston store. No never any such other place. [illegible] Hasen and Hasen to look after all them

Tecumseh had July 4th celebration, I heard of cousins telling me, outsiders saying "what a clean city."

Also Senior's Homecoming Day float got first prize. Good for their work.

Also boys who are ready to climb up tree to get a cat down, sure am proud for the boy.

I still am in the church choir. Since September we have had a new choir director, Robert Porter. His wife is the organist. Rehearsal is every Thursday night.

Sending you workers A Valentine hope you like it. Good luck to all workers.

Enclosed six dollars for one year Herald.

From Elsa Daisher,

Editors note: And she did, too. A lovely heart filled with Valentine candies. Readers are welcome to stop in and have a sample of Miss Daisher's gift.

Dear Editor,

I had thought that the article on the front page of the December 17 issue of the Herald might inadvertantly slipped through, but when the same type of story appeared in last week's issue I was dissappointed. I am referring to the front page seemingly humorous headline article involving local residents and their difficulties with law enforcement authorities. I do not feel that this type of reporting is up to your usual award winning standards.

There is a definite place for the lighter, humorous incidents in a local newspaper and I enjoy them. However when we put a person who has perhaps been charged but not yet found guilty up for ridicule it would appear that the community is being asked to act as judge and jury. If a member of our family were involved would we like them to receive the same treatment? There is a difference in humor as such and humor where a serious violation of the law is involved. The reporting of conviction, fines and sentences is certainly in the realm of news and is expected, but must the accused be placed on display?

Perhaps these recent incidents were exceptions but I feel that they are a source of embarrassment to the friends and relatives of those involved, while serving no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Robert J. Murray

To the Editor:

I read the article concerning the elementary classroom shortage.

Why is the school board always so quick to buy or build? There can be better alternations to overcrowding in schools that aren't such a burden to tax payers.

Recently, I read an article in the Detroit Free Press or News concerning an Illinois school system with a similar problem. They solved it by having children continuously in school year round.

Students would attend 45 days with 15 days off and repeat the cycle. When one neighborhood or area of students was on their 15 day vacation, another group was beginning their 45 days. The teachers then had their choice of working nine months or a full year.

The details could be obtained from the article and school system. It was working very well.

Why not investigate this program? I resent someone spending tax money unnecessarily as is the case here. We don't necessarily need new schools. We just need to get the most use of what we have.

Why should a school sit empty for three months and be overcrowded the other nine?

The population problem has caused a need for change in the present school program.

Would it be possible for you to research this and possibly have an article to make people aware of other alternatives to overcrowding in schools?

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Mike Sisson

Through My Window

THROUGH THE NORTH WINDOWS

"Oh, Gertie, come quickly and bring the glasses!" Mom was looking out the kitchen window and had obviously seen something. Gertie T. grabbed the binoculars and ran. Their excitement was fun to hear – all sorts of exclamations and questions. Finally one of them asked what kind of a hawk would have a red tail?

I could not help replying that a red-tailed hawk might. Ignoring the groans which indicated that my help was not appreciated, I started putting together a mental picture of what was happening in the kitchen.

The hawk must be perched where they were getting excellent views and, from their sketchy conservation, I gathered that they were passing the binoculars back and forth. I shan't try to quote but my eavesdropping heard something like – bold facial markings, wide black stripe running down from eye, white patches on either side of this stripe, bright rufous tail, same color on back but with dark ladder stripes, bluish gray wings, also bluish gray band around head just over the eyes.

Then the bird turned around and a new burst of enthusiasm was heard from the kitchen. Tan to buff to yellow breast with very noticeable dark freckles. Summoning up my courage, I timidly made another suggestion, would you like a bird book?

The identification was immediate – a sparrow hawk! For well over an hour he entertained. Poor Mom and Gertie T., they could hardly bear to leave the window for fear of missing something and who could blame them.

When Dad and Gram appeared, they were pressed into the hawk watching business too. The bird had selected a perch high in the big old willow across the creek and near perfect views were afforded by both the kitchen and living room windows. No one could get over what a handsome and brightly colored bird he was. Now how perfectly he matched his pictures in three of our better bird books.

The one disquieting note was his size; no argument about his being the smallest of our hawks but only 11 inches in length? None of my hawk watchers could believe that he was this small. Bird sizes can be most deceptive.

After making sure of exactly who was visiting, then the real fun began. The sparrow hawk's performance was near perfect. When first seen, he was eating. Everytime he bent over to rip off a bite of 'lunch', which his strong feet held securely to the perch limb, his tail bobbed or flipped up and down.

No one could see upon what (or whom) he was dining but undoubtedly it was a mouse or perhaps even a sparrow. In the summer these very beneficial birds eat a variety of harmful insects but, of course, this time of year beetles and grasshoppers are in rather short supply. Anytime of year mice are readily available or if this sparrow hawk were so inclined, I would not begrudge him any number of quarrelsome English sparrows.

The sun was shining brightly this day so when lunch was completed, the hawk turned around, faced the warm sunshine, and proceded to simply 'sit and enjoy.' Mom and Gertie T. stood and enjoyed.

Finally the mundane things of everyday living, lunch, telephone calls, etc. demanded their attention and the hawk's most appreciative audience disbanded. No one saw him leave but oh, we hope he will return – I would not even complain if sometime he chose a lunch counter which would be in my view.

The only spectator to the sparrow hawk's visit who was not pleased and happy was a squirrel. There is a big bulky squirrel nest in this willow tree and often its tenent has been seen crawling in for a winter afternoon's nap. Things were different this day, however, and the squirrel was nonplussed.

Although time and time again he summoned his courage and headed for the intruder, his attempts to frighten or chase away were hardly given the courtesy of being noticed. The hawk was certainly not going to leave because of a pesky squirrel – whenever the squirrel came a bit too close the hawk merely looked at him and away dashed the squirrel.

So it is that Mother and Gertie T. spent the morning hawk watching through the north windows. Next week I shall tell you what I saw looking through the west one.

Next Week: MINE WAS TO THE WEST

ADULT

BEETHOVEN. The 200th anniversary of his birth is the occasion for an extensive review of his life and career. In many ways he epitomizes the conventional view of genius: the lone outsider, the self-absorbed creator and pathfinder, a tragic figure ahead of his times. By H.C.R. Landon.

WHITE HOUSE DIARY. During the time of Lyndon Johnson's presidency, his wife, Lady Bird kept a day to day record of events. This is her eyewitness account of the time from that tragic day in November, 1963 until her husband left his office, deciding not run again, in 1969.

BALL FOUR. This is the most incisive, candid revealing book written about baseball by a baseball player. It may also have shortened the author, Jim Bouton's career.

AMERICANS, by David Frost. What does this television star really think of us? This book has some of his interviews with famous people and also some comments of his own. Read the book and see if he approves or disapproves.

HOW TO SKI JUST A LITTLE BIT. Margaret Bennett has written a book for the majority of us..no professional athletes..but common folk that would like to "ski a little bit". It introduces you to the world of skiing and the fun but also teaches you not to feel guilty that you are no Killy.

A 52 point second half by Grosse Ile spelled defeat for Tecumseh Friday night in Huron League action, 91-73.

The Indians trailed by two points, 17-15, at the end of the first period and cut the margin to just one, 39-38, at halftime.

The Red Devils came out shooting in the second half, outscoring Tecumseh by nine points in the third period and eight in the fourth.

In battle of statistics, the Indians came out on the short end, hitting 23 of 58 shots from the floor for 39 percent while Grosse Ile shot at a 52 percent clip, connecting on 32 of 62 attempts. The Indians were also outrebounded, 46-37.

Craig Smith paced the Indians with a game high 20 point effort, followed closely by Alex Gibson with 19. Other Indians to hit double figures were Dan Gunder with 11 and Gary Hannibal, 10.

The Indians are now in fifth place in the Huron League with a 4-4 mark and have an overall record of 5-6.

Tecumseh will entertain the Huron League's second place team, Monroe Catholic Central, who has lost only one of eight league contests, Friday night.

Tecumseh's reserves managed a split for the evening, downing the Grosse Ile JV's, 58-42.

PROOF OF WIND — Friday's strong wind not only played havoc with trees, sending many branches to the street, but also ripped a large roof section off a Moore Lumber storage shed. Coupled with the wind was ice, coating many streets and roads, forcing schools to close in the area. Tecumseh held sessions for the senior and junior high Thursday, but the elementary was closed all day, giving those youngsters an extra day off.

Local Payrolls Dip to $56.5 Million

After hitting an all-time high in 1969 when payrolls reached an estimated $57.1 million, Tecumseh slipped in 1970 with last year's payrolls estimated at $56.5 million, about $600,000 less than the previous year.

This occurred despite large payroll gains at the Tecumseh Products, Faraday and Tecumseh Schools.

However, a 10-week strike against GM accounted for a payroll drop at Fisher Body of $1.7 million. In 1969 Fisher Body reported its payroll at $8.5 million. Last year the company's payroll here was $6.8 million.

Other large payroll decreases, each amounting to over $100,000, were reported at Herrick Hospital and H.W. Tuttle Co. Tuttle's, a division of Gould, had a payroll of $1,866,000 in 1969, compared to $1,783,000 last year.

The hospital, which had been edging toward a million dollar payroll, slipped from $898,000 to $781,624.

Approximately 60 percent of the total payrolls came from the Products, where salaries rose $800,000 from $33,937,256 to $34,753,910 in 1970. Last year also was depicted by the company as just an average business year.

Tecumseh Schools went over the $2 million mark for the first time with payrolls topping $2,230,000 up about $300,000 over 1969. This developed despite a slight decrease in employment, 285 to 280.

School costs are expected to increase this year with officials anticipating four additional classrooms, plus six more if St. Elizabeth closes its doors.

Fred Kluin, president of Faraday, reported a payroll gain from $1,605,723 to $2 million. Employment jumped from an average of 271 to 300.

In comments about 1971, he remarked, "We expect the last half of 1971 to be a very productive period. New products developed in 1970 should be ready for production and sales. Much depends on the general economic conditions."

This view is similar to the one from Tuttle's: "General economic conditions indicate a slow upswing. Influx of government spending could aid in last six months of 1971."

Bill Groover, hospital administrator who reported a poor year, already is optimistic. His recent comment was, "January looks better than any month in 1970. I am hopeful 1971 will be a better year."

Dyke Hodges reported a good year but expects 1971 to be better.

Those who considered 1970 an excellent business year were J.W. Meadows at United Savings Bank - and he anticipates "good business throughout 1971" - and Al Merz at Tecumseh Equipment and Cal Zorn, Tecumseh city manager.

Jack Metcalf, postmaster, listed 1970 as just average, and Louis Schneider as poor. In regards to 1971, Mr. Schneider says "it has to be better than 1970."

Employment was up slightly at Tecumseh Products with an average 3,570 total for the year. Fisher reported a drop of 150 from 1,040 to 890, and Tuttle's employment was 238, compared to 292 in 1969.

Fisher also reports that 103 local suppliers received $130,000 for goods and services, that its employees purchased $117,000 in U.S. Savings Bonds, and that employees received approximately $8,400 for suggestions.

The plant produced 7,353 tons of interior trim components for GM cars.

Show Goes On

As of Wednesday morning, the "Portrait of Jennie" show goes on - only without Jennie!

Monday night Debbie Rutherford, who stars as Jennie, entered Herrick Hospital. Tuesday she underwent surgery for appendicitis.

Tecumseh Players have been plagued with problems for the production. First, Martha Lear, director, became ill with Jo Wegner taking over her duties temporarily.

Now with "Jennie" in the hospital and lost for all five performances, the Players are without a backup performer. A selection was expected Wednesday, and in all probability she will be a "reader" for Jennie's role.

The production is scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights at the Community Center, and then on Feb. 18-19-20.

Services Thursday for John Truesdale

John C. Truesdale, Jr., 45, Clinton official and businessman, died suddenly Monday evening, apparently suffering a heart attack at his home at 115 Tyrell.

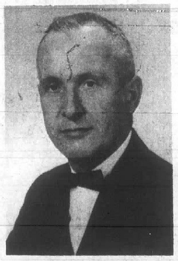

Funeral services will be held this Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Russell Cooper officiating.

Although he had been in ill health off and on for several years, his death was unexpected. Earlier in the day he had complained of chest pains and had an appointment with his doctor on Tuesday.

Mr. Truesdale had served on Clinton's council for several years and was first elected president in March 1965, and had been re-elected every year since. In the spring of 1967, he became seriously ill and resigned. His health improved and voters returned him to office in March 1968.

He purchased the Clinton Theater from Frank and Rena Fitzpatrick in the fall of 1965, and after extensive remodeling, reopened it in January 1966. His movies generally catered to the youngsters, and once when a movie thought suitable for the youngsters turned out to be otherwise, he stopped the film and gave the youngsters their money back.

Late in 1967 he managed the Strand Theater in Tecumseh, operating it for a few weeks before the structure was torn down for an expansion of Gambles.

JOHN TRUESDALE

Besides being interested in the business and industrial growth and progress of his community, he took an active interest in the Clinton Spanish Club activities, and with his wife accompanied club members to Mexico last spring.

In 1966 the Truesdales provided four new majorette costumes for the Clinton marching band.

In the early 1950's, he worked for the Philco Corporation and the Tecumseh Products. He once had a monument business and a teen-canteen for the benefit of village youth.

Mr. Truesdale was born July 19, 1925 at Adrian, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Truesdale Sr. Later, the family moved to Napoleon and then to Tecumseh, where he enrolled in school as a sophomore.

In 1942 he enlisted in the Navy and served four years. After his discharge he finished his high school graduation requirements at Adrian College.

He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Clinton and active on the bishop's committee, a member of the Clinton Masonic Lodge, Tecumseh Country Club and a former member of the American Legion in Tecumseh.

He was a past chairman of the village's United Fund.

Survivors include his wife, the former Barbara Dannells, whom he married on June 30, 1946 in Tecumseh; four daughters, Meg at home; Mary Jo, Albion College student; Mrs. John (Barbara) Basinger, Adrian; Mrs. James (Susan) Englehart, Yuba City, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. Howard (Buelah) Morris of Tecumseh, one grandchild, two nieces and one great nephew.

Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery. Proctor Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

SCHOLARSHIP

Student government and Spanish Club at Clinton High School are organizing a scholarship in memory of the late John C. Truesdale.

Contributions may be made out to "Clinton High Scholarship Fund" and may be given to any member of the sponsoring organizations, sent to the school office, or left at Proctor Funeral Home

Sewer Meeting Is Cancelled

A meeting scheduled Wednesday night between Clinton and Tecumseh officials was cancelled, due to the death of Clinton's village president, John C. Truesdale Jr.

The two groups were to meet and discuss a proposed sanitary sewer from the village to Tecumseh.

3 Running for Council

Council seats may go begging unless there are more petitions filed with the city clerk by 5 p.m. next Monday, Feb. 15.

Incumbents George McCombs and Raymond Puffer have filed, but it's not known whether William Holmes and Dr. Carlos Knisely, also incumbents, will file.

Wayne "Jim" Gillespie, executive with Fisher Body, has taken out a petition and plans to run. He is currently serving on the Planning Commission.

Mr. Gillespie also is a member of the Baptist Church, former director of the Tecumseh Country Club, and is presently serving on the board of Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Four councilmen will be elected in April. Petitions may be obtained from Vera Zarnow, city clerk at city hall.

Scouts Planning Ecology Night

An ecology night, sponsored by the Britton Boy Scouts, will be held Thursday, Feb. 18 at 7 p.m. at Britton High School.

Scheduled speakers are John Tagg, Monroe Community College; Vern Anderson, U.S. soil conservation agent; and Bob Scott, industrial engineer at Tecumseh Products.

Movies or slides will also be shown.

Scoutmaster Neil Judkins said that anyone interested in saving the environment for future generations should plan to attend.

COUNTY CO-CHAIRMEN — Karen Morgan, left, and Betty Flanders have been appointed by the Greater Michigan Foundation of Lansing as co-chairmen for Michigan Week activities in Lenawee County. Their first action was to appoint Dyke Helms as product chairman for the county.

County Chairmen

Dyke Helms, product chairman for Lenawee County for Michigan Week, has suggested that the new toddler's rocking chair made by Jiffy Manufacturers could be submitted as product of the year in the statewide contest.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Thomas Morgan and Mrs. William Flanders appointed Dyke Helms as product chairman soon after they were appointed by the Greater Michigan Foundation of Lansing.

Mrs. Morgan has been active in Michigan Week activities for the past six years, serving as city and county chairman and on various committees. A native of Tecumseh, she is the mother of four little girls, age two to eight years.

She is service representative at Bixby Hospital and former Jaycee Auxiliary member, both local and state.

Mrs. Flanders, a transplant from Alcester, S.D., to Ann Arbor 30 years ago, has become known throughout Lenawee County musical circles and has been active in civic affairs during her six years of residency here.

She has appeared in all six Jaycee Follies and in Tecumseh Players productions, currently in "Portrait of Jenny," and has been hostess for radio station WLEN's Tecumseh Spotlight for some time.

The ladies and Mr. Helm will be co-ordinating Michigan Week activities in the county with an eye to gaining the opportunity for a Lenawee County product to be state product of the year.

Cut Services

Postmaster Jack Metcalf has announced that public finance windows at the Tecumseh Post Office will be closed on Saturdays, starting Feb. 20.

Outer public lobbys will be open as usual on Saturdays for the convenience of lock-box customers. However, manned windows, providing stamps, money orders, registry, parcel post, information and other services, will be closed.

Mail will continue to be collected, processed and delivered as before.

This change in service is part of a recognition of the change in mailing habits of many postal customers, and is being observed by other post offices in this area, reports Mr. Metcalf.

Other offices closed on Saturday will be Clinton, Britton, Tipton and Adrian.

Chamber Board To Be Elected

Annual election meeting for the board of the Chamber of Commerce will be held next Wednesday morning at 7:30 at Harry's Cafe.

A continental, dutch breakfast will be served.

Seven members will be elected. Those remaining on the board are Ronald Baxter, Marion Ford, Sally Hunt, Carl Lamb, James Springer and Charles Trickey.

It is ordered that said complaint be brought on for hearing and judgment at the March term of this Court, to be held at Adrian, in the County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1971, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgment will be taken and entered as prayed for in said complaint. STATE OF MICHIGAN
In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act. No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State thus held and upon which taxes were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of Act 126, P.A. 1933, as amended.

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $3.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are vaild, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended.

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained.

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides.

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Dated: January 13, 1971.

SALE DATES SET — Kiwanis President Ronald Croll, flanked by Dr. George Burkhardt, right, and James E. Danforth, co-chairmen of the fourth annual Kiwanis Used Merchandise sale, points out the sale dates, May 6, 7 and 8. Members seek items for the event with proceeds to be used for its several traditional and new community projects.

Junk Hindering Goodwill

"Junk is hurting the handicapped workers at Goodwill's Rehabilitation Center as well as fouling up the scenery", Mrs. Ray Soreghy, Goodwill Industries executive director, has declared.

Handicapped men and women at Goodwill cannot be successfully rehabilitated without donations of repairable clothing, home items and appliances which the workers repair and renovate. Materials must be those which can be reclaimed at a minium of expense so they may be resold at low prices.

What hurts the handicapped workers according to Mrs. Soreghy, are items such as refrigerators with useless compressors needing a $60 replacement, rusted water heaters, wet matresses, furniture with termites and other items that do not fit into the rehabilitation program.

"It costs Goodwill approximately $6.50 to pick up bulky, useless or other heavy appliances, bring it to the plant and then re-truck it to the city dump", Mrs. Soreghy said. "Goodwill has only been partially successful in making this point clear to the public."

"The main point," she explained, "is that the item must have some resale value."

Most needed items include repairable clothing, shoes, dishes and cookware, antiques, wooden furniture, sewing machines, sofas and hide-a-beds, lawn mowers, garden furniture, radios, television sets, phonographs and hi-fi sets.

If they will fit into a Goodwill box, there are 25 of them conveniently located in Goodwill's service area in Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Britton Girls Drop Pair To Summerfield Teams

By Teresa Rowe

BRITTON—In a contest with Summerfield Jan. 15, the Britton Varsity GAC girls threw a scare at their opponent but failed to record a victory, losing 31-28.

Summerfield took an early lead in the first quarter and kept it throughout the game. At the end of the first half Summerfield was ahead 19-14. In the last two quarters Britton connected on 14 field goals but couldn't quite catch Summerfield.

Scoring honors for Britton went to Linda Tubbs, 15; Sue Skelton, 6; Teresa Rowe, 2; Denise Filter, 2; Debbie Maschino, 2; and Michele Vershum, 1.

JV GAC girls played, and won, their second game of the season Jan. 25, defeating the Summerfield JV's 26-12.

Summerfield had a one point lead at halftime, 8-7. Britton overpowered Summerfield in the second half, scoring 19 points, to take the lead. Summerfield was held to only four points.

Contributing to the win were Kim Gall, 7; Debbie Pilbeam, 6; Joan Willaert, 5; Ruth Ann Reau, 4; Connie Henry, 4; Candy Cowen, 3.

Collecting Items For Annual Sale

The Kiwanis Used Merchandise Sale is the major fund raising project of the Club. This year it will be held May 6, 7 and 8 and items are being collected now for the annual event.

Last year nearly $1,000 of the club's budget revenue was raised as a result of the sale with 80 percent plus returned to the community through various Kiwanis projects.

Projects ranged from several hundred dollars for blackout drapes for Lenawee Institute to approximately $125 for underpriviledged children's Christmas party. Others were scholarship awards, for two persons for business school, little league ball team, Vietnam gift packs and three new tables for Kiwanis Community Park.

President Croll said, "Be it small, medium or large, Kiwanians set the sale to aid the home community to the best of its ability. Would you help us to help your community? You can by donating your serviceable household items, etc. to the sale."

Settlement Is Reached In Lawsuit

Frederick J. Kluin, president of Faraday, Inc., has announced settlement of its patent lawsuit against Audio Devices, Inc., and the Audiotape Corporation, subsidiaries of Capitol Industries, Inc.

The suit charged that production, use and sale of Formula 17 Lubricated Tape by Audio Devices was an infringement of a basic patent issued to Bernard Cousino and owned by Faraday.

Both parties agreed to dismiss the suit and permit Capitol to continue production upon a substantial cash payment by Captiol to Faraday.

Faraday contends that Mr. Cousino's invention has made use of the endless loop cartridge practical, and therefore is responsible for the phenomenal growth of this segment of the recorded music business.

Music Makers

Mrs. Karla McKelvey was guest speaker at Music Makers Club meeting recently at Friends Church. She spoke about the organ and played two selections.

Brian Bird, Carole Christman, Janet Heesen, Cheryl Moll, Lynn Peck and Debbie Williams also performed, all on the organ except Lynn who sang.

Members are reminded that all will contribute a selection at the March meeting.

Bibles Discussed At Monday Club

Mrs. Frank Hawthorne displayed and discussed Bibles at the Monday Club meeting at St. Peter's Church Feb. 1. She told of the Jerusalem Bible, The Saints (French Bible), the new English Bible, everyday life in old testament times, popular books for church school and quick reference, Good News for Modern Man (contemporary paperback) and the Gutenberg Bible in her husband's seminary library.

Mrs. Perry Hayden, leader of the program on "Bibles and Samplers," presented Mrs. Hawthorne and centered her own talk on samplers on a quote of Harriett Elmblad.

She stated that samplers serve the same purpose as the early ensemplers of Chaucer's time, a place to record stitches for future reference.

Members added to the nostalgic afternoon by sharing personal family Bible and samplers, some dating 1807, 1814 and 1821.

Mrs. C.B. Brock was elected president of the club to serve with Mrs. LeRoy Titley, first vice-president; Mrs. William Snook, second vice-president; Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald LaBounty, treasurer and Mrs. Glen E. Banks, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Cecile Smith, Mrs. Albert Todd, Mrs. Harold Sisson, Mrs. Roland Mohr and Mrs. Earl Caswell comprise the executive board.

Mrs. Smith was chairman of nominating committee with Mrs. Clyde Bailey, Mrs. Lynn Hubbard and Mrs. Frank McRae.

Mrs. Smith, retiring president, opened the meeting and Mrs. Ralph Comfort led the devotions.

Mrs. Todd read a thank you note from Jo Baran, director of Lenawee Youth Center, for cookies donated by members.

An invitation was read by Mrs. Brock, president of Lenawee County Federation of Womens Clubs, to attend mid-winter meeting Feb. 10.

A communique for Mrs. Hugh Drake of Brooklyn telling of the Federal Conservation of Natural Resources committee offer to all clubs to help by ordering through her the planting of trees to help forest recreation, wild life, soil and air pollution.

Mrs. Smith announced that Mrs. Roger Van Blaricom, past president of Michigan Federation of Womens Clubs, will speak on Girlstown, Loch Rio at the Feb. 15 meeting. Mrs. Carleton Cushing will lead the drama program. Hostesses will be Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, Mrs. John Lott and Mrs. E.C. Brandt.

Candles and yellow roses centered the tea table where Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Nina Heath presided at silver service. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Bonner, Mrs. J.W. Meadows and Bertha LaPointe.

Bill Explained To NFO Members

Annual meeting of Lenawee County National Farmers Organization will be held March 20 at United Products Workers Union Hall when Erhard Pfingsten, national vice-president, will be the speaker.

At a recent meeting, Richard Hill, Lenawee County ASC Committee chairman, explained the new "farm bill" for 1971.

New Michigan officers are Richard Doezema of Ionia, president; George Anton, Lenawee, vice-president; Robert Partlo, St. Clair, secretary; Joseph Graber, St. Joseph, treasurer; Joyce Hook, Branch, public relations.

GREENWALD CLEANERS

If ever a man's job became obsolete, it was this fellow's. And what a job it was. He learned everything first, then imparted the news to others. If he had a good memory, he was usually the best informed man in town. Who else read every release and then shouted it all over town? He also was the principal advertising medium for the tradespeople and shopkeepers. He announced their products, services and special sales.

And in most communities the town crier reminded men of the approach of the Sabbath, urging them to be present for worship at the appointed hour in the churches of the community.

The newspaper made the town crier a has-been. It has taken over all his functions and performed them more efficiently. That includes reminding men of the day of worship, and, through advertisements such as this, urging us to worship.

You see one thing hasn't changed. Man's need for God!

Follies Postponed By Bad Weather

CLINTON–Bad weather forced the cancellation of the first two performances of the Band Follies which had been scheduled for last Thursday and Friday nights. However, Saturday night a large audience filled the gymnasium and the balcony and gave a good reception to the fast-paced variety show.

Plans call for a second performance to be given Saturday, Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. A third performance will be given Saturday, Feb. 20.

A featured instrumental combo was the Royal Honeymen, composed of David Penterics, rhythm guitar; Don Eveleth, lead guitar; Allen Eveleth, percussion and Diane Penterics, organ.

An outstanding rock duet was composed of Joe Shouse, guitar and Mike Gunn, percussion.

Mike Gunn also played his guitar and sang two original ballads.

Thirteen member dance band, formed just for the Follies, gave a spirited rendition of many "All Time Greats" in the musical history of dance bands, setting the show theme.

Cleverly designed costumes added class to the high stepping chorus line, which made a hit with their sleek "Pink Panther" number and several other dance routines.

"Odd Couple" TV show parody was the featured comedy filler and several brief skits livened up the show.

Richard Jorgensen was the director for the Follies. Proceeds from the event are used for extra equipment for the band.

Township Board Discusses Budget

CLINTON–Budgetary matters concerned the members of the Clinton Township Board at the February meeting.

Among the items discussed were drainage problems, roads, fire department needs, cemetery assessments, platting and planning commission.

Meeting was conducted by Supervisor Harold Calhoun with all members present.

It was noted by the treasurer, Wayne Hulett, that only about one-third of the normal number of dog licenses have been purchased.

Violations Bureau Is Established

Reports From Italy On Study Program

BRITTON—Larry Ivan of Britton is on a month-long tour of Europe and Asia, traveling with a group of 29 Michigan farmers connected with the Kellogg Farmer Study Program at Michigan State University.

Larry reports from Italy, "Our trip through Italy started in Rome, with a visit to many of the ancient ruins, the Colleseum, Forum, bath houses, temples and fountains.

"We started with the Cossa Metzzogiorno (the fund for the South), which has spent eight billion dollars in southern Italy in the past 20 years. A modern industrial complex has been developed along with dams, water works, expressways, housing, communication systems and agricultural developments.

"In Rome we started our journey by bus, and stops were made during the next five days to Pompeii, Potenza, Taranto and Cosenza. Messina, Cantania, Cela, Agrigento and Palermo were the stops in Sicily. We drove a total of 950 miles through very mountainous scenic countryside.

"The agriculture in the south consisted mainly of citrus and olive oil groves, vegetable crops and hard wheat. The agriculture sector, however, is very depressed with 80 percent of the four-million farm families with holdings under ten acres.

"The industry in the south consists mostly of steel, petroleum refineries and cement plants. They are very modern, but are not the type that employ many people. The south has, however, a great potential in agriculture, including livestock, tourism and labor-intensive industries.

"Our Italian visit was concluded in Palermo with talks with the American Council.

"I enjoyed the food and tasty wines, the ancient ruins in Rome, Pompeii and Agrigento and the scenic rocky-jagged mountains. We saw the contrasts between the modern industrial cities, with their fashionable, well-groomed people, and the poor countryside, where they drive a horse and buggy."

BRITTON—Co-chairman Mrs. Kenneth Bortel announced that a profit of $84 was realized Monday evening at the annual March of Dimes benefit card party sponsored yearly by the PTO. In spite of the bad weather and various other activities scheduled for the same evening, the party exceeded last year's total of $77.

The Britton FFA donated $10. Fourteen tables were set up for progressive euchre.

Door prizes were won by Mrs. Martha Reau and Mrs. Harold Hall of Tecumseh. Woman's high score winner was Mrs. Clarence Schroeder and low score prize went to Mrs. John Taylor. Winner for the evening's most lone hands was Mrs. Virgil Bortel.

Men's high score winner was Elmer Dick and low for men was Bill Kuster.

Mrs. Elmer Dick assisted Mrs. Bortel as co-chairman. Also assisting at the party were Mrs. Tom Judkins and Mrs. Dean Pilbeam.

Refreshments were provided by the PTO in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Henry Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Donivan of Detroit recently spent a few days with their sister, Mrs. Gizella Kasnia of Dayton. Mrs. Kasnia was a patient at Wright Patterson Medical Center undergoing surgery. Her condition is reported very satisfactory.

Through My Window

MINE WAS TO THE WEST

Last week I told about the excitement Mom, Dad, Gertie T. and Gram had hawk watching. The handsome and brightly colored sparrow hawk who ate lunch and then sun bathed on the limb high in the old willow tree across the creek kept us all busy. They did the watching while I had the pleasure of listening to their oohing and aahing.

Had we known a bit more about hawks or had we even given the slightest thought to a wild speculation that just perhaps he was not the eat and run type, some furniture would have been moved and my bed would have flown out to the living room. However, so new to this hawk watching business were we that nobody had the tiniest inkling the visitor would stay as long as he did.

It was enough to realize that such an interesting thing as a sparrow hawk was in the neighborhood. I was not complaining—I was not even feeling left out—had nothing else happened all day long I would have been completely satisfied to admit that it was indeed a good day.

But Mother Nature smiled a benevolent smile upon me that day and, when the bird watching through the north windows slowed up, the action shifted to the west window. No, the sparrow hawk did not come into my range of vision but many other things did.

First of all the juncos and goldfinches appeared. Now mind you, this happened way back in January but even on this early date the goldfinches were beginning to show hints of their bright springtime yellow.

Though it was no more than a tinge of color, when the lovely sunshine splashed on the birds' heads, the yellow was unmistakeably there. Several of the free loading goldfinches were males; part of the cocky look of a summer garbed goldfinch is his black cap pushed forward until it rests on the bridge of his bill. And, much to our surprise, dark spots were noticeable on several birds.

Juncos were everywhere. In the trees, on the creek bank, circling the 'drinking fountain' open in the creek and on the bird feeder. Unfortunately these quiet little winter birds are often taken for granted.

This day, however, the sun was bright, the snow white and oh, never have we seen juncs look any better. The ladies were such a soft gray and their gentlemen friends were so black that we could hardly believe it. Nothing ordinary or dull about these characters.

The book on my reading table was rapidly building to a climax and thus keeping my attention inside when something, a faint movement seen out of the corner of my eye perhaps, drew it back outside. A cat sized animal came over the creek bank and started across the yard towards the near-my-window feeder.

Not for a minute did we think it was a cat—his legs were short, his ears naked of fur and shockingly pink, his snout pointed and pinkish, his coat a coarse and grizzled looking whitish gray-black, and he was an opossum.

These are primarily night prowling animals but for some reason, possibly nothing more complicated than that he was hungry, we were being visited in mid-afternoon. A quick call brought Mom and Dad.

For an apparently slow moving animal, this one ran beneath the feeder in record breaking time. Did he nibble on the 'spilled over' corn and scratch feed? We think so. Then he moved closer to the house and for some minutes stayed almost out of sight.

I wonder what Wanda would have thought had she looked over and seen Mom, Dad and Gertie T. lined up in front of my west-facing window, foreheads pressed to the glass, and all intently staring down to the ground? This was the only position which gave them brief glimpses of our visitor though.

The possum paid not the slightest attention and seemed not to even know all of the excitement he was causing. He minded his own business and, as suddenly as he came, decided to leave.

Without a backward glance at his audience, he waddled across the yard and disappeared over the creek bank. And, if ever a walk can be described as a waddle, his can. It was interesting to see how he carried his tail too.

An opossum's hairless and naked tail is prehensile and thus a very important tool. Now we, of course, do not know whether he was giving it TLC because of this or merely realizing how cold the snow was but, wheras most short legged animals drag their tails along behind them, this fellow very carefully kept his raised just enough so that it cleared the snow.

So it is that the sparrow hawk entertained those who looked to the north and as far as my personal thrill for the day—well, mine was to the west.

Next week: The Belligerent Bluffer.

Summons Issued For Bad Backing

Raymond L. Smith, 36, Elton Hwy., Tipton, was given a summons by Clinton State Police for improper backing Saturday afternoon.

Mishap occurred in a private parking lot, in an alley 100 ft. west of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., Clinton, when a parked car owned by Peggy Yarbrough, 104 Kathy Dr., Clinton, was backed into by the Smith vehicle.

Smith drove away without giving his name to Mrs. Yarbrough.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

Much talk is still heard on the uncertainties of God and His ways. It is all so needless. Is not this needless blah, blah, blah heard because people prefer to see God—NOT as He is—but as THEY want to see Him? Does not this needless, and sometimes silly talk, indicate people are trying to re-make God in the image of man—instead of concentrating on man in the image of God?

Does not this needlessness also question the uncertainty that God controls all destiny? Plus the prospect of eternal life? Does not this needlessness indicate a wish to do what people want to do—and want to do it NOW—and eternal life can wait? Does not this needlessness help explain why people say God's ways—His rules—are breaking down when in fact it is man's way that is at fault?

We think these questions are worth thinking about. Don't you?

Memoriam

In memory of our beloved son and brother, Ricky Frank Horton, who would have been 22 years old February 13, 1971.

Do not ask us if we miss him,
For there is such a vacant place;
Or we see his smiling face, steps,
Or we see his miling face,
For he left us broken hearted,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know the sorrow,
That is in our hearts concealed.

Deeply loved and missed by Mother, Dad and Brother. 2-11c

In loving memory of my dear mother, Mary P. Jones, on her birthday February 17.

In my heart you will always stay,
Loved and remembered every day.

Still greatly missed by her loving daughter, Lee Horton, and family. 2-11c

In sad but loving memory of our dear husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, Bert Creger, who passed away so very suddenly on a Sunday morning on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, 1965. Age 73, six long years ago.

We hold you in our dreams at night, we call you in the early dawn,
And yet we have to tell ourselves, that you are really gone,
That you are gone beyond recall, forever and a day,
And there is nothing we can do and nothing we can say,
You were so wonderful to us, so gentle, sweet and kind,
It seemed that we were always in your heart and mind.
No there is nothing we can say, except a loving prayer
That God will bless you, Dearest Dad, and keep you in His loving care,
And with our tears, heartache and sorrow, there is nothing we can do or say, except to live a better life in memory of you.

Sadly missed by wife Maude, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zimmerman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Creger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Service and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clemons and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cooper and family and his many relatives and friends. 2-11c

Candle-Mass At St. Peter's

A Candle-Mass celebration with singers and musicians from Adrian College providing traditional music of the mass will be held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 14.

As part of a series of monthly presentations called "Sundays at Four at St. Peter's" this solemn Eucharist represents an intentional change from the regular Sunday morning services.

"The spirit of 'Sundays at Four' will be broad, open and ecumenical," says the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, rector of St. Peter's.

"We hope our friends from Tecumseh, Adrian and Clinton and the areas around us will feel free to come."

The service will have an ecumenical flavor since the singers, who come from different church backgrounds themselves, sing every Sunday morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Adrian. The singers and instrumentalists are under the direction of Dr. James Sharp of the Adrian College music faculty.

The gospel will be read by the Rev. Lorne Clemes, deacon of Christ Church, Adrian.

The Epistle will be read by George Spencer, licensed lay-reader of the Diocese of Michigan, who will take the part of Sub-Deacon. The Rev. Frank Hawthorne will be the Celebrant.

The ceremony of this service will include blessing of candles and a candlelight procession around the inside of the church, led by a thurifer carrying frankincense of the same type that was brought to the Christ Child by the Wise Men.

People may bring their own candles to be blessed if they wish.

"The celebration of the Holy Communion at the service recalls the 'Presentation of Christ in the Temple, commonly called the Purification of Saint Mary the Virgin,' as the Book of Common Prayer calls it, and is usually observed on Feb. 2, concluded Rev. Hawthorne.

Indian Freshmen Post Two Wins

The Indian freshman basketball squad avenged their only loss of the season last Thursday by defeating the Adrian frosh, 47-39.

Balanced scoring, strong defense and a decided advantage in rebounding, 35-25, were key factors in recording their tenth win of the season.

The frosh handily defeated Milan Tuesday night, 59-33, as Gordon Whelan tossed in 12 points to lead the way.

Tecumseh dominated the boards as they had a definite height advantage over the Milan frosh.

The frosh travel to New Boston Huron tonight and will end their season with a home game against Hillsdale Feb. 18 at 5 p.m.

Tories Record Easy Win, 84-54

BRITTON—The Tories ran Madison's winless streak to 12 straight Friday night, recording an easy 84-54 win.

After leading by only one point at the end of the first period, Britton blew the game wide open in the second stanza, out-scoring the Trojans 25-9.

Sam Bates, the county's leading scorer, captured game scoring honors with 23 points. Dan Warren added 15 and Gary Maska, 11. Jim Pilbeam, who came off the bench in the fourth quarter, tossed in 12 points.

The win upped Britton's season record to 4-9. They have two River Raisin contests this weekend, traveling to Whiteford on Friday night and Erie-Mason Saturday.

Madison salvaged a split for the evening, taking the reserve contest, 51-37.

Indian Uprising Falls Short

A field goal by Dan Gunder was all the Indians could manage against Monroe Catholic Central in the first period Friday night, falling behind 15-2 and were never able to catch up, dropping a 54-49 decision.

The Indians came out strong in the second period, and out-scored the Falcons for the rest of the game, 47-39, but were not quite able to make up the 13 point first period deficit.

Monroe CC however, was not to be denied victory. Each time the Indians made a run for the lead, the Falcons would hit a basket or free throw and move back out to a comfortable lead.

Craig Smith paced the Indians, hitting on six shots from the floor and converting his only free throw for 13 points. Gunder and Bob Pettit followed with 11 apiece. Alex Gibson added nine.

Game scoring honors went to two Falcons, Tom Roelant and Rob Hayes, who each hit for 19 points, the only two Monroe players to hit for double figures.

Tecumseh's record slipped to 4-5 in the Huron League, good for fifth place, and 5-7 overall.

The Indians are idle now until Tuesday, Feb. 16 when they entertain Columbia Central in an non-league contest.

Tecumseh's reserves made it a split for the evening, taking a 71-59 decision over the Monroe CC reserves, and upping their season's record to 7-5.

The Junior Indians hit at a 51 percent clip from the floor and 64 percent from the charity line.

2 INCUMBENTS FILE, 2 DROP OUT

7 Candidates in Council Race

Seven candidates - possibly eight - will compete for four seats at the April 5 election for Tecumseh Council.

A total of five petitions for Council were filed late Monday afternoon with Vera Zornow, city clerk, making what appeared to be a dull election into an interesting one. As of last week, only three petitions had been filed.

Petitions were filed for Dr. William Adams, Forest Abner, Wayne Gillespie and William Danley. A petition also was filed for Louis L. Schneider, local Chevrolet - Buick dealer, but it was learned Tuesday that Mr. Schneider has sought to have his petition rejected.

His petition was circulated in his behalf by friends who thought that he was willing to serve. If the city does not have his permission in writing by the time the Election Commission meets Thursday, his petition will be rejected, Mrs. Zornow reported.

Petitions filed before Monday included Mayor George McCombs and C. Raymond Puffer, both incumbents, and Ric Creswell, systems analyist at Fisher Body.

William Holmes, veteran Councilman and one-time mayor of the community until forced to resign by a legal technicality, did not seek re-election, nor did Dr. Carlos Knisely, who is serving a two-year term after relinquishing his position as president of the Planning Commission.

Dr. Adams, local dentist, is currently secretary of the Planning Commission and is seeking public office here for the first time, as is "Jim" Gillespie, one of Fisher Body's top executives who is presently on the board of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation and a member of the Planning Commission.

Mr. Danley is assistant cashier at United Savings Bank, and Mr. Abner, local businessman, operates a plumbing and heating service.

New on Political Scene Here

Five new faces have entered the Tecumseh political scene and four are shown above. Forest Abner, businessman, was unavailable for a picture. Dr. William Adams, Ric Creswell, William Danley and Jim Gillespie will face a couple old timers, George McCombs and C. Raymond Puffer.

Jud Arnett Here for Michigan Week

Jud Arnett, well known columnist for the Detroit Free Press, will be the featured speaker at the community's annual banquet, May 20, during Michigan Week.

Word of his acceptance was received this week by Ward Eardley, city recreation director and chairman of Tecumseh's festivities for Michigan Week, May 15-22.

Mr. Arnett is no stranger to the community, having been here before, and his popular column is a must for many regular Free Press readers. Local officials feel fortunate to have him as their banquet speaker.

He will also participate in other Michigan Week activities during the day. The week's program here is still being organized and a complete schedule will be announced later.

C of C Elects Ron Baxter

Ron Baxter of Green's Clothing was elected president of Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning at the organization's annual meeting at Harry's Cafe.

Mr. Baxter succeeds Charles Trickey.

Carl Lamb was selected vice-president, and Sally Hunt was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

New board members elected are Ashley Chase of Tecumseh Equipment Co.; William Danley, United Savings Bank; John Day, H.W. Tuttle Co.; Kirk Edwards, Edwards Floral; Esther Frost, D&C Store; Dan Gould, Gould Realty; and Jean Hall of Kustom Kraft Draperies.

All new board members were present except Miss Frost and Mrs. Hall.

Directors held over from the previous year include Marion Ford, Stauffer Chemical Co.; James Springer, Gambles; and Mr. Baxter, Mr. Lamb of Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy; Miss Hunt of Don's Contented Sole; and Mr. Trickey, Trickey's, Inc.

Reply Sought by March 15

In hopes of reaching a decision soon as to the number of portable classrooms that will be needed for the 1971-72 term, the School Board Monday night requested a decision from St. Elizabeth Catholic School by March 15.

Officials have already determined that four rooms, possibly five, will be needed to handle the elementary enrollment. If St. Elizabeth closes, as expected, the public schools will need 10 or 11 portable units.

The administration is still seeking costs, either for purchasing or leasing. If 10 units are needed, six are planned for Herrick Park and four at Sutton. the 11th would probably be erected at Tecumseh Acres.

St. Elizabeth currently has 158 pupils in the first six grades.

Fire Radios Are Tabled

Action to purchase radio-alerting equipment for the Tecumseh Fire Dapartment was tabled Monday night by Council in order to obtain an additional bid.

Officials were ready to buy the equipment from Plectron when a representative of Motorola, who was in attendance, asked to submit a bid.

The Plectron equipment would cost $3,052 and would enable the department to notify firemen whether at work or at home, depending on where firemen had the portable units. The units also would alert firemen of any past, unanswered calls.

Cal Zorn, city manager, told Councilmen that similar GE equipment would cost $4,720, and that a telephone alerting system would cost $66 for installation and $48.70 per month. He recommended the Plectron units.

Tecumseh firemen ran into trouble several weeks ago when blistery weather froze three of their four sirens in the community. All sirens are now working properly except the large, main siren at the S. Evans St. fire station. It has been repaired and ready for installation.

20 Apartments Are Scheduled

A public hearing has been scheduled for March 15 for zoning change which would permit the construction of 20 condominium type apartments at 504 W. Kilbuck St.

In its monthly report to Council Monday night, the Planning Commission recommended the zoning change for the property which is adjacent to railroad tracks, a bulk oil plant, and city wells.

In the communication, it was pointed out that the units would be constructed for sale and rental. Plot plans and elevations were illustrated at the Planning Commission's meeting on Feb. 9.

Contractor would be Roland L. Redman, who has built in Tecumseh in the past.

The property is presently zoned for residential, but the Commission felt the site would be more properly developed as multiple-family.

City Purchases Radio Equipment for Police Dept.

Council approved a purchase of police radio equipment Monday night from General Electric at a cost of $19,859.48.

Prior to receiving bids, the city's estimated cost was $23,000 with the Federal share set at 60 percent, or $13,800.

Other bids obtained were from Motorola, one for $22,650 and a second for $22,974.

Mutual Fire Aid for City - Raisin

Council and city officials generally agreed Monday evening to a mutual aid fire pact with Raisin Township.

City Manager Cal Zorn told officials that the city firemen would respond now to a summons for assistance from the Raisin department. He said Tecumseh has such verbal agreements with Britton, Clinton, and Adrian.

The request for assistance, according to Mr. Zorn, must come from the Raisin fire department and not from citizens or residents of the township.

2nd Tavern Is Denied 'C' License

A second request by a Tecumseh tavern for a Class C or liquor-by-the-glass license was rejected by Council Monday night, upon the recommendation of Murell Clark, police chief.

Request for Dick's Tavern was turned down because of conditions pertaining to the building, floors, basement, wiring, toilets, bar and kitchen.

Mr. Clark told Council that the request for the inspection was made by the owner, Dick Crandell, to determine exactly what he would have to do to meet certain standards and specifications.

Last month, Council rejected a Class C request from Jerry's Bar and Grill.

Salt Spreading for Icy Streets Doubled by City

Tecumseh streets have had more than their share of ice this winter, and much to the dispair of city officials and local residents.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the city expects to spread over 500 tons of salt on streets this winter, compared to the normal 200 to 250 tons.

While the spreading has doubled, many streets remained rutted with ice.

Suit Filed Against 3M

A patent infringement suit has been filed by Farday against the 3M Company. The suit was filed in the Northern District Court of Illinois.

Fred J. Kluin, president of Faraday, has stated that the suit filed on Wednesday, February 3, accuses 3M of infringement of Faraday's patent 2,804,401, covering lubricated magnetic tape.

Faraday recently culminated a successful suit against Capitol Industries for a similar patent infringement. The local company agreed to dismiss the suit and permit Capitol to continue production upon a substantial cash payment by Capitol.

From 1960 to 1970, Tecumseh has grown more than the original three, the Bureau of Census reported last year.

Councilmen learned Monday night that the official count will be 7,120, still far less than many had predicted.

First reports had the community counted at 7,048, just three more than the 7,045 census.

3 Motorists Are Cited by Police

Three motorists were cited by Tecumseh police during the past week when only four mishaps were investigated.

A resume is:

Feb. 12 - Stephan A. Canfield, 16, of 303 Miami, lost control of his car on W. Pottawatamie, jumped the curb and traveled 70 feet before stopping. Shrubbery was damaged at the Richard Roll residence at 710 W. Pottawatamie. Canfield was charged with failure to control his automobile.

Feb. 13 - Loren H. Russell, 69, Elkhart, Ind., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a car driven by Lola G. Karr, 22, Clinton, who suffered minor injuries. Accident happened on W. Chicago Blvd.

Feb. 13 - Anita M. Underwood, 41, of 903 Red Mill Dr., was charged with failure to control her car after backing into John W. Underwood, 40, of the same address. Both were turning into the city hall parking lot but she skidded and then backed up.

Feb. 16 - Louise E. Fairbanks, 29, of 111 Pine St., was unable to stop at the Cairns and W. Pottawatamie St. intersection and hit Donna J. Stefina, 22, of 205 Cairns.

NEW 'JENNIE' — Darlene Osburn took over "Jennie" in the current production of the Tecumseh Players at the Community Center. Darlene is subbing for her big sister, Debbie Rutherford, who underwent surgery last week. The 14-year-old Tecumseh High sophomore is doing quite well in the role, despite a last minute call from the Players. Tickets are available at Flanders Music and from cast members for Thursday, Friday and Saturday night performances.

Critic's Review Praises 'Jennie'

By Virginia Murray

A more apt title for the Tecumseh Player's latest offering might be "The Miracle Workers".

Conquering every obstacle in the book, cast and production crew pulled together to put on Bettye Knapp's tender love story, "Portrait of Jennie", in which a struggling young artist, Eben, paints the ethereal "Jennie", beautiful, mysterious young lady, who inspired him to greatness, and who gave him a romantic memory to carry with him for eternity.

Performing a large part is hard work, and when the leading lady ends up in the hospital, and the cast is obliged to break in a new one two days before opening night, "Impossible!"

Though he showed the strain of working with a new ingenue, Steven Church played the title role of the artist, Eben, with quiet conviction. Larry Meads, as his flamboyant, boisterous artist friend, Arne, was a perfect contrast in casting.

The Players have discovered a gold mine in the quiet talent of newcomer Dom Santangelo. Another John Garfield, he was cast in the role of a taxi driver, and was steadying force throughout the entire show.

Another outstanding performance was turned in by Betty Flanders, Tecumseh's "Woman of the Year"; she played obnoxious, suspicious landlady with the deftness of a combined Gestapo agent and Storm Trooper. Her daughter, Anna, well-played by Rae Ann Outman added a second romantic highlight to the life of Eben.

The most difficult roles in the play were handled professionally by two of the group's most distinguished character artists, Peg Frownfelder, and Chuck Froehlich. They were just plain "delicious" as doddering old art collectors.

Because of a combination of good casting, direction and just plain talent, foreign exchange student Candy Dejanovic can head back to Yugoslavia to a career as a professional actress.

The even smaller part of Britta, friend of the wild artist Arne, was well done by Nancy Kinnard, Tecumseh High School English teacher, who herself has directed such outstanding shows as "Harvey" and "Inherit the Wind." (The last mentioned players prove there is no such thing as a small part.)

As big sister Debby Rutherford lay in a hospital bed, recovering from surgery, little sister Darlene Osburn came to the rescue, in true "show biz" tradition. Showing great talent, courage and hard work, in just two days, 15-year-old Darlene had enough command of the difficult role of "Jennie" to delight opening night audiences.

Most amazing was the sight of an adolescent emerging from her cacoon, and turning into a sophisticated young lady right in front of the audience's eyes!

But the true miracle worker was Martha Lear, director, assisted by another recently ailing member, Jo Wegner. Out of discouraging, and downright depressing conditions, they managed to lift the curtain on a fine production; that the curtain lifted at all on opening night showed true dedication to one ideals of theatre by cast and crew.

A special Kudo to construction director Ray Outman, for the engeniously engineered set, which permitted rapid changes in locale from Central Park, to artist studio, to the beach at Provincetown.

Local theatre lovers, particularly children, should love this one, and patrons of the arts should acknowledge their outstanding efforts by sellout performances.

Did you know that George Washington's birthday is Feb. 11, 1732? It was changed to Feb. 22 in 1752 when the British decreed that the day following Sept. 2, 1752 should be called Sept. 14, 1752, a loss of 11 days. All dates preceding this were marked O.S. for Old Style. Thus George was born Feb. 11, 1732 O.S. Are you more confused than ever with the new holiday dates adopted?

Tecumseh Community Health Study, operated here by the Univeristy of Michigan, has started a dental clinic for a random selection of men, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 2 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., and on Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

All teeth are being examined and the condition of the gum tissues surrounding each tooth will be determined. No deep tissue or tooth probing is necessary, and the examination takes less than 15 minutes.

Problems with a gum condition are so common in adults beyond age 35, that by age 60 the average man has lost half of the permanent teeth.

It is expected that the results of the examinations may provide necessary information regarding the relation of the factors under study and the severity of gum conditions.

Through My Window

SNOW AND ICE

Mother Nature, or is it Old Man Winter, is truly pulling out all stops this year. No January thaw. Dreadful onslaughts of ferocious gale force winds. Repeated toboggan plunges into the deep freeze. Who needed to start February with record breaking cold?

One morning of ten below zero was bad enough, to have it happen the next morning was almost ridiculous. Finally a slight warming trend came our way, thanks to a friendly low pressure area in the Mississippi Valley, and as the temperatures rose, the snow started falling.

Wednesday, February the third, was memorable because by mid-afternoon a pretty snow fall had started. It did not quit until well after dark. What interesting bird business we had during the snow. No newcomers, just the faithful old regulars.

A small dipper fastened to the end of a broomless broomstick is perfect for this situation as it allows us to fill the near-my-window feeder without going outside. And when the snow falls, the birds and squirrels need full banquet boards.

Cardinals and snow are a near perfect combination. Few things are lovelier. On this particular day, however, cardinals and snow added up to laughs. The medium sized snowflakes piled up on the feeder so fast that we could not keep the food uncovered and thus, as Papa Cardinal 'dove' for each sunflower seed snack, he came up with a white face. What a clown.

The chick-a-dees were in top form, they seem to dearly love a storm. Flitting from feeder to tree and then bounding across the creek, they were having such fun that there was hardly time to eat.

The goldfinches, bluejays and woodpeckers were serious and all business. No playing or faces in the snow for them. It was just eat as fast as possible and get full tummies.

Black hooded juncos and tree sparrows are well equipped to handle snow on the feeder. They are both practicioners of the Two Footed Scratch. Most effective. Using both feet at once, the birds take short steps forward and then quickly jump back kicking the snow out of the way.

It very neatly uncovers the scratch feed. Goldfinches seem especially patient about waiting until the juncos and tree sparrows 'plow out' dinner.

Thursday brought trouble; the warming trend continued, the temperature neared the freezing point, the snow turned to freezing rain and there was ice. Ugh! Once again, thank goodness for the indoor filling of the near-my-window feeder. Everyone flocked in for breakfast.

By noon even the second helping was partially buried and so hard was the frozen rain crust that even the Two Footed Scratch was ineffectual. A squirrel came to the rescue. As he sat on the feeder, tail up over his back and head as protection from the freezing rain, his strong claws ripped through the ice and all sorts of goodies were uniced. The birds were back as soon as he had eaten his fill and left.

The snow on the ground was practically cement hard. And slippery. No ice skating flickers did we see but oh, how carefully were the juncos and song sparrows walking. We laughed while watching them – they were being cautious and showing painstaking care not to slip.

Even so, several almost went flat as their feet spraddled one to the north and one to the south. Although the mourning doves were landing with extra caution, they were skidding too.

Papa Cardinal had run into problems somewhere, when we saw him at the covered feeder in front of the south facing window, his pretty red tail was not so pretty. In fact, it looked quite straggly – the feathers were frozen together and ice coated.

The creek was interesting. Water bubbling up in several open spots plus all of the rain withstood the freezing process for a while, at one time it appeared as though perhaps there were about an inch and a half of water on top of the ice. All of the freeloaders hustled down for tall cool drinks. Even the squirrels.

Of all of the drinkers though only one bunch turned into bathers. The silly starlings 'jumped in with both feet' and had a gay old time splashing. We could not help but shiver as the chilly water flew.

So it is that with sincerest apologies to those who had to walk or drive, I must say that all is not lost, not when one can window watch snow and ice.

Next week: The Belligerent Bluffers.

Retirement Party Surprises Baldy

"Hey, what's going on here," said Baldy Alderdyce Saturday evening as he glimpsed Fire Chief Wallace MacGeorge scooting across the parking lot with a floral bouquet for the tables at Harry's Cafe where the retirement party was being held.

Cecil, always known as Baldy to his friends, thought the Herbert Barnes were taking him and Leola out to dinner and a little celebration before they take off for Florida the latter part of the month.

To his surprise, 45 firemen, their wives and the Cal Zorns gathered for dinner at the local restaurant to honor Baldy's retirement after 33 years on the fire force here in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Sebring gave up their private dinner in Jackson for their 25th anniversary to come and help with the festivities which included a this is your life program presented by Mrs. "Ralph Edwards" Wally MacGeorge.

A scrapbook of pictures dating back to before his marriage, an electric train so he won't miss the one going by the fire barn, a gun for his collection and a red chair with his name on it along with a money gift were all presented to the retiree.

Thursday will be the long-time fire fighter's last day on the "on 24 hours off 48 hours" shifts.

He retired once before in 1963 when the couple moved to their new home on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. outside the city limits and then returned to the force the next year as a driver when he stayed the full 24 hours at the station.

Baldy served as fire chief for 17 years until 1963 when Wally MacGeorge took up the duties.

Looking forward to stopping, watching the clock, the couple plan to spend March in Florida, learning how to take life easy.

Dear Editor,

After reading and enjoying The Tecumseh Herald for many years, we feel we must finally voice our opinion concerning what we feel to be the major flaw in your paper.

We feel this flaw to be the sensational method which you continually use in reporting law violations.

We could cite many instances in which the family name of the individual involved has been degraded by these practices.

Certainly many of these acts warrant reporting, but by using the methods mentioned above you are not only hurting the families involved but also your own paper by lowering its status to that of a simple gossip sheet.

Why not place these reports where they rightfully belong, under police blotter rather than building them up to front page stories, which they are not.

We know many share our feelings, and we hope our criticisms will be taken in the manner which they were given, not in offense.

Sincerely yours,
J. Robert

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Look out, here comes the housewrecker and nothing, absolutely nothing can save the ole homestead, save the eight o'clock bell of bed time. How ten dainty fingers and ten tiny pink toes can create so much destruction so fast is very hard to understand.

Earrings, boxes, bottles, stuffed animals, books, papers, Gramps' shoes, everything all land on the floor next to old Dog Sam. Then a tug on your finger and a wave of a little hand tells you, it's all done, run out of steam and we're headin' for bed.

When little Merry comes to stay, we wouldn't have it any other way.

Dear Editor:

Some inquiries have come to my attention about the Scout Cabin located at Elliott Park. With the influx of new people in our community maybe a short history is in order.

It is an interesting one inasmuch as the cost of the maintenance such as heat, water, electricity, general repairs, roofing, etc. is raised each year by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, inc. according to the budget submitted by the Tecumseh Scout Cabin Association and approved by the Foundation's Board of Trustees. The Cabin belongs to no one troop but is used by many troops of boys and girls.

Several years ago the City of Tecumseh gave permission, the date of which I do not have at hand, for the original cabin to be built in Elliott Park and to remain there as long as the Scouts took good care of the property. It runs through my mind that the idea originated with the Rotary Club.

Much of the work was done on a voluntary basis by interested citizens. It was first heated by the beautiful fire-place made of cracked field stone some of which was gathered by Boy Scouts.

However, Wilfred Waldron selected and cracked the stones and with Ernie Campbell's assistance, built the fire-place. It was a slow process because each layer of stones had to set until the mortar was thoroughly dry. When clean it is a beautiful structure. Jerry Spafford is another name that comes to mind, a person who gave a lot of time.

As Tecumseh grew so did scouting and it became necessary to build a wing to the south which was financed through contributions of scouting friends. No properties pertaining and belonging to the Cabin should be taken or given away without proper consent of the Tecumseh Scout Cabin Association which handles the public's monies designated for the maintenance of the Cabin.

Scouts should be taught to become responsible trustees of the Cabin and be proud of it as a part of their heritage, something to preserve and not destroy.

Perhaps this is enough information for a starter until I can collect more details.

Thank you!

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)

Dear Editor:

We received a letter from Jeff and in it he mentioned that his first copy of the Herald arrived last week.

This led me to do something I have never done before, write a letter to the editor. I feel there are a great many people in this area who know nothing of the wonderful thing you folks are doing.

It is possible for any serviceman, no matter where he is stationed, to receive the Herald each week for only $2.50 per year. Can you imagine how much a hometown paper can mean to our boys so many miles away?

The editor knows and has made this offer at little or no profit. I think the people of this area should take their hats off and shout a big "thanks" to the Tecumseh Herald for their generosity and thoughtfulness.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John Westgate

It is ordered that said complaint be brought on for hearing and judgment at the March term of this Court, to be held at Adrian, in the County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of March, A. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said judgment the lands described in said complaint for which a judgment of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgment, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the county of Lenawee, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the judgment shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. STATE OF MICHIGAN
In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act. No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State thus held and upon which taxes were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of Act 126, P.A. 1933, as amended.

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $3.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended.

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained.

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides.

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Dated: January 13, 1971.

ALLISON GREEN
State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

LIBRARY MURAL — Youngsters from the intermediate art class sponsored by the city recreation department had a big project on their hands when they painted this mural on a wall in the public library. The landscape scene was painted nearly the entire length of one wall by students under the supervision of Mrs. Rufus Miracle. Shown under the watchful eye of their teacher are Donna Miracle, [illegible], Sarah Beck and Cindy Welch. Shanna Robinson, Frances Kujda and Janet Rundell also worked on the painting but were not available for the picture. Photo by Bill Whiting

BRITTON—Four points doesn't seem like a lot, but to the Tories, it was more than enough as they dropped a tough game to Erie-Mason Saturday night, 73-69.

The four point difference was the biggest lead either team could manage all night. The score was tied at the end of the first period, 17-17, and the Tories moved up by two at the half, 34-32.

The Tories were paced by Sam Bates, who hit for 26. Gary Maska, who tossed in 15, and Dan Warren with 11 were other Tories to hit for double figures.

There were 184 votes cast.

Village president, John Truesdale, 38, write-in candidate Floyd Tate, 48. Since this write-in number is at least 15 percent of the votes cast for the person receiving the highest number of votes on the ballot, Mr. Tate's name will appear on the ballot for the Clinton Village Election March 8.

There were nine persons who received nominal numbers of write-in votes for the office of village president.

Clerk, John Fox, 151.

Assessor, Harold Gasner, 149.

Three trustee positions, for two years, Gilbert Hill, 142; Richard Peterson, 140; and Donald Thomas, 83. Write-in candidate John Jansen received 45 votes. There were five other persons who received nominal numbers of votes for trustee.

Program opened with the introduction by Mrs. Reed of Mrs. Richard Broniman, a new resident of the community, who is a trained vocal soloist. Mrs. Broniman sang selections from "Sound of Music" and two religious numbers, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Reed.

Meeting was opened by Mrs. Jane Mabry with a prayer in memory of John Truesdale.

Mrs. Hans Schmidt reported on the purchase of a piano bench, which was displayed. Mrs. Broniman volunteered to assist Mrs. Schmidt in the selection of a pad for the bench. Mrs. Reed donated a tapestry piece for this purpose.

Mrs. E. John Hoelzer introduced Mrs. George Vovrick, new neighborhood chairman of the Clinton Girl Scouts.

Family of 6 Burned Out

CLINTON–Fire at 11:40 a.m. Monday completely destroyed the house trailer residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Rowlands and four children, located at 13225 Allen Rd., Clinton.

Fire, which may have started from an electric heater in the children's room, was discovered by one of the children.

Mrs. Rowlands and children and her brother, Steve Baldwin, were at home at the time of the fire.

Mr. Rowlands is employed as a trucker with Brada-Miller Co., Detroit.

Family is staying with Mr. Rowlands' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands, Britton. They are in urgent need of a house to rent. Mary Margo Rowlands, nee Baldwin, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Baldwin, Clinton.

Driver Is Killed

CLINTON—Fabian Muntean, 42, Saline, was killed at noon Saturday when his east bound automobile apparently skidded on an icy patch, crossed the highway and struck a tree.

There were no witnesses and the victim was alone in his car. Clinton State Police investigated.

Mishap occurred on US-12, west of Case Rd., east of Clinton in Washtenaw County.

Retirement Age Policy Adopted

CLINTON--New policy for retirement age of teachers was adopted by school board Monday as follows:

"A teacher shall retire at age 65 except the Board may, upon recommendation of the superintendent and further upon application of the teacher to the Board, continue the employment of a teacher after age 65 upon sufficient showing by health certificate signed by the school's physician showing that said teacher is physically and mentally capable of teaching under the terms of his contract. Continued employment after age 65 shall be based upon the availability of fully certified teachers in the subject area concerned."

Administration expressed the feeling that with the present oversupply of teachers, it is not educationally sound to continue to employ teachers past retirement age. It is not recommended to continue employment of those teachers for the 1971-72 school year.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

When God created the universe and the things in it, He provided protection for the lowly, slow moving turtle. In modern language, we might even call it a form of social security. God gave the turtle a shell for his house, a protection against elements and enemies. The turtle has only to put his neck out to eat. Far more important though is the thought that even the turtle MUST stick his neck out to go forward.

God made the eagle too. The eagle roams and soars through spacious skies. Without being told, the eagle instinctively builds a home on high mountain peaks. Miles mean nothing when with strong, undaunted courage the eagle flies through and fights storms, snow and wind when winging for food.

The turtle has its place and purpose. But, isn't it significant and shouldn't we be proud that the eagle, not the turtle, is the emblem of America? Incidentally, whether you agree or disagree with this or any other comment you read in these articles, feel free and welcome to phone or write us about your thoughts. . .

Central Turns Back Indians

The Tecumseh Indians ran up against a strong Columbia Central team Tuesday night, and although they made it a battle, came out on the short end, dropping a 77-66 decision.

The Indians had to come from a long way back, trailing 42-26 at halftime. The 16 point deficit was established in the first quarter as Columbia Central took advantage of numerous Tecumseh turnovers and ran to a 24-8 advantage.

Columbia Central, ranked number 11 in the Class B polls with a 13-1 record, placed four starters in double figures, paced by Coley Johnson and Roger Bertke with 21 apiece.

Several times in the third quarter Tecumseh cut the Columbia Central lead to just five points, but never was able to get closer, and trailed going into the final stanza 53-45.

With only 2:19 left to play, the Indians trailed by only six, 66-60, but with less than a minute to play Columbia Central led by seven and kept increasing it until the final buzzer.

Alex Gibson, held to only four points in the first half, exploded in the third and fourth periods, finishing with a game high 22 points.

Craig Smith added 18 and Dan Gunder chipped in with 13.

Tecumseh, now 5-8 overall and 4-5 in the Huron League, will travel to Blissfield Friday night. The Royals are currently in seventh place in the league with a 3-7 record.

The Junior Indians salvaged a split for the evening, winning 60-45.

WRONG PLACE — This large pool of water would be appreciated by folks along Globe Mill Pond, but they'll have to wait until summer and completion of the pond's new dam. This photo by Kent Downing shows the extent of Evans Creek last week behind the Carlton Cook home, where water backed up to within a few feet of the family's swimming pool. Other residents along the creek also had flooded yards where water approached within feet of basements. the photo at right pictures layers of foam — or lather — and was probably caused by soaps, detergents or chemicals which filtered into the creek.

New Baptist Church Offer Is Approved

First Baptist Church of Tecumseh, founded here in 1839, may soon have a new home.

Sunday, after worship services, the congregation voted unanimously to accept an offer from a friend of the church for a new sanctuary, Christian education facilities, and a new parsonage.

"The new facilities will be built and dedicated to the memory of a great lady and a faithful Baptist, Hazel M. Herrick," the Rev. Blair O. Bashore said Monday morning.

Although several sites are being investigated but none selected yet, church officials are hopeful that construction will start this spring and be completed within a year.

The Rev. Bashore, pastor here for the past 27 years and who has reached thousands of families regularly via Adrian's radio station WABJ each Sunday, said "the entire membership is gratefully moved with appreciation for this challenge to greater service in the community and to the growing faithfulness to God."

No decision has been announced as to the disposition of the present church building, erected in 1865. In 1953, the church's Youth House was dedicated, and in 1956, the remodeling of the sanctuary was completed.

Church members number well over 400, one of the largest in Tecumseh and the area.

It has been a growing church and one of the reasons probably accountable for new and larger facilities.

In the same resolution to accept the friends offer, a life lease to the church's pasonage on W. Pottawatamie St. was presented to the Bashores.

The pastor has served the Baptist Church here longer than any previous minister, starting in 1943.

When the Baptist Church is constructed, it will mark the sixth new church built here in recent years. Others are the Friends, Methodist, Episcopal, Gloria Dei Lutheran, and the Nazarene.

Guard Rail Takes Beating

Guard rail on the N. Ottawa St. curve at the High school athletic field took a beating during the past week when two motorists slammed into it.

A driver and passenger in one vehicle were taken to Herrick Hospital for injuries, and in the second mishap there, police were unable to locate the driver until eight hours after the accident.

Wednesday of last week, Patricia Ann Hephner, 22, Adrian lost control on the snow covered street and slid into the guard rail. She and passenger, Dawn Elliott, 22, Sand Creek were taken to Herrick Hospital.

Friday, Louann J. Mull, 34, of 2500 Munger Rd., also skidded into the guard rail but failed to report it to the local police. The mishap occured at 1:15 a.m. and officers did not locate her until 9:45 a.m. she was cited for careless driving and failure to report a property damage accident.

A resume of the week's mishaps is:

Feb. 17 - Richard S. Skampo, 38, 28 Paul's Trailer Court, lost control on snow-covered N. Union St. and struck a telephone pole at Pontiac Court.

Feb. 18 - Kathleen M. Studnicka, 27, Britton slid into the rear of a car driven by Bernard C. Wheelock, 49, Adrian. Mishap occured on Adrian St.

Feb. 21 - Mark E. Goodacre, 405 Herrick Park Dr., reported his car was damaged while parked at Airport Bowl or at Pizza Pit.

Feb. 22 - Karen E. Bishop, 20, of 216 N. Van Buren was cited for failure to stop in assured clear distance after she struck Lamar J. Cheever, 324 Brown St. at the intersection of W. Chicago and N. Union St.

Feb. 23 - William E. Stone, 19, of 500 Murray Dr., was charged with running a stop sign after a collision with Lina Frank Miller, 39, rural Adrian, at the intersection of Adrian St. and Murray Dr.

Trucks Require '71 Plates Monday

Friday is the last day for owners to get new license plates for trucks and other commercial vehicles. The '71 plates are required by next Monday, March 1.

New license plates for passenger cars, however, are not required until April 1.

The local Secretary of State Office, managed by Ernest Oliver, is open Monday through Friday in downtown Tecumseh.

Plan Auditions for March 3-4

Tecumseh Players will hold tryouts for "See How They Run," a riotous comedy that will be presented as the final offering of the season.

Audition will be in the basement of the Tecumseh Public Library, March 3 and 4, 7-9 p.m.

Characters for this production are all adults; six men and three women.

Weather Closes Tecumseh Schools

Freezing rain, snow, thawing temperatures, and even thunder storms combined to give Tecumseh and area one of its worse winter periods during the past week.

Tecumseh students loved it.

Classes were called off Wednesday of last week and again Monday and Tuesday. It was debatable early Wednesday morning whether classes would be held after a Tuesday afternoon and evening snow slickened city streets and rural roads.

Tecumseh schools have missed five days due to the weather, all in February.

Last week's rains and mid-40 temperatures sent Evans Creek out of its banks in many areas, and Glenn Kohler reported that he had never seen the creek so high behind his home on Iroquois St. in over 24 years.

The creek flooded the rear yard at the Carlton Cook residence on Brown St. with water coming to within several feet of the family's swimming pool, just behind the house.

The Donald Berkleys on Evans Creek Dr. were forced to move some furniture Friday as rising waters approached their new house.

The rains, thawing temperatures and ice jams were blamed for the creek's rampage which took out a coffer dam at Globe Mill Pond for the second time.

Motorists also felt the result of the elements as city streets and rural roads started to break up. Practically every street in Tecumseh was affected with large holes developing even on some of the city's major streets.

NCAA Champion Joins THS Staff

William Kouvolo, NCAA javelin champion from Eastern Michigan University, joined the Tecumseh High School staff Monday, replacing Ed Oxley who was drafted into the military service.

Kouvolo, who holds several EMU track records, was javelin champion last year. He will be assistant track coach to Bruce Dyer here this spring.

He will also take over the teaching schedule of Vic Lawson, who started in the elementary physical education program Monday. Lawson coached varsity basketball for many years and just recently finished coaching the frosh squad.

Lent .. a time for Meditation

Douglas W. Bird, chairman of Support of Churches Committee of Tecumseh-Britton Kiwanis Club, has made arrangements for seven area residents to write lenten articles for The Herald.

The first article of the series written bv William Crawford of Britton appears on page three.

Succeeding meditations will be presented by Mrs. Dwight Hodges, Cyril Desmet, Oscar Bryan, Harry M. Stanifer, Dean Sheldon and William Groover, all Tecumseh residents.

Indians-Jets in Tourney

Tecumseh Indians will open district basketball play next Monday night at Saline against the Airport Jets, a team which beat the Indians during regular season play in double overtime.

Game time is 8 p.m.

State Reports on ESY

Many folks have wondered - and asked questions - about operating our Tecumseh schools year-around, on an extended school year basis. Following is a report from the Michigan Department of Education about extended school year programs in Michigan.

The extended school year concept is not likely to reduce school operating costs, but it can lead to major savings in contruction and interest costs.

This is one of the conclusions of a recent report by the Michigan Deaprtment of Education dealing with six feasibility studies of an extended school year (ESY) in eight Michigan school districts.

The six studies were conducted by the school districts of Utica, Port Huron, Northville, Freeland, Ann Arbor, Okemos, East Lansing, and Haslett. The latter three districts cooperated in one study. Each district was considered representative of many other Michigan school districts.

Continuation grants for further study have been approved for all the districts by the State Board of Education. Funds to conduct studies were initially authorized by the Legislature.

Some of the advantages of the ESY concept espoused by proponents included a reduction of social unrest, a reduction of one or more years of formal education within the elementary-secondary levels, an increase in efficiency by better utilization of staff resources, school facilities, equipment, and materials, and improvement in the effectiveness of education.

Other possible advantages include a more even flow of children entering schools and a more even flow of graduating students that would reduce flooding the job market in June and college campuses in September.

The report pointed out some of the obstacles generally faced by running schools throughout the year - mainly community and student resistance to any departure from the normal summer break when most families plan their vacations.

The long summer vacation, as the report notes, is a phenomenon dating back to an agrarian society, a time when it made sense for children to be home during the summer months to help with the family-operated farms. Mechanization of agriculture came after the three-month summer vacation was established as a tradition.

"Extending the school year beyond the traditional 180 days should be recognized as a complex, sensitive area of investigation," the report said. "It is a sensitive concept because it suggests, to some degree, that all persons within a school district

"Double up on the prayers," Jim Greene wrote his family from Vietnam when he knew he was going to DaNang and right he is, too. Those of us at home can at least pray for those guys over there, both in the field and in the POW camps.

Dr. Billy J. Hargis has a thing going that might help them as much as any. He plans to advertise on behalf of POW's in oriental papers repeatedly and large enough to attract attention of the masses. Saving face is of prime importance in the Far East as he so aptly points out.

The Paris group managed to ignore the multitudes of letters at their door asking fair treatment of our men, perhaps the common man can do something to touch the spring (they don't have hearts) that will release the names, at least, of those Americans being tortured in their prisons.

School Report

change their living patterns in order to increase the economic efficiency and educational effectiveness of their school systems."

Statistics taken from the school districts regarding vacation preference show that the summer tradition will not be easily abandoned. In Utica, for example, 88 per cent of the total community and 88 per cent of the students chose summer for their vacation preference.

One way to encourage citizens to accept vacation options other than summer, the report said, would be to assure that all children from the same family have the same common vacation schedule.

"It would be especially helpful if employers of family breadwinners would also assure parents that they could select their vacations at the same time as their children's assigned vacations were scheduled," the report said, "It should also be remembered that some ESY designs actually increase vacation options.

There was no clear mandate indicating acceptance or rejection of ESY plans when a total community was considered as a group. Neutral responses from citizens, the report said, probably represented residents who desired more information before they decided on the ESY plan for their particular community.

Port Huron, Northville, and Utica school districts selected the four-quarter mandated design for the K-12 studies. Students are divided into four groups and assigned by family units to attend

What My Religion Means to Me

by William Crawford

I think the thing most often associated with religion when it's mentioned, is Church. I believe the church should be an important part of one's religion. But to me, religion is more than just going to Church.

Religion, to me, means many things. It's a personal thing. It's knowing my sins are forgiven. It's having a personal relationship with God day by day.

Religion means reading my Bible so I can learn more about God. Religion means praying so that I can talk to God, and letting Him talk to me–having communion together.

Religion means having convictions, personal convictions, instilled within my heart and life by Jesus Christ, not by man, or by my Church. It's knowing what and why I believe, because God has set that belief or standard for my life.

Religion means letting God mold and make my life into what He wants it to be. It's being willing to do, and doing, what God asks me to do. Obeying the will of God is what brought my family and me to the Tecumseh area. I'm an organist, and I felt God's leading and guidance in directing us to the Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene to fill that position. God opened the doors that made it possible for us to be here.

Religion means working for my God and My Church, doing whatever I can to see it grow, and to see souls won to Christ.

Religion means witnessing, telling others of God's love, and what He can do for them.

Religion means much more to me, but I could sum it up this way. Religion is not a Sunday thing. Religion to me is a daily, heartfelt communion between God and me.

Religion is the most important thing in my life.

MORE WILL LIVE THE MORE YOU GIVE HEART FUND

By Mrs. Neville Hart, chairman of the Hospital Heart Fund

February is National Heart Month.

Much is being done throughout Michigan as well as other states to educate people as to how to prevent heart disease, how to live with it and to raise money for the study and research of this dread disease.

Here in Tecumseh we are most fortunate to have in our hospital an Intensive Coronary Care Unit that has been made possible by the people in this area opening their hearts to help care for and in many cases, save the lives of heart victims.

The Unit has been in operation since Jan. 31, 1968, with four heart monitored beds and one surgical bed. In the interim, 441 cases have been treated.

The Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has sponsored this project and up to the present time has spent approximately $28,000 for equipment for the unit, of which several thousand of this amount has come from memorial contribuitons from the people of Tecumseh and surrounding area.

The Auxiliary greatly appreciates the cooperation of the community for their outright memorial donations as well as supporting our many money making projects.

The Herrick Memorial Hospital was the first in Lenawee County to have an Intensive Coronary Care Unit and we can be justly proud of our unity and the trained staff who operate it.

It is the intent and goal of the Herrick Memorial Auxiliary to keep the unit equipped with the most modern equipment available to better serve you who use our hospital.

The memorial fund supporting this project is open to all who wish to participate. Envelopes for making a donation are available at all funeral homes in the area, at the hospital and at the United Savings Bank.

Work on Blankets for India Hospital

Mrs. Perry Hayden's home was a busy scene last Tuesday evening as 17 ladies of the Ladies Missionary Society of the Friends Church worked on outing baby blankets for the new babies at the hospital, operated by Dr. Ezra DeVol and his wife Frances DeVol, R.N. in Chaatarpur, M.P., India.

The DeVols are known to many Tecumseh folks when the Doctor was detained in a prisoners' camp in China. His wife was a nurse in Dr. R.F. Helzerman's office and worked for a time at Herrick Memorial Hospital, making her home with Rev. and Mrs. Edward Escolme.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Hayden, president. Mrs. Harry Creger conducted devotions, reading from Mark 15 and 16 chapters. Each lady participated in the prayer service, remembering all the missionaries in every country who represent the society.

Mrs. Ralph Comfort gave an inspirational reading and a poem, A Heathen Woman's Face.

A letter was read from Mrs. Rebecca Coleman, Ohio Yearly Meeting president of women's missionary activities, which informed the group that stamp books are still needed for the project to get a car from the missionaries on furlough in this country to use in deputation work. Several more books were turned in toward the 350 still needed.

It was voted to give $25 toward the fund needed to buy a new furnace for the home in Damascus, Ohio where the missionaries live while on furlough.

This group agreed to help in any way it can with the father and son banquet to be held at the Friends Church on March 6. The younger group, Willing Workers, will have general charge of the meal.

Mrs. Comfort gave a talk on how and when the Friends mission work was started in India in the early 1900's. It has continued to grow through the years and now is a very active work.

Mrs. Russell Comfort read a letter from her daughter, Mrs. Dale Neff, who with her family, leaves within the next few months to be among the first group of missionaries at a new station in Java, Indonesia.

They must take all the clothes the family will need for the next four years, anticipating how much each of the four children will grow. Their most recent purchase was shoes-47 pairs of them.

Mrs. Charles DeVol wrote from Taiwan to inform the ladies how much enjoyment their old Christmas and pretty picture cards bring the native children. They are enthusiastic about getting them for awards.

When the neighbor children come to Mrs. DeVols and ask for cards, her reply is "You'll have to go to Sunday School to get one."

Three boxes were prepared and packed for shipment at the meeting.

Refreshments with tea and coffee were served by the committee, Mrs. Richard Thompson, Mrs. Mildred Chase and Carolyn Chase.

Indian Rally Beats Royals

A 48 point second half surge by the Tecumseh Indians paved the way to victory Friday night over arch-rival Blissfield, 73-61.

The teams were deadlocked at 8-8 at the end of the first period and the Royals pulled ahead in the second stanza to lead at halftime, 33-25.

Up by eight at the start of the third period, the Royals kept extending it to lead by 13, 49-36. The Indians cut into the lead, narrowing the margin to only two at the end of the period.

The Indians really went on the warpath during the final minutes of the contest, out-scoring the Royals 21-1, and racing to a commanding advantage.

Blissfield made one last effort to regain the lead and moved to within two points, but free throws by Scott Dalton and Craig Smith, plus a basket by Alex Gibson insured victory.

The Indians placed four players in double figures, led by Smith with 21, who tied for game scoring honors with Steve Meyers of Blissfield. Dalton followed with 16, sophomore Dan Gunder chipped in with 15 and Gibson added 13.

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

No. 1631

On reading and filing the complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan praying for a judgment in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said complaint be brought on for hearing and judgment at the March term of this Court, to be held at Adrian, in the County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1971, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgment will be taken and entered as prayed for in said complaint. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said judgment the lands described in said complaint for which a judgment of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgment, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the county of Lenawee, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the judgment shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in name of the State.

Witness the Hon. REX B. MARTIN, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Lenawee County this 14th day of January A. D. 1971.

(s) REX B. MARTIN,
Circuit Judge.

Countersigned,
Patricia J. Johnston, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act. No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State thus held and upon which taxes were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of Act 126, P.A. 1933, as amended.

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $3.00 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are vaild, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended.

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained.

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides.

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Dated: January 13, 1971.

ALLISON GREEN
State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

20 YEARS, A SCOUTER — Francis Packard received his 20 year award in Scouting Tuesday from Leo Judson, awards chairman for Cub Scout Pack 207, while hospitalized with a bronchial and diabetic problem. Mrs. Packard was presented her ten year award the previous evening at the Cubs Blue and Gold event. Together, the couple have given much of their time to the scouting movement throughout their married life.

Club Presents 'Little Swede'

"Such a Little Swede" was the title of the one act play presented for Drama Day to members of Monday Club Feb. 15 under the direction of Mrs. Carleton Cushing, assisted by Mrs. Lynn Hubbard, Mrs. Lillian Hoagland and Mrs. Dale Tingley.

Music from an antique gramophone tenor solo record was played to set the mood for the thespians, Mrs. Earl Caswell as Thelma O'Malley cleverly applied a Swedish brand Irish sense of humor to her husband, Pat O'Mallay and Mr. Davis portrayed by Mrs. Donald LaBounty and Mrs. William Grigg.

Nan Van Blaricom, state federation chairman on religion and ethics from Birmingham Junior Women's Club, spoke on Girlstown Loch Rio in Belleville. She told of the home for emotionally disturbed girls coming from all walks of life and social levels and asked for a deeper commitment and pledges to the state project of building a second housing unit.

Miss Van Blaricom was an authoritative substitute speaker for her mother, Mrs. Robert Van Blaricom, Muskegon, past president of Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Clarence Brock, first vice president, opened the meeting with the club collect and flag pledge. Mrs. Arch Wray gave devotions.

Mrs. Otis Beagle's note of resignation was read and accepted with regret.

Mrs. A.J. Todd reported on the winter meeting of Lenawee County Federation meeting in Fairfield.

Mrs. Brock reminded ladies to bring their needles, thread, scissors, Christmas cards, men's white shirts, white sheets and washable clothing to the 10:30 a.m. potluck work session March 1 at St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. Gladys Rohweder and Mrs. Catherine Weikert will be in charge of Sunshine Day with hostesses Mrs. Clyde Bailey, Mrs. Grigg, Mrs. Glenn Banks, Mrs. George Schumm and Mrs. Louise Bauman.

A centerpiece of red roses and candles graced the Valentine tea table where Mrs. Allen Wise and Ruth Kuder presided at the silver service.

Promoted

Marine Lance Corporal David L. Cain, son of Albert L. Cain, 217 Maple St., was promoted to his present rank while serving with the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

Cake Shape Denotes 30th

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vaughn, Raisin Center Hwy., were honored at an open house Saturday at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vaughn. Assisting were daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Comfort, Washington D.C., and son, James, at home.

Thirty-five guests came from Toledo, Tecumseh and Clinton.

Mrs. Donald Baker of Clinton prepared the unique cakes, shaped as numerals "3' and "0" marking the 30th wedding anniversary of the honored couple.

A family dinner was held Feb. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, attended by their children and grandchildren.

William Schooley underwent surgery Monday at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, and is feeling much, much better. It is hoped that he will return to work at The Herald soon.

(1) In exchanges marked with this symbol, a new service, called suburban service, will be available in the rural area with a guaranteed limit of four parties per line and rural multi-party service will no longer be offered. As facilities become available, the Company will offer suburban service in other exchanges and discontinue rural multi-party service with the resulting change in rates.

(2) In exchanges marked with this symbol, 4-party residence service is not offered. As facilities become available, the Company will discontinue the offering of 4-party residence service in other exchanges and offer only residence 1-party and 2-party service within the base rate area at applicable rates.

(3) In exchanges marked with this symbol, 2-party business service is no longer offered and present customers will be furnished with the appropriate class of business service.

(4) In exchanges marked with this symbol, there are certain Locality Rate Areas where 1-party and 2-party urban service is provided at rates slightly in excess of the urban rates set forth in the table above. Four-party rates within the Locality Rate Area (where offered) are always equal to the suburban rate in that rate group.

Urban Service Outside the Base Rate Area

The Company proposes to make certain changes in its offering with respect to urban service outside the base rate area as follows:

1. For all new applicants, only 1-party service with appropriate mileage charges will be offered outside the base rate area.
2. In those exchanges where suburban service is offered, only 1-party service with appropriate mileage charges will be available.
3. In exchanges where suburban service is not offered, existing residence 2-party service outside the base rate area with appropriate mileage charges may be continued by existing customers until such time as suburban service is offered in that exchange.
4. Four-party service outside the base rate area will be eliminated and existing customers may elect either 1-party service with mileage charges at appropriate rates on the one hand, or rural service or suburban service, whichever is offered, on the other hand.
5. Exchange line mileage charges will be changed as follows:
   a. Mileage charges for 1-party service will decrease from $1.00 per quarter mile to $1.00 per half mile, or fraction thereof (airline measurement).
   b. Mileage charges for 2-party service will change from 75 cents per quarter mile to $1.00 per half mile, or fraction thereof (airline measurement).

Other Proposed Changes

The Company also proposes certain miscellaneous changes in its service offerings as follows:

1. Increase its nonrecurring basic service connection, move or change charges to $12.00 per station visit for business and $12.00 per premise visit for residence telephones, and to change its nonrecurring charges for certain other miscellaneous services and equipment.
2. Increase its installation charges for PBX equipment to between $50.00 and $500.00 depending upon the type of equipment furnished.
3. Increase the charge for restoral of service when discontinued for nonpayment to $8.00.
4. Eliminate a separate charge for colored telephones.
5. Increase business extension and PBX station rates to $2.00 per month.
6. Increase the charge for Centrex Business main stations by $1.10 per month in Rate Groups 1, 2, 3 and 4, $1.25 per month in Rate Groups 5 and 6, $1.40 per month in Rate Groups 7, 8 and 9; increase the charge for Centrex Residence main stations by $.85 per month in Rate Groups 1, 2, 3 and 4, $1.00 per month in Rate Groups 5 and 6, and $1.15 per month in Rate Groups 7, 8 and 9; and increase the charge for Centrex business extensions by $.25 per month.
7. Increase to $4.50 per month charges for service telephones. (Applies to only 32 switcher stations.)
8. Simplify the tariff with respect to key telephones which may have the effect of increasing charges to some customers and decreasing charges to other customers.
9. Revise the method of calculating certain miscellaneous mileage charges which will have the effect of increasing charges to some customers and decreasing charges to other customers.
10. Increase hotel-motel access service charges to $8.00 per month.
11. Revise the method of calculating monthly charges for certain items of PBX equipment which will have the effect of increasing charges to some customers and decreasing charges to other customers.
12. Eliminate its offering of prewiring, including 7 jacks and one permanent location.
13. Revise its offering for jacks to a charge of $12.00 for the first jack on a premises and $8.00 for each additional jack on the same premises installed at the same time.
14. Charge a nonrecurring charge of $12.00 for each number change requested by the customer.
15. Institute a termination liability of $75.00 for mobile equipment in service less than 6 months.

The rates proposed above are not binding upon the Commission and the Commission may approve different rates which may be either higher or lower than those proposed if it finds the same are justified as a result of the proceedings in this matter.

The jurisdiction of the Commission in this matter is pursuant to Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10, 13 and 21 of Act 206, P.A. 1913, as amended; Sections 4, 6 and 6a of Act 3, P.A. 1939, as amended; Chapter 4 of Act 306 P.A. 1969, as amended; and Rules 31 through 40 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, Supplement No. 54, R 460.41 through R 460.50.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

THE BELLIGERENT BLUFFERS

And no, our subject today is not bluejays. It is tree sparrows. Hard as it may be to believe, these cute little guys are almost the scourges of my near-my-window feeder.

When first we started entertaining tree sparrows, they were well behaved and most of our comments revolved around the fun of having newcomers and how attractive they were.

Apparently these good manners were only used during the getting acquainted period. Once all of the ins and outs of feeder dining were known, their true character came to the fore.

Marda, you must not fall into this vein of thinking, you must not ascribe human traits to birds. Simply 'tell it as it is' and let people draw their own conclusions.

Well, first of all, our population of tree sparrows has grown to three. The first one who came looked exactly as the bird book said he should. Red cap, gray breast with single stickpin marking, two white wing bars, etc.

He was joined equally handsome looking birds except that they had only one wing bar. (Were I to make a comment it could be said that perhaps this was a clue to their true personality. No sooner had I written about two stripes then some show up with only one. Is that teasing or being bratish?).

Back to the hard facts. When it started none of us are quite sure but all of a sudden we realized that the heretofore peaceful tree sparrows were now belligerent. They were driving everyone off the feeder, everyone including each other.

A flock of goldfinches were taking the brunt of the attack. This is our best goldfinch winter ever, it is not unusual to have four, five, or even six of the little greenish-tan-yellowish finches dining peacefully together. When a tree sparrow happens onto the scene it is instant turmoil and chasing away.

I know it is only my imagination, the tree sparrows could not work up temper tantrums and their red hats do not get redder. It almost seems that they do though.

What actually happens is that when a tree sparrow lands in the midst of the dining goldfinches, his head goes down, the feathers on top of his head almost seem to bristle up, his back humps, he crouches, and, with bill open, he lunges at first one finch and then another.

It is impossible, because of the storm windows, to hear what noise comes out of the tree sparrow's two colored bill but I'm sure it is not nice. If the threatening posture, verbal threat and the lunge are not sufficient, he runs toward the other bird.

This is always effective. With one less goldfinch on the tray, he turns to another one and thus it goes until he has the whole tray completely to himself.

All three tree sparrows have the same attitude towards the feeder. Each one seems to regard it as his own personal domain. Goldfinches, of course, are not the only ones invited to leave.

We have seen English sparrows, tufted titmice, juncos and chick-a-dees beat hasty retreats in the face of a tree sparrow's bad manners. And truly, some of the chasing-away sessions are hilariously funny.

If the feeder is full of diners he spends all of his time frantically scurrying from one bird to another. No time for eating.... just chasing.

As with all bullies, however, these characters seem to know just when to stop. They never come to the feeder when a larger bird, one who would not be frightened, are in attendance.

They seldom will tackle the long-billed nuthatches either. These upside-down birds have an aggressive streak too....but, who would blame any bird for running away from the sword-like bill.

So it is that because they have suddenly become so selfish about the feeder and yet the battles are all bloodless we have, just lately, started calling our trio of tree sparrows the belligerent bluffers.

NEXT WEEK: About As Usual.

50 in Attendance At Ecology Night

BRITTON—Fifty persons were in attendance at the Boy Scout Ecology Night at Britton High School Feb. 18.

John Tagg of Monroe Community College reported on the different types of pollution and the causes of each.

Robert Schott, industrial engineer at Tecumseh Products, reviewed the history of pollution and told what industry is attempting to do to combat it.

Boy Scouts from Deerfield were guests at the meeting.

"To be well-heeled tomorrow, you've got to be on your toes today."

Late Tory Rally Dumps Deerfield

BRITTON—After trailing by seven points late in the fourth period, the Tories rallied behind the shooting of Wes Exelby and Sam Bates to pull out a 67-65 win over Deerfield Friday night.

With only 1:33 showing on the clock and the Tories down by seven, Bates sank two free throws to cut the margin to 65-60. Exelby then went to work, hitting two long jumpers to cut the deficit to one with only 31 seconds remaining.

Bates, who had connected on one of two free throws to tie the game with 14 seconds left, was fouled again with only four seconds remaining. He hit both to wrap up the victory.

The game was close throughout, with neither team being able to open up, and hold, a lead. The Tories were ahead at the end of the first period, 14-12, but trailed at the half by one, 33-32.

Turnovers were a key factor in the game as the Minutemen were guilty 28 times, 18 in the first half. Britton committed 17. Both teams played evenly in the rebounding department, pulling down 37 apiece.

The Tories were once again paced by Bates, who hit for 26 points. Exelby added 16 and Phil Servoss ten. Deerfield's Mike McWilliams tossed in 27 points to take game scoring honors.

Deerfield has now dropped 48 straight league contests, with their record this year at 0-11.

Britton will conclude their regular season Friday night when they entertain the Blue Streaks of Ida, currently in second place in the River Raisin Conference with a 9-2 record.

The win upped the Tories mark to 3-8 in the RR and into a tie with Erie-Mason for fifth place. Overall the Tories stand at 5-11.

The Britton JV squad made it a sweep for the evening, snapping their seven game losing streak with 61-31 win over the Minutemen reserves.

Contest For Trouble Shooters

Applications to enter the 1971 Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest are now being accepted at the contest's national headquarters in Detroit. Entry deadline for the 23rd annual contest is March 1.

"Auto mechanic students in all 50 states who are high school seniors or are in a post-high school auto shop program are eligible to enter their respective classification in the contest," John H. Moore Jr., contest manager, said.

Interested students and schools can obtain information about the Trouble Shooting Contest by contacting Moore at the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, P.O. Box 1658, Detroit, Michigan 48231.

It is expected that more than 2,000 schools, with a total auto shop enrollment of more than 165,000 students, will take part in the 1971 contest.

Each participating school selects, through intra-class competition, two auto mechanics students for its Trouble Shooting team. Every contest consists of two competitions, a written exam which accounts for 30 per cent of a team's final score and a mechanical challenge, which puts the theory into practice, worth 70 per cent of the overall score.

Local contests will be held across the country during April and May.

A winning team, two students and their instructor, from each local contest earns an all-expense paid trip to the National Finals in June at the famed "500" Speedway in Indianapolis, Indiana.

The top team in each classification, high school and post high school, is offered $5,000 in scholarships, $2,500 per student. A total of $37,000 worth of scholarships is offered.

Putting Things In Order

In this age of medicare, social security and homes for the aged, sometimes people forget an important part of growing old—tranquility!

Yes, tranquility and peace are just as important in growing old gracefully as is sufficient insurance or all the other means with which we show our concern for the elderly.

Have you ever noticed that old people have a knack of putting things in order? In fact, they need everything tidy, neat and sure. Certainly their greatest need is for peace and security—but this can come only when they are at peace with God!

If we want to reap the harvest of friendship with God in our old age, then we must cultivate our relation with Him—when we are young and able. Regular church attendance and worship is your assurance of peace and tranquility during your own gentle lengthening years. It will be a heaven-sent reward and one which you cannot, will not, want to miss.

Tom, 14, a freshman in Clinton High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Busch. He joined Cub Scouts, May 26, 1964, and received the Parvuli Dei award in 1966, after completing spiritual and religious requirements. He was a Webelo for six months between his Cub and Boy Scout activities.

He went into Boy Scouts at age 11, receiving tenderfoot in May 1967, second class, December 1967; first class, July 1968; star, June 1969; life, March 1970; and appeared before the Wolverine Council Board of Review for Eagle Rank on Jan. 12.

During his three and one-half years in Boy Scouts he has been a patrol leader, assistant senior patrol leader and senior patrol leader.

At present he is a patrol leader and den chief for the Webelos. He has also taken training for these positions. He received a Freedom Trail award in October 1970.

Tom became a member of the Order of the Arrow, July 1969, awarded to Boy Scouts through the local troop and Council for outstanding Scoutmanship and Camping. He went with a group of other Boy Scouts to the Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, N.M., in August 1970 and hiked 54 miles in the mountains for ten days, receiving the hiking merit badge and a 50 miler award.

He is an Altar boy and commentator at St. Dominic Catholic Church and is working on the Ad Altare Dei award. He participates in football and basketball, is class representative of the Student Government and secretary of the Spanish Club I. He also has had a paper route since September 1967.

After the ceremony Tom received a special Eagle neckerchief from the Webelos.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Cindy Lou McKeever who became an angel of God and left us 3 years ago, February 22, 1968.

"I'll lend you for a little time
A child of mine he said,
For you to love, the while she lives,
And mourn for when she's dead.
It may be six or seven years,
Or twenty Two or Three,
But will you, till I call her back,,
Take care of her for me?
She'll bring her charms to gladden you,
And tho her stay be brief,
You will have lovely memories,
In solace for your grief.
Still so sadly missed by her family,
Ron, Sue, Fred, Betsy, Mark, Tammy, and April McKeever.

IN loving memory of Michael John McLoughlin who would have been 7 years old Feb. 28.
Sadly missed by his family

Baby's Death Investigated

A newborn baby girl, apparently abandoned by its 18-year-old mother, was found dead early Friday evening in the ladies restroom at the Tecumseh Kroger store.

The young girl, Susan Anteau, former Sutton Rd. resident who attended Tecumseh High School here last year, reportedly had the baby by herself in the restroom, placed it in a plastic bag and then left it in a refuse receptacle. Birth is believed to have occurred Tuesday night, three days before a store employee discovered it in the receptacle.

Details surrounding the birth and death have not been released.

According to sources, the young girl and her mother, Mrs. Arnold Anteau, now a resident just south of Adrian, were shopping at the supermarket when the expectant girl asked to use the restroom. She was in the restroom some 35 or 40 minutes and then left.

Her mother, in the meantime, had completed shopping, checked out and was waiting in a car in the Kroger parking lot. It is understood that she knew her daughter was sick and in the restroom, but did not investigate.

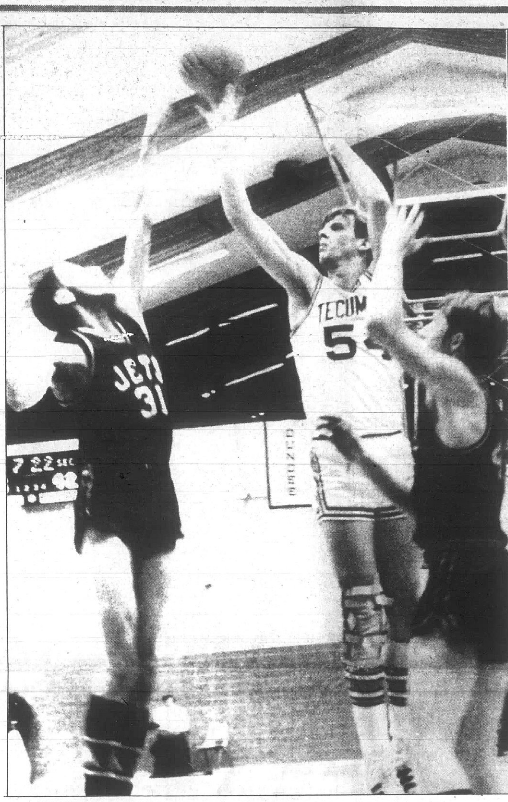

An autopsy on the fully developed baby was performed Saturday at Bixby Hospital, but its findings have not been revealed, nor were medical examinations made Monday at East Lansing.

What actions or charges to be taken by authorities are still unknown. As of Tuesday, the county prosecutor's office had not issued a warrant. It's believed that authorities are waiting for a pathologist's report and a determination of whether the baby was born alive or dead.

If the baby were born alive, murder charges could be pressed.

Tecumseh police are known to have questioned the girl and her mother in the presence of their attorney. Any information, if any, learned in the questioning is being withheld.

Information was obtained from reliable sources, but not from the Tecumseh police nor the prosecutor's office.

ADVANCE IN TOURNAMENT — Coach Ron Spagnoli's Indians whipped Airport, 61-59, Monday night to advance in the district tourney at Saline. Tecumseh plays Milan Wednesday night, and another victory which is quite possible, would put the Indians into the finals Saturday evening. Here, Alex Gibson lets one fly for a two-pointer.

ESY Report

This is the continuation of the state's survey about extended school year operations, and answers most of the questions local folks have inquired about. The Herald printed the first part of the state's report last week. The rest is:

three of four quarters on a staggered basis.

In any given 60-day quarter, 75 per cent of the students are attending school and the remainder are on vacation. Under this plan, a school system would be in operation 240 instruction days a year. Historically, this plan has been attempted more often than any other. Its popularity lies in its ability to release space immediately and it has great possibilities for increasing economic efficiency and educational effectiveness, the report said.

The Freeland school district selected a mandated trimester design which calls for division of the year into three 78-day trimester segments. By slightly increasing the length of the school day, two trimesters provide the same amount of instruction time as two regular semesters.

The 180 days of six hours a day (1,080 hours) is converted to 156 days of seven hours a day (1,092 hours). One-third of the students are on assigned vacations and two-thirds are in school for any given trimester. The schools are in operation for 234 instructional days per year and all students have a common two-week vacation in August.

In Ann Arbor, a modified split-trimester design was chosen for study. All three trimesters are equally split, resulting in six blocks of terms of instructional time. Each term is 36 days in length and students are assigned to attend five of the six blocks of terms.

This results in about 17 per cent of the students being on assigned vacation and 83 per cent of the students attending school in any given term. The school system operated 216 instructional days and all students are on vacation in August.

The Okemos, East Lansing, and Haslett districts selected the five-term or continuous school year approach for their cooperative study. The school year is extended to include five terms, each nine weeks in length.

Students have the option of attending any four of the five terms or all five terms. The school system is in operation 225 instructional days a year.

The report pointed out that ESY plans have been abandoned in the past if the only reason a school district initiated the system was to achieve economic savings.

"If a lesson is to be learned from history, it would appear to be that the ESY concept should be considered for what it could contribute to improving education and social conditions along with what ESY can contribute to economic efficiency," the report stated.

One incentive for ESY is the rapid growth experienced by some districts, especially suburban areas. Five of the six studies projected significant student population growth in the next few years, ranging from 175 per cent increase in the next five years in Northville to a 6-7 per cent annual increase in Freeland for the next several years.

Because of this growth factor, millions of dollars can be saved by postponing the construction of new facilities to house an increased student population.

In Utica's mandated four-quarter ESY design, there is an increase of $1.6 million (an 11 per cent increase) to change from a two-semester to the four-quarter plan. However, Utica can anticipate saving about $98 million in construction costs in the next ten years.

The report also pointed out that savings accrue by not having to buy new furniture and equipment, by not having to staff the postponed new buildings with additional administrators, secretaries, custodial and maintenance personnel, and by keeping the proposed site property on the tax rolls.

There are, however, other costs involved. They can be attributed to converting from one system to another. Major items included in this category include staff time for curriculum and staff

Indians Advance in Tourney

Clutch foul shooting by Scott Dalton in the final 30 seconds of the Indians opening tournament game against Airport provided the margin of victory Monday night.

The game was close throughout, with neither team able to break into a comfortable lead. Everytime one team would jump into a lead, the other would battle back to tie, and usually, take the lead.

Both teams played evenly in the first period, matching baskets, but the Indians hit two free throws to Airport's one to take a slim 14-13 lead.

Tecumseh, although able to maintain their lead, could increase it by only one point, going off at the half with a 26-24 advantage.

Airport came out fast in the third period, making the first five points of the quarter to take a 29-26 lead. Dalton then converted a three point play to tie the game, but baskets by Rick Duncans and Al Smith moved the Jets back into the lead.

They stayed in front until the final 53 seconds of the period when the Indians knotted the score at 40-40. However, a basket by Jim Marlowe with only two seconds showing gave Airport the lead going into the final stanza.

A quick basket by Craig Smith as the fourth period began tied the score, but Airport once again regained the lead and the battle was on until the final buzzer sounded.

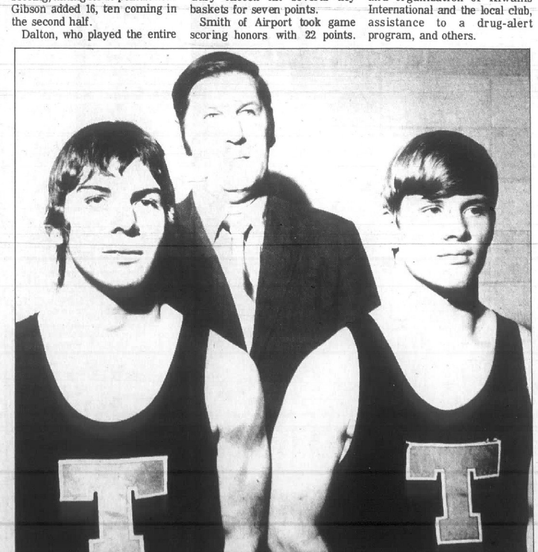

Dalton was fouled with only 30 seconds left and moved the Indians to a three point advantage, 59-56, by hitting both attempts. A free throw by the Jets' Marlowe with five seconds showing cut the lead to two, but Dalton was fouled again with three seconds remaining and made both shots to insure victory.

A last second shot by Roy Webster of Airport was good to close out the scoring.

Craig Smith led the Indians' scoring, hitting for 20 points. Alex Gibson added 16, ten coming in the second half.

Dalton, who played the entire second half with three fouls, and Dan Gunder each scored nine. Gary Alcock hit several key baskets for seven points.

Smith of Airport took game scoring honors with 22 points.

LEAGUE CHAMPS — Joe Bailey, left, and Mike Tilton are not only Huron League wrestling champions, but Tilton won the 145-pound weight class in the regional matches Saturday at Comstock High School. Bailey finished third, but earned the right with Tilton to compete in the state finals at Sturgis, Friday and Saturday. Tilton, boasting a 26-5 record over the past two years, is Tecumseh's first regional champ, and he defeated several of the state's outstanding wrestlers en route to the crown. Pictured with the two wrestlers is Coach Pat Connors.

OK System for Firemen

An alerting system for the Tecumseh Fire Department was approved Monday night by Council when officials awarded the business to Plectron.

The new system, a radio-type for individual firemen, will cost $3,588. Other bid was $4,246 from Motorola.

Tecumseh firemen sought the alerting system after weather recently fouled three sirens, including the main one at the fire station.

Delivery is expected within six to eight weeks.

49 Houses Are Built In Raisin

Construction continued to run high in Raisin Township last year with total building and remodeling amounting to approximately $1,325,000.

William Mackey, township building inspector, reports 49 permits for houses; three for commercial; 11, garages, and nine for additions or remodeling.

House construction amounted to over $1,200,000 and commercial contributed about $75,000.

Raisin Township is easily the fastest growing area near Tecumseh, especially in homes. The city issued just nine permits for houses last year, 40 less than the township. However, the city issued six permits for apartments, while no apartment building was reported in the township.

Popcorn Sale Is for Youngsters

Tecumseh-Britton Kiwanis Club will hold a popcorn sale in downtown Tecumseh Saturday with funds raised to be used in projects of the club's committee for boys and girls.

The Rev. Ronald Brown is chairman of the sale, scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

Projects include Little League team, Lenawee Institute Boy Scout troop, orientation of high school students to the programs and organization of Kiwanis International and the local club, assistance to a drug-alert program, and others.

Survey Starts Here Saturday

Approximately 2,000 residents of Tecumseh will receive questionaires Saturday when the Tecumseh Jaycees initiate their community survey.

The questionaires will be dropped off at homes and apartments Saturday and picked up the following Saturday.

Included in the survey are interviews of every 10th home. These interviews will last approximately 10 minutes, and the names of those interviewed or those completing questionaires will not be recorded, unless requested.

The Jaycees are being assisted by the Auxiliary, Boys Scouts and others. Interested parties for distributing and picking up the questionaires are urged to report at 602 Blanchard St. at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The two and a half-page questionaire has a variety of questions, including ones about postal service, news coverage, fire and police protection, legal and medical services, shopping facilities, education, trash pickup, recreation, church and service activities, pollution, drugs, city government and more.

The Jaycees are hoping for cooperation and feel that the questionaire could reflect a majority opinion on many aspects of the community.

Raj Mehta is chairman of the survey and is being assisted by Dean Binder and Earl Crabtree.

One of the main purposes and objectives is to find out from folks what civic projects and improvements are felt most needed and desirable.

Results of the survey will be published by The Herald after tabulation.

Rates for Rooms Up at Hospital

Room rates at Herrick Memorial Hospital have been hiked in effort to solve its loss record, one amounting to $73,611 for last year.

The rate increase reported to Council Monday evening went into effect the beginning of last month and amounted to $3 for private, semi-private and wards.

New rates are $51 for private rooms; $45, semi-private, and $42 for wards. The intensive coronary care unit beds will now be $100 a day.

It marked the second increase in just over six months. On July 1, 1970, the board raised rates of $4.50 for rooms to offset a general salary increase for employees.

William Groover, hospital administrator, reports that 1971 has started off better than a year ago. He says January was better than a year ago and February seemed better, though not all records are completed yet.

Loss of patient days in 1970 has been blamed largely for the $73,600 loss. This factor plus a change in handling some income from a fund are principle reasons for the hospital's losses, a figure about $20,000 more than anticipated last fall.

Also in the report to Council, the board reported a salary increase for licensed practical nurses. New salary schedule ranges from $2.91 to $3.12.

City Officials Oppose Plans for Band Battle

Plans for a "Battle of Bands" during Michigan Week came before Council Monday night and the reception was not favorable.

Councilman William Holmes pointed out that such public entertainment had presented problems in the past and questioned the feasibility of having similar performances here in the future.

His position received support from Murell Clark, police chief.

In the Parks and Recreation report to Council, recreation director Ward Eardley has reported the Teen Club planning a "Battle of Bands" during Michigan Week, culminating by a dance.

Clinton-Tecumseh Officials Meeting

Clinton and Tecumseh officials will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 at city hall.

Purpose of the joint session is to discuss a connecting sanitary sewer along River Raisin from Clinton to Tecumseh.

The meeting was scheduled previously, then postponed when John Truesdale, Clinton president, died suddenly.

Hot Wires On Tractor

Larrie Eaton, of 5695 E. Monroe Rd., avoided serious injury and possible death Monday morning when two high tension wires fell across his tractor.

He was working near M-50, just east of Tecumseh, when the tractor clipped a Consumers Power pole, toppling wires carrying 7200 volts each onto his tractor.

According to Tecumseh firemen who responded to the call and talked to Eaton, he waited until a passing motorist stopped and informed that wires were across his tractor.

Eaton then jumped off, thereby not grounding himself.

Power through the lines was shut off at Britton.

Indian Fan Club Has Candy Sale

Indian Fan Club will hold its annual candy sale Saturday with Tom Fagan, football coach, in charge.

Sales will be held downtown, and homes will be canvassed.

Funds raised will be used in the athletic program at the high school.

ESY Report

development, materials and resource personnel to aid curriculum improvement, communication and feedback with and from school client groups, and air conditioning and other equipment needed for the revised quality of education provided.

A review of all six studies shows that the largest conversion cost item is for air conditioning. Inservice and staff time for curriculum development are also two major cost items.

"The financial aspects of all six studies indicated that little if any money would be saved in annual operating costs by operating on an extended school year basis," the report said. "Further, certain expenditures would have to be made when converting from a traditional school year to an ESY program."

"Thus, school costs are likely to increase for the first few years an ESY program is implemented. Major savings do accrue in construction and interest costs, especially when mandated ESY designs are considered."

The report concluded that any sustained ESY operation would have to compromise economic motives with educational improvement, both of which would have to be accepted and supported by the community.

The following is a list of tentative conclusions based on a review of the individual studies of each of the school districts. Objective data, the report said, will not be available until some school districts have operated several ESY designs for a period of years.

–Extending the regular school year is more feasible for larger, rapid-growing school districts.

–The degree of community acceptability of ESY increases if the primary purpose is to improve the nature and quality of education.

–ESY designs that produce the greatest economic savings require the greatest adjustment in living patterns. Such designs are least acceptable to community members, especially parents.

--ESY plans that increase vacation options of students and their families are more acceptable to parents than those that decrease such options.

--The feasibility and acceptability of the ESY concept increases when the plan increases student options of course selections and flexibility of time use.

–To some degree, an increased use of facilities is possible in all of the ESY designs of the school districts. The degree of increased utilization of facilities is highest with mandated ESY designs and decreases as student options and flexibility of time use increases.

The report ended with another point--that appropriate state funding will be necessary, especially during the transition years, if the objective is to have any Michigan school districts operate on an extended school year basis.

Bloodmobile Is At Local Center

Lenawee County's quota for blood this year is 3,168 pints or well over $100,000 worth of free blood to be distributed to Lenawee County residents. Since July 1, Lenawee County is 100 pints short of its annual quota.

Local blood drive chairman, Mrs. Maryann O'Connor, hopes that next Wednesday's bloodmobile at the Tecumseh Community Center from noon until 6 p.m. will help to make up a good share of this deficit.

Tecumseh's last bloodmobile visit in October was one of its poorest in history with only 65 pints collected.

Dr. Robert Murray will be sending out reminders to all former donors, he hopes that many of them will bring a friend on Wednesday. If there are any questions about the blood drive, call 423-2135.

Indians Finish With Victory

The Tecumseh Indians tuned up for tournament competition with an easy 90-66 win over the Bears from Monroe Jefferson Friday night.

The Indians led by three at the end of the first period, 16-13, and increased it to 15 at the half, 43-28, as they controlled the boards and utilized the fast break.

Monroe Jefferson managed to outscore Tecumseh in the third period, but by only one point and couldn't cut into the lead.

The Indians, who shot 55 percent from the floor and 67 percent at the charity line, scored at a 25-15 advantage in the final stanza and coasted in for the victory.

Three Indians, Scott Dalton, Alex Gibson and Craig Smith, combined for 66 points, the same total as the entire Bears team could muster.

Dalton took game scoring honors, hitting 12 attempts from the field and seven from the line for 31 points. Gibson tossed in 20 and Smith added 15.

Tecumseh finished the regular season with a 6-6 mark in the Huron League and shared fourth place with Airport, their first opponent in district tournament play. Overall, the Indians compiled a 7-9 record.

The Junior Indians finished their season on a winning note, downing the Monroe Jefferson reserves, 61-43.

Tecumseh played almost even with Flat Rock during the first half last Tuesday, but an unproductive third period spelled the difference and they dropped a 90-73 decision.

The Indians trailed the Rams, ranked third in the Class B polls, by one point at halftime, 40-39, but were outscored 26-12 in the third period and never were able to catch up.

Flat Rock finished the season with a perfect 17-0 mark and the Huron League title.

Alex Gibson tied with the Rams' Kevin Creasman for game scoring honors with 24 points.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Food Fads

False food fantasies cost Americans millions of dollars every year, and the amount spent on "specially prepared" products grows steadily. Some of the food faddists' information is based on a poor grasp of basic nutrition, but much more represents a greedy exploitation of the gullible.

Such "food quacks" trade on our common weakness: we don't want to get sick, to grow old, or to die. And many of us reject what we don't understand.

For example, you may have been told that disease is caused by improper diet. Actually, very few diseases are caused by poor diets, especially in the U.S. Our problem is usually the result of too much food, rather than too little.

Or those who peddle "organic foods" argue that modern farming and the use of chemical fertilizers takes all the nutritional value out of the foods grown on our farms. In truth, the nutritional value of crops isn't affected a bit by such procedures.

Or certain foods are touted as having "wonder" powers. Even when these foodstuffs are nutritious, they fall far short of the extravagant claims made for them. For example, yogurt is an expensive variation of milk, and is no more nourishing. Black strap molasses is a vastly over-rated source of vitamin B. And some people should actually avoid whole grains, bran and wheat germ, which they may find hard to digest.

When listening to such claims, use your common sense — and a great deal of cautious skepticism.

Two standing bouquets of orange carnations and gladioli with white snapdragons, palms and candelabra and aisle posts trimmed in orange and white completed the adornment of the sanctuary.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pieh, 200 E. Logan St., and Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Edwards, Tipton.

Jane Sell of Blissfield, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl in a dark brown velvet dress carrying a miniature of the matron's bouquet.

The maids were attired as Mrs. Miller except for their headpieces. Hers was dark brown velvet and the maids were of apricot organza.

Gene Boyers was best man and the 400 guests were seated by Ken Pieh, brother of the bride, Edward Solarski, cousin of the groom, Kirk Bergman of Livonia, Jerry Holly and Bill Miller.

The late Peter Marshall, chaplain to United States Senate in 1947 once used a prayer that seems so appropo for today:

"Our Father in Heaven, give us the long view of our work and our world. Help us to see that it is better to fail in a cause that will ultimately succeed than to succeed in a cause that will ultimately fail....May Thy will be done here, and may Thy program be carried out, above party and personality, beyond time and circumstance,for the good of America and the peace of the world."

Little Garden Club Hears Commission Chairman

By Marge Comfort

Green spaces - such as parks and recreation areas - take a lot of "green" to buy, build and maintain.

The people who provide the green money have to decide whether the funds will be used for recreation or for other activities and services, according to C.R. Miles, chairman of the Lenawee County Planning Commission.

Speaking at the February meeting of Little Garden Club, Mr. Miles noted that $220,000 could be available to Lenawee County from a 1968 state bond issue, with the state providing 80 per cent of the cost of buying land and developing a variety of park and recreation uses.

But only half of this is being sought because of lack of matching funds from the county, he pointed out.

He was interested by a comment from a club member that perhaps private funds could be sought, if the donors learned that their money would bring a fourfold increase from state funds.

He suggested that anyone interested in the development of parks and recreation write to Charles Waid, county roads and parks commission chairman, to say they would use the developed areas.

Current planning calls for four areas totaling 300 acres and including nature trails, active sports ranging from snowmobiling to swimming, and picnicking sites.

A string attached to the state money requires state approval of the plans, he noted. Tecumseh, denied state funds for Tecumseh Park development, joined the county in efforts to gain the $3.83 per capita state money for use of the local citizens. Now a state official has rejected use of the city-owned land north and west of Tecumseh for one of the four county sites.

He visited the site on one of our recent ice storm days and commented that the deserted area "fails to meet the criteria of serving a metropolitan area," Mr. Miles commented.

Letters to the county giving support for the program could help in changing the state's attitude, he added. During a business meeting, garden club members acknowledged recent gifts for Adams Park, including $50 from American Legion Auxiliary.

Tecumseh Garden Club, which gained just over $70 from a bake sale held at the December park auction, added enough from club funds to bring the total contribution to $100.

Little Garden Club officers elected for the 1971-72 fiscal year include:

President - Mrs. William Adams

Vice-president - Mrs. Charles Gross

Secretary - Mrs. Gordon Comfort

Treasurer - Mrs. John Walper

Membership secretary - Mrs. Kenneth Strack

HONOR AMERICAN PRISONERS — The Michigan House and Senate recently held a special joint session to honor American prisoners of war in Southeast Asia, especially those from Michigan. After the session, State Representative John S. Mowat, Jr., (R-Adrian) conferred with U. S. Senator Robert P. Griffin on efforts to stop abusive treatment of POW's and gain their release. In addition to Senator Griffin and Governor William Milliken, the special legislative session featured remarks by former POW Col. Norris Overly of Detroit.

New Members Installed

An addition was given to the worship service of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Sunday when new members were installed by the pastor and welcomed by Mrs. William Macbeth, evangelism chairman.

Those who expressed their faithfullness to serve the Lord were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Feldman, Mr. and Mrs. Garry Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wegner, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schaap, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Neilson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helgren.

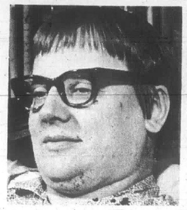

Happiness and thanksgiving was also expressed over the return of Bob Boyers, who served in Vietnam for 13 months. All received Holy Communion with the congregation.

Kevin Lee, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beazley, will be baptized next Sunday.

During the Lenten season, evening services are held in the church at 7:30 p.m. with the participations of Chancel and the Junior Choirs and the Youth Singers under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Mason.

Through My Window

ABOUT AS USUAL

Hooray, January and February have been torn from the calendar and tossed into the wastebasket! Winter is far from over but at least, much of it is behind us. Gradually the cycle is turning and each day contains a hint or two of the nice warm weather things to come. There is a schedule and it is being adhered to.

First and most obvious are the bird noises. All through the wintry blasts of last month, freezing rains and big flaked snowfalls, a few of the more stout hearted freeloaders serenaded us. Admittedly, the song sparrow's trilling song is often mentioned as a winter sound but what we heard was long, loud and much too full of joy to be dismissed as cold weather singing.

The twittering of the goldfinches was much more pronounced and prolonged too. When the sun shone, even though only feebly, the pert little tufted titmice and the cardinal foursome all tuned up. True clear whistles, vocal signatures for both these birds, never cease to lift our spirits. They sound happy and it seems to be contagious.

When the telephone started ringing there was more excitement. As winter grows old and weary, the bird population begins to shift slightly. Although the move is perhaps only from swamps to yard, the set patterns of behavior are beginning to change.

It is often difficult to describe a bird for someone else to identify but thank goodness people keep trying. My batting average is not good enough for any bragging – however, the woman who had the sparrow sized birds with the pretty reddish head, back and breast color undoubtedly was hosting purple finches and the lady who enjoyed the slightly smaller than a sparrow bird with a red spot on his head and a splash of the same under his chin did indeed have the redpoll.

Both of these sightings were in the Tipton-Sand Lake area; neither species of bird has visited us yet this year and, if the nice people up there want to send them down for a short visit, you will believe me when I say that we would be delighted, wouldn't you?

Ann, I am still puzzling as to who your mystery bird is – I'll use the present tense and hope he is still in residence. His large size plus his habit of walking up and down tree trunks makes me think woodpecker.

The color of his head being red, but definitely not the full headed red of the red-headed woodpecker, has me wondering if perhaps you have a red-bellied woodpecker. The name is misleading, the slight reddish cast on the red-belly's tummy is often very very hard to see.

Nothing hard to see about his red head though. From the base of his bill up over the crown of the head and down to his shoulders, this wide scarlet band is beautiful and unlike any other red in the woodpecker family.

And, shall we spend a few minutes with crows? It is debatable whether, here in southern Michigan, these large black colored birds migrate; certainly they disappear from their summer haunts but possibly, instead of flying south, they merely move onto more protected areas.

Wherever they go, they are now back! Bob's call brought the exciting news and here along Evans Creek we had seen and heard them several weeks before that. Oh, but they are big and black and noisy!

So it is that irregardless of what the weather does or does not do, winter will sometime come to an end – the birds know what time of year it is and are encouraging because they are on schedule, they are acting about as usual.

What My Religion Means to Me

By Cyril Desmet

Let me first define in simple terms the word religion: the service and adoration of God, or a god, as expressed in forms of worship.

Careful analysis points out that the meaning of my religion, to me, has changed as my life span has progressed. The meaning has changed during at least four major eras in my particular life situation.

CYRIL DESMET

One meaning applied during my childhood and adolescence, another during my life at Notre Dame and in the armed service, another as a young and newly married man and yet another after my family had grown and my children were becoming adults.

My religion has been able to fill varying needs as my life has evolved.

Currently the emphasis must be placed on that portion of the above definition which deals with the service of God. Jesus Christ during his tenure on earth pointed out the way in which his Father was to be served; through two commandments as opposed to ten.

"Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with thy whole being" and secondly "Thy neighbor as thyself." What a tremendous challenge is contained in these two simple statements.

To attempt to follow the example of Jesus Christ as shown by His treatment of His neighbor is a consuming task; a task which enables me to feel God near.

Strangely enough, it has been the young people of this generation, so often maligned, who have helped me arrive at this precious meaning of my religion.

Meetings Planned For Assessments

BRITTON--Many of the assessments for property tax purposes in Ridgeway Township are being changed this year, according to Township Supervisor Robert Auten.

These changes are necessary in order to reflect current economic conditions and establish internal equity.

Michigan state law requires assessing officers, including township supervisors, to evaluate property and to exercise their best judgement in determination of what a fair current market value for property would be, and then to assess property at 50 per cent of what their appraisal indicates to be the true cash value.

Supervisor Auten, elected last November, states that he has done this to the best of his ability, having consulted with several local and county officials and taxpayers in his effort to establish the current market for property in Ridgeway Township.

In order to avoid, as far as possible, any unfairness in the assessment of property, the state law provides for Board of Review - three Ridgeway Township citizens - appointed by the township board, to review the assessment roll at the Township Hall from 9:00 a.m. to noon and from 1:00 to 4:00 on Monday, March 8, and at the same times on Tuesday, March 9.

These meetings of the Board of Review are public, any citizen may come in, review his assessment, and discuss its equity with the Board, which has the absolute right to change any of the assessments, if changes are required in the interests of internal equity.

"Especially since this is the first assessment roll I have prepared," Mr. Auten stated. "I feel that taxpayers should come to the Board of Review to check their assessments, so that if I have made any errors in fact or in judgement, they can be speedily and justly corrected."

A taxpayer who does not appear at the Board of Review has very little chance of getting an erroneous assessment corrected before the next year's assessment is prepared, Mr. Auten explained.

Mary Ann Woodward, Manuel Barrera Wed

CLINTON–Nuptial vows were solemnized uniting Mary Ann Woodward and Manuel Barrera by the Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy in St. Dominic's Catholic Church Friday evening.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Woodward, 12857 Carson Hwy., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Barrera, Maracaibo, Venezuela.

Altar was graced with a bouquet of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Richard Wegner was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown styled with a bodice and sleeves of white velvet and a skirt of bridal satin with a wide band of velvet around the hem. A chapel train of velvet was attached at the back waist.

She wore a finger-tip mantilla veil and carried a nosegay bouquet of white and pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis with loops of pearls.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Jane Woodward. She wore a floor length gown of burgundy velvet. Her bouquet was of pink and burgundy carnations and roses.

Best man was Major Orlando Martinez Ugueto, Lansing, friend of the groom.

Guests were seated by James Woodward, Jr., brother of the bride and Alex Villasana of Jackson.

A buffet supper reception was held at K of C Hall, Manchester, attended by 150 guests.

Bouquet of pink and white carnations and chrysanthemums and pink candles centered the bride's table.

Assisting at the reception were Barbara Randolph, Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. William Merriam, Lansing; Garna Service, Warren; and Mrs. Roger Proctor.

Mrs. William Calvert, Colorado Springs, aunt of the bride, was among the out-of-town guests.

Bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and a graduate of Justin Morrill College at Michigan State University. She teaches foreign languages at Churchill High School, Livonia.

Mr. Barrera attended the University of Maracaibo, Venezuela, and is a graduate of State Data System, Lansing. He plans to attend Wayne State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrera will reside at 205 S. Grove St., Apt. 303, Ypsilanti.

School Board Sets Guidelines

CLINTON–No remodeling plans have been completed for the present high school building, however, the Board of Education has adopted the following set of guidelines for use by the architects:

On Jan. 25, the Board of Education approved preliminary sketches as submitted by the architects for the remodeling of the present high school for upper elementary purposes.

The original bond issue for $2,280,000 was passed to purchase land and develop the same to be used as school site and to build and equip a new school building and to remodel the existing high school for elementary purposes.

In the original proposal, $150,000 was set aside for the remodeling project. This figure has been increased now because of additional funds that have become available through the investment of bond money.

Many alternate proposals were made on how to best remodel the existing high school to meet local needs. The direction which the board has adopted is as follows:

1. The old original high school building which was built in 1905 will be torn down.

2. The middle section which includes that section of the building built in the mid 1920's including the old gymnasium, home economics room, special education room, biology room and drafting room, will be remodeled as follows:

The gymnasium will be used as an Instructional Materials Center (library). Home economics room and special education room will be continued in use and the biology and drafting rooms will be turned into general classrooms. The front end of this building will have a new entranceway constructed.

3. A new two story addition will be constructed along the south side of the main corridor in the 1957 building. This addition will include seven classrooms - five general classrooms, one junior high school industrial arts room and one arts and crafts room.

4. Some additional remodeling will be done to the heating and ventilating system in the 1957 building.

It is anticipated that this construction work may be accomplished with funds available which will not exceed $300,000. It must be understood that plans for this remodeling project are by no means complete and school administration and Board of Education are deeply involved in them at the present time.

Under the long range plans, it is desirable for Clinton Schools to utilize the present elementary building for grades kindergarten through fourth, and the remodeled present school as a middle school for grades five through eight, and the new building on US 12 for high school grades, nine through twelfth.

The decision as to whether the facilities will be used according to the above organizational pattern has not been made by the Board of Education, and is contingent upon availability of adequate operational funds.

Typewriter Song Played on Drum

CLINTON–Bill Stout, a seventh grader at Clinton Community Schools, played "Typewriter Song" on his drums and assisted on several other selections at the Lenawee Pops Orchestra at Croswell Opera House Sunday afternoon. Orchestra is directed by Dennis Kiser.

Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stout and daughter, Mrs. Jon Harwood, Adrian, attended the concert.

Citizens, Council Debate Paving

CLINTON--Citizens with properties abutting Kehoe Rd., and their spokesman, Attorney Robert Kralick, met with the Village Council Feb. 17. Members of Clinton Board of Education were also present.

Discussion concerned the matter of paving and curbing Kehoe Rd., and the fact that those owners east of the east line of Section Five to the east village limits would bear 100 percent of the cost of the paving and curbing.

Village Attorney Melvin Smith, acting as major spokesman for the village, explained that it is village policy not to assume the costs of street paving and curbing for annexed subdivisions to the originally incorporated village.

It was stated that no further action will be taken on the matter until a firm plan can be worked out with the Clinton Board of Education and another meeting held with all interested parties.

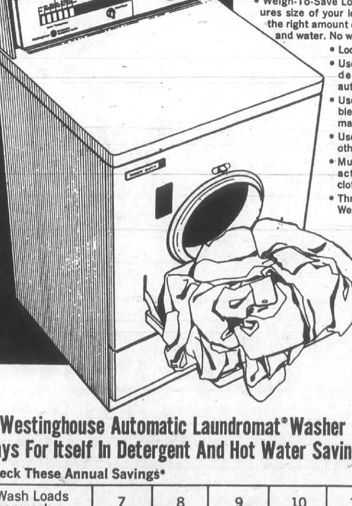

Council members stated that for the past ten years a street improvement program has been under way in the village. With the exception of portions of Division, Railroad and Kehoe Rd., all streets have now been improved.

Clinton Township Board was present later in the meeting to discuss with Council the projected costs for improvements and operation of the Fire Department for 1971-72. Costs of a new fire department vehicle were discussed.

Village fire committee will meet and make recommendations to Village Council and in turn to the Township Board before any further action is taken regarding new fire department equipment.

Max Steffens Wins LA Trip

CLINTON–Mr. and Mrs. Max Steffens spent Thursday until Monday in Los Angeles, Calif., as guests of Ralston Purina Co. Mr. Steffens was awarded the trip and was designated to the Chairman's Honor Council for selling 1,000 tons of feed at Atlas Feed and Grain Co.

GIRL SCOUT THINKING DAY — Mrs. James Hedley with the display she arranged for the annual Thinking Day banquet Feb. 22 at the Union Hall attended by some 600 scouts, leaders, mothers, board members and guests. Mrs. Hedley emceed the event.

600 Attend Thinking Dinner

More than 600 Brownies, Girl Scouts, leaders, mothers, committee people and guests attended the Girl Scout Thinking Day dinner Feb. 22 at United Products Workers Union Hall.

Girls and leaders were in costume of four countries where international Girl Scout Centers are located as they greeted and gathered for the feast of foods of these countries made especially for the event and served from tables cleverly appointed with items of interest from each.

India, Switzerland, England and Mexico were the countries so portrayed and embassys from each sent materials for a display arranged by Mrs. Avery Lee, a ten year member.

Mrs. James Hedley emceed the evening's program of awards intersperced with fun songs such as "When Your Ears Hang Low."

Mrs. Hedley welcomed the guests and made introductions of Irish Hills Girl Scout Council members James Hedley and Mrs. Richard Egli, field director; and Mrs. Donald Sprague, troop organizer; Mrs. Truman Rentschler, former board member and 25 year scouter.

Mrs. Hedley also introduced Mrs. Stanley Kruse, calendar chairman; Mrs. Jame Bick, cookie chairman; John Robinson, general chairman of senior girls going to the Chalet in Switzerland and their treasurer, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Lee and Wayne Morley, scout cabin association president.

Grace before the meal was sung by Cadet Troop 123 led by Mrs. Egli. Cadet Troop 267 led by Mrs. Paul Henning presented the flags and Cadet Troop 60 led Mrs. Lavon Retan handled the closing ceremony.

Mrs. James Wheeler, neighborhood chairman, introduced the 22 troops with 345 girls represented and presented five year pins to Mrs. William Norris, Mrs. Gary Roberts, Mrs. Retan, Mrs. Ron McKeever and Mrs. Eldon Stevens. Senior Girl Scouts also receiving five year pins are Meg Beardsley, Jana Robinson, Michele Filber, Elizabeth Shelton and Laura Downard.

Certificates of appreciation "for service in the interest of scouting" beyond that of leadership were presented from Irish Hills Girl Scout Council to Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Ronald Craig, Mrs. John Hoelzer, Mrs. Kenneth Armstrong and Mrs. Paul Henning.

Arrangments for the dinner were made by Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Henning and Mrs. Hedley.

Each of the Troops presented their Thinking Day Friendship Fund of pennies, one for each year of each girl's life, to be used internationally to promote friendship and to help other girls in other countries.

Mrs. Paul Henning, secretary and treasurer of Tecumseh Neighborhood, explained the meaning of the fund also called the Juliet Lowe Fund.

Mrs. Hedley spoke of the need for unit leaders for camping this summer and announced that there would be a nursery for workers' children, three years and over.

Senior Girl Scouts presented a dramatization of the international centers as Mrs. Hedley narrated some history of each one. She also explained the significance of the international friendship flag.

To The Herald:

I was pleased to get so much credit for building the Scout Cabin fire place. Both by Mr. Johnstone at the Union Hall and by Mrs. Rentschler.

There were numerous people who contributed labor on that project, as well as cash and time. There was no one who actually helped laying stone, except George Hay, who came for a short time and was unlucky in that he drove a sliver of stone through his shoe and had to quit. Leon Rosacrans was on the building committee and came down a few times in the two weeks that was required.

One of my pleasures was that I got better acquainted with Floyd Elliot. I carried my lunch and ate across the fence in the blacksmith shop. Floyd was a real man.

Paul Bowen really made the job possible with the loads of stone that he sent down. The committee assured me that they had plenty of rocks. They did, but they were those left from Mr. Ford's rebuilding of the present Community Center. Most of those rejects were unbreakable or colorless, fit only for filling.

I had to use more cement than was planned as the foundation was not large enough and the chimney is over nine feet wide at the base.

The fire place is built over a large heatilator, double-walled heavy iron form, which is much more heat producing than a plain opening and pretty well assures a draft. This form is covered with thick batts of rock wool to prevent cracking of the walls by heat. It would not be possible to heat a room that size in that way, especially as it was the first year, before it was lined.

Ruth is mistaken about letting a job dry or the mortar set. It is wise to leave the pointing of the joints until next morning and with small trowel and a pointed stick the mortar can be leveled or depressed to suit.

Another job for which I had too much thanks was the drinking fountain at Nelson Field. The stone for that came from the Solarski farm, thanks to Ed. I mention this because of the shameful way the kids treated it.

The first Napoleon cap stones were lifted off and smashed into small pieces and now the cement replacements have been defaced.

NOT by Boy Scouts I'm sure.

There are better stone jobs around town, one down the Macon Road and a beautiful one by that little guy, Charlie Gross. Drive out in the N.W. section and see it.

If we could build a fence around the world, would we respect our limitations and live happily with one another? Would we stop wars? Probably not!

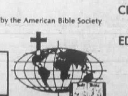

You can fence in physical objects but not the minds and hearts of mankind.

Nor can we be forced to live in peace. Peace comes through practicing love, faith and tolerance—an understanding of God and His Church. Then, remember World Day of Prayer. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else. Instead, enlarge your horizons through the common voice of prayer.

What better place to start than in the Church?

Two Teenagers Are 'Outstanding'

DENNIS SCHOONOVER

PATRICIA WEIGLE

Dennis Schoonover and Patricia Weigle have been selected as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1971, according to Neville Hart, Tecumseh High School principal.

Under the guidance of the Board of Advisors, the Outstanding Teenagers of America program was created in 1967 to encourage young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America. The awards are presented annually and biographies of all those honored are recorded in an annual volume.

Nominated by their principals, Outstanding Teenagers are chosen for excellence in community service and academic achievement. They will vie for a state trophy and a national scholarship of $1,000 to attend the college or university of their choice.

Both THS students are National Honor Society members and will graduate in June.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weigle, 608 Brook St. She is a cheerleader, treasurer of both French Club and Student Assembly, a national merit finalist and a member of Girls Athletic Association.

She has been accepted at University of Michigan for next fall.

Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Raper of Adrian. An excellent Spanish student, he also loves baseball.

Dennis follows in the footsteps of his late brothers, Alan and Doug, in that he is also in the top ten percent of his class.

He plans to use his ability with Spanish as an interpreter in a government position.

St. Elizabeth School Closing Announced

St. Elizabeth Catholic School, started here in 1954 and expanded in 1955, will close at the end of the current school year.

Two years ago the local parish dropped the seventh and eighth grades, retaining grades one through six. It has been known for sometime that the school has had financial problems, and when the state's electorate turned down parochiaid last November, the school's fate seemed just a matter of time.

The Rev. Robert J. Handley notified public school officials here Tuesday that Cardinal Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit, made the official decision and cited the parish's report failed to meet established criteria.

The 158-pupil enrollment, probably destined for the Tecumseh public schools, will push public school enrollment to between 3,800 and 4,000 next September.

The added elementary enrollment also will necessitate additional classrooms. The School Board has been aware of the possibility that the Catholic school might close and has investigated purchasing or leasing portable units.

Supt. James McDowell says 10, possibly 11, units will be needed, with six scheduled for Herrick Park and four for Sutton. If the 11th is necessary, it will be installed at Tecumseh Acres.

There is also the possibility that the public schools might rent or lease classroom facilities at St. Elizabeth, although this is contrary to the trend in other areas, Mr. McDowell explained.

Dr. Donald Phelan, member of the church and also member of the Tecumseh School Board, will conduct an investigation as to leasing or renting. Public school officials are hoping that a decision will be reached soon. Other factors, involving the public schools, also will have to be checked.

If the church decides not to lease, orders for new portable units have been assured. They will be 24x40 feet each, heated electrically, air conditioned and carpeted.

Costs would vary from $10,000 to $13,000 each, installed at school sites. Sewer and water installations are not included.

St. Elizabeth first opened its school in September 1954 for 130 students. Cost of the building was $110,000. Within a year, new construction started for two more classrooms, and at that time, September 1955, there were 230 pupils enrolled.

At one time rumors persisted that St. Elizabeth might build its own high school, but it never materialized.

Notice Is Given

Following is the letter from the Rev. Robert J. Handley that Tecumseh Public School officials received Tuesday. It explains the decision to close the school, the possibility of renting it, and the appreciation extended to public school officials for their cooperation and help extended to the Catholic school.

The letter, addressed to Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent who will take over the superintendent's responsibilities this summer, is:

It is with deep regret that I must inform you that Cardinal Dearden, the Archbishop of Detroit, made the official decision that St. Elizabeth School must close at the end of this school year. To quote from his letter "Since the (parish) Council's report failed to meet the criteria established by the Archdiocese, it will be necessary for St. Elizabeth's School to close at the end of this school year.

As to the possible rental of our school building the Cardinal cautions a thorough investigation of the matter before any decision can be made. The Parish Council has appointed a sub-committee under the Chairmanship of Dr. Donald Phelan to conduct this investigation. Cardinal Dearden is concerned that the rental of the school might interfere with Parish use of the building.

In my own name and in the name of the people of this Parish, I wish to thank your office for the wonderful cooperation and help which you have always extended to St. Elizabeth School.

4,500 Plates To Go Yet!

Unless some folks start applying soon for their license plates, lines will be long in a couple of weeks at the local Secretary of State's office.

Ernest Oliver, manager of the office here in downtown Tecumseh, reports only 4,000 plates have been purchased so far, and estimates another 4,500 will be sold here before the new plates are required, April 1.

Many normally wait till the last few days to buy their plates, and then are forced to wait in line.

Mr. Oliver's office is open for sale of plates from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Assessments Up $1.5 Million

Tecumseh city assessments have increased by approximately $1.5 million, according to Robert Hamden, city assessor.

The hike raises the city's total assessment from $31.1 million to about $32.6 million. New construction, mainly apartments, contributed to the increase as did industrial, commercial and residential properties.

Mr. Hamden mailed nearly 500 assessment notices to property owners Wednesday. There were about 250 real and 235 personal, with the personal property notices being sent to industry, commercial and professional people.

Folks who object to the assessments will have an opportunity to have them checked when the Board of Review starts meeting, Monday, March 22, at city hall.

Tecumseh's new assessment will provide nearly $22,000 more tax dollars. One mill will now raise $32,600.

The government here is operating on 13.5 mills or approximately $420,000. One additional mill was voted and is used to retire bonds for the sewage disposal plant.

Although the city has a 15-mill limitation, nearly two more mils can be collected before the Council would be faced with collecting more tax through an election. Costs for city refuse collection and payments at the landfill amount to one-third of a mill, and this cost can be deducted from the city's total operating millage.

It is not known whether the city will be forced to increase its millage for the next fiscal year. City Manager Cal Zorn will present his budget to Council in April.

CU Elects Officers

Jospeh Dziachan and Fred Ward were re-elected to the Board of Directors of the Tecumseh Products Employees Credit Union at the organization's recent annual meeting.

John McVay was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Kenneth Martin, who had resigned.

Officers elected were Raymond Frost, president; Gerald Driscoll, vice president; Mr. Ward, secretary, and Mr. Dziachan, treasurer. Others on the board are Lawrence Cote and Ira Manwaring.

Wayne Zettel and Euan Francoeur were re-elected to the credit committee, which also includes Ken Hinkleman, Jack Ries and Richard Spadafora.

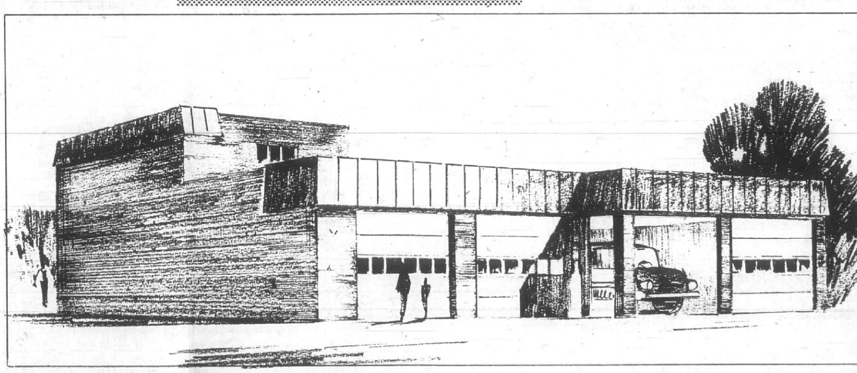

Approximately 550 attended the annual meeting, held at the Union Hall.

'Wear Green' Is Dance's Theme

"Wear Something Green" is the theme of the third Recreation Dept. sponsored Over 40 Dance, scheduled for Sunday, March 14 at the Community Center.

The St. Patrick's dance will feature Glenn Driscoll and his Irish Melodaires and Betty Flanders from 2 to 5 p.m.

Proceeds will go towards the Band Boosters uniform fund.

OPEN BIDS THURSDAY — Bids will be opened Thursday at city hall for a proposed addition and remodeling of the Tecumseh Fire Station. Estimates of the cost have ranged up to $75,000. Seven contractors are expected to submit bids with the winner scheduled to start as soon as possible. Four bays will open onto S. Evans St., and there will be new sleeping quarters, radio room, and a meeting room upstairs with showers and lockers. One section of the present station is in very poor condition, and it will be removed completely.

Debbie Wins Scholarship

Debbie Williams was the winner of a music scholarship at try-outs Tuesday evening at Friends Church.

Carol Ann Christman was alternate.

Music Makers and Tecumseh Music Club provide a $75 fund to be used for a music camp of the winners choice.

Debbie played the piano and flut and Carol, the organ.

Other contenders were Lynn Peck, vocal and piano; Brian Bird, trombone and organ, and Paul Bush, trumpet.

Picking Up Surveys

Tecumseh Jaycees with the help of football coach Tom Fagan and the Tecumseh Fan Club, distributed 1,737 community survey questionaires last Saturday in extremely adversed weather conditions.

The boys in the Fan Club proved that there is no generation gap in Tecumseh.

Any person not receiving a questionaire may pick one up at the downtown office of the United Savings Bank.

The questionaires will be picked up this Saturday. It would be greatly appreciated by the Jaycees if they were put in the box or hanger on your door. An additional portion of the survey will be a personal 10 minute interview every 10th house.

Results of the questionaire will be published in The Herald.

WORKING AT LANSING — Rep. John S. Mowat, Jr., county Republican, greets state capitol page John Hayden in the House cloakroom, John, recently dishcarged Vietnam vet, is the son of Mrs. Perry Hayden. He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1965.

Rep. Mowat Seeks Confidence

By Bill Whiting

In a candid acknowledgement uncommon in political circles, Rep. John S. Mowat, Jr. said last week that his election in November was the result of a personality contest.

"I realize that I was elected on the basis of personality and not issues," the Madison orchard owner said in an interview in Lansing last Wednesday.

However, this assumption appears to have made him all the more enthusiastic in his efforts to produce a change in the way voters react to public officials.

"The problem in state and county government is the lack of confidence in government and people in government," he said. "I feel I will have accomplished something if I can restore, in a little way, the confidence that people have in their elected officials."

Mowat, a relative newcomer to the political arena, has become disturbed by the type of criticism that is currently aimed at officials.

"You should see some of the mail my colleagues get," he said. "They are nasty, negative things which are of no help to anybody—nothing more.

"Now I might have to go against my constituency if I feel that it is in the greater interest of the state welfare, but I'm not above listening," he continued. "I do feel I have to have the strength to make my own decisions, regardless of the consequences."

Since taking office only two months ago, Mowat has gone to some effort to maintain a close contact with people in his district. He has sent out several press release updates on his capitol activities and sought the cooperation of area newspapers in publishing a questionnaire to learn voter opinions.

"The communications angle is the most difficult of all," he said. "Of course, it's the kind of thing you want to do to get a reflection of the thinking of your constituency.

"People are showing more interest in what's going on," he added. "I have been getting lots of mail and that helps to build my confidence."

Although there has been much public reaction to alleged mailing excesses by legislators, he said that most of the questionnaires which have been returned to his office indicate people would prefer to be on a mailing list.

One of Mowat's special interests is education, having previously served on the Madison School Board and as chairman of the Lenawee County School Board Association. As a member of the House Education Committee he said that education reform, its emphasis and tax implications, will be an important state and local issue this year.

He stated that schools are bound to be hurt by recent budget cuts to education. He warned that if current trends continue, specific levels of spending may have to be applied to school appropriations with teachers being placed under civil service.

"All the extra money the school boards get now is being eaten up by salary increases for the teachers," he noted. "And I'm not saying it's not justified. But the schools are being caught in the middle."

Mowat said that he was especially interested in achieving closer contact with area schools. "I want to avail myself to whatever use to which the schools can put me," he said.

He criticized adults for doing a

Voice of the Herald

Herald Criticized

In the past few weeks, The Herald has been subjected to some criticism for its handling of news about crime and law violations.

We're being accused of being sensational, using poor judgement and relating distasteful news. We'll confess to distasteful news, but remember, we don't make the news, we simply report it.

We deplore crime, violations of the law, use of drugs and other aspects of our mixed-up society. Do we ignore these occurrences and pretend they never happen?

The Herald would much rather help the Jaycees raise monies for civic projects, promote the Tecumseh Players, write about a Tecumseh Indian victory, commend and recognize an individual for a worthy achievement or contribution, and generally, reflect the truly worthwhile events of the community and area.

Unfortunately, The Herald has a greater responsibility, one which some call distasteful and sensational. One, in fact, we dislike too - the reporting of crime, fatal accidents, use of drugs and related events which are near to home.

What is considered sensational here, is it sensational in either of the Detroit papers? Is it distasteful? Do you turn off the TV when news is unfortunate or not to your tastes? Are we living with sugar and spice and everything nice?

A newspaper in on display constantly. It makes mistakes, and criticism is justified. We welcome letters from our readers - and believe it or not, criticism too - although we have a right to disagree as you do.

It is certainly not the intent of The Herald to hurt or injure any individual, and such articles are never reported with that in mind. If a newspaper strives to provide 100 percent news coverage, it's bound to be "sensational" and "distasteful" for some readers.

Readers Write

To The Editor:

Last Saturday, March 6, I had an occasion to accompany seven boys during their sale of candy for the High School Fan Club. With the current national publicity Teen-agers are receiving, I expected to spend a very anxious three hours with a group of long haired-pot smoking-listless boys.

The morning was very different from what I expected. The morning made me very aware of how out-of-touch one can get by subscribing to an erroneous national image.

We started out in a slight downpour and every one seemed sullen and ready to abort the whole project at the first discouraging sign. The selling of candy went slowly on the first street, but the boys spirit rose slightly. They became a little looser and began to talk among themselves. The next street went better and the boys began a competition between themselves, as to who would sell the most candy. They started to get excited; they started walking faster between the houses; they started to laugh and tee-hee more as they returned to the car for more candy. And it started to rain harder.

The paper bags in which the candy was carried became water-soaked and the bags ripped. The boys became water-soaked but they kept with it.

As the boys would return to the car to warm up and to dry out, there was a change in their tone of conversation: They started talking about the kindness of people. "Hey, Mort, one man paid two dollars for a box of candy" and "One nice lady gave me a plastic bag to carry the candy in" and "People are sorry about not buying candy because they had no change in the house".--and it rained even harder.

By now the boys started encouraging each other by comments - "Put forth an effort" - "Pretend it's football practice" - and it quickly became a contest between a young man's will to complete the job and the bad weather. Their persistance paid off. When the last street was finished, the young men got back into the car and talked of cold hands, wet clothes and of all the candy they had sold. The driver of that car was impressed.

The Tecumseh Jaycees take pride in their motto of being "Young Men of Action", but Saturday morning, the Jaycees were outdone, overshadowed, outworked and humbled by another group of Young Men of Action: The High School Fan Club.

If those young athletes of Tecumseh are any indication of the spirit and the personality of today's Teen-agers, us old folks can be confident the future is in the hands of good men.

A JAYCEE

To The Editor:

This is to commend the three young people who objected to "the sensational method which you continually use in reporting law violations." I admire and respect these persons for taking the initiative to write to you.

It is my feeling that many such reports in The Tecumseh Herald are not examples of tasteful and responsible journalism.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Joseph Bachman

To the Editor:

As one individual of this town, who has always enjoyed reading the Herald, I would like to voice my protest on the type of coverage your paper has chosen for front page news. Your information may have been obtained from reliable sources, but in my opinion this is police news and should be reported as such. The Adrian Telegram respected her rights, but in the past couple of months your paper has not respected the rights of a number of families in this area.

Also the Teen Club asked to hold a "Battle of Bands" during Michigan Week, and it was opposed "as usual." Perhaps Ward Eardley could set a limit on the number of bands that would be allowed to enter. Let's not ignore our teens just because it "presents a problem" as Councilman Holmes stated. My husband and I would like to offer our services as chaperones, if needed.

Last but not least, I would like to thank Tom and Jean Cunningham of Airport Bowl for not ignoring the teens and the children of our town. Their establishment is open to them for pool and bowling, with special rates for children. They sponsor a junior and senior high league for the boys on Saturday morning and a girls in the afternoon, with special rates for them also.

This is supervised by adult instructors, who give many hours of their spare time. I'm sure they all appreciate the annual Christmas party and the many prizes donated by the owners. Fun and a place to meet is the order of the day, and for families in the evening.

My personal thanks for "putting up" with our "noisy teens."

We must discover our essential unity - not necessarily uniformity - in the body of Christ in which we are all members."

The Consultation on Church Union came into existence in April 1962 in Washington, D.C., as a result of conversations among leaders of four major American denominations, United Presbyterian Church in the USA, Episcopal Church, United Church of Christ, and Methodist Church.

The girls and leaders plan the menus, make the table decorations and design the program covers. The Camp Fire Organization had its beginning in 1910 under the direction of Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick and his wife; naturalist, author and illustrator Ernest Thompson Seton and others in educational recreation work.

Dr. Gulick felt the qualities and spirit of the home should be brought into the community, an opportunity never given before to women. He saw the need to prepare children for the business of living and learning responsibility.

Ranks of progression set up at that time are still in use today. Indian lore and ceremonials are a colorful part of the program. The watchword, WO-HE-LO, comes from work, health and love, cornerstones of the organization.

First Camp Fire organization in Lenawee County was in Blissfield in 1921 under the direction of Ruth Mosher Place. After being active for a couple of years it was dropped and reorganized in 1926 by Beulah Saxton.

Tuckabatchee Council, with over 300 adults, has a total membership of 1,446.

Mowat

poor job in education, particularly in citizenship and civic affairs. He suggested that improvements should be made in the total curriculum, with environmental problems, government and civic affairs being integrated through all classes.

"I would like to see kids start down in the elementary level voting, in their own small way, on things to get them interested," he said. "Then they will be able to progress to the real issues in high school."

Mowat said that he supports the 18 year old vote, recalling the interest he discovered in youths working on his own campaign. He hopes to see the issue placed on the ballot again in November so that Michigan's conflict with federal voting can be resolved before the 1972 elections.

"I think we'll run into problems locally keeping the records separate and voting by paper ballots-the bookkeeping will be tremendous," he said "I believe the very fact that it's now been ruled on by the federal government makes it deserving of reconsideration in the state."

Mowat speculated that other emotional issues which will probably confront the legislature this year will include abortion reform and environmental pollution. He said he plans to cosponsor abortion legislation introduced in the House by Rep. Allen which will differ slightly from the senate bill sponsored by Sen. Gilbert Bursley (R-Ann Arbor).

He said that he was in general agreement with proposals reducing phosphates in detergents, although it posed some problems. He viewed recent movements against throw-away bottles as only a partial answer to pollution.

Although he expressed impatience with having to deal with what he called small bills which "really don't do that much good and take up a great deal of time," Mowat said he has had little trouble adjusting to his new job.

It's really kind of fun," he said. "The older members have been very cooperative and helpful."

As a freshman representative, he said he does a great deal of listening and acquainting himself with the legislative organization. "This procedure always worked for me in the past," he said. "And I see no reason to change now."

It's that time of year when soon the children will all be as frisky as lambs and just about as sensible. It's a parents job to teach them to heed the old stop, look and listen routine but a driver has responsibility, too.

Reward for caution comes from unexpected places - a bus driver's smile as she thanks you for helping to get that small one home again safely. It makes the waiting much less tedious.

Lent .. a time for Meditation

(A Series Sponsored by Tec.-Britton Kiwanis Club)

What My Religion Means to Me

by Dean Sheldon

The definition of religion is, "The feeling of reverence which men entertain towards a supreme Being; the recognition of God as an object of worship."

I believe all this, but Webster did not go far enough. My religion means that I believe in the Bible. I reject the idea that the Bible is only a book of historical facts, which some men expound.

I have faith that each book was written by men who were inspired by God. And here in this Lenten Season I can say, with confidence, that I believe there was a virgin birth, that Christ was crucified for our sins.

He arose from the grave and did appear to His disciples before ascending to heaven and He will return again. It's all written in the Bible, the book that I believe in.

But it is not enough to say that I believe what is written in the Bible and let it go at that.

I believe I have an obligation to continually study these scriptures to better understand these truth. The old adage that, "man does not live by bread alone," still holds true today even with all the scientific knowledge that surrounds us.

I find that the more I learn and understand the atomic structure, the nature of life, or master plan of the galaxies, - the more I marvel at the wonder of God's creation, and the more I know that my faith is real.

Man needs a religion just as he needs food and water or air. When man's faith in himself has reached it's limit, God will be there to help.

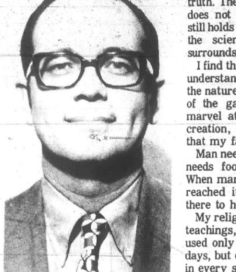

My religion tells me that these teachings, this faith, is not to be used only in Church or on Sundays, but every day of the week, in every situation.

Through the Bible Jesus is telling me as He told his disciples, "Go preach, go teach, go witness", and out in the community is where it's at.

My religion means to me that I don't really have to worry what happens to me today or tomorrow.

As long as I have faith in God my decisions will be easier to make from day to day.

The two Bible verses which help me keep the faith everyday are, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, nothing is impossible," and "If God be for us who can be against us."

Rotary Observes 31st Anniversary

CLINTON--Rotary Governor William Ives, Detroit, and all the members of the Tecumseh Rotary Club were present Wednesday to observe the 31st anniversary of the Clinton Rotary Club.

W.P. VanTuyle and George Lancaster Sr. were presented charter membership awards.

Mr. VanTuyle was also presented a large walnut plaque engraved with the names of each past president since organization of the local club in 1940.

Governor Ives concluded his challenging address with details of Rotary International Convention at Toronto in April.

Rotary Ann program was announced for March 10 with Michael Walls arranging the program.

During the 31 year history of the Clinton Rotary Club, one of its most noteworthy achievements was the initiation of the idea for the Youth for Understanding program at a local committee meeting. Exchange program was later adopted by Rotary International and has since provided for the exchange of thousands of high school youth between many foreign lands.

Many years ago the Rotary Club donated china and table service to serve 300 persons, and it's still being used at the high school by local groups.

Until the groups became too large, the Rotarians yearly entertained the members of the National Honor Society, high school seniors and safety patrol boys.

At present, the club is sponsoring the Boy Scouts, some 130 local youth.

Rotarians assist with the organization, advertising and financing of the local Bloodmobile visit.

Club also contributes to the needs of certain school children providing eye exams and milk money.

A yearly college scholarship is awarded to a Clinton High School senior and delegates are sponsored at Boys State.

Contributions are made to the United Fund and other local programs.

An annual chicken barbecue is the chief means of raising funds. Rotarians lend their equipment and assistance to others having barbecues.

Latest major project was the grading and seeding of the new high school site.

Twenty-six involved members of the Clinton Rotary Club meet each Wednesday for dinner at 6:15 p.m. in United Church of Christ.

Move Planned For Equipment

CLINTON--At a meeting of the Clinton United Fund board last Monday night, Mike Walls was appointed to take care of the moving of various community hospital equipment from the basement of the Community Center to the Central Administration Office building of the school.

It can be stored in a drier place there.

Hosptial equipment consists of beds and mattresses, wheel chairs and crutches which were purchased by the board last summer and a walker recently donated by Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Werth.

This equipment may be used by anyone in the Clinton School District by calling the Village office.

At the election of officers, Mike Walls was elected vice-president and Paul McKenna re-elected secretary, each for two years.

Jack Mullaly was elected to a three-year term on the board to fill a vacancy. Mr. McKenna and Mrs. Robert King were re-elected to three year terms as trustees.

There are still two vacancies on the board to be filled. The board would welcome volunteers for these positions.

Next meeting will be May 11 at the Central Administration Office.

A petition was read, signed by 27 residents of Litchfield St., protesting the name change of their street. Letters of protest on their street name change were read from two residents of Edgar St. No action was taken. Matter will be turned over to the street committee.

Council determined that the Village will not enter into a contract with the schools for the cleaning of parking lots as requested by the schools.

High School Opens Doors

CLINTON--Cafeteria staffers Mrs. Clyde W. Greenfield and Mrs. Howard Hintz were trying out the new kitchen equipment in the new high school building Tuesday in preparation for the onslought of students who were expected to begin classes in the building Wednesday.

The cooks had already tried out the bathtub sized gas-fired kettle, which cooks 40 gallons at one time.

"It was great for making spaghetti sauce," Mrs. Greenfield reported.

That's just one of the many stainless steel wonders that make the new kitchen a joy to work in. There's a monster of a confectioner oven, which promises to bake a variety of goodies in half the usual time on closely spaced racks, evenly heated by a blower.

Steam units wheel about and keep food hot near the serving area. Glass doored walk-in cooler and freezer provide necessary storage of fresh foods and meats. Steam ovens provide new ways to prepare food, almost eliminating the need for top of the stove cooking.

Cafeteria will seat 216 persons at natural wood tables and bright-colored chairs, in a cheerily lighted area.

Although many areas of the new school are still in disarray waiting the final move and assistance by the students in placing materials in storage area, the move was expected to be made Wednesday.

Learning resources center, a beautifully carpeted area, features some lounge chairs and study desks surrounded by walls and stacks of books. There's room for many more books than present library contains.

Bleachers are still to be installed in the gymnasium and tartan floor laid.

Students have been given maps of the layout of the new facility and assigned to their new bright orange individual lockers. It will be a while before they know their way about. For visitors there is a clever orange metal layout map in the entry hall.

Spacious, well-lighted classrooms, with the colorful storage and numerous new articles of equipment to make learning a pleasure should encourage Clinton's students to make the most of the opportunity to study in such a beautiful place.

Board Gives OK for Move

CLINTON--Board of Education granted Superintendent Richard Wegner authority to begin the move into the new high school, following a tour of the building at a special meeting March 1.

A check list of final work items was gone over with John Landi, contractor, and such work will be completed shortly.

Schedules are being set up and the moving of some equipment has already begun.

A drainage ditch near the O'Donnell residence will be considered.

Board approved the purchase of a multi-flavor malted milk machine for the new high school at a cost of $3,601.

Lighting for the darkroom was discussed since architects did not incorporate lighting into the plans.

It was noted that scaffolding should be purchased for changing lights, painting and making repairs in the school buildings.

Board voted to adopt some guidelines for the administration of the John C. Truesdale Scholarship Fund, which was organized by the student council and the Spanish Clubs in the schools.

BRITTON--Township Board moved to donate $500 to the Ridgeway Cemetery Association for miscellaneous expenses as needed when the Board met March 2 at the Township Hall.

Board also decided to purchase a calculating machine as they are in need of one and one of the few Townships not having one.

Discussions concerning roads and bridges, stop signs and mobile homes, and mobile home parks were in order, however no decisions were completed at this time.

Regionals Next For Tories

BRITTON--Another heart-stopping victory, 58-57, has sent the Tories into regional competition after successfully defending their Class D district championship Friday night against Whitmore Lake.

Two pressure-filled free throws by Wes Exelby with 11 seconds showing on the clock gave the Tories a three point lead, 58-55. The Tories then stood aside, not wanting to commit a foul, as a last second Whitmore Lake shot fell through for the final score.

Foul shooting by Whitmore Lake, however, almost eliminated the Tories. Leading by four to start the second stanza, the Trojans could manage only one field goal, but connected on 10 of 14 charity tosses.

The Tories meanwhile, missed three straight one-and-one situations at the foul line which could have given them the halftime lead. Instead, they went off trailing by two, 27-25.

Britton turned on the scoring power in the third period, hitting for 21 points and jumping to a seven point advantage. The Tories continued to build their lead in the fourth stanza and held an 11 point advantage with only four-and-a-half minutes left.

But Whitmore Lake came roaring back, and moved to within one, 56-55, with 29 seconds remaining. Britton had a chance to put the game away at the foul line, but both Dan Warren and Gary Check missed the first on one-and-one situations.

Exelby rebounded Check's shot and was fouled trying to put it in. He canned both shots to preserve the win.

Warren paced the [illegible] with 20 points, followed closely by Bates with 18. Check added 10.

Britton shot 34 percent for the evening, hitting on 20 of 58 attempts. The Trojans did a little better, shooting at a 40 percent clip.

Both squads hauled down 32 rebounds with Bates leading with 14. Turnovers were numerous, Whitmore Lake committed 18 and the Tories were guilty 16 times.

Britton, now 7-12 for the season, advances to regional play at Harrison High School, Farmington. Their first game is Wednesday night against River Rouge Our Lady of Lourds.

Tories Squeeze Past Deerfield

BRITTON--The Tories' 52-50 come-from-behind victory over Deerfield last Tuesday enabled them to move into the Class D district finals against Whitmore Lake Friday night.

Trailing by 12 points to start the final quarter, Britton rallied to tie the game with only 22 seconds remaining, 47-47, on a short jumper by Sam Bates.

Gary Check rose to the task and shot the Tories to victory, scoring four of their five points in the overtime session, on a basket and a pair of free throws.

Each team decisively won two periods with the Minutemen winning the first and third by 15-5 and 17-5 scores. The Tories came back to take the second and fourth stanzas, 19-9 and 18-6, plus the overtime, 5-3.

Bates once again paced the Tories, connecting for 23 points, the only Britton player to hit double figures. Gary Maska was next with nine. Bates was also the leading rebounder, snaring 16 stray shots.

The Tories shot only 23 percent from the floor, making good on 16 of 69 attempts. At the foul line they made 20 of 31 count, for a 65 percentage.

The Minutemen shot at a 40 percent clip from the field, but only 39 percent from the charity stripe, which spelled the difference in the game.

This made the third time Britton defeated the Minutemen this season by a combined total of eight points. The Tories captured the first two meetings by 57-53 and 67-65 counts.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

TO A GREEN PARROT

Well, for heaven's sakes! It was almost 30 minutes that four wide eyed adults could do little else but look at the corn feeder, pass the binoculars back and forth, and utter this exclamation. None of us could believe what we saw.

For the first time ever, a green colored parrot crunched a mid-morning snack of corn on the Wilson's Special corn feeder. Cross my heart, it was a parrot. Cross seven other people's hearts that it was a parrot too!

It happened during our first cup of tea–several weeks ago I mentioned that interesting things happen while Marda is drinking tea. Gertie T. had just picked up the mug and, as she turned to give me a sip, I wonder what she thought when she saw my eyes bugged wide open and my mouth hanging open in amazement.

I had just glanced out the window and no! –I did a quick double take and the green bird was still there! When my voice came back, I stammered to Gertie T. that there was a parrot out there.

She thought – well, I'm not quite sure I want to know what she thought. However, after seeing the bird for herself, the doubts about my mental state vanished. I hope.

Next I hollered to Dad. His reaction to a parrot was disbelief too. He had to see to be a believer. Mom was talking on the telephone but fortunately, just as we were writing a note about the visitor, the conversation ended. She joined the parrot watching brigade and her excitement matched ours.

What a sight it was! Absolutely no doubt at all that the pretty thing was a parrot. His back and wings were a lovely shade of bright green which shaded to dark blue on his wing tips and outer tail feathers; his breast was rather nondescript tan-white-yellow, pale and washed out looking; neatly tucked beneath his chin was a sparkling white bib; his feet were large and, of course, his big and heavy hooked bill was unmistakeable.

We were indeed looking at a parrot! He was a bit on the smallish side as far as parrots, go, many many times larger than a parakeet though. The poor thing must have been hungry because he worked steadily at the corn–steadily but certainly not hard.

The bill made quick and easy work of stripping kernels from the cob and cracking them open. For a little variety, he climbed to the tree trunk and grabbed bites of the woodpecker's suet.

What does one do when a parrot suddenly appears on a corn feeder? We started telephoning. Betty was still on the air with her "Tecumseh Spotlight" program so Gertie T. called Flanders store and talked to Ann who relayed the message.

Obviously our bird was someone's pet and perhaps the owner would be listening. There was more than a slight trace of puzzlement, confusion and almost doubt in Betty's voice when she announced that Marda Gene has a green parrot on her feeder. I could hear her shaking her head and wondering.

The next call was to Carmeans. I was still far too excited to talk coherently so again Gertie T. took over. The conversation–G.T., "I'm calling for Marda and there is a parrot on the feeder." Dick, (slight pause) "Did you say carrot like bunnies?" G.T., "No, I said parrot with wings like in birds." Dick, (slightly longer pause) "Oh!"

Somehow, I cannot really blame people for doubting either our eyes or their ears. Parrots are simply not everyday visitors. The General's Lady and Dorothy U. both gave perfect verbal double takes, "A WHAT!?"

Checking later with Wanda, I was happy that she and Dick and also a friend, who happened to be visiting, all caught a glimpse of the bird. Wanda even volunteered to verify my story. She knows the value of collaborating witnesses.

When finally the parrot flew away oh, what a lovely streak of green. For several hours he was in the neighborhood, the folks and Gertie T. heard him. His voice, a loud raucous squawk – shades of the sound track of every jungle movie ever made.

Slightly after noon he came back to the feeder for another hearty meal of corn and suet. Fortunately Gram saw the bird this time too and this makes the seven other people who can cross their hearts and testify.

So it is that Friday, Feb. 26 will live in history as a tremendously exciting bird day here along Evans Creek–after all, how often does one have the opportunity of serving corn and suet to a green parrot!

Next Week–Surprises, Surprises!

Second Lt. David A. Dziachan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dziachan of Adrian has been awarded his silver pilot wings upon graduation at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz. He is assigned to Travis AFB in California where he will fly the C-141 Starlifter cargo troop carrier with the Military Airlift Command. Lt. Dziachan was graduated from Adrian Catholic Central High School and received his bachelor degree in mathematics from St. Joseph College, Rensselaer, Ind., in 1968. Indians Out of Tourney

The Tecumseh Indians' basketball season came to an abrupt end last Wednesday night at Saline High School as the Big Reds from Milan took a 76-64 decision.

Not even an outstanding 36 point effort by senior Craig Smith could bring victory as Milan led throughout, paced by four players in double figures.

Milan came out in a full court press and used it throughout the contest, which forced 18 Indian turnovers. In the first period alone, Tecumseh was guilty nine times.

The Big Reds led by only three at the end of the first period, 16-13, and hiked it to seven by the half, 32-25.

Milan got their fast break really rolling in the first five minutes of the third stanza, reeling off 14 points to Tecumseh's four to jump to a 46-29 advantage.

The Indians made a strong comeback bid in the final period, hitting for 11 straight points in two minutes to slice the lead back to only seven, 58-51.

But Milan turned on the scoring power once again and moved out to a 13 point lead, and maintained a comfortable margin until the final buzzer.

The Indians were out-rebounded badly, hauling down only half as many stray shots as Milan did, 46-23. Alex Gibson was high man for Tecumseh with seven.

Smith put on a fine display of shooting, and it was his hot hand that kept the Indians in the game at all. Playing in his final game for Tecumseh, Smith hit on 14 of 22 shots from the field and converted all eight of his free throws for a game high total of 36 points.

Gary Alcock followed Smith, but was way down with only nine. Gibson was next with seven.

As a team, the Indians shot 39 percent, connecting on 20 of 51 shots. Milan, who took 20 more shots, 71, hit on 29 for a 41 percent average.

Last Game Is Saturday

When Tom retired, it seemed as if his dreams had come true. For years he and Grace had been planning. There would be that little pink house in Florida and time to do all the things they wanted. They could keep in touch with their friends back home, and there would be occasional visits back and forth.

What they hadn't realized was how much they would miss their church. It had been such a part of their life! Now it seemed that no other church could fill the gap. In fact, they didn't go to another church their first few weeks in Florida.

But finally one Sunday they went to the little church they had been passing each day on the way to the golf course. True, it wasn't like the church back home—outwardly. But, when you got down to essentials, it was the same.

If you have moved to another community, find a new church home. Regardless of its appearance, remember that it is God's House and in it you will be welcome.

5 to 6 Mill Increase Possible for Schools

Tecumseh School Board and administrators took a hard look at costs for the 1971-72 school year Monday night and the financial picture is not good - a five or six mill increase for operating may be necessary.

The amount of additional millage will largely depend on an improvement - if any - in state aid. Officials are hoping that the legislators will increase state aid, although Gov. William Milliken has proposed a drop.

Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent, is hopeful that some information will be available from the state by mid-May, when the Board must decide on new millage for the election. If additional state aid is not known until late in the summer, the schools could levy only that needed from any vote millage increase.

Salary increases granted teachers a year ago, new students from St. Elizabeth and cost of 10 portable classrooms account for part of a millage hike. Another big cost occured a year ago when the state's Supreme Court ruled that schools must furnish text books and supplies.

The court's ruling cost the Tecumseh schools about $60,000 this year, and the same or similar amount is predicted for the 1971-72 school year. This year's cost was not figured in the budget, since the ruling came late in the summer and after the budget was adopted.

Mr. Duhan says all figures are based on a $58 million assessed school district. This estimate is $2.4 million higher than the current $55.6 million.

If the voters would approve five mills, it would raise $290,000, based on the $58 million assessed figure. If six mills are needed, the amount would jump to $340,000.

Another factor troubling the schools also occurs this summer when 14 mills for operating comes up for renewal. It is not known whether the Board will go to the electorate with a single package - 19 or 20 mills - or separate the two, asking for a renewal of the 14 mills and the passage of an additional five or six mills.

PRESBYTERIAN DEDICATION — The Rev. Edmond Watkins, pastor, stands on steps of the new $225,000 Christian Education Building to the east of the Presbyterian Church sanctuary. Dedication services will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. for the 252-family congregation, numbering 434 members. Classes have been using the new structure since January. It marks the sixth building program to be completed by the Presbyterians since 1828.

Filing Charges Against Girl

Charges against Susan Anteau, 18-year-old who recently gave birth in a restroom at the Tecumseh Kroger Store, were to be made late Wednesday or early Thursday.

Harvey Koselka, prosecuting attorney, did not say what charges would be pressed but said a warrant would be issued against the rural Adrian girl.

A pathologist report was received by the prosecuting attorney Monday, but it's contents were not revealed.

Miss Anteau, former Tecumseh High School student, gave birth on Feb. 23 and then reportedly hid the baby in a refuse container in the restroom. It was not discovered until three days later.

Her mother, Mrs. Arnold Anteau, reportedly was shopping in the store while the girl was having her baby and then waited in the family car in the store's parking lot.

Zoning Change Is Protested

Several residents of W. Cummins protested plans to construct condominiums in their area at the Council meeting Monday night, but city officials unanimously approved a zoning change which will permit the units.

Roland Redmond, contractor, told Council and the residents that he planned between 20 and 30 condominiums and showed pictures of the two-story, attached units.

He explained that the area was not large enough for single family homes, of which only four or five could be built, because of the price of the property. The site lies just south of W. Cummins and railroad tracks, east of Adrian St., west of S. Union and north of Patterson St.

Arguments from the residents involved surface water, storm sewers, sanitary sewers, number of school children, traffic and condition of Patterson St., downgrading of present homes, increase in taxes, location of the units on the site and other related factors, deemed detrimental by the residents.

Mr. Redmond's plans will now be presented to the Planning Commission for approval.

He told officials that two-bedroom units would consist of about 1,100 square feet and would sell for about $20,000 each. The three-bedroom condominiums would have approximately 1,300 square feet and sell for approximately $22,000.

Several officials indicated that they would be an asset and improvement for the area.

Vandals Hit 4 Businesses

Malicious destruction of property occurred at Bud's A&W, General Car Wash, Frosty-Freeze and Greenwald Cleaners last Friday night.

Police apprehended two juveniles and then questioned at least four others, who may be involved in other past, vandalism.

Lights, windows and a power meter were broken at Bud's A&W, and entry was gained through a door.

The car wash sustained glass breakage, lights in all four wash bays and damage in a compressor room.

Agree on Sewer

Clinton and Tecumseh officials voted to proceed with investigations and plans for an 18-inch sanitary sewer, linking the village with the city's sewer system in the north end of town.

The officials met Wednesday night of last week and agreed to work for a formal agreement.

Five city councilmen - Murray Palmer, Ray Puffer, Dr. Carlos Knisley, Wallace Whiting and Lawrence Bilkie - were present for the session. Councilman Puffer voted against proceeding with the plans while the rest were in favor.

Estimated cost for the sewer project is over $600,000. While it was generally agreed that Clinton would pay considerably more than the city, state and federal funds could finance between 55 percent or more.

Ways for completing and financing the project were presented by an engineer and attorney.

Representatives at the meeting also were from Tecumseh and Clinton Townships, plus Don Mitchell, county drain commissioner.

Assessment Hikes Upset Rural Owners

Tax assessments are on the increase in Franklin Township and many property owners are up in arms.

Those upset over the new assessments are primarily residential property owners and not the farmers. According to several citizens in the township, residential property was increased and not farmland.

Richard Platt, township supervisor, said some 800 residential properties were increased and at an average of 25 percent. He also said that some farm assessments were hiked.

According to the supervisor, county authorities had requested an adjustment in residential properties and wanted a 28 percent average increase.

The township's Board of Review met March 8-9 and then again on the 11th, when public appeals caused the Board to hold hearings in the evening.

Many residents are not satisfied, and it is known that they are forming committees to investigate the assessments further, and probably appeal to the State Tax Commission in Lansing.

They say that some farm properties are assessed as low as $75 and $80 an acre. Mr. Platt says some bare land is assessed at $100 and $125 per acre, and some farms as high as $500 an acre, including buildings.

One resident says he was not opposed to the assessment increase as much as he was against the method, one which included residential owners but not the farmers.

Mr. Platt says he had a job to do and had to make the adjustments or the entire township would have had a sizeable factor.

Members of the Board of Review are Richard Gentz, William Davenport and James Woodward. They are still meeting, although not publicly, to finish their final assessment report.

Until the report is finished, according to Mr. Platt, the total assessment for the township will not be realized. He estimated the township's assessment will jump from approximately $7.6 million last year to $8.5 million for a $900,000 increase.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Common Cold

When asked about treating a cold, your doctor may tell you: "It's too bad you don't have pneumonia — we can take care of that better than a cold."

Joke or not, there's quite a bit of truth in that. There is no specific treatment that is effective against any of the scores of viruses that cause a cold. All we can do is relieve the symptoms.

The "common cold" costs the U.S. $5 billion a year in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses. On any winter day, more than 20 million people suffer from a cold.

Scientifically, it's an infection by one or more viruses, resulting in an acute inflammation of the upper respiratory tract. But most of us use the word to cover everything from a minor sniffle or nasal obstruction, to a disabling illness that is just as bad as influenza.

The cold is harder to catch than many people think. New research indicates that people must come in close contact for several hours before cross-infection begins. And some colds are not catching at all; nobody knows how they begin. The most infectious is the "new cold," some people who appear and those in children—but healthy may be spreading viruses around.

Most of the medicines recommended for a cold make you feel better, reducing fever or eliminating the runny nose. "Stay at home, stay in bed, and get plenty of liquids," is still sound advice.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

At times, some people confuse the distinction between courage and cowardice. Courage does not always imply an absence of fear; nor does cowardice always imply an excess of fear. Common sense linked with conscience is involved in the distinction.

For example, some people think it takes courage to speed past a car on a hill or curve. Screeching tires, shrieking voices, swerving cars, and often head on collision point an accusing finger toward that kind of courage. Since common sense did not prevail, and since there was a lack of conscience for a possible tragedy, are such drivers really courageous — or cowardly?

Courage with a conscience gives us strength to face distinctions between right and wrong, between the things we should do and should not do. At times, it may even take courage to be classed a coward. But as long as common sense is used with a clear conscience, cowardice is glorified beyond that of courage.

Life requires boldness. Boldness requires courage. But courage should never create tragedy or destruction when such catastrophies can be avoided...

DOUGLAS DUNN,
DUNN FUNERAL HOME,
TECUMSEH.

Sick Of Our Sickness

Mrs. Frank S. McRae, now in Florida, shares a Bradenton Herald editorial with Tecumseh Herald readers. It was concluding remarks of an address given at a policemen-firemen awards presentation in Oakland, Calif., by Pat Michaels of Radio Station KGO in San Francisco.

The Bradenton paper carried the speech because editors believed it provides a message all Americans should hear and so do we.

I am sick....and there are those who claim that ours is a "sick" society. That ours country is sick, that we are sick.

Well, maybe they're right. I submit that maybe I am sick....and maybe you are too.

I am sick of having policemen ridiculed and called "pigs" while cop killers are hailed as some kind of folk hero.

I am sick of being told that religion is the opiate of the people....but marijuana should be legalized.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of a free press....but freedon of the press does not include being able to read a bible on school grounds.

I am sick of commentators and columnists canonizing anarchists, revolutionists and criminal rapists but condemning law enforcement if it brings such criminals to justice.

I am sick of paying more and more taxes to build schools while I see some faculty members encouraging students to tear them down.

I am sick of Supreme Court decisions which turn criminals loose on society--while other decisions try to take the means of protecting my home and family away.

I am sick of being told policemen are mad dogs who should not have guns–but that criminals who use guns to rob, maim and murder should be understood and helped back into society.

I am sick of being told that it is wrong to use napalm to end a war overseas....but if it's a bomb or molotov cocktail at home, I must understand the provocations.

I am sick of not being able to take my family to a movie unless I want them exposed to nudity, homosexuality and the glorification of narcotics.

I am sick of pot smoking entertainers deluging me with their condemnation of my moral standards on late night television.

I am sick of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confrontations, and the other mob temper tantrums of people intellectually incapable of working within the system.

I am sick of hearing the same phrases, the same slick slogans, the pat patois of people who must chant the same things like zombies because they haven't the capacity for verbalizing thought.

I am sick of reading so-called modern literature with its kinship to what I used to read on the walls of public toilets.

I am sick of those who say I owe them this or that because of the sins of my forefathers–when I have looked down both ends of a gun barrel to defend their rights, their liberties and their families.

I am sick of cynical attitudes toward patriotism. I am sick of politicians with no backbones.

I am sick of permissiveness.

I am sick of the dirty, the foul mouthed, the unwashed.

I am sick of the decline in personal honesty, personal integrity and human sincerity.

And most of all, I am sick of being told I'm sick. And I'm sick of being told my country is sick–when we have the greatest nation man has ever brought forth on the face of the earth. And fully 50 per cent of the people on the face of this earth would willingly trade places with the most deprived, the most underprivileged amongst us.

Yes, I may be sick. But, if I am only sick, I can get well. And, I can help my society get well. And, I can help my country get well.

Take note, you in high places. You will not find me under a placard. You will not see me take to the streets. You will not find me throwing a rock or a bomb. You will not find me ranting to wild eyed mobs.

But you will find me at work within my community. You will find me expressing my anger and indignation in letters to your political office.

You will find me canceling my subscription to your periodical the next time it condones criminal acts or advertises filth.

You will find me speaking out in support of those people which contribute to the elevation of society and not its destruction. You will find me contributing my time and my personal influence to helping churches, hospitals, charities and those other volunteers backbones of America which have shown the true spirit of this country's determination to ease pain, eliminate hunger and generate brotherhood.

But, most of all, you'll find me at the polling place. There you'll hear the thunder of the common man. There, you'll see us cast our vote....for an America where people can walk the streets without fear....for an America where our children will be educated and not indoctrinated....for an America of brotherhood and understanding....for an America no longer embarrassed to speak its motto "In God we trust."

To Take Bids on Remodeling

CLINTON--Board of Education met with George Craven and John Landi of J.R. Jahr, Associates, architects, Monday to tour the old high school building and discuss blueprints for the proposed remodeling for creation of a middle school. Bids will be accepted for the remodeling April 5.

Plans call for the old three story section, built in 1905, to be torn down. The original small gymnasium will have the ceiling lowered and be converted to a learning resources center, with the stage converted to offices.

Five classrooms are projected to be added across from the main hall, in the vacant land area adjacent to the former shop. Below these new classrooms an art room and industrial arts area will be incorporated. Previous special education and home economics rooms will be maintained for those purposes.

Changes will include all new rest rooms, heating system and a new facade on the front of the building when the old section is torn down.

No action was taken on the Kehoe Rd. project.

Superintendent Richard Wegner explained the 1971-72 schedule being considered for a six or seven period day. However, no decision will be made until the board considers the matter.

A pre-school testing program was approved.

Following an executive session for the annual teacher evalution, the board adjourned.

Roundup To Use Many Screenings

CLINTON--Multiple screening program will expand the scope of the usual Kindergarten Roundup at Clinton Community Schools this year.

Program approved by the Board of Education Monday was developed by Elementary Principal Michael Walls, Counselor Dan Schindler and School Social Worker Mrs. Paul McKenna with the cooperation of numerous other technical service personnel as listed below.

New program will include:

School Social Worker - Individual interview with each family.

Diagnostician - Series of tests administered to each student.

School Nurse - Take health history and check on all inoculations.

Vision Technician - Vision Tests.

Audiologist - Hearing Test.

Physical Therapist Trainee - Give test to determine motor skills and physical readiness.

Kindergarten Teachers - Meet and talk to parent and student.

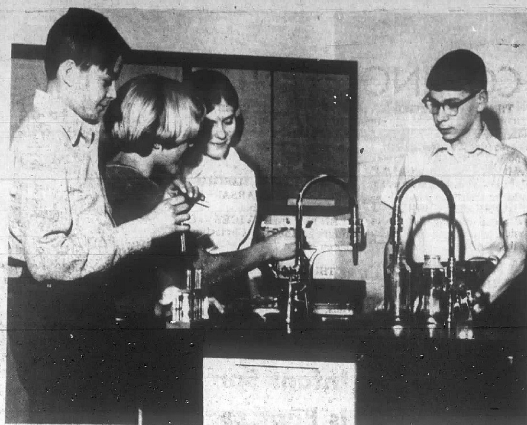

George Eidson, director of special education, has been contacted and has agreed to furnish all county personnel. Elsie Thelander, director of nurses, has agreed to furnish all health services personnel.

Parents and children will be scheduled at the rate of eight per hour and a far more individualized program will be the result.

The multiple screening program will be held over a three day period with goals of more information on each child, better communication with each parent and child, more information to each parent on what the school's goals and objectives are for their child and enable the school to design a kindergarten program more able to meet the needs of each child.

NO. 1 IN COUNTY — Sam Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bates, 235 W. Chicago Blvd., Britton, shows the form which made him the top scorer in Lenawee County this season, averaging 20.4 points in 17 games. The 6'4" Tory center, who hit on 45 percent of his shots, made 134 field goals and 120 free throws, good for 388 points. A strong rebounder, he grabbed 314 stray shots, averaging 16.5 per contest. Bates, only a junior, was named to the center position on the River Raisin's All-League team.

Tories Keep On Winning

BRITTON—The Tories moved into the regional finals at Farmington last Wednesday on the strength of a 50-46 win over River Rouge Our Lady of Lourdes.

Britton ran off five consecutive points late in the first period to take the lead, 16-13.

Lourdes threw an effective full court press up against the Tories in the second stanza and forced seven turnovers. In the final 15 seconds of the period, the Bears hit two shots from the floor to go off at the half with a three point lead, 26-23.

Britton turned the game around in the third stanza, scoring eight consecutive points on baskets by Sam Bates and free throws by Dan Warren and Gary Maska to regain their three point lead, 37-34.

After the Bears cut the lead to two, 40-38, the Tories, for the third time in the contest, went on a streak and hit for seven quick points to move safely out in front.

Lourdes, who played only Class C schools during the season and compiled a 15-5 record, challenged once again, but it was too late to catch the Tories.

Bates once again topped the Tories, hitting on 10 of 14 shots from the floor and three of five free throws for a game high 23 points. In addition, he also grabbed 15 rebounds. Warren was the only other Britton player in double figures with 12.

As a team, the Tories attempted 42 shots from the field, connecting on 20 for 48 percent. Lourdes also hit 20, but took 74 shots for 27 percent.

At the foul line, the Tories hit at a 50 percent clip, connecting on ten of 20. The Bears made only six of 16 for 38 percent.

Britton was guilty of 21 turnovers, seven in each the second and fourth periods when the Bears used their full court press. Lourdes turned the ball over 13 times.

Defeated In Regional Final

BRITTON—The Tories ability to come from behind, take and hold a slim lead never materialized Saturday night, and as a result, were sent to the sidelines in the Class D regional championship by Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, 51-48.

Britton, who had won their three previous tournament games by a combined total of seven points, found themselves trailing by three at the start of the final stanza, but were unable to make it up.

Waterford, who led the entire game, opened up a 5-0 lead to start the contest and increased it to six, 16-10, by the end of the first stanza.

Sam Bates, the main cog in the Tory offense, ran into early foul trouble, picking up three in the first period and was forced to sit out most of the second frame.

Britton, meanwhile, was suffering through a cold period, totalling only seven points. Waterford, however, was almost as cold, managing only eight to take a 24-17 lead at halftime.

Bates got back in action to start the second half and combined with Dan Warren and Dave Hawkins to cut Waterford's lead down to three, 32-29, as the third period ended.

A basket by Bates as the final stanza opened drew the Tories to within one, but that was as close as they were to get all night.

Britton closed to within one again, 47-46, with only 38 seconds showing on the clock, but Waterford made four crucial free throws to seal the victory.

Although he sat out more than a quarter, Bates took game scoring honors with 15 points. Warren followed with 13 and Gary Maska tossed in eight.

The Tories shot 36 percent from the field, hitting on 19 of 53 shots. From the foul line they connected on 50 percent, ten of 20.

Britton finished the season with a 8-13 record, including three tournament wins and the district championship.

Through My Window

SURPRISES SURPRISES

It was just one of those mornings. Everything seemed to happen and all of it came as such a pleasant surprise. Actually the day did not get off to a good start at all -- three mornings of bright sunshine and happy bird talk quickly become a habit and when the fourth dawn brings gray skies, cutting winds, and little serenading, it is most disappointing.

Perhaps the birds were just too hungry to sing. Anyway, by the time I was sitting up and the bed positioned in front of the west-facing window, all sorts of new and old friends had begun to make an appearance.

Six goldfinches breakfasted. Some of them must have been newcomers, they were not nearly as yellow tinged as are the regulars. The woodpeckers who paraded to and from the suet moved so fast that it was hard to count them.

They were the personification of eat and run. A pair of handsome hairys we are sure of and probables are four female downys and two males. At this time of year both kinds of woodpeckers have such pretty new spring suits. The black is so black and the white so white.

And, lest the previous few days had lulled us into any premature spring thinking (which it certainly had), the juncos showed up en masse to remind us that winter was still not ready to throw in the towel.

There must have been eight or ten juncos and oh, how they were putting into practice their Two Footed Scratch. With the snow all gone, there was much food to be kicked up on the creek bank.

The tree sparrows were busy too – they seemed to divide their time between the ground and the feeder. As Gertie T. counted six of the red-heads, we began wondering if perhaps they were beginning to bunch up in preparation for their annual springtime trek north.

The little striped and dotted song sparrows were trying to get something started in the music line but to no avail. They trilled and sang but could inveigle no one to join them.

Even the little gray tufted titmice were not talking. On the sunny days their whistles rang out loud and clear but on this gray morning a pair of them came to the feeder only to eat. No singing for their breakfast.

Papa and Mama Cardinal were single minded about food too. She is a gorgeous gal, gets prettier every day I do believe.

Her tail is red for almost three fourths of its length; her top knot is not tinged with red, it is red; her upper breast is a soft rich fawn color; and her eyebrow makeup is perfect – bright red slashes expertly applied. Papa appreciated his good looking gal, he was feeding her.

Possibly the most exciting visitors of all, however, were the cedar waxwings. A large flock of them came by. Once when looking through the binoculars, I had three in my field of vision and what a sight they were.

Their new spring clothes are very high fashion. Another time one flew to the branch of the small maple tree and, as his landing gear put-down, his tail fanned out showing the bright yellow band on its tip. Beautiful.

All of this activity in one morning and the exciting thing is that from here on out the bird watching will be getting better and better each day.

For the next few weeks, however, we three Duncans will not be keeping track of what goes on along Evans Creek. It is vacation time! And, for the first time ever, we are following the lead of so many other Tecumseh area residents and heading south.

Sunday we pointed the white station wagon towards Florida and the Everglades! We are most excited and looking forward to good weather, sunshine, orange juice, miles of film clicking through the cameras, etc.

Already though two things we know – 1, there will not be enough time to stop and call on everyone we would like to see and 2, there will not be enough time to go and see all of the places on our list. Nevertheless, it should be a fun trip!

So it is that the dull morning several days ago and our trip to a new state have one thing in common, both are full of surprises, surprises!

Next Week: African Hodgepodge.

What My Religion Means to Me

by Mrs. B. Dwight Hodges

My religion means to me that I accept Jesus Christ as my Lord and Saviour. I trust that my faith as a Christian will enable me to have undefeatable care, concern and action for others regardless of their faith, their status, or color of their skin.

My religion is my life! It is real! It is my home, my family, my friends and my work.

A Christian life is a life of praying, loving, sharing and caring for others.

Prayers need not always be spoken aloud. Praying and asking for guidance within my own innermost self helps me a great deal in my busy days as a wife, mother, grandmother and housekeeper, as well as a working woman. The ability to say "thank you" in my prayers is very necessary to me.

We cannot have both love and hate in our hearts. One will surely crowd out the other. It has to be love!

We share by including others in our prayers, in our work and in our recreation, as well as taking an active part in church activities.

To care for others is to give help when needed, both physical as well as spiritual. To care also means to me, is to take time to be a good listener.

I am a firm believer in supporting my church with money, as well as my time and whatever talent I possess.

As the riches of life have been given to me, I'in turn must share these riches and in my own way pass them on to others.

MRS. DWIGHT HODGES

Last week's Lenten meditation was written by Harry Stanifer instead of Dean Sheldon as inadvertently stated in last week's issue.

Vision, Hearing Tests Available

Vision and hearing screening is being made available again this year to pre-school children. This program, sponsored by Lenawee County Health Department and Michigan Department of Public Health, is available to all children from three and one-half to kindergarten age.

Michigan law requires that children have vision screening before entering kindergarten.

Major aim of the program is to prevent one-eyed blindness. This condition, commonly referred to as "the lazy eye" can often be corrected at the age of three or four years, but becomes a permanent blind eye at age seven or eight.

It is estimated that over 5,000 children each year are destined to be blind in one eye in Michigan.

The screening, provided free of charge by Lenawee County Health Department, will be offered during April, May and June with clinics set up throughout the county.

Mrs. Kathryn Condon, vision technician, and Mrs. Vivian Turnwald, hearing technician, will do the screening. Mrs. Esther Casterline is coordinating the program.

Application forms will be distributed through the schools and at pre-school round-ups. Forms may also be obtained at the local Health Department.

Clinic dates will be announced in The Herald and on local radio stations.

Readers Write

To The Editor:

Here is a poem I ran across the other day and in reading in The Herald about the mother who abandoned her baby at the Kroger store here, I thought it suited the occasion.

As I am the mother of seven children, I don't see how anyone, even animals, could abandon their young.

I also feel the abortion law that our state is trying to pass is a terrible blow to motherhood. Like the song, "I never promised you a rose garden", God never promised us life would be a bed of roses, especially when you begin to raise children.

But my children are a part of me, just like a part of my body. And I don't regret one single birth. I only wish that I could have more children.

I'm not rich either, as some may think when they read this. I've worked 17 years, every day for my children.

If only young girls would realize that there is a solution to their problems. If no other way, there are many, many women that cannot even have children, that would take theirs' without a thought, and love and raise it.

I have friends that cannot have children and they suffer every day of their lives and wish desperately for a small, soft little bundle of joy to love and cherish.

I hope desperately that you publish this letter and poem. Maybe it might save another little one's life and a young girl that is desperate and doesn't know where to turn.

To her I would say, there is always a way to solve your problem. Look up, there is a Man upstairs, that we call Our God who hears and knows everything. He'll help you find a way. If you really look around you, there is a friend somewhere on this earth who will help you.

My young friends, do you want to know how I know all of this? Well, I am a mother of teen-age girls and was once a teen-ager myself. I know what I am talking about.

Remember, Look Up,
Mrs. Jerry Anderson

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Begorra now and it seems like we could at least let the boys be Boy Scouts and not interupt their manly sessions with frills and laces but no – we are told by Wolverine Council that after two years research, the Exploring Division of Boy Scouts of America have decided to admit teenage girls to full membership.

Age requirements are the same, 15 through 20, and now women volunteers may assume leadership too. Twenty Explorer Posts are in the area and four have girls participating.

Bejabbers and it seems strange to us that the young men want little ladies fingers in their curly locks but if they do let's don't hear 'em scream when it gets pulled.

Sure now and it was a great day for the Andersons and the O'Hunts and Kellers, too. Wednesday little Dagvin Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, nee Bobbie Hunt was one whole year old and the life of the party at his home in Saline. Grandparents Bob and Almina Hunt and Great Grandma Mrs. Clarence Keller joined paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson for dinner with little Pat (excuse me) Dag. Gramps Keller had to work.

Mrs. Ed Covell was feted at a pink and blue shower Thursday evening in Saline given by her sister, Mrs. Sue Steenun and a friend, Darlene Wezd. A large stork dominated the room and lullabye music was played as a decorated cake was cut by Mrs. Steenun. About 15 friends played games and watched the opening of gifts for the expected baby.

The Tecumseh Recreation Dept. sponsored Youth Hockey team, the AD-TEC MEN, won their second game of the season last Saturday, defeating the Plymouth team on a goal by Craig VanCamp.

Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. George VanCamp, put the puck in the net in the final five seconds of play for the victory.

Paul Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Randall, put the AD-TEC MEN in front, 1-0, with a goal early in the contest.

They will try for their third straight win against the Plymouth squad when they return to the Jackson Sports Arena Saturday for a return match. Face-off time is 5 p.m.

Hits Right Place, Insurance Agency

Only four accidents occurred on city streets during the past week but one was spectacular.

Wednesday night of last week Jeffrey D. Detwiler, 23, of 401 Seneca, was headed north on N. Evans St., when he lost control of his car. He skidded 290 feet, crossing the front yard of Dr. Sidney Adams and into the Osburn Real Estate and Insurance Agency office.

A side of the office was splintered in the crash and the foundation cracked. Detwiler, who was charged with careless driving, was not hurt but his car was extensively damaged.

A resume of the other mishaps is:

March 11 - Benjamin S. Osburn, 17, Kamp Rd., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a car driven by Douglas J. Rader, 18, Brooklyn. Accident was on W. Chicago Blvd. at Occidental Rd.

March 12 - Polly Ann Judd, 39, of 607 Blanchard, thought her car was in neutral behind Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy when it back up, striking a concrete stop fixture and then continuing on to strike a parked vehicle.

March 14 - Roy C. Hicks, 50, of 708 Brooks St., told police his foot slipped off the brake pedal, hit the accelerator and his car sped backwards into a concrete wall and house trailer at Paul's Trailer Court.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Minerva Harriott who left us ten years ago March 20, 1961.
Loved ones and joys you knew, are left behind to remind us of you.
The love you gave, the helping hand. God knows we try to understand.
We shall meet again in that joyous land. When Jesus takes us by the hand.
To live with Him for eternity and be with you is our plea.
Sadly missed by her family. 3-18c

In memory of Thomas C. Gallant, Sr., whose birthday would have been March 20.
A loving voice is ever whispering
Through the little flower of blue,
For-get-me-not God seems to whisper
Never have we forgotten you.
Greatly missed by his daughter and son-in-law, Henry and Emma Howard. 3-18c

$358 Bid Is Lowest

Fred Hartwig, of Service Master of Lenawee County, was low bidder for janitorial services at city hall and was given a one year contract by Council Monday night.

His bid was $358 a month, $8 more than the city had been paying P.R. Janitorial, also a Tecumseh business which had the cleaning service.

Bids at $400 a month were P.R. Janitorial and Sexton's Cleaning Service of Adrian. Double A Janitorial Service of Adrian bid $450, and Glen W. Work, of Glen's Home Service, Tecumseh, bid $625.

Solicitor Review Board Proposed

A new solicitor's ordinance continued to be discussed by Council Monday evening with a request that the city manager bring back his recommendations at the next session.

Cal Zorn, city manager, is proposing a review board for out-of-town solicitors and a charge of $5 per day per salesmen. The board would consist of himself, police chief, clerk and the city attorney.

If the review board is adopted, according to Mr. Zorn, out-of-town solicitors would probably have to wait at least 24 hours before they could obtain a license. Council has made it apparent that it would like to discourage salesmen coming into Tecumseh and soliciting residents.

The city manager also is proposing that commercial or professional solicitors, some who may live inside the city, for example, be charged a business license, one which would consist of a small fee and be good for a year.

TEA Meetings Are Scheduled

Two in-service days for the Tecumseh Education Association have been planned for the evenings of March 24 and April 21.

At the first of the two three-hour meetings, William Ross of the Vo-Tech School will speak about the county's new school. He will be followed by a panel of Lenawee County industrial personnel directors.

On April 21, Robert Thrun will discuss school law. Both sessions will be held in the high school cafeteria.

Church Dedicates Facility

by Bill Whiting

Eleven years of effort was climaxed Sunday with the formal dedication of the Christian Education Unit at Tecumseh's First Presbyterian Church. The $225,000 addition to the century-old church on Chicago Blvd. was presented to the congregation at a service of dedication attended by several hundred, including several ministers from other area churches.

Dwight Hodges, chairman of the building committee, received the architect's drawings and keys to the building from Charles Hikes, representing Krieghoff of Lenawee County, symbolizing the completion of the addition.

The sermon of dedication was delivered by former pastor, the Rev. Julian Gresham, who initiated support for the drive during his pastorship from 1959-1969. He praised the congregation for their efforts and expressed his hope that the facilities will prove valuable to the church and community.

"Over the years it took faith to put money into something that wasn't materializing," he said. "There should be pride and satisfaction in having participated in something positive in these troubled days. There should be pride for this is a building of service.

"Unless we learn, we will be of no service," he continued. "We need it, we must have it, we must provide it."

The modern facility extends eastward from the old church structure and provides six new classrooms for Sunday School classes for approximately 125 children. A spacious multi-purpose lounge is used for adult education and various church meetings.

A wide entryway provides access to the fully-carpeted building with its modern furnishings. A new pastor's office is located just inside the front entrance.

Mrs. Carlton Cook, general superintendent of the education faculty, noted that several wooden spindle chairs used in classes 50 years ago under Mrs. Ralph Helzerman were refinished by several families and are being used by first and second graders.

A reception was held after the service with the building open for inspection. Music for the service was provided by the St. Andrews Junior and Chapel choirs under the direction of Mrs. Albert Merz.

Deadline Nearing for Baby Contest

Deadline for entering children in the Jaycee Auxiliary baby contest is April 1.

Any child up to the age of six may be entered in the contest to select a little king and queen to be awarded $10 gift certificates.

A picture no larger than 5x7 inches including the name, age, sex, color of eyes and hair should be submitted with the entry.

GIRLS STATERS — Four THS juniors selected to attend American Legion Auxiliary Girls State this year are from left, Gail Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, 6704 N. Raisin Center Hwy.; Mary Lemanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lemanski, 409 Center Drive; Nancy Dustin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dustin, 309 N. Union St., and Pam Jacoby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jacoby, 703 Ternes Rd. The girls will attend the citizenship training program on Eastern Michigan University campus June 13-20. Kathy Porteous, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Porteous, 404 Seminole Drive, was selected as alternate.

Bank Branch For Britton?

Application has been made by the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh for a new branch office in Britton.

An option has been taken on a site in downtown Britton, and construction will start as soon as possible, depending on approval from the Financial Institutions Bureau, Department of Commerce, at Lansing.

J.W. "Pat" Meadows, chief executive officer of the bank and its board chairman, says the branch would have approximately 1,000 square feet, three or four teller stations and drive-up banking services.

If and when approval is granted and construction is well underway, the local bank, largest in Lenawee County, will proceed with plans for previously announced branch at the corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental Rd.

Bank officials anticipate hearing from the Bureau within 30 days.

United Savings has grown tremendously in recent years, first establishing a branch at the intersection of Occidental and Sutton Rds., then following up with the Herrick Park branch on N. Evans St.

Finalization of the Britton and Occidental-W. Chicago Blvd. branches would provide customers with four branches plus the downtown office. Finest service possible has been one of the bank's main objectives.

Six-Acre Site For New Church

Members of the First Baptist Church of Tecumseh voted Sunday to purchase six acres of the Jesse M. Sheldon farm on Milwaukee Rd., just outside the city limits.

The site for a new Baptist Church is directly across from the Tecumseh Country Club. It borders Grange Rd. on the west and includes the old brick Sheldon farmhouse.

The Rev. Blair O. Bashore is hopeful that architectural plans will be expedited and that a ground breaking will be held probably in May or early June.

Plans call for a new sanctuary, Christian education facilities and a new parsonage, with dedication in the memory of Hazel M. Herrick.

No announcement has been made as to the disposition of the present church at W. Chicago Blvd. and S. Union St. It was erected here in 1865, although the church itself was founded here in 1839.

On Feb. 21, the congregation voted unanimously to accept a gift from a friend of the church for the new facilities.

Plea Is Innocent

A court date of May 4 in District Court in Adrian has been set for Susan Anteau, 18, rural Adrian, who has been charged with concealing the death of an infant child.

Miss Anteau, through her attorney, pled innocent of the charges in District Court last Thursday before Judge Yale Kerby.

The charge against the young girl, who reportedly delivered a baby girl in the restroom at the Tecumseh Korger Store on Feb. 26, and left it in a refuse container, is termed an "extraordinary misdeameanor."

Punishment is a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not longer than one year.

Warrant against the girl was issued by Harvey Koselka, county prosecutor.

Yale Kerby Services Are Held

Services were held Saturday for Yale H. Kerby, 68, longtime Tecumseh businessman who died March 16 at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Born Feb. 8, 1903, in Corunna, he was graduated from Corunna High School. He married Eltha M. Bias July 10, 1924, in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Kerby survives.

A former member of the village council, Mr. Kerby operated Kerby's Restaurant for 25 years and sold it to assist his wife in real estate.

Two children survive, District Judge Leland Yale Kerby, Adrian, and Mrs. Kenneth (Barbara) Dawson of Lompoc, Calif., and eight grandchildren.

One brother and three sisters also survive.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated at services at Proctor Funeral Home with burial in Brookside Cemetery.

PUBLISHING BOOK — Three teenagers, Jeff Barritt and Mark Kemp, former high school students here, and Mark Roberts, senior, are publishing a collective effort, entitled "Dog Stew." The book consists of poetry, short stories and short plays, and is being printed at the county's Vo-Tech school at Adrian.

Wrestling Here Saturday Night

Big time wrestling will be seen here Saturday night with three matches scheduled at the Tecumseh High School gym.

Tickets may be purchased at Holmes Pharmacy, Baldwin Hardware, The Diner, Larry's Grill, Bill's Citgo Service Station, or at the door.

3 Tecumseh Doctors Dropping Practices

by Bill Whiting

Tecumseh's efforts to obtain additional doctors for the community were handed a severe setback this week when it became known that three local physicians are planning to leave their practices here.

Doctors Joseph F. Bachman, and Larry T. Burch confirmed reports that they will terminate their practice here to take up new positions elsewhere. Dr. A.J. Phelan, reportedly taking up a position with General Motors in Lansing around July 1, said he had "absolutely no comment."

This reduces the number of doctors on the hospital staff to nine, although only seven physicians remain in Tecumseh.

Dr. Bachman stated he plans to leave in May to go to Harvard Medical School for a month to take a basic science course. From there he says he will go to Temple, Texas for a year's fellowship at Scott and White Clinic, a referral and diagnostic center for that area.

During his stay at the center he hopes to learn latest techniques in the field of gastro enterology, a study of diseases of the abdomen in which he says there have been "a tremendous number of advances in recent years." He plans to be working on different cases and teaching.

"I have wanted to take up this type of work for quite a long time," he said. His notice of acceptance at the Texas clinic arrived last week.

"I'm not leaving anything. I'm goint to something," he said. "I've had four years of excellent clinical experience and fine relations here."

Dr. Burch stated in a letter sent out to his patients he will be ending his practice May 31 to participate in a specialty training program in psychiatry at Ypsilanti State Hospital. He said he has been interested in psychiatry and counseling and has contemplated a move for about a year. Final arrangements were made last fall.

He will continue to reside in Tecumseh.

The announcements came as a surprise to many hospital officials, and Herrick Memorial Hospital staff doctors met Monday night to decide on a course of action.

No announcement was officially given about their meeting, but it has been reported that they will probably not take on new patients, those may seek their services as a result of the three transfers.

They are trying to organize an effective emergency service to handle the influx of cases.

William Groover, hospital administrator, said, "most doctors feel they are as busy as they care to be. The big concern will be with the other patients as to where they can go to get a doctor now."

"It won't affect us here," Groover said of hospital services, "although we won't have the number of patients as we did before."

Herrick Memorial Hospital has been operating for the past few months with less than the number of patients needed to break even, according to local officials. Room rates and service charges were hiked recently in an attempt to cut the deficit.

"We can and will continue with the same services," said Groover, "although we may have to cut down on volume." "I think we may have to cut back on personnel in order to handle demands, unless we get further physicians."

Groover expressed optimism at the prospect of acquiring new doctors, although he admitted, "up to now we haven't been too successful."

Dr. Burch has led a committee to obtain other doctors and said that he is "very optimistic" that at least one, possibly two, will come to Tecumseh within the next month or few weeks.

"It won't be difficult to attract more people," said Dr. Bachman. "I'm sure new doctors will be coming here shortly."

He said that he has talked to three physicians in the last month and that several are "strongly interested in coming here."

Other sources indicated that it was premature to think that new doctors will be coming in the near future.

Dr. Harold Ocamb, hospital chief of staff, felt that it was being "premature" to expect new doctors coming to the community in the near future.

The Hospital Board met Tuesday night and said they would make no statement about recent developments.

"We're surprised, too," said the board chairman, Kenneth Herrick.

DR. LARRY T. BURCH

DR. JOSEPH BACHMAN

Two of the three doctors leaving their practices here are shown above. Picture of Dr. Al Phelan was not available. An emergency care program to handle the patients of the three doctors is being studied.

7 Protest at Hearings

Only seven Tecumseh property owners protested their assessments at the Board of Review hearings, Monday and Tuesday, at city hall.

Although final figures are not yet tabulated, Robert Hamden, city assessor, says an earlier estimate that the citywide assessment would increase about $1.5 million, from $31.1 to $32.6 million, will probably be adjusted.

He now feels the increase will be at least $2 million with the community's total assessment over $33.3 million.

Jaycee Survey Is Scheduled

Results of the recent Tecumseh Jaycee survey will be printed in next week's issue of The Herald.

There were 1,737 questionaires passed out to residents and 530 returned. Statistically, the results have been judged between 92.8 percent and 97.2 percent accurate in that the number returned and tabulated represent the response of all questionaires.

Mass Protest Is Organized

A group of Franklin Township residents organized last Thursday night to contest recent assessments assigned to residential and farm properties.

The organization, called the Franklin Township Fair Taxation Committee, already has retained a lawyer from Miller, Camfield, Paddock and Stone of Detroit, and has plans for appealing to the State Tax Commission.

Ray Jackson was selected to be chairman for the executive committee, which also is comprised of Mrs. Rex Spence, secretary; Dermont Poley, treasurer, Mr. Spence and Joseph Gregory.

This group was picked from a steering committee whose members include Robert Sage, Elwin Sell, Charles Manley, Richard Carter, Charles Rose and John Tomorsky.

A mass meeting is planned next Wednesday night at the township hall in Tipton. At this time communications for the residents to appeal to the State Tax Commission will be distributed.

Mr. Jackson is anticipating that 200 or more letters will be sent to the Commission, seeking a reassessment of the township. The township was professionally appraised about three years ago.

The township's problem apparently stems from an increase in assessments on residential properties and not on the farms.

Last week, Richard Platt, township supervisor who made the assessments, reported that some 800 residential properties were hiked along with some farms. He said that county officials had requested an increase in residential properties.

The supervisor said he had to make some adjustments or the entire township would have been saddled with a factor, one which would have increased taxes for everyone.

Donations in the amounts of $10 each are being sought by newly formed committee to cover lawyer, mail and printing expenses. Checks should be made out to the Franklin Township Fair Taxation Committee and mailed to Mr. Poley.

MRS. EUGENE BOYERS

Marilyn Solarski Says Vows to Eugene Boyers

Marilyn Solarski and Eugene Boyers were united in marriage March 20 at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church by Dr. Laszlo Gero. A single altar bouquet of Elegance miniature carnations and white gladioli were flanked by lighted candelabra fronted with pink and white blooms as were the center aisle posts.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Solarski, Staib Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Boyers, 500 Orchard Lane, are parents of the couple.

Dennis Bryan, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. Earl Mason at the organ.

Miss Solarski chose a floor length A-line gown of organza over taffeta with mandarin collar, bishop sleeves trimmed with lace and pearl appliques and a chapel train secured at the waist. A finger tip veil of illusion with scalloped edges was secured to a head piece of rosettes lace petals and pearls.

She carried light and dark pink roses and white hyacinths.

Linda Solarski was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were JoAnn Boyers, sister of the groom, Beverly Edwards, Mrs. Kirk Edwards and Julie Boyers, cousins of the couple. Julie Sell, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The bride's attendants were attired alike in floor length light pink A-line dresses of organza over taffeta with lace trim on bodice, high neckline and bishop sleeves.

They carried nosegays of pink roses and white daisy chrysanthemums.

Bob Boyers was best man for his brother and Rick Boyers, another brother, and Edward Solarski Jr., brother of the bride, Rick Brighton and Kirk Edwards seated about 200 guests. Sammy McCarley was ring bearer.

A pink and white decor was used for the reception at the American Legion Hall in Blissfield with Mrs. George Sell serving coffee, Mrs. Ned Brown and Mrs. Lee Phibbs, punch; Mrs. John Sell Jr, bride's cake; Mrs. Dorman Edwards, groom's cake; and Debbie Sell, registering the guests.

Following a trip to the southern states, the couple will live at 6935 Green Hwy.

The bride is a typist at Tecumseh Products Co. and her husband is also a Products employee. Both are THS graduates.

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"It is a marvelous play, a musical adaptation of the writing of the Declaration of Independence leading up to July 1776. It would be especially good for teenagers, helping them to realize that Americans have really fought hard for what we have in this country," said Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, president of Business and Professional Women.

She was speaking of the trip 50 members and guests took Monday evening to Detroit to see "1776." Arrangements were made by Mrs. Harry Beland with Mrs. Reginald Dixon making reservations for the play at Fisher Theatre. The group chartered a bus for the trip including stopping at the Mauna Loa for dinner.

National Wildlife Week Ends Saturday

Theme for National Wildlife Week, March 21-27, is "Wildlife! Who Needs It?"

The Lenawee Soil Conservation District, as one of the 83 Soil Conservation Districts in Michigan, is providing technical assistance to public and privately-owned lands on erosion control, wildlife habitat, clean water and beautification of the landscape.

When a landowner's basic conservation plan is completed through the assistance of a conservationist with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, wildlife planning is considered as one of the major land-use items.

Staten Smith's conservation plan on land in Medina Township was completed in 1967. Most of the acreage is cropland. Land use treatment for wildlife was planned on sloping, easily erodible land.

A fish-recreation pond was the focal point of interest. Hedgerows of autumn olive, highbush cranberry and multiflora rose, will be used by wildlife for food, nesting, cover and travel lanes. There will be food for wildlife during all of the winter months.

The National Lawn and Garden Week opens March 20, sponsored annually by the USDA, the horticultural trade and garden clubs. This year's activities relate to the theme "Country Green for City Living."

The Recreation Department's Youth Hockey team, the AD-TEC MEN, suffered their first defeat Saturday, when they were shut out by the Plymouth squad, 4-0.

The Plymouth team, whom the AD-TEC MEN had defeated twice earlier this season, used hard checking and many breakaways to out skate the Tecumseh club.

Final game of the season is Sunday when they travel to Flint IMA Arena to face the Northville Midgets. Coach Dave Prior indicated he may use two lines in an effort to make a stronger defensive game.

Players will leave the Community Center at 2:15 Sunday for the 6 p.m. contest. There are about 20 seats available on the bus for anyone wishing to attend the game.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

When God created the universe and the things in it, He provided protection for the lowly, slow moving turtle. In modern language, we might even call it a form of social security. God gave the turtle a shell for his house, a protection against elements and enemies. The turtle has only to put his neck out to eat. Far more important though is the thought that even the turtle MUST stick his neck out to go forward.

God made the eagle too. The eagle roams and soars through spacious skies. Without being told, the eagle instinctively builds a home on high mountain peaks. Miles mean nothing when with strong, undaunted courage the eagle flies through and fights storms, snow and wind when winging for food.

The turtle has its place and purpose. But, isn't it significant and shouldn't we be proud that the eagle, not the turtle, is the emblem of America? Incidentally, whether you agree or disagree with this or any other comment you read in these articles, feel free and welcome to phone or write us about your thoughts. . .

Young Players Key to Season

BRITTON—"Depending on how quick some of the younger players come around will be the key to our team this year," said Head Coach Jim Landfair, referring to this season's Tory baseball squad.

Landfair will have to build with only four returning lettermen, Gary Check, Dan Warren and Phil Servoss, seniors; and Gary Maska, junior; as they try to improve on last year's 6-9 record.

Another problem facing the Tories this season, according to Coach Landfair, is finding some new pitchers, since the mainstays of the staff were lost through graduation.

Five players will have to be replaced, Rick Maska, Rick Brown, Jim Brown, Jim Lister and Gary Judkins.

Other players out for baseball this season are Dan Wielfaert, Bob Downing and Bob Loomis, seniors; Dave Hawkins, Wes Easley, Sam Bates and Greg Hamilton, juniors.

Nick Rowe, Brad Hamilton, Tom Grounds, Dave Neuman, Jim Craig, Larry Miller, and Ron Logan, sophomores; Carl Spaulding, Sam Skelton, Chris Bates, Jim Rayburn and Ron Tuberville, freshmen.

Landfair said it would be difficult to make a prediction on the league race, but did say that Sand Creek definitely was the team to beat.

The Tories open the season April 8 when they travel to Deerfield to take on the Minutemen. Madison High School will start play in the River Raisin League this spring.

Lent .. a time for Meditation

(A Series Sponsored by Tec.-Britton Kiwanis Club)

What My Religion Means to Me

by Oscar D. Bryan

The Christian faith as revealed in the inspired word of God, The Holy Bible, is my religion.

First and most importantly it means that we have an infallible authority and guide for everything we believe and do and that it teaches us all we need to know for salvation, making us "wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus," (II Tim. 3:15).

Through this love of God, life is viewed as a gift of God to be treasured and used wisely; life is to be lived in accord with His will and eternal life is achieved by His graciousness.

Because of this, religion to me is a living faith, an ongoing effort in daily life to show Christian concern and compassion for my fellowman. As someone has said "Religion isn't a Sunday suit; it's work clothes for everyday use."

Even at our best we fall short of God's will and because we do, attending worship services, praying, communing and hearing the word of God is a very meaningful part of my religion.

It gives me assurance of God's presence and forgiveness, comfort and strength. Especially during Lent, as we consider God's grace to man in mid-week services, we rejoice in the "peace that passes all human understanding."

To me religion also means working for and serving my local congregation in meeting the needs of its members as well as being a positive influence in the community. Contribution of time, talent and treasure to this effort is one phase of religion in action.

As I have found meaning in my faith, may God bless you during this Lenten season.

AFRICAN HODGE-PODGE

Since we three Duncans should, about this time, be soaking up bushels and bushels of beautiful Florida sunshine and thus I cannot bring you up to date as to what is happening along Evans Creek, perhaps I can share with you a few hodge-podge type notes gleaned from the pages of a Christmas book.

The Dark Continent has always facinated me and Paul Hamlyn has packed this unusually lovely book full of breathtaking pictures, most enjoyable reading, and some surprising facts.

He starts right out with a discussion of fish. Fish in Africa? I was surprised too – well, not really surprised, I had simply never thought much about African fish. Animals, birds, people scenery, but not fish. There are finny creatures there though and, of course, many of them are unusual and very different.

A few of the names are indicative. Where else but Africa would there be an elephant-snout fish and a tiger fish; the first is self explanatory and the latter is almost so. It has vicious teeth.

They also have a butterfly fish apparently named because of his ability to spread his fins and make short fluttering trips out of water in pursuit of the flying insects which are the mainstay of his diet.

The tooth carp is a tiny tiny fish. During the rainy season, he and his kin live in numerous rainy season pools. Before the water holes dry up completely, these fish lay their eggs in the mud where they survive the droughts of the dry season, only hatching when the rains come again.

The lung fish is practically a living fossil. It too has adopted to the fluxuation of wet and dry seasons. When the pools begin to shrink from lack of rain, this fish retreats into a burrow made in the bank of the pool and, practically in a cocoon, is how the book describes it, waits out the dry spell. Again the name is descriptive, this fish has lungs instead of gills.

Several other fish must breathe air to obtain oxygen instead of absorbing it from water passing through their gills. The Zambese climbing perch, as he 'walks' from one water hole to another, breathes air.

And, even in the middle of the Sahara Desert, there are air breathing fish. They live in the desert oasis, of course, and must come regularly to the surface of the water to gulp air.

Underground streams apparently connect some of these water holes because, although they may be hundreds of miles apart, the same kind of fish will be found in them.

There is even a member of the versatile cat fish family which inhabits desert oasis, has an air breathing organ, and digs himself into the floor of the waterhole during the dry season.

In another part of the country there lives the gigantic electric catfish. It grows well over four feet in length and is fully capable of generating a strong enough shock to stun a grown man.

I was surprised to read that a trout fisherman could find a 'happy fishing ground' in Africa. In the mountains in the northern part of the continent there are scrappy trout which are very similiar to our brown trout.

The main difference seems to be size, our brownies are much larger. This African trout, by the way, is the southern branch of the family, none other is known to exist any further south.

So it is that something fishy seems to have happened to me, I seem to have run out of space and so the birds and animals will just have to wait for another chapter of African hodge-podge.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Medications

There are a few "rules" to be followed in taking or giving medicine, particularly to young children. They are designed to prevent harm and to insure the full benefits of the medication:

1) Read the label twice before giving the dose. Read it as you pick up the container, and read it again before putting the medicine in the mouth.

2) Make sure it's the right medicine, and that you are giving exactly the right amount.

3) Give the medicine at precisely the time the doctor told you to. You might ask him if you should wake the person up to give the medicine, or how to time the doses if the schedule is upset by the patient falling asleep.

4) When giving an oily medication, be sure it is cold; tepid or warm oil may smell or taste unpleasant.

5) When giving a baby medicine, hold the mouth open, insert the spoon and put the tip for enough back so the baby must swallow. A covered medicine spoon will prevent spillage.

6) If the medicine is really difficult to administer, your doctor may agree to it being disguised in a food or beverage.

7) When the medicine is no longer needed, dispose of it. Drugs change chemically with time, and deteriorate. Don't play the doctor and pass a prescription along to your neighbor; you may not be doing him a favor.

'Run' Could Be Funniest

Nancy Kinnard's direction of "See How They Run", a three-act farce, is rapidly pulling together what promises to be possibly the funniest effort yet of The Tecumseh Players.

This season's final offering concerns a very proper minister and his flamboyant not-so-staid wife, and the hilarious twists taken in their lives with the arrivals of a pompous bishop, a befuddled visiting clergyman, a neighborhood busybody, an old boy-friend, an escaped prisoner, a most unpredictable maid, and a hilarious Cockney policeman.

Hal Weakley, Pat Weigle, Bill Frownfelder, Dom Santangelo, Dorothy Wetter, Mike Sharpe, Milt Schoch, Shalane Roe, and Ron Wetter respectively make a superbly blended team as these various characters.

All are veteran performers with the exception of Pat, Mike and Shalane who are making their debut with the Players.

Production will be April 16, 17, 22, 23, and 24 at the Community Center. Tickets are at Flanders Music Store, or from cast members, and are by reservation only. For information, phone 423-2043.

Meeting Tuesday

Since Monday is election day here, Council will meet next Tuesday evening at 7:30 instead.

The following Monday night, the annual organizational meeting will be held for the new Council.

City Voters To Elect 4 Councilmen Monday

City voters will elect four councilmen here next Monday, but if past records are indicative of the turnout, only some 20 percent of the eligible voters or about 700 will go to the polls.

Seven candidates, including two incumbents, are seeking seats at city hall.

George McCombs, present mayor of Tecumseh and who has served 17 years on Council since 1947, is in the race as is C. Raymond Puffer, currently president pro tem of Council and councilman for the past eight years.

Challenging the incumbents are five newcomers:

Dr. William Adams, local dentist and secretary of the Planning Commission.

Forest Abner, businessman and owner of Abner's Service.

Ric Creswell, system analyist at Fisher Body Plant.

William Danley, assistant cashier at United Savings Bank.

Wayne "Jim" Gillespie, Fisher Body executive who is a member of the Planning Commission and a director of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Two incumbents, William Holmes and Dr. Carlos Knisely, did not seek re-election.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. at city hall and the fire station.

Meeting Is for Leasing

A special meeting on April 14 is planned by the School Board to discuss possibilities of leasing classrooms at St. Elizabeth Catholic School, which is closing in June.

School officials still do not know whether the facilities will be made available but expect to know before the meeting. Dr. Donald Phelan, board member who also is heading the church's committee to determine the feasibility of leasing, is expected to report to the board.

If the facilities become available and the schools decide to lease, only four portable classroom units will be needed by the schools for the 1971-72 term. Plans originally called for 10, possibly 11.

1 Petition Out for School Board

Joel Rutherford, 6814 Close Dr., has taken out a petition for a seat on the School Board at the June election.

No other petitions have been taken out, and it's not known whether two incumbents, Mrs. Donald Cobb and William Brown, will seek re-election.

Petitions are available at the Board of Education office. Two four-year terms will be on the ballot.

Easter Services

Easter services in Tecumseh will be published next week, and pastors are asked to file their copy at The Herald this Friday. Union Good Friday service will be at the Baptist Church.

Remodeling Starts at Country Club

Extensive remodeling of the dining room and lounge at the Tecumseh Country Club has started with completion expected early in May.

Gyroglider Is Prelude to Gyrocopter

by Bill Whiting

If you happen to be one of those robust sporting enthusiasts who just bought a shining new snowmobile, you may have jumped the gun.

Snowmobiling has become passe now that the do-it-yourself gyrocopter is on the scene. At least that is what Dearborn dealers for Bensen Rotorcraft will tell you.

Partners in K and R Rotorcraft, Ralph Zickefoose, Bill Vandusen and Ralph Zick, have been pulling a good crowd of Sunday sight-seers at Tecumseh's airport, where they come occasionally to fly a fragile-looking machine. Of course it isn't every day that you see a truck travelling down the runway towing two men like water skiers--10 feet off the ground.

They were out Sunday with their flying machine giving instructions to some would-be dealers from the Flint area. To the delight, or wonder, of a roadside audience, they pulled an engine-less gyroglider back and forth along the runway, bobbing up and down on a 60 foot tether hitched to a red pickup.

"It works on the same principle as a regular glider," said pilot Zickefoose, "with the air forced through the copter blades giving it lift."

Gyrogliding is apparently a big sport in areas where there is open space. "Out in Colorado they use a 2,700 foot tow line," he said.

The gyroglider is only a prelude to the gyrocopter, a one-man helicopter that will fit neatly into the family garage and is just the thing for personal transportation short of a Lear jet. You don't even need your own airport.

The Bensen $1,700 model features a 72 horsepower engine that will go 120 miles on a tank of gas and climb 1,000 feet per minute to a maximum elevation of 12,500 feet. It will travel 20-85 miles per hour off land, snow and water, according to the Rotorcraft dealers.

Although they are mostly used for sport, the Dearborn partners said the gyrocopter has been successfully used for low-volume crop dusting.

The copters come in "easy to assemble" kit forms for the owner to fasten together.

PARTNERS FIND GYROGLIDING IS FUN AT TECUMSEH'S AIRPORT ON A SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Bank Dividend Is 40¢ A Share

Hundreds of shareholders of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh should be smiling today after they open their mail.

On March 10, the bank's directors voted to increase the quarterly dividend from 30 cents to 40 cents a share.

Last year, four quarterly dividends of 30 cents each were paid by the bank, plus a 40 cent year-end dividend.

In a letter to shareholders, the dividend increase was reported as being a result of continued growth of earnings. Since there are 125,000 shares outstanding, the total dividend amounts to $50,000.

$33,208,400 Assessment for City

Robert Hamden, city assessor, has completed tabulations of city assessments and reports Tecumseh's total assessment at $33,208,400.

This is an increase of over $2 million from the 1971 figure of $31,164,200, and higher than originally estimated.

One mill will now give the city approximately $33,200, and at the current millage total of 13.5 mills for operation, the city will realize about $448,200 compared to $419,800 last year.

The city collects 14.5 mills, but one mill was voted for retiring sewer bonds.

Tecumseh's 1971-72 fiscal budget is now being prepared, and it's not known if there will be a millage increase. The new budget will probably be presented to Council later this month.

Youth Planning Sunrise Service

Youth from Tecumseh area churches are announcing a Community Easter Sunrise Service to be held at Tecumseh Park (The Pit) at 6 a.m. April 11.

Speakers will be Dean Finnegan of First Presbyterian Church and Craig Smith of Missionary Baptist Church. Young people from other area churches will lead in the invocation, music and benediction.

While youth have planned and are leading the sunrise service, it is not to be considered a youth-only service. All adults are invited and encouraged to attend.

Those persons attending should bring lawn chairs or other suitable seating. In case of heavy rain only, the service will be held at United Methodist Church.

Readers Write

To the Editor:

Will Americans be eating rice while the people in foreign countries eat steak? This question may not be as far out as it appears.

Have you noticed how difficult it is getting to buy American made products in several of our stores the last few years? The next time you go shopping for personal and household items such as tools, clocks, shoes and radios, limit yourself to buy only American made products and see what happens.

The impact of imports from abroad are causing disastrous effects on U.S. industries and the elimination of hundreds of thousands of jobs for American workers.

The refrigeration and air conditioning industry is no exception. The imports are replacing scores of compressors we should be producing at Tecumseh.

What has happened to many other industries and workers may well happen to us if the trend on imports is not slowed down.

Japan's refrigeration and air conditioning market alone has expanded from $115,000,000 in 1961 to $533,000,000 in 1969. It is well to note Japanese manufacturers paid only a 7½ percent import tax in [illegible] while American manufacturers exporting compressors to Japan paid a 45 percent tax.

Italy and Denmark further induce their manufacturers to export compressors by subsidizing their industries from 5 to 7 percent for each dollar of product exported, therefore, practically guaranteeing their company a sizeable profit.

One may ask how we can help fight the import problem? First of all, we as Americans must limit ourselves to buying American products whenever possible, thus if the demand is not there, the stores will be reluctant to stock imports.

Next, we must insist the Congress of the United States adopt restrictions, possibly in the following ways:

Adopt legislation setting quotas on each individual product imported according to a percentage of our gross national product.

Raise the tariffs on certain imports, thus creating closer competition with our products.

Enact total reform legislation on tariff rates where abuses occur by foreign governments.

To The Editor:

Concerning the recent Community Blood Bank of March 10th, I would like to thank every one concerned, the donors and all of the volunteers, without who the program would not have been such a tremendous success.

There were 96 pints of blood collected which certainly surpasses the previous community collections, especially considering the weather of that day, and also the many illnesses prevalent at this time.

Arthur Holdridge of Tecumseh received a three gallon donor pin and donating two gallons was Florence Gallant of Tecumseh.

One gallon donors were Marjorie L. Rohrback, Britton; William E. German, Adrian; Victor Lawson, Jr., Tecumseh; Robert Wood, Adrian; Mary Kelly, Clinton; Theodore Schmidt, Tecumseh; and Bruce H. Conley, Adrian.

Dear Editor:

I was walking from downtown Thursday afternoon and was carrying quite a heavy bag full of groceries I had bought.

Two nice young high school girls passed me, and after they had gone a ways down the street, saw me stop to rest because I was tired. They came back and asked if I would like some help to carry my load of groceries. This was on South Pearl St., so they came all the way home with me.

I don't know who they were, but I think their parents should be very proud of such nice, kind and helpful young people. I know I am and bless their kind hearts.

From a very pleased person to small kindness that counts.

New Pontiac Ventura II Debuts at Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac

By John Underwood

Pontiac has announced it is entering the compact car market with a low-priced, stylish model called the Ventura II.

It is now on display at Underwood Chevrolet-Pontiac, just west of Clinton on US-12 at M-52.

The compact-sized Ventura II will be marketed in two and four-door models, each built on a 111-inch wheelbase.

Over-all length of the Ventura II will be slightly over 194 inches making it approximately eight inches shorter than the T-37, Pontiac's lowest-priced intermediate.

The new Pontiac offering will be powered by an economical-to-operate 250 cubic-inch, six-cylinder engine which will develop 145 gross horsepower. Net horsepower will be 110 at 3800 rpm.

Available as an option will be a 307 cubic-inch V-8 engine. This engine will have a gross horsepower rating of 200 while net horsepower will be 140 at 4400 rpm.

Both engines will operate efficiently on low-lead or no-lead 91-octane regular fuel.

A three-speed manual, column-mounted shift transmission with a 3.08 axle ratio will be standard.

Ventura II gets its name from the city of Ventura, located just north of Los Angeles. The city, in turn, derived its name from an early mission called San Buenaventura, meaning a good venture.

The split grille theme will help show off the car's distinctive Pontiac styling. Side marker light bezels will be painted body color for a clean appearance.

At the rear, long horizontal taillamps continue the Pontiac identity. Usable trunk space will be almost as large as in the division's LeMans series.

Other exterior standard features include high intensity headlamps, roof rain gutters, pushbutton outside door handles, front door vent windows and exclusive twist lock lamp sockets.

The Ventura II will have cloth and Morrokide bench seats as standard on both the two and four-door models. The headrests on all seats will be adjustable with a convenient slide latch.

What My Religion Means to Me

by Dean Sheldon

I believe that all people have a religion of some kind whether it is a belief in God or a respect for what they think is sacred. My religion is a strong belief in the Triune God.

I believe in God who created heaven and earth and man. He created man to live in perfect happiness, but man not being happy with it sinned and lost his heritage.

God being merciful sent His Son Jesus Christ to live on earth and die an ignominious death that I might have eternal life.

He didn't promise that I would live a completely happy life on earth, for sin would be ever present. He did promise that by baptism and faith I could enter into His Kingdom after death.

By my own merit I can do nothing. Only through the promise of our Almighty God and through the guidance of the Holy Spirit speaking to us in the Gospels I can have everlasting life.

I believe in the Holy Christian Church as a means toward salvation. I believe we accomplish more working in teams whether it be sports, research, defense, or medical teams.

God's Church is like a team of Christian's working together. For God's team we need no special skills or talents, just willingness to serve and recruit others.

It is being acknowledged that church attendance is at an all time low. The morals of the people are at an all time low. Can there not help but be a correlation between these two facts.?

Group Staging 'Jesus Christ Superstar' at St. Peter's

"Jesus Christ Superstar", the folk rock passion play, will form the central theme of a Holy Week presentation at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Wednesday, April 7 at 8 p.m.

"Superstar" which has won wide recognition throughout the world, has been adapted by Sister Theresa Craig of Siena Heights College, Adrian, involving an ecumenical group of students and ministers who take the parts and read the texts.

Sister Theresa has recently been awarded a Kellogg Foundation grant to study and work in the field of children's drama in England.

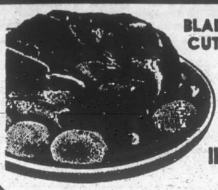

"Superstar' has the same kind of message and musical and dramatic appeal as has the St. Matthew Passion by Bach," according to the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, rector of St. Peter's.

"It is an interpretation of the passion narratives in the Gospels with which not everyone will agree, but which everyone who listens to it will identify with in some way. To me it speaks of the power of the passion of Christ expressed in contemporary idioms in contrast to the comfortable stereotypes which eventually lose their life and meaning for many people," he added.

Public is cordially invited. There is no admission charge.

MORE PARROT TALK

The surprising visit of the green parrot, about which we talked several weeks ago, turned out to be much more than a one day affair. Day after day after day he returned for hearty meals of suet and corn. I must admit that our feelings were decidedly mixed.

It was exciting to see such an exotic bird but, on the other hand, how long could he survive this hostile climate and how upset, worried and heartsick must the people be who had lost their green parrot.

I keep calling our visitor a parrot although actually I am not all that sure. He seems small in comparison to our mind's picture of a parrot's size but, if he were a parakeet, it must be the biggest giant of a parakeet in the whole world.

One of our bird books, in their discussion of the parrot family, spoke about a South American macaw which is a brilliant green on top, light below, rather small in size and sports a long pointed tail. Perhaps our friend is a macaw.

When on the feeders or in the trees, it is interesting to see how the bird moves. He is an expert at sliding along a tree limb, of course, and, when crawling from the Wilson Special to the block of suet on the tree trunk, he uses his bill as a third hand.

This bill is 'something else again'; it must be terribly strong—by the way, according to the books, a parrot's bill is unique in that the upper mandible is hinged at the base, which increases its strength and useability.

So far we have not yet seen the bird pick up anything and hold it in his foot to eat. We simply do not serve the right food for that.

Although there was no way of offering protection and shelter from our stupid Michigan winter weather, we are happy to see that the poor bird remembers the feeders and keeps coming back.

He is too skiddish, as of this writing at least, to come to the near-my-window feeder for sunflower seeds and his trips to the other banquet boards too irregular for us to rush them out just before he comes.

Suet and corn seem to keep him going though and perhaps he picks up sunflower seeds and fruit elsewhere. Oh, yes, he does visit elsewhere.

We receive calls from quite a few people, all very excited about the strange bird at their feeders. He seems to like the bill of fare at Beardsleys and Dustins.

Even with plenty of food available, how long can this tropical bird survive? Where is he spending the nights? These are the questions which haunt us.

Of course, by now the weather should be moderating but there certainly, since his first appearance, has been far too much of howling winds, rain, freezing rain, snow and night after night of below freezing temperatures.

It even makes me shiver to remember. I must admit, however, that on perhaps the worst day, Sunday the 7th of March, when we were lambasted by what was practically a blizzard, the parrot came by for his usual suet snack and looked in pretty good shape.

As I saw him out in all of that cold blowing snow my peace of mind was not helped a bit by what I had just read about parrots. They are not heavily feathered birds—oh, my!

This character does seem to possess much savvy though, and obviously knows how to take care of himself quite well. He knows where to find food and he is large enough to more than hold his own against the other freeloaders.

He is not about to share and even the hairy woodpeckers keep their distance. The few foolish starlings who entertained silly notions about 'ganging up and driving off' were quickly dissuaded. A few loud squawks and a threatening posture changed their minds.

Another thing in our bird's favor is his flying ability. Oh, how he flies! Fast and straight. Also quite far.

We received a call from one woman living on Macon Road, the parrot had been in her yard. Who knows where else he has been or even where he came from.

So it is that I could go on and on with talk about the parrot—what would be nice, however, is to know the parrot's story, I would like to hear the parrot talk.

(Late bulletin: Just before vacation we learned more parrot news but it must wait a few weeks.)

Shots Needed for Kindergarteners

Parents of children who will be entering kindergarten in the fall will soon receive notice from their respective schools that it is time to enroll their children.

Lenawee County Health Department reminds parents that children entering school for the first time must be immunized for diptheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, measles (10-day hard measles), rubella (3-day measles) and smallpox.

Also they must have a tuberculosis test to ascertain freedom from infectious tuberculosis.

It is customary for parents to secure protection for their children against these diseases by immunization during infancy. However, for children who have not had any immunizations, the entire series necessary for entering schools takes five months to complete.

Children may not start school without these required "shots", so parents are urged to contact their family physician to secure necessary immunizations.

If it is not possible to take a child to a private physician, all required immunizations may be obtained free of charge between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday at Lenawee County Health Department.

Children immunized during infancy will need booster immunizations and a tuberculosis test.

Goodwill Makes Service Cutbacks

A cutback in services, effective immediately, has been announced by Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan, affecting 30 persons. Rehabilitation services have been eliminated and several staff positions have been terminated.

"These cutbacks," according to Mrs. Ray Soreghy, Goodwill executive director, "have been made to stop the severe dollar losses that have beset Goodwill for some time."

Not affected are the Goodwill retail stores and contract shop, where a variety of sub-contract work is performed for local industry.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By DOUGLAS DUNN

In a meeting with friends, the subject of Easter came up. Easter, as everyone knows, is not celebrated on the same Sunday every year. Some times it comes early; some times late. This brought up an interesting question. Surprisingly, no one in the group could give the right answer. When you read the question, ask yourself whether you know the answer. . .

"Why does the Easter date change from year to year; why isn't it on the same date?" Know the answer? Here it is —

Easter is celebrated on the first Sunday after the full moon that occurs on March 21, or on any of the 28 days following that date. Easter therefore can come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25; never before or later.

Incidentally, we hope to have an interesting thought appear for Easter. You will find it a little bit different from the usual Easter comment you hear and read. Watch for it...

Teresa Heimerdinger, Larry Lewis Are Wed

CLINTON–Nuptial vows were recited by Teresa Heimerdinger and Larry Sam Lewis in a candlelight service Saturday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Heimerdinger, Clinton-Macon Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Glen B. Lewis, Bartlett Rd.

Original ceremony, performed by Earl Lawrence, pastor of United Church of Christ, was composed by the family and involved the congregation of relatives and friends in the meaningful litany of dedication and affirmation of love.

Spring bouquet of yellow daffodils and lavendar iris entered the altar, flanked by ivory-twined candlebra.

Organist, Mrs. Larry Dicks of Saline, accompanied a duet of Mrs. Donald Geiger and William Heimerdinger, uncle of the bride, as they sang "Sunrise, Sunset," preceding the processional.

Bride approached the altar with her father, down a candle-flanked aisle. She wore a candlelight silk organza gown trimmed with seed pearls at the high neckline. Her bouffant skirt ended in a cathedral train. She wore a matching finger-tip organza veil. Bride's colonial bouquet was formed of white rosebuds and sprigs of lily of the valley.

A blessing of the families was followed by the singing of "Impossible Dream," by William Heimerdinger. Mrs. Geiger gave the "Marriage" reading from "The Prophet."

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. Heimerdinger sang "The Lord's Prayer." The recessional music was "What the World Needs Now."

Maid of honor was Marilyn Girbach. Bridesmaids were Vicki Foster, Melody Grinnell and Mrs. Dennis Sweet. Bridesmaids were identically gowned in navy organza styled with scoop necklines highlighted by velveteen chokers. Long full sleeves and flounced skirts were accented with red rosebuds at the waistlines.

Each attendant carried a cluster of long-stemmed American Beauty roses.

Kathy Faulhaber and Kelly Grinnell, niece of the bride, as flower girls, wore light blue, long gowns styled as the bridesmaids.

Glen Lewis was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Roger Porterfield, Dennis Kime and David Lewis, brother of the groom. Guests were seated by Dennis Sweet and John Miller. Ring bearer was Linde Grinnell, nephew of the bride.

Reception was held at the Union Hall, Tecumseh, with 400 guests attending. Feature of the buffet supper was the multi-tiered wedding cake, with accents of red roses. Music for dancing was provided by Terry Hunt's band.

Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blom, aunts and uncles of the bride, were hosts at the reception.

Bride is a 1970 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Groom is a 1968 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed at Ford Motor Co., Saline. Couple will reside in Saline, when they return from a wedding trip to Florida.

Aunt Laura's Life Related by Niece

CLINTON--Lenawee County's most famous historical figure, Aunt Laura Haviland, became a more real personage as her niece, Edith Haviland, Tecumseh, recounted her exploits as a humanitarian and educator in Civil War times for members of the Women's Fellowship at the United Church of Christ Thursday evening.

Statue of Laura Haviland, built in 1909, now rests in Maple City Monument Works, Adrian, awaiting its restoration to a place of honor when the new city hall is completed there.

Laura Haviland was born in 1808 in Canada where her Quaker parents had fled to avoid fighting in the War of 1812. After the war, the family returned to New York and later to Michigan, where Laura married Charles Haviland in 1825.

With her own four children and nine wards of the county in their care, the Havilands began a sort of vocational school near Tecumseh in 1836, with the girls trained in housework and the boys in the field work.

In 1837, just before the University of Michigan was opened, the Havilands opened an institute which was co-educational and inter-racial. This institute operated until it was forced to close when the male teachers went to fight in the Civil War.

Thomas and Elizabeth Chandler owned the land now known as Wildcat Ridge, south of Tecumseh, and they allowed anyone needing a home to construct a shanty there.

It was through Mrs. Chandler's brother, editor of "The Liberator" magazine, that Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Haviland helped organize a local abolitionist group, and they later began to aid slave children to get to Canada, a system which came to be known as the "Underground Railroad."

Miss Haviland recounted how her daring aunt had cunningly hidden Little Zack, a runaway boy, in a straw tick, which she covered over with a feather mattress and then she lay down upon the bed, while searchers came looking for him.

She once helped a young girl escape from Cincinnati, Ohio, by taking some Quaker clothes to dress her in, covered her dark face with flour to make her seem white, and with the girl hobbling, as though crippled, walked down the street past the girl's would-be capturers.

During the Civil War, Laura Haviland went to the prison for northern white soldiers on Ship Island, off the coast of Florida.

Clothed in garments they had worn for a year, and wearing chains and balls, the soldiers were confined to crowded shelves, for only minor offenses.

Mrs. Haviland returned to Michigan, where she told of the atrocities at Ship Island to Jonathan Green, Tecumseh, a government representative in Detroit, then she went on to Washington with her story.

She later received a letter that the matter was being taken care of, since it was learned that the commander of the prison was, in truth, a southern sympathizer.

While in Washington, she was invited to the White House, where she talked and prayed with Abraham Lincoln.

After the Civil War, with the aid of Lisa Comstock, Mrs. Haviland opened a school for freed slaves. She collected $90,000 to operate the school, most of it from England.

Another idea fostered by Laura Haviland was for girls and boys training schools, which were begun in Michigan.

Annual Banquet Attended by 175

BRITTON–Father-Daughter Banquet held Saturday evening at the high school study hall brought to a close a week of activities commemorating the 61st anniversary of the Camp Fire organization.

Among the 175 guests were Blue Birds, Camp Fire, Junior High Horizon Girls, fathers, group leaders, group sponsors and their husbands.

Preceeding swiss steak dinner, Master of Ceremonies Dick Bruce welcomed the guests with everyone joining in the pledge of allegience and singing of the Camp Fire Blessing.

Tables were decorated with red, white and blue paper flowers with matching candles on each table.

Carrying out the magic theme for the evening's entertainment, a black top hat with a rabbit coming out of it was used for a combined place card and program. Harold Tesch, instructor at the Lenawee institute, performed several magic tricks.

Following the dinner, a candle lighting ceremony was held by the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades. Mrs. Joseph Hall led all present in singing of "This Land is Your Land", "America" and "Camp Fire Law". Blue Bird Wish was given by the second and third grades.

Kim Bruce gave the "Welcome to the Fathers," and Dick Bruce gave the "Response to the Daughters."

Mrs. James Arft, chairman of the Britton leaders association, introduced the leaders and sponsors of each group as well as Mr. Tesch.

Program ended with a candle extinguishing ceremony.

Rev. Darwin Warner gave the benediction.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Claire W. Minehart, who died Feb. 12, 1969. His 75th birthday would have been April 3, 1971.
We do not need a special day to bring you to my mind.
The days we do not think of you are very hard to find.
Within our store of memories,
you hold a place apart.
No one else could ever be more cherished in my heart.
Sadly missed by wife, Florence E. Minehart. 4-1p

In loving memory of Harry L. Derr who passed away 11 years ago April 6, 1960. Although God took him away, a part of him will always remain in our hearts in some way.
Sadly missed by his family. 4-1c

In loving memory of my husband, Floyd Russell, who passed away March 31, 1965. If he had been left, so many things I could share with him. Guided by God's loving hand he has gone to a brighter and peaceful land.

41 Vying for King, Queen

Eighth annual Baby Picture Contest has hit an all-time high this year with 41 babies currently running for king and queen.

Canisters with the pictures of many cute babies are now displayed in local stores and businesses. The runners-up will each receive a gift certificate from Woolworth's or Proctor's Shoes.

Each penny counts one vote. All proceeds will be used by the Jaycee Auxiliary to buy dolls to be given to the needy at Christmas.

See advertisement for location of canisters.

'How They Run' Opening April 16

A pyramid cannot be built without a base and without a cast there would be no show.

But spring bouquets must be given to many other unseen but equally vital workers in the Tecumseh Players riotous comedy, "See How They Run", to be presented April 16, 17, 22, 23, and 24 at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Assisting Mrs. Nancy Kinnard in the direction of this farce is Lee Ann Schneider, a "stand-in", "errand-runner", "detail rememberer," and jack-of-all-trades keeps Lee Ann on the go most of the time.

Bouquets also for untold hours of work to coordinator, Martha Lear; technical director Craig Davis and his crew, Masahiko Akita, Don Porteous, and Fonzo Fritz; lighting man, Dean Finnegan; reservations, Cheri Weakley; tickets, Jo Wegner; and costumes, Corky Dermyer.

Other bouquets to many nameless contributors who unselfishly provide needed props, furniture, and building materials, to local merchants who helped in many ways, to the Community Center itself, to news media, and to those who freely give their homes for lengthy rehearsals; and on down an unending list.

Tickets are now available from Flanders Music Company in Tecumseh, or from cast members: Dom Santangelo, Mike Sharpe, Pat Weigle, Bill Frownfelder, Ron and Dorothy Wetter, Shalane Roe, Hal Weakley, or Milt Schoch.

Seating is by reservation only. For information phone 423-2043.

Proposes Change of Election Dates

Changing of city elections from the spring to fall was proposed by Councilman Carlos Knisely at the City Council meeting Monday night.

Under this proposal, councilmen would be elected for two year terms, with four being elected on even years, 1972, and three on odd years. Candidates would be elected in November, instead of April and would assume office on Jan. 1.

Among the advantages of such a change, Knisely listed the elimination of the one year term, which council has expressed dissatisfaction with, the saving of the cost of one election every other year and by having councilmen take office the first of the year it would allow them time to become acquainted with procedures and situations before the year's budget was submitted to them.

City Attorney Greg Forsthoefel was directed to draw up a city charter amendment on the change of election dates and submit it back to Council. If approved, it would appear on the ballot at the next election, April 1972, and take effect at the November election.

Schools Close for Spring Vacation

Vandals Return, Pool Is Target

It's Spring. The flowers are coming up, grass is turning green, the days are longer, the weather warmer and the vandals are out.

Target once again was the Joyce Andrews Memorial Pool, with destruction limited to the building housing showers and lockers.

Three bottles of a liquid drain solvent, a poison which is used in drains and toilets, was splashed everywhere, floors, walls and ceiling. The powerful solvent, which by Tuesday afternoon had already begun to burn spots in the floor, was also splashed on the fuse box.

Recreation Director Ward Eardley said if the solvent has damaged the box, rewiring might be necessary.

To spread their business around town, Eardley said vandals have broken three windows at Tecumseh Park already this spring.

Basket Sold

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Braswell have purchased the Chicken Basket from the Don Hannahs and are already operating the business on N. Evans St.

They are planning an extensive remodeling of the building, including new flooring, complete painting and new machinery.

Name is to be changed to Dairy DeLuxe.

A Thought for the Week

Psychologists ask the question in behalf of clients when examining employee applications . . .

"Of all the men you know, have known, met or heard of, what one man would you most like to be like?" Explain why - - Some selections and reasons show peculiar, even fuzzy thinking. What person, at least of Christian faith, could possibly fail to select the One Man who not only changed the course of history, but changed the calendar as well? Apart from the religious aspect, this Man was so remarkable, our calendar is dated B.C. and A.D. — before Christ and in the year of our Lord. Even non-Christians who deny His divinity, knew he DID live on earth. From His birth to His crucifixion, He lived an exemplary life of selflessness; never a thought of selfishness. His life, His acts, His teaching — left an indelible imprint with more impact than any other man who ever lived.

At Easter, let us rejoice that He proved life is continuous; indestructible; that His resurrection proved eternity does not start with death, but from the moment of mortal birth; that He proved our physical life of imperfections is only a prelude to spiritual perfection He promises us in His Heaven. When we reject Him ,we reject the precious gift of Easter.

SCHEDULE OF RETURN

No, not the Duncan's return--unless we run into bird watching which is just too good to believe, sunshine basking to which we cannot wave goodby, or an unexpectedly good excuse to continue loafing, the run down on our vacation in the sunny south will begin next week.

Today's topic is the schedule of returns for the spring migrating birds. Now they do not read bird books nor these articles, so I am sure they are not about to adhere to a strict timetable. However a little indication of who might be expected when should be fun.

Just to illustrate how strictly they stick to not following any schedule, look at the kingfisher. Last year we saw the first on the 20th of February; had he shown up on that date this year he would probably have drowned in our high and fast rushing flooded creek.

According to an old Cranbrook schedule of return, the eastern belted kingfisher makes his appearance on the 6th of March; Ella reports that she has a kingfisher all year around who knows about a secret spot in the river or pond which never freezes over.

Robins present a problem too. We like to think of them as harbingers of spring but actually many of them are foolish enough to winter over with us. However, last year we saw our first robin the 5th of March; this year the first was seen, again by Ella, Feb. 24.

She hosted a trio of them. On the 9th, two red-breasted robins waded through snow to reach the shriveled berries left on the barberry which grows at the top of the creek bank. So long was their visit that they must have found the dining delicious.

The parade of springtime returnees seriously begins in March. V-shaped wedges of Canada geese should be seen sometime around the first but we had reports of neither sightings nor hearings.

The gorgeous bluebirds should have reappeared about then too. The grackles arrive on schedule, the first part of March. They brought cowbirds with them too. The turkey buzzards, I understand, kept the people in Hinkley, Ohio, happy by arriving during the Turkey Buzzard Festival.

Water fowl are tremendous migrators. We do not see many here on the creek of course, but occasionally a pair of ducks will spend a day or two with us and what fun they are. Almina tells me that the blue teal arrived the first part of March.

The black ducks should have followed by the 13th, Mallards the 14th and the lesser scoups the 18th. If we are to see ducks on our beloved Evans Creek, it is the latter two. Canvas-backs are scheduled to return the 23rd, hooded merganser the 25th, pintails the 29th and the gorgeous wood ducks the 29th. Whistling swans and the magnificent great blue herons are March birds too.

Red-winged black birds made their appearance about when the grackles and cowbirds did. Killdeer, eastern Phoebe, red-headed woodpeckers, towhees, fox sparrows and vesper sparrows should have all checked before the third month is town from the calender.

April is a tremendously busy month. During the first week such welcome guests as winter wrens, field sparrows, chipping sparrows, tree swallows, hood warblers, black and white warblers and the hermit thrush should all be back.

Then, of course, should come the purple martins, brown thrashers, American bittern, sand hill cranes, ruby-crowned kinglets, barn swallows, and house wrens. Good looking

So it is that the above is only a suggested timetable. You and I both know that no birds (even Duncan-type birds, but Marda, you are getting too flip.) are going to be pinned down to an exact schedule of return.

What My Religion Means to Me

by William R. Groover

In second Timothy 2:15, the Apostle Paul admonishes Timothy to "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of God."

It therefore occurs to me that it is not important what my religion means to me but what is important is what God's Word says about the subject and then for me to do my best to do what he tells me.

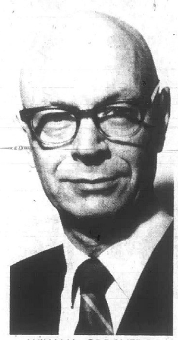

In James 1:27 we find this definition, "Pure Religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and keep himself unspotted from the world."

The visits to the fatherless and the widows do not seem difficult for most of us to accomplish, however due to the sinful nature of mankind it seems very difficult to keep ourselves unspotted from the world.

We must strive diligently to do this however for although "The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him," Psalms 103:17, there is still the danger of our hearts becoming hard and impenitent as those described in Romans 2:5.

This is the reason we should not save all our religion for one season of the year but should "search the scriptures daily" as the more noble bretheren in Berea did, who are described in Acts 17:10.

Our duty is further described in Ecclesiastes 12:13 where we are told "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man."

Naturalist Shows Bonsai

by Margorie Comfort

It takes a special talent to be able to pick up a tree and move it whenever the fancy strikes you.

The talent is called "Bonsai," and is the art of developing a wooded landscape in a container. Some are small enought to hold in a teacup; others could be a real armload. Either way, they are a joy to behold, as demonstrated by Jack Wikle for the March meeting of the Little Garden Club.

Mr. Wikle, naturalist and horticulturalist at Hidden Lake Gardens, showed several examples of his own Bonsai gardens, along with colorful slides he has taken of bonsai from collections both in the United States and in Japan, where he first became interested in the art form. He now holds bonsai classes at Hidden Lake Gardens.

"Bonsai reflects nature, rather than distorts it," he noted. "The real test is not what the planting is, but what it suggests."

Because the purpose of bonsai is to keep the trees or woody shrubs small, they are kept in containers which have little soil. When the roots fill the container, they are trimmed by about a third and placed back in the container with new soil. This is done about yearly with deciduous plants, but only every three to five years with the slower-growing evergreens.

Water can be a problem, he noted. The soil dries out quickly because of its small volume, and some must be watered at least daily. Few can take the climate inside houses for any length of time, so bonsai is primarily for outdoor enjoyment. The containers can be wintered in cold frames or mulched heavily, to prevent rapid freezing and thawing.

Careful pruning, sometimes combined with wiring to bend the branches into desired lines, gives the bonsai a look of age, even though the plant may be less than a dozen years from seed. Some plantings use moss as a ground cover. A favorite and very effective variation is to place the roots in tiny pockets of soil on a rock, giving the impression of a windswept mountainscape.

During a business meeting, Little Garden Club members discussed progress of Adams Park plans, and scheduled a tag day to raise funds through public donations on April 23, which is Arbor Day.

The April meeting will be a mock flower show to be held in the Presbyterian Church. Theme will be "Michigan - My Michigan," with salutes to the state's heritage, cities, industry and natural beauty.

'Church Jewels' Is Class Topic

CLINTON--"Jewels of the Church–Stained Glass Windows" was the subject of an informative program by Mrs. John Fox for the meeting of the Mary Martha Class Monday night.

Mrs. Fox described the history of the hand crafting of stained glass windows, the earliest recorded in 337 A.D. She showed illustrations of the colorful windows in famous cathedrals of the world and explained the religious symbolism of color and design.

Twelve members and a guest, Mrs. James Spieth, attended the meeting held at the United Church of Christ with Mrs. Harold Calhoun hostess.

Mrs. Calhoun and Mrs. Robert King were appointed to serve the coffee hour after church on April 18.

Mrs. Robert Vogel, Mrs. David Heimerdinger and Mrs. Arthur Hill were appointed to a committee to plan the menu for the Mother-Daughter Banquet May 8.

Class members will assist with the Women's Fellowship benefit breakfast to be held at the home of Mrs. Vogel Tuesday, April 20.

Suggestion was made that candid photos taken at the class meetings depicting the various projects and activities could be sold to members as a money raising project.

Fun resulting from the evening's diversion, an exchange of "hat-in-a-bag" and worn by the members during the serving of refreshments, proved to be photogenic and photos of the event will be offered at the next meeting by Mrs. Milton Grossman.

Lemon dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Grossman, Mrs. Vogel and Mrs. Calhoun at a table centered with a chrysanthemum plant.

There will be a white elephant sale at the May meeting.

Yearly Meeting Held By Board

Motion by Ray Jackson for the use of the Franklin Township Hall by the Fair Taxation Committee was approved by a 3-1 vote at the annual meeting of the Township Board April 3.

Motion was made to hire someone to cover the board meetings and submit reports to local newspapers. Mrs. Robert Osburn volunteered for the position, without pay.

Supervisor Richard Platt announced that the memorial stone was in place at the cemetery. Dedication service will be held during the Memorial Day services, May 30 at 2 p.m.

Members voted that summary of the minutes of the annual meetings be published and that the proposed budget be published prior to the time of the meeting.

Jim Van Doren, assistant chief of the Sand Lake Fire Dept., submitted the annual report, showing the department answered 31 calls during 1970.

Budget of $46,000 was approved. Breakdown is, elections, $500; Walker landfill, $3,600; roads, $18,000; fire protection, $7,000; cemetery, $2,500; zoning, $2,000; administration, $10,000; street lights, $500; general expense, $2,000. Income is projected to be $45,000.

Announcement was made that Mr. Platt is now certified as an assessor.

Question was raised as to disposition of a condition made known at the Jan. 5 board meeting, concerning the alleged illegal dumping of acetone in the Sand Lake area.

Supervisor Platt reported he had written the County Health Dept. and received a reply from the Dept. of Natural Resources indicating nothing was illegal.

Appeals Planned by Tax Committee

Section chairman, elected at Monday evening's meeting, plan to find assistants and complete appeals for Franklin Township Fair Taxation Committee by the May 1 deadline.

Attorney Sam McKim of Canfield, Paddock and Stone in Detroit explained the process of making appeals to the state at the March 31 meeting attended by 150 Franklin Township residents at Tipton Grange Hall.

He also provided other material. Methods were reviewed to appeal recent increases in property assessments placed on the tax roll by Supervisor Richard Platt to the State Tax Commission.

An 11-man committee, chaired by Ray Jackson, contends that substantial increases applied only to residential not farm residences and agricultural properties.

More than 800 residential properties were increased in assessed valuation from 20 to 43 percent over those set three years ago.

Approximately 450 farms are involved according to the chairman.

Committee members will assist property owners in completing forms, giving the attorney more time for reviewing the case. Residents with queries may contact committee members, Mr. Jackson, Dermont Poley, Mrs. Rex Spence, Robert Sage, Elwyn Sell, Charles Manley, Joseph Gregory, Richard Carter, Charles Rose, Rex Spence and John Tomorsky.

Donations are being sought to help with printing and attorney's fees. Plans are underway by the committee to run a sales study of agricultural assessments.

Baseball Key Is Pitching

The Tecumseh Indians baseball squad opened practice with a new head coach, lots of competition vying for starting positions and only three returning lettermen.

Seventy candidates reported to new head mentor Jim Curth as the Indians will try to improve on last year's 3-16 record which saw they finish at the bottom of the Huron League with a 3-13 mark.

The 21 member varsity squad is made up of six seniors, eight juniors and seven sophomores.

Head Coach Curth said the first base job is a wide-open three-way battle between senior Paul Randall and two sophomores, Fred Sisty and Mike Clement.

Junior Steve Camfield appears to have the edge at second base, but is being pushed by another junior, Scott Durkee, and senior Rob Hatch.

Returning letterman Rick Bunch has the shortstop job nailed down. Thom Irwin, sophomore, will back him up.

Another letterman, Mike Tilton will be stationed at third base. Curth said Tilton is also capable of working behind the plate, but wants to keep him at third during the season. Sophomore Bob Beevers will play in reserve.

In the outfield, junior Hugh Conklin, the third letterman, has laid claim to the centerfield job while the other two spots are up for grabs between six players.

Seniors John Travis, Rich Hierholzer and Joe Bailey, Steve Vargo and Roger Ashenfelter, juniors; and Mark Murphy, sophomore; are vying for the other two positions.

Dan Gunder, a sophomore, will be handling the catching duties.

According to Curth, the pitching corp will be one of the big keys to the season's performance. Moundsmen who appear to have their work cut out for them are Travis, Conklin, sophomore Dennis Dermeyer, Brian DesErmia, junior; and senior Craig Smith, who did not play last year, but competed on the track team instead.

In order to improve on last year's mark, Curth said, "We need to find two or three strong pitchers and combine them with concentrated hitting and well-disciplined fielding."

Monroe Catholic Central is the team to beat in the Huron League, according to Curth. They lost only two players off last year's squad and have their entire pitching corp returning.

Gibraltar Carlson, with six of nine players back, and Airport, who played an almost entirely sophomore team last season, has them all back with a year's experience, should also make a run for the title.

Jerry Fox is handling the junior varsity squad and Bob Pardee will coach the freshmen.

The Indians will open play April 7 when they entertain Carlson at 4 p.m.

The Tecumseh Indians track squad found the competition tough at the eighth running of the Spartan Relays at Michigan State University Friday and were unable to score any points.

The two mile relay team of Tony Lisenbee, Ron Randall, Jeff Berry and Greg Bowen finished eighth with a time of 8:45.

Dave Kelley recorded a 10:53 in the two mile run to set a new school indoor record.

Track Outlook Bright

"We are very well-balanced, capable of holding our own against any team in the Huron League." That's how Bruce Dyer, new head track coach at Tecumseh High School evaluates this year's squad.

Leading the squad are seven seniors, Tony Lisenbee, Gary Hannibal, Scott Dalton, Greg Burns, Bob Merz, Dave Kelley and Joe VanValkenburg.

Lisenbee will be used in the 880 yard and one mile runs and the mile relay. Last year he recorded a 2:06.3 in the 880 and had a best time of 4:43 in the mile.

Hannibal, called one of the best hurdlers in the state by his coach, went 15.2 in the highs and 20.3 in the lows last season. Dalton cleared 12'6" in the pole vault last year.

Burns has already equalled his best effort of last year in the high jump, going 5'11" at the Huron Relays, held March 26 at Eastern Michigan University.

Two-miler Kelley was clocked in 11:03 last season. Merz, out for the first time, will be used primarily in the hurdles, but will run sprints occasionally.

Dyer said the field events, being coached by William Kouvolo, former NCAA javelin champion at Eastern Michigan University, are excellent and should pick up a lot of points for the Indians.

In evaluating the squad, Dyer said the distance men were strong and they have a good experienced hurdler in Hannibal plus several new good ones.

If there is a weakness, it would be in the sprints, but sophomore Dave Biscupski has been moved there from the hurdles to help pick up the slack.

He concluded by saying that from the quarter mile run up, the Indians field a very strong team.

Others who will be running for Tecumseh this spring are juniors - Craig Brown, Mike Steele, Dave Mitchell, Ken Brown and Brad Brown.

Freshmen - Doug Eggleston, Steve Watkins, Dave Wilson, Kevin Hunt, Jack Powell, Mark Whisman, Mark Yoder and Dennis Beagle.

The Indians open dual meet competition April 12 when they travel to Hillsdale. First league meet is April 15 against Gibraltar Carlson here.

Golfers Head Into Rebuilding Year

For three consecutive springs, the Tecumseh Indians golf squad has either shared or won outright the Huron League title.

During that time, they have chalked up a 25-3 record in league dual meets and won 18 straight in the last two years. Last season, Coach Paul Cunningham's squad compiled an overall mark of 9-4 and finished 8-0 in the league, sharing the crown with Grosse Ile. They also placed fourth in the regionals and second in the league meet.

This season's team, however, is an unknown quantity as four of last year's five starters have been lost through graduation. Only returning letterman is senior Frank Geisenhaver.

Geisenhaver averaged 40.9 for nine holes last year and tied for low score of the season with Ralph Miller with a 35.

Cunningham had 28 players, seven from each class, turn out for the squad, including five up from the junior varsity, Tom LaFerriere, Art Lewis, Don Cox, Ken Forgacs and John Gebarowski.

Grosse Ile, with practically their entire squad returning, has been established as the favorite to repeat as league champion.

Cunningham said that Monroe Catholic Central could also make a run for the title, as could the Indians, if several of the players develop quickly.

Tecumseh opens their season April 7 when they travel to Adrian for a 3 p.m. match at the Lenawee Country Club.

After the bleakness of winter comes Spring. Fulfilling a promise of long ago, the seasons follow one another in divinely planned succession.

All around us we see evidence of evil, but the Church gives positive assurance that God is ever present. As Spring brings new life, so does the Church.

Consider the daffodil—its freshness and beauty speak of hope. Consider the Church—its steadfast faith strengthens mankind. God creates daffodils, but intelligent cultivation makes them even more beautiful. Likewise, He depends on us to spread the influence of the Church and to make a better world.

Accept this tremendous challenge and become a part of God's Church today.

'Park Fever' Hits Town

A tag sale, a plasticware party and a benefit performance of a comedy are the latest symptoms of "Park Fever" to hit Tecumseh.

While the children are catching colds, mumps and chicken pox, the grownups are getting the bug to help raise money for the new Adams Park.

The Tecumseh Players will give a special performance April 15 of "See How They Run," with proceeds to go for the park.

There will be no reserved seats for this presentation of "See How They Run" and Little Garden Club members will be selling tickets in advance and at the door, $2.25 for adults and $1, students.

Tickets may also be purchased at Baldwin Hardware.

Newcomers Club will sponsor a plasticware party Thursday, April 22 at 8 p.m. in St. Elizabeth's Auditorium. Public is invited, but the sponsors would like reservations made so they can arrange refreshments.

Reservations should be made by April 20 with Mrs. James Purcell, 423-7667; Mrs. Allen DeShano, 423-7787, or Mrs. William E. Clark, 423-2978.

Drawings and specifications for the park will be shown Tuesday, April 13 at 9 a.m. in City Hall by designer Charles Cares.

DR. ADAMS ELECTED PRESIDENT PRO TEM

Gillespie New Mayor

In quick and somewhat surprising action, Tecumseh's new Council elected a new mayor and new president pro tem at its organizational meeting Monday night.

Wayne "Jim" Gillespie, director of quality control at Fisher Body, was picked for mayor by a 4-2 margin over George McCombs, who had held the position for approximately 10 months.

Dr. William Adams, dentist, was elected president pro tem over Raymond Puffer by an identical 4-2 vote. Mr. Puffer, senior councilman with the most continuous service, had held the city's second top, elective post for the past year.

Both Mr. Gillespie and Dr. Adams are new to Council, elected just last week.

Tecumseh's new mayor has lived here for the past six years, and he's the city's fourth mayor in just over a year. Harold Easton, mayor 10 years, relinquished the post in April 1970 to William Holmes, who a few weeks later was forced to resign because of a legal conflict with the position and his pharmacy. Mr. McCombs was then elected to succeed him.

Mr. Gillespie is a director of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation and a member of the Planning Commission, both positions from which he must resign.

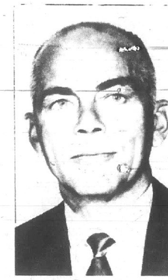

He and his wife, Ann, live at 102 Adrian St. and attend the First Baptist Church. Their two married children live at Warren.

Dr. Adams, 47, has been practicing dentistry here for the past nine years. He has served five years on the Planning Commission and most of this time as secretary.

He and his wife, Eloise and three children, are members of the Presbyterian Church. Like Tecumseh's new mayor, he also was born at Flint.

Mr. McCombs was absent at the organizational meeting, which was presided over by Mr. Puffer.

Although Tecumseh's new mayor has lived here just six years, he has already become attached to the community. In reference to being elected to Council and the city's top government post, he remarked, "I have always liked Tecumseh, and I feel it's better to become a part of it than just standing by." He's Tecumseh's sixth mayor since it become a city in 1954.

WAYNE "JIM" GILLESPIE

3 Physicians Announce Plans To Practice Here

Efforts to obtain additional physicians here have been successful.

Three doctors have announced intentions to locate and practice here. This is the same number that are leaving - Drs. Larry T. Burch, Joseph Bachman, and Alvin Phelan.

There is also a good possibility that another doctor, a pediatrician, may come to Tecumseh and work out of an office adjacent to Dr. Carlton Cook.

Three physicians scheduled for practice here are Dr. Bienvenido G. Buenaflor and his wife, Dr. Filomena Buenaflor, and Dr. Jan Buettgen. The Buenaflors will begin practices in the office to be vacated by Dr. Burch.

He is a surgeon, experienced in general and pediatric surgery and finished six years of post graduate surgery training in Detroit last July. His wife is a specialist in internal medicine.

They will move into Dr. Burch's office and start practice June 1. The office there will start making appointments for them in May. Dr. Burch will continue his practice until the end of May, and he explains that unless patients desire otherwise, his and Dr. Phelan's patient records will be left there for the new doctors.

Dr. Buettgen is a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology. He is expected to move into Dr. Phelan's office July 1. Appointments will be made for him in advance by the present office staff.

The three announcements, and a fourth probability, should be well received by Tecumseh and area folks. It was less than a month ago that three local doctors announced termination of their practices here, leaving many in the area without a family physician.

It had already been indicated that the remaining doctors would not be able to assume an additional patient load, created by Drs. Burch, Phelan and Bachman leaving the area.

Evaluation Up $2.7 Million

Evaluation of the Tecumseh School District continued to jump this year with assessed tax figures for the city and townships rising $2,749,315 from 1970's $55,610,826 to $58,360,141.

In a report received by school officials, the total evaluation of the district may even go higher. The county report indicated that "factors may be applied to almost every district."

The equalization committee is meeting now and expects to release factors, if any, within the next week or so. Such factors would increase assessments and the total evaluation for the school district.

Of the $2.7 million increase, the city of Tecumseh accounted for approximately 80 percent of the total. The city's assessments went up $2.1 million.

The sizeable assessment increases were reported in Clinton Township, $120,900; Franklin Township, $234,503; and Tecumseh Township, $235,222. Other townships, with one exception, reported increases from $5,700 to $85,200, such as Ridgeway.

A surprising report came in from Raisin Township - which probably had more new construction than the city and other townships combined. According to the county figures, the Raisin evaluation in the local school district dropped $23,000, from $14,560,600 to $14,537,600.

Jim Mitchell, township supervisor, reports losing over $400,000, mainly from low industrial inventories. He said the township as a whole, some of which is in the Adrian district, had a slight gain.

No Tax Hike in City Budget

Like everything else, cost of operating Tecumseh city government is no exception as the proposed 1971-72 fiscal budget, presented to Council Monday night, is an all-time high one - but it shows no increase in taxes!

Cal Zorn, city manager, presented the proposed budget to the new Council after adjournment.

His budget lists anticipated income at $1,184,881, compared to $1,116,787 last year, and anticipated expenditures, $1,215,076, a big hike over the 1970-71 expenditures of $1,124,224.

Difference of about $30,000 is created by construction of a new fire station. This cost will be paid from $20,000, cash on hand, and by borrowing $10,000 from the fire department equipment fund.

While some funds remained the same or dropped slightly, others increased notably: police fund, up approximately $21,000; fire fund, up $3,500; major streets, up $18,000; equipment, up $5,000; building, up $45,000, parks and recreation, up $39,000.

The budget runs from July 1, 1971 to June 30, 1972 and must be approved on or before the second meeting in May.

In a statement to Council, Zorn reported:

"An increase of $2.1 million in assessed value at 14.5 mills produces approximately $30,000. The $30,000 has been distributed throughout the budget to allow for an eight percent increase in salaries and wages."

The evaluation increase is almost equal to one mill in tax monies for the city. The city's evaluation jumped from $31,164,200 to $33,208,400 this spring.

A resume of the proposed budget is:

Opens New Restaurant

Italian Village is the name of the new restaurant opened by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Phelps at 112 E. Logan St. this week.

Mr. Phelps has operated the Pizza Pit on Water St. since February 1970. He formerly operated the Village Pizzaria in Clinton.

Move to the new and larger location will permit an expanded menu to be served, including Italian dinners, steak, fish and chicken. They will continue to offer their well-known pizzas.

Brick and distressed beam decor is enhanced with red brocade wall-covering and red carpeting. Antiqued tables, flanked by restored benches from the Milan prison chapel, provide dining space for various sized groups.

Meals will be served in the dining room or prepared for take-out. There will also be delivery service in the city.

Besides Mr. Phelps and his wife, Helen, staff includes Mrs. Richard Harvey, Carolyn Lambert and Vicki Foster, Clinton.

GRASS FIRES — Spring is the busiest time of the year for Tecumseh firemen who have responded to seven grass fires alone during the past week. In the photo, about 10 acres, some wooded, were burned over earlier this week. Worse fire, however, occurred Monday morning at the Raisin Valley Golf Club.

$3,000 Fire Loss

Close to a $3,000 fire loss was sustained by the Willis Porters, owners of Raisin Valley Golf Club Monday morning a.m. when a grass fire spread to a storage building, completely demolishing it.

Apparently, the fire was caused by a carelessly dropped cigarette.

Nothing was saved of the grass seed, fungicides, new greens mower, spreaders and various hand tools.

A tornado alert test will be staged Thursday, April 15 at 6 p.m., Wally MacGeorge, Tecumseh Fire Chief announced.

Mr. MacGeorge asks that householders do not call the police or fire department.

Take cover in basement or next safest place and tune in a transister radio to a local station. All clear will be given on radio only, as well as other information.

The School Board already has investigated purchasing portable classroom units, the number of which will not be decided until a decision is received from St. Elizabeth about its facilities.

Public Welfare Is Discussed

CLINTON--Proposals for improving the public welfare program were discussed by Mrs. Richard Dixon, Mrs. Richard Broniman and Mrs. Edwin Deis at the meeting of the Methodist WSCS last Monday.

Mrs. William Driscoll opened the meeting with devotions and gave the introduction to the program on Public Welfare.

Mrs. Martin Scott, program chairman, introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Richard Dixon reviewed the Welfare Study Commission report of 1971. Recommendations of the Commission are for increasing family assistance from $1,600 for a family of four to $2,400, addition in food stamps, increased federal funding and administration, dental benefits to recipients, day care centers for children, stressing education and nutrition.

Mrs. Broniman explained the proposed federal revenue sharing would give more money back to less populated states than they supply per capita. She opposes federal legilation for a guaranteed annual income, because she feels it will lower the incentive to work.

A guest, who is on welfare benefits, related some of her experiences with good medical benefits. She told of the embarrassment of using food stamps, lack of transportation or telephone and misinformation she had received by a case worker.

Mrs. Deis, state social worker with AFDC in the Clinton area, told of the 21 different types of aid administered through the Adrian office. In February, the office handled 314 OAA, 452 AFDC, seven blind, 106 disabled, 140 medical and 152 direct relief cases.

Mrs. Deis said the federal government cannot tell welfare recipients how to use their money, even though it is allotted for specific purposes. Houses for rent at the allotment provided are often sub-standard.

She said women on AFDC are eager for help in family planning, and this is often given through Associated Charities in Adrian.

Mrs. John Adrion conducted the business meeting at which a mother and daughter banquet was planned for May 7.

Faith Circle will sponsor a pie sale April 17.

Letters Sent To 18 Teachers

CLINTON–A decision was made at a recent Board of Education special meeting to send notices to 18 teachers by April 15 that their contracts would not be renewed.

Action was made necessary by the anticipated financial difficulties in balancing the budget for the 1971-72 school year and low enrollments in certain curricular areas.

Notices were sent to first and second year teachers in the Clinton school system and to the teachers whose working hours will be altered because of low enrollments and all extra duty assignments.

Under state law the district is required to notify teachers by April 15 if their contract is not to be renewed for another year. Since the curriculum for next year has not been established yet, it was necessary to send these notices.

Superintendent Richard Wegner emphasized that these notices do not necessarily mean these program areas will be cut, only that the board will be legally enabled to make adjustments if operating funds are not forthcoming locally or from state aid.

Eighteen teachers receiving notices are: James Pittman, physical education and government; Carl Terry, industrial arts; Joan Smith, half-time counselor; John Keyer, athletic director; Richard Jorgensen, instrumental music.

Vincent Brumfiel, senior high math; Barbara Turner, art; Karen Anderson, elementary; Susan Winder, kindergarten; Barbara Spahr, remedial reading; David Pray, sixth grade.

Diane Leaman, homemaking; Mary Korte, elementary music; Karen Kishpaugh, elementary and junior high Spanish; Lucia Hynes, first grade; Lois Demots, first grade.

Those in low enrollment areas receiving notices are John Jansen, agriculture; and June Harvey, business education.

Extra duty assignment areas affected by the notices include: Girls Athletic Association, cheerleading, assistant varsity football, ninth grade basketball, cross country, golf, junior varsity basketball, baseball, varsity football, wrestling, athletic director, fifth and sixth grade basketball, head varsity basketball, track, yearbook, marching band, seventh and eighth grade basketball, summer agriculture program.

Troop 32 Inducts Breckel As Eagle

"The Eagle Has Landed", the exciting message that was flashed back to earth by Neil Armstrong on July 20, 1969, was the theme for the Eagle Banquet held by Troop 32 of Birdsall March 27 Honoring Eagle Scout Allen Breckel.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Breckel, 1739 E. Valley Rd., was born July 20, 1952, and was participating in the National Jamboree at Farragut State Park, Idaho, at the time of the actual moon landing.

Ninety-six friends, relatives, guests and members of the troop gathered at Lenawee County Conservation League Clubhouse to honor Allen, the troop's 10th boy to attain Scouting's highest rank.

The traditional red, white and blue color scheme was accented by a fresh floral centerpiece centered with a gold colored ceramic eagle statue bearing Allen's name and flanked by additional eagles and red and blue candles.

To carry out the mood landing theme, centerpieces of large styrofoam moons bearing lunar and orbiting command modules, American flags and astronauts were on each of the side tables.

Miniature rockets filled with nuts and candies along with red, white and blue napkins marked each place. Decorations and swiss steak dinner were under the direction of Mrs. Arlene Griewahn and her Scout Moms group.

Richard James, master of ceremonies, introduced the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kapp, district executive; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dowling, cubmaster of Pack 32; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Comfort, representatives of the sponsoring group, the Conservation League; and the Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Cox, who gave the invocation.

Scout Moms President Arlene Griewahn turned the tables on the master of ceremonies by introducing Wayne Griewahn who presented Mr. James with a golden Scout placque engraved with the years 1963-1970 and the Troop's appreciation for value service.

Mrs. Griewahn also gave Dick an album of pictures taken over the years. Mrs. James was honored by the Scout Moms with a corsage and a large, gold, spread winged ceramic Eagle placque. Mr. and Mrs. James are parents of six sons, all of whom have been or are now in Scouting and two are holders of the Eagle rank.

Senior Patrol Leader Steve James lit the candles that stand for God, Country and Self with the candle that represents the Spirit of Scouting and then 12 Boy Scouts each lighted a candle, repeating one of the points of the Scout Law. Scoutmaster Paul Kruse gave an original reading on what being "Involved" means in Scouting.

With the help of Assistant Scoutmaster Cliff Pifer, he presented awards to the troop. Life rank, next to the highest rank, was achieved by Steve James, First class rank, Robert James and Mike Scheuerman. Miniature pins were presented to the mothers by the boys.

Merit badges in camping were earned by Robert James, Bob Frank and Karl Schamberger; home repairs, Steve James; personal fitness, John James, Scott Griewahn; cooking, Robert James; safety, Robert James, Steve James, Kerry Skinner; rifle and shotgun, Scott Griewahn, Robert James, Mike Marsh, John James, Todd Griewahn.

Year pins, denoting length of service, were presented to all the boys and men participating in the Scouting program.

Leo Swinehart declared the Eagle Court of Honor officially open and asked the escorts, John James and Danny Sprow, to bring the candidate forward. He asked Wayne Griewahn to explain what the Eagle candidate must have accomplished.

Garth Gottschalk charged Allen with his responsibilities as an Eagle Scout. Steve James and Kerry Skinner escorted Allen's parents.

Kerry Skinner read the Eagle poem. Dennis Dowling Jr., Pack 32 Cub Scout, bore the Eagle awards on a pillow, handiwork of Mrs. Breckel. The pillow is to be a permanent part of the troop's Eagle ceremonies.

Scoutmaster Kruse pinned the Eagle medal on Allen and in recognition of the importance of a father's role in becoming an Eagle, Mr. Breckel gave Allen his Eagle certificate. To give his parents honor for their help, Allen placed an Eagle necklace around Mrs. Breckel's neck and an Eagle tie tac on Mr. Breckel.

All Eagle Scouts present were the first ones to congratulate the new Eagle Scout and six of the troop's Eagles were on hand to join well wishers. Garth Gottschalk led the group in singing and Taps were played by John James.

Special guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kruse, Mr. and Mrs. James Marvin, former assistant scoutmaster, and Joe Sprow of the U.S. Navy, a former scout and one of the Troop's Eagle Scouts.

Troop is planning a Freedom Trail hike and on April 18, an excursion on the Wabash Cannonball for scouts and their families.

Easter Breakfast For 34 Osburns

Jack Osburn did all the cooking for 34 at the annual Easter breakfast at the home of his mother, Mrs. Purnell Osburn on N. Maiden Lane.

"And Jim did all the dishes. Yes, the men man the kitchen and the ladies have a vacation," the hostess remarked when telling about baked ham and dozens of eggs that her son cooked as the children, grandchildren and three great-grandchildren arrived, coming from the several churches.

Mrs. Charles Osburn added to festivities by decorating a bush outside with colored eggs and the family pleased their Mom by giving her a fresh floral arrangement for her table.

Mrs. Louis S. Schnedier was among those assembled as were the Charles Osburns, Mark and Kevin; Jack Osburns and Sharie; Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Schneider, Liz and Louis Jr.; Mike Osburns, Tammie and Mat; Jay Osburns and Sarah; Carl Kennels, Nancy, Susan and David; Lowell Edwards, Jack, Scott and Tom and Marc Cantrell and James Osburns and Jane.

Got A Penny? Vote For Baby

Eighth annual Jaycee Auxiliary Baby Contest is now in full swing. The 41 canisters have been in local stores for more than a week, and the locations of the canisters were published in the Tecumseh Herald's April 8 issue.

For further information, call Mrs. Michael Vaughn, 423-7645, or Mrs. John Seay, 423-2423.

One canister listing was incorrect. Janie Lynn Clewis' canister is located at Helm's Furniture instead of Janie Lynn Kieth.

Each penny counts as one vote. Proceeds from this project have in the past been used to buy dolls, dressed by the auxiliary and given to the Service Club to be distributed to needy little girls at Christmas.

As the proceeds have been going up every year the money has also helped to support various other community service projects such as the scholarship fund, Howard Hyder Kidney Fund and the auxiliary's monthly activities at the Girls Training School.

Auxiliary also serves the community with holiday parties at the Lenawee Institute, packages sent to area service men in Viet Nam, Mrs. Santa Claus and the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the needy.

Pennies dropped in the canisters go a long way to help the people in and around the community, so the auxiliary asks for votes for a favorite baby.

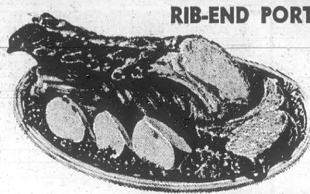

HONORED BY PRODUCTS — Al Butler, popular Tecumseh Country Club employee for over 15 years and who retired at the end of 1970, was not only honored by the membership but also recently by the Tecumseh Products. Kenneth G. Herrick, board chairman and chief executive officer, presented him with a replica of a company's compressor, re-designed into a clock.

SYLVIA JOHNSON

Performs Magic With Eggs

Sylvia Judson, 713 Seneca St., performs miracles with eggs and patience. Her artistry is on display in the window of Sluyters Electric this week and also on a tree branch in the Judson living room window.

Using hen, duck and goose eggs, Mrs. Judson makes elaborate jewel boxes and ornaments valued up to $40 each.

She started her hobby nine years ago with an egg decorated with dainty rickrack and shells from a favorite earring.

Neighbors of Mrs. Judson in Hamburg, near Pinkney, taught her the art. Coincidentally ladies on either side of the Judson home were egg buffs and the three frequently got together mornings to decorate shells.

An attache case holds the myriad of tiny pearls, gems, braids, tiny hinges, pulls, flowerets and plastic miniatures used by the toothpick worker in her labor of love.

It cost $100 for Mrs. Judson to begin her dream which she hopes one day will end in a shop of her own.

The late Carl Peter Faberge who was named master goldsmith of the world is the idol of Mrs. Judson. It was he who started the egg artistry when he elaborately decorated an egg with jewels as an Easter gift for the Czar of Russia.

The local egg buff has been too busy the past two years to complete the pain painstaking task of an egg though she has many that she has completed before she went to work in several factories about the city. Presently she is "laid off" from Tecumseh Products Co.

Her husband, Fred II, supports her hobby and both are active church workers at West Adrian United Church of Christ where they helped with Young People. Mrs. Judson sings in the choir, is a deaconess and member of the church board.

She also likes to paint pastel oils and has one started in her living room now.

Mr. Judson has been employed with both the local police department and in Ann Arbor and is presently on plant protection at Fisher Body Division here. Both like archery and guns.

They have four children, Monaca, 12; Simon, 10; Fred III, seven; and Renee, five.

Naturally they all enjoy egg art, too, and have already started to try their hands at it.

Indians Stop Carlson, 8-3

The Tecumseh Indians baseball squad opened their season by getting the kind of pitching and hitting Head Coach Jim Curth said they would need to win.

Craig Smith pitched a strong game and was backed by eight hits as the Indians rolled over Gibraltar Carlson last Wednesday, 8-3.

Smith went the distance, allowing only four hits. He had his strikeout pitch working seven times, walked only one and hit one batsman.

Tecumseh scored in every other inning, getting their first tally in the first inning, coming back with four more in the third and closing out the scoring with three more in the fifth inning.

Carlson, meanwhile, shut out by Smith through the first three innings, picked up their first run in the fourth and collected their last two in the sixth inning.

Rich Hierholzer was the leading Indian hitter, banging out three hits in three appearances at the plate and driving in one run. Smith chipped in with two hits, one going for a double.

One of Steve Camfield's two hits was the big blow of the game, a bases loaded double in the third inning which cleared the bases.

Tecumseh was aided by four Carlson errors, while committing only one miscue in the field.

Smith took the win with Dan Gunder behind the plate. Musser and Cole pitched for Carlson while Hart and McNair divided the catching time.

Well, it happened – we encountered the first two and, with absolutely no looking at all, I am sure there are all sorts of good excuses just waiting to be used and so, next week I will tell you about the Duncan's Doings in Florida.

$5,000 in Damages by Vandals at School

A 15-year-old boy confessed to police Tuesday morning and then implicated four other juveniles in the afternoon to the worst case of vandalism to hit the Tecumseh schools in many years.

Robert Irish, Tecumseh police officer who headed the investigation, reported the youth admitted to the vandalism which incurred damages up to $5,000 at Tecumseh Acres Elementary School early Saturday evening.

The local police officer said fingerprints and footprints left at the scene matched. Both the boy and his parents were questioned Tuesday morning at the police station.

The police hoped to question and take statements from the other four juveniles Wednesday. At the present, the 15-year-old is in the custody of his parents.

Damages, complete or partial destruction, include an $1,800 TV camera, $1,100 TV tape deck, $350 TV receiver, $300 electric typewriter, $600 glass breakage, plus damages to file cabinets, adding machine, ditto machine, copying machine and a record player.

A tape recorder, valued at $70, also was taken as was a microphone. It took janitorial employees of the school six manhours Sunday to clean up the mess, concentrated in a general office and the principal's office.

Glass breakage, all plate glass, included both offices, two first grade rooms, two second grade rooms, one third grade and an exterior rear door where a glass panel was removed before gaining entry.

The malicious destruction was almost unbelieveable. Both offices were literally ripped apart - file cabinets tipped over, typewriter thrown to the tiled, concrete floor, records and materials scattered about, desks toppled onto the equipment, expensive TV camera broken from its tripod and left in a corridor, and more.

Rocks were thrown through plate glass windows in two classrooms. All classroom damage was confined to one wing of the building. Some classroom closets and desks were ransacked, but apparently money was not sought.

About $2 was taken in the spree, but other money, all small sums, were overlooked but were there for the taking.

Fortunately, a solid wood door leading to a storage room for movie projectors and other expensive equipment was locked and entry was not gained. School officials also are thankful that large glass cabinets in the main foyer were not broken. The school's library, gym and other accessible rooms and areas, although some were locked apparently were not touched.

Tecumseh police were alerted by a neighbor of the school about 9:25 Saturday night when the school's fire alarm went off. The neighbor called the police, and then went to the school. Two boys, 14 and 16 years old, were in the area and were the immediate suspects. They were later cleared of the vandalism.

When the police arrived, the alarm was still on, and it rings continuously for seven to 10 minutes.

The glass panel from the rear door was discovered some 100 yards or more south of the building Monday afternoon. When first discovered the panel was cracked and intact. When the police picked it up later, the panel had been moved and smashed.

Robert Duhan, assistant school superintendent and successor to James McDowell, July 1, was in the building about 6 p.m. Saturday and noticed nothing out of order.

Later that evening, he was summoned by the police to find the two offices wrecked and five classrooms damaged. Glass was strewn over a wide area of the hallway.

During Tuesday's interrogation of the 15-year-old, police learned that he also had broken into the Community Center Monday night. A small amount of change and some keys were taken.

They were recovered from the boy's room along with numerous other items, which he reportedly admitted taken from stores in downtown Tecumseh.

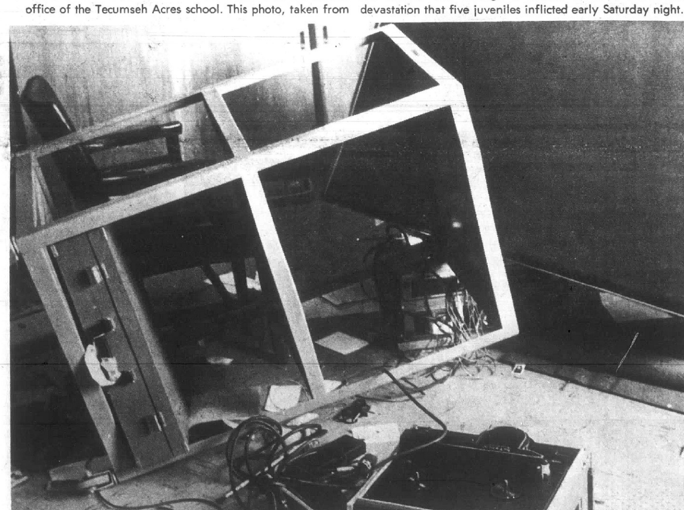

MALICIOUS — Destruction was the heaviest in the central office of the Tecumseh Acres school. This photo, taken from the corridor and through a broken window, shows the devastation that five juveniles inflicted early Saturday night.

City Limits Refuse

First two weeks of May have been scheduled by the city for picking up large items - such as appliances, furniture and tree limbs - but not grass clippings, leaves and other similar debris.

In his report to Council Monday night, Cal Zorn, city manager, explained that he felt the city was taken advantage of last year when approximately 80 percent of the refuse placed at the curb could have been disposed through regular refuse collections.

Apparently, many residents in town who already have placed plastic bags of clippings at the curbs will have to dump them in the regular Weaver sacks and leave them for the city's contracted collector for removal - or take the refuse themselves to the Walker Landfill.

PRINCIPAL'S OFFICE — Mrs. Marguerite Garlick, school principal, would have had trouble identifying her office after this vandalism. A TV tape deck at the bottom of the photo and the TV receiver, shown under Mrs. Garlick's desk, were on the metal stand tipped over. Both offices had records and equipment scattered, some out of closets, cabinet files, and desks.

Board Tells Teachers Jobs Are in Jeopardy

Tecumseh School Board decided Monday night to seek a renewal of 14 mills and necessary additional millage on one ballot at the June 14 election.

The total millage, to be reached after the Board learns the finalization of the equalized value for the district and state aid plans, will be for one year.

Acknowledging the possibility that the millage might not pass, the Board has notified 162 teachers in the schools that their jobs are in jeopardy next fall.

Following is a report from Supt. James McDowell, and it includes a letter from Board secretary, Mrs. Catherine Cobb, to the teachers:

The Board of Education has notified its 162 Professional Staff Members by letter that their jobs are in jeopardy. This action followed discussion of the financial difficulties of the schools of Michigan and those of the Tecumseh system. Most Michigan schools are faced with the same problem as are our schools, lack of funds to operate for the 1971-72 school year. At this time it appears that the schools will not be able to open in the fall unless voted property taxes are passed before September or state aid is increased.

The letter given to each professional employee at a general meeting in the high school library reads as follows:

"The only major source of income left to our schools other than State Aid is an 8½ mill allocation established within the 15 mill tax limitation allowed by the State Constitution. All schools at present must levy at least 10 mills to share fully in State Aid. Out aid would be cut for 1971-72 unless this district levied at least 10 mills. The district now has voted 14 mill operational tax which runs out this year.

The Tecumseh Schools, having had a balance from 1969-70, has used approximately 1½ mills more than levied for this year. In other words, in order to break even we would have had to levy 15½ mills. With the closing of St. Elizabeth's approximately 155 children will be enrolled for the first time in our schools. Even with State Aid for those children we will be short approximately an additional ½ mill in our budget. This does not include the money necessary to furnish six classrooms for these children. Actually with the salary increases guaranteed you last year for 1971-72 we cannot fund the programs as they are without approval of proposed operating millage.

The Board of Education will submit a millage proposition to the electors on the 14th day of June 1971. If the results of this election are favorable, and if State Aid is not reduced the Board will issue contracts to the probationary teachers presently employed as well as to the tenure teachers.

We are hopeful that our financial resources soon will be more definite so we may plan to continue at least the kind of educational programs we have maintained in past years. "Signed, Catherine R. Cobb, Secretary."

Some of the reasons causing the financial situation leading up to the decision of the Board to notify staff members are:

1. The unwillingness of the legislature to provide fiscal reform and thus provide increased funds for schools.

2. The need for additional property taxes which must be voted before September.

3. The passing of the tenure law by the legislature which provides security for every teacher on the job after two years of probation.

4. The passing of the law permitting negotiation of wages, hours and conditions of employment by the legislature whereby the teacher associations have increased control over wages, class loads, etc.

5. The requirement by the State of Michigan that all schools must be open 180 days and provide 900 hours of instruction per year. This eliminates the possibility of running half days as some schools have done in the past.

6. The decision of the supreme court that the textbooks, paper, pencils and other school supplies shall be provided free to pupils.

7. The increased number of children moving into our district as well as the general increase of school age children.

8. The closing of St. Elizabeth's school and the resulting need to supply both class rooms and teachers for these 155 additional children who have been educated in the past at no cost in property taxes in our district.

9. The reduction of state funding for special programs such as reading, special education, vocational education and others.

10. The changes in the rules for operating Federal Programs and reduction in funds for same.

11. The lack of school space for operating efficiently, bus transportation to move children from one location to another due to overcrowding has increased.

12. The holding back of state aid payments, 40 percent short in February and April, thus causing the schools to borrow money to operate and thus increasing the cost because of interest paid on money due the schools and withheld by the State.

Unless the citizens of the Tecumseh School District decide at the polls that they will support additional voted millage, the Tecumseh Schools cannot, under the rules laid down by the State of Michigan at present, open in the fall. Therefore the professional staff has been made aware that their positions may be nonexistant in the fall.

No Blood for Bank

Monday's bloodmobile visit at Clinton Monday was a complete failure, and officials here blame regulations.

According to regulations, a physician must be present during the time that nurses draw blood. Local officials learned that such is not the practice in Detroit and many other areas, where they merely have a doctor on call.

Since others just "wink" at the regulation, physicians planned the same for Clinton. They figured that a doctor on call would suffice, as it does elsewhere.

Apparently, the Lansing nurses in charge of the blood bank thought otherwise, refused to draw blood, and went back to Lansing without an ounce of blood. Reportedly, the nurses said that relaxing the regulation in their district did not apply.

Local physicians feel it is a waste of their time to sit around for two or three hours with nothing to do when their services could be utilized elsewhere.

Budget Hearing

Council voted Monday night to schedule the annual public hearing for the fiscal budget on May 10.

Officials plan a special meeting next Monday evening to review the budget.

Church To Use School Facilities

Officials, acting for St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, notified the Tecumseh schools Monday morning that church school facilities would not be leased to the public schools.

A church spokesman said that the classrooms there would be used regularly for religious courses and that the church already has interviewed prospects as a religious coordinator.

When such a director is employed, further details about the program will be developed and released; however, present plans call for using the church school facilities throughout the day, and they will be used also for purposes other than religious courses.

Monday night, the Tecumseh School Board proceeded with plans to lease 10 portable classrooms for the 1971-72 school year.

Five bids were received with the lowest at $11,498 from Capp Homes. These units are to be investigated before any formal Board action.

Ladies of the Goldenaires presented an unique and their first style show Wednesday at Community Center with Mrs. Truman Rentschler as narrator. Lillian Hoagland modeled a 106 year old trousseau outfit made by Addie Butrick, great aunt of Mrs. Dean Van Valkenburg, who expected to be married when her lover came home after the Civil War. He never returned.

Miss Butrick lived to be 85 but the dainty chemise, pantalettes and nightie never gladdened the heart of a bride. A picture was taken of the models in hope that it may be printed in a later issue of The Herald. Interesting, too, was the "hot pant" outfit contrived by Frances Hewlett.

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

TRAVELS WITH THE DUNCANS

....or, JUMPING THE SEASONS. A few years ago Edwin Way Teale wrote an exceptionally good book, NORTH WITH SPRING. It was a chronicle of the journey he and his wife took which started at the tip of Florida on the first day of spring and followed the progression of the season northward.

Well, the Duncans did almost the opposite. On the 14th of March we pointed the white wagon south and quickly drove into spring; in fact, we drove through spring and landed right smack in the middle of summer. It was great!

This was a different kind of vacation for us, many firsts. It was our first holiday in Florida and it was almost our first experience with consistently good weather on a trip. We even left Tecumseh on a beautifully warm and sunny day. (Apparently that was one of the few nice days you had during the next four weeks.)

The wind was strong but the bright sunshine pouring through the car windows soon had the three of us out of sweaters and, shortly after crossing the Ohio line, the air conditioner was flipped on. This was to be the pattern – warm weather, strong winds and air conditioning. Not a bad pattern.

Tecumseh in mid-March was still winter bound--even the pretty weather could not change the naked trees and dead-brown lawns. However, just out of Cincinnati, Ohio, we detected a tinge of green on the trees and no, it was not imagination nor wishful thinking.

Just south of Dry Ridge, Ky., there was a very noticeable wash of red on the tree buds. At six o'clock Monday morning we were rudely awakened and our hearts sank as we listened to driving rain, howling winds, and not quite deafening thunder. Was this going to be a repeat of other vacations weatherwise?

As you already know, it was not. We all turned over, went back to sleep and woke several hours later to a beautiful day. The storm had blown away – we did hear, however, that a small twister or two had touched down not too far from the motel.

One radio station knocked out and several barns down. Thankfully no visable damage was done to the white fences and white barns which are so typical of this lovely horse country.

We truly drove into spring Monday. In London, Ky., the trees were well leafed out, the lawns beautifully green and oh, so pretty with crocuses in full bloom. In Knoxville, Tenn., there were daffodils and tulips blossoming and, just after crossing into Georgia, we began noticing fruit trees covered with blooms.

By the time Atlanta whizzed by, mockingbirds and butterflies were plentiful. Spanish moss and palm trees had us oohing and aahing even before the Florida line was reached.

FLORIDA–whole articles will be devoted to the Sunshine State. It was summer down there. At least, to us it was. The 'natives' kept apologizing for the wind and lack of flowers but the Duncans, perhaps merely because of not knowing any better, thought the citrus blossoms, the azaleas, the bouganvillaeas, the roses were all glorious. As for wind, the folks down south should know what we lived with all winter.

Our journey home was, of course, a regression into the seasons. Monday, April 5, as we drove from Apollo Beach, which is south of Tampa, Fla., to Valdosta, Ga., a steady and hard downpour was our one rainy day.

Florida needed rain so badly that we could only be glad for them and hope it was a statewide drenching. Actually the rain did not hinder us as it let up when we packed the car in the morning and then again when we unpacked in the late afternoon.

Hurrying homeward--the mountains in northern Georgia and southern Tennessee were beautiful with dogwood and redbud in full bloom; the remnants of the eight inch snowfall the day before was very much in evidence too; Cumberland Falls in Kentucky was disappointingly devoid of signs of springtime but from Berea, Ky., to just north of Cincinnati, Ohio, the forsythia, and even the dandelions, were a bright and beautiful yellow.

How strange it seemed to arrive home, have the sun shine brightly but the lawns only in the very earliest stages of thinking green and the trees still not showing the faintest hint of a leaf.

Dear Editor:

This is a letter concerning Lt. Calley's court martialing. We feel if Lt. Calley is to be court martialed the whole U.S. Military in Vietnam and in charge of affairs of Vietnam would also have to be court martialed.

Our military is taught to shoot or be shot and if Lt. Calley hadn't shot he would probably have been on trial for not shooting.

Being in Vietnam is more punishment than can ever be given here. He has seen buddies shot down and torn apart, he's also seen bloodshed from both sides of the fences.

Through the strong publicity surrounding this case, the feeling of the public should be known by now. If something is not done soon, everything may come to a head and rebellion may result.

The strongest or most dominant feeling the GI's know is the feeling of killing. If we could trust the people on the other side we wouldn't be involved in the war, in Vietnam you don't know who to trust.

A very young child or woman can be friendly and kind and the next day could kill you. The GI's know no sex, age or color, only enemies.

How long will this poor "scapegoat" have to wait in the hell he has been put in doing his duty. If he had been a rebel or a draft dodger, he wouldn't be in this predicament. But he chose to fight or possibly even lose his life to protect his country.

We feel that this situation has and will continue to torment servicemen and Americans in the fight to keep our country "unified". In order to cool off our nation let's get Lt. Calley out of this sad situation.

Sincerely yours,
Concerned U.S. History Students
Mr. Roesch 7th hour class

Dear Editor:

Is justice served by punishing one man, Lt. Wm. L. Calley Jr., for an act committed in a war between nations?

America is at the crossroads. It could do much good for humanity's sake were we to take the following steps:

1. Restore full freedom and military honors and pay to Lieutenant William L. Calley Jr. with the public apology due him.

2. Demand members of Congress and President Nixon to exert every effort for the return of our prisoners of war.

3. Settle an undeclared war at a peace table and return our servicemen from Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, etc. immediately.

4. Instant use of our human resources in making and restoring America and other parts of the world.

Will you take the time to ask your friends, neighbors, clubs, churches, to write, telephone or wire without delay to President Richard M. Nixon and members of Congress, Washington, D.C.

And on behalf of our prisoners of war, won't you also write for their release?

To: President Tom Duc Thang, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, c-o American Red Cross Help our P.O.W.'s, Box 1600, Washington, D.C. 20013

Let's all keep writing, working, praying, until victory is achieved.

Sincerely,
Margaret Gordon

Lynn's Practice Pays Off

by Dorothy Grigg

"Practice, practice, practice and I hated it," Lynn Peck said Friday when she was telling about her study of music and her most recent instrument, the oboe.

"If my mother hadn't made me practice, I wonder where I would be today," remarked the demure eighth grade student who now enjoys practicing whether it be piano, saxophone, organ or her beloved oboe.

She first became interested in a double reeded instrument last summer when she attended the music camp at Interlochen with her sax. She tried a bassoon and it was too large for the petite musician but when she tried the oboe the first time, she new it was the one for her, rather like falling in love.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Peck, 509 W. Chicago Blvd., weren't too interested at first but when they had a serious talk with their daughter, they realized she really did want the rare instrument for her very own.

After playing the plastic one at the school for a time, the Pecks started a hunt for one that would be just right for Lynn.

She says, "An oboe is a very personal thing, you never buy one without first trying it. It takes lip work to make the proper tones and notes, not like the sax, when you push a key you have the note.

"It's a little like a cornet, when you teeth touch the keys you go flat, if you have water in the keys, you can drop a whole octave. The instrument is a challenge and I love it." said the talented young lady.

It's like a violin, it takes experimentation and the difference between the nice rich tone of the wood one and that of the plastic is unbelievable," she trilled.

They found the expensive woodwind in Dearborn and "learned an awful lot" while trying to buy it.

Dr. Ron Odmark said, "Remember, no one touches it but you, it is susceptible to weather, never leave it in the car and silver keys will tarnish so clean it carefully every time you use it."

"When you are ready to sell it bring it back to me. I sold a good instrument and would like to resell it. Good ones are hard to find," said the oboist with Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Next came the making of her own reeds for Miss Peck. Machine made wooden ones which she didn't find too satisfactory come at $3 each and fibercane at $7. They last longer but tone quality leaves something to be desired so she went to work making her own and only recently came up with one that satisfied her.

"One thing about a reed, it's never finished because you keep working on it to make it better." "You can try them and adjust them to fit you need." She can make one in half an hour now with the knife her father made for her from a wood file and a broom handle.

Lynn plays with Lenawee County Pops Orchestra directed by Dennis Kisor, her oboe teacher. She hopes to one day play in a big orchestra and go to University of Michigan to study—but not what one might think. She wants to major in medicine to be an anesthesiologist and minor in music.

She has applied to go to Interlochen again this year and will probably be accepted because the oboe applicants are few.

Those people who do not like to practice could take a lesson from Lynn who says, "It's a lot of fun and I love the challenge of the instruments."

Burke Discusses 'Art Appreciation'

CLINTON–Thomas Burke, art professor at Siena Heights College, gave an informative talk on "Art Appreciation" for members and guests attending the spring luncheon of the Clinton Woman's Club Wednesday.

Mr. Burke was introduced by Mrs. Roy Bower. He illustrated his talk with a film strip. Tracing man's early use of sculpture as a replica of man and his attitudes, Mr. Burke showed the evolutionary concept toward modern art, in its abstract forms.

He suggested that one "Not judge modern art too quickly," study it and learn to understand it, and it can become "a friend."

Mr. Burke will have a collection of his charcoal sketches and black and white etchings in a three-man showing at the Ron Michael Gallery, Toledo, Ohio, May 21 to June 10.

Attending the luncheon at Roumell's were 58 women, including members and 19 guests. President Mrs. Jane Mabry extended the welcome and introduced the guests and past presidents in attendance, Mrs. Ted Kiebler, Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Daniel Reilly and Mrs. Ralph Reed.

Committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Maxwell Stamats, Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Nick Karapas, Mrs. John Monaghan and Mrs. Harlon Ruhl.

Mrs. Monaghan, recently elected president for the 1971-72 year, requested all the present committees to remain in office.

Mrs. Ruhl and Mrs. Mabry plan to attend the County Federation spring luncheon this week.

Speaker's table was enhanced with an arrangement of vivid red carnations, and officers wore matching carnation corsages.

WELL KEPT SECRET — Many employees at Faraday knew little or nothing about the company's program for developing a mini-cartridge that could revolutionize the music industry. Two did, Dale Koopman, left, Director of the Audio Products Group, and Robert Beutler, engineer who devoted fulltime to the project. Faraday has now developed the "Cartrette," displayed here by Mr. Beutler, and the "Cartrette" tape player, held by Mr. Koopman. These two smaller products are equal or superior in stereophonic sound — and cost less — than older, larger models shown on the table.

Faraday's Mini-Cartridge Revolutionary for Music

A tiny cartridge, measuring approximately two inches square and a quarter-inch deep, not only won regional honors as Michigan's product of the year award, but it may kick off a new era for Tecumseh's Faraday, Inc.

Last week at Ann Arbor, judges selected the cartridge, called "Cartrette," as the top regional product from Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw counties. It will represent these counties in the state contest, scheduled to start Friday at Lansing.

The Cartrette resulted after 15 months work at the local plant, and it may eventually involve a million dollar investment, Frederick J. Kluin, company president, pointed out.

"I believe that in five years that all juke boxes will be all Cartrettes," Mr. Kluin predicts. Those who have heard the stereo sound from the mini-cartridge can hardly dispute this prediction.

In comparison to the eight-track and cassette cartridges, Cartrette will probably sell to the consumer from $1.00 to $3.98, while pre-recorded eight-track cartridges are currently selling at $6.98 and $7.98.

In view of the potential, Faraday already has patents in practically every country and expects to license other companies for production, which is expected to start next fall.

"We can't possibly produce enough Cartrettes and the Cartrette tape players here at Faraday," Mr. Kluin explains.

This statement preceded his announcement that Faraday expects to expand next spring, adding 17,000 square feet for Cartrette manufacturing and about 4,000 square feet for general office.

Employment will jump 125 from the current 275-300 employment figure.

The Cartrette has other advantages besides the attractive, low price. It is so small that auto designers will be able to fit the equally small tape player into a car's dash, instead of hanging the tape player below.

Designs also include developing it for the teenager who may want to carry it around, the same as transistor radios are now toted about.

Although extremely small, it has equal or superior stereo quality than the cassette. And, it will have 80-minute monaural or 40-minute stereophonic playing time.

Product-of-the-Year award for Faraday would be stupendous, as the award is one of the most coveted honors a company can receive.

Competition is keen as the regional contests proved: S.E. "Bunky" Knudsen of Rectrans, a $17,000 plush motor home; Merit Engineering of Monroe, a unique mail box indicator; and Michigan Ladder Co. of Ann Arbor, a new concept in table tennis tops and tables.

Regional judges included Kenneth McElroy, president of United Savings Bank of Tecumseh; Mrs. Hazel Proctor, advertising manager for Ann Arbor Federal Savings and Loan Association; John Parke, president of Precision Stamping Co., Brighton; and Joseph P. Maroon, vice president of Peoples Federal Savings and Loan, Monroe.

Admits Hoax

A 15-year-old boy falsely implicated four other juveniles last week in vandalism at Tecumseh Acres school.

After being confronted with the other boys-two of which were out of town at the time of the vandalism - the 15-year-old admitted that he had falsely implicated the others, Police Chief Murell Clark reports.

The high school youth has been released in the custody of his parents. A hearing before juvenile authorities is expected to be scheduled soon.

Damages at the school could run as high as $5,000, school officials report. Equipment has been forwarded to manufacturers to determine if repairs are possible, or replacements will be required.

Officer Robert Irish heads the investigation for the local police.

Services Are Held for Diane Forsyth

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church for Diane J. Forsyth, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Forsyth, 407 E. Logan St. and a 1970 graduate from Tecumseh High School.

DIANE FORSYTH

She was killed Wednesday evening of last week when her car rolled over on Liberty Rd., near Ann Arbor. She was alone and enroute home after leaving her job with Michigan Bell Telephone in Ann Arbor.

In high school, Miss Forsyth was a member of the Future Nurses Club, Student Council, chorus, Latin Club, participated in the junior class play and was active in the Teen Club.

The popular student also was employed at Don's Contented Sole, Herrick Memorial Hospital and Herrick Nursing Home before she accepted a position as an operator for Michigan Bell.

She was born in Adrian on Feb. 17, 1952.

Survivors, besides the parents, are twin brothers, Dean and Dale; sister, Lynn, a student nurse at Riverside Hospital, Toledo; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forsyth of Adrian and Mrs. Eugene McCarty of Deerfield.

The Rev. Fr. Robert Handley officiated at the services. Burial was in the Deerfield Cemetery.

A Scripture reading was held Friday evening at the Proctor Funeral Home, which was in charge of arrangements.

Band Tag Day Friday, Saturday

Tecumseh Band Boosters tag day will be Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Members will be stationed at various points in the downtown area and at other locations in the city.

Headquarters for tag day is Bancroft Cleaners, 127 W. Chicago Blvd., with Mrs. Lyle Harper as chairman.

Proceeds from the sales will be used for the David Day Scholarship Fund.

Refuse Pickups Start Next Week

Free city pickups of limbs and major appliances will start next week, and will continue through the following week.

City officials remind residents the refuse collection is for large items only, and that leaves and grass clippings can be put in their regular Weaver sacks for pickup.

200 Expected for Auto Show

More than 200 persons and 40 automobiles are expected in Tecumseh May 2, when owners of Kaiser-Frazer, Henry J. Darrin, Willys and Jeepster cars hold the Spring "Seaway" Regional meet at the IOOF Hall, Green Hwy.

Local meet is being hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Campbell, 642 Jackson St., Clinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle, Belleville. Mr. Mericle is now serving his second term as president of KFOC International, which has a membership of 1,500 staunch members.

BERNARDO ALVAREZ

Young Vet Is Killed

Bernardo R. Alvarez, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tereslo Alvarez of Ridgeway, was killed in action Saturday in Vietnam while checking a bunker complex when a boobie trap detonated.

He is the eighth area serviceman to be killed in Vietnam.

Pvt. Alvarez was born Oct. 22, 1951 in Tecumseh, and was graduated from St. Elizabeth School and Tecumseh High School in 1968.

He was employed at Tecumseh Corrugated Box., Co. before entering the U.S. Army May 26, 1970. He received training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Fort Benning, Ga. and Fort Ord, Calif. before going to Vietnam Jan. 9, 1971.

The serviceman married Alice Lopez on Dec. 12, 1970. She lives and is employed in Jackson.

Survivors include his parents, four brothers Tony, Frankie, Ramsey and Michael, one stepbrother, Robert, and one sister, Mary, all at home.

Funeral arrangements have yet to be made.

Council Reviews 1971-72 Budget

City Council met for over two hours Monday night, reviewing a proposed budget for the 1971-72 fiscal year.

Report Due Next Week

If factors for assessments are to be applied to the city and townships, the citizens will learn of them early next week.

The county equalization committee is meeting with supervisors this week and has already reviewed records turned in by the supervisors.

In a report to the Tecumseh schools, factors were indicated for nearly all townships and Tecumseh. These factors would increase property assessments and total taxes to be paid by the property owners.

City Manager Cal Zorn feels the city is "very close" to the required 50 percent equalization assessment, more so than many other government units which come under the county committee's jurisdiction.

Start Approaches for Driveways

Driveway approaches, scheduled last year but delayed by other work, will be started early in May, Cal Zorn, city manager, reports.

These approaches will be constructed on streets which recently received curb and gutter.

Streets include S. Occidental Rd., Shady Lane, Murray Dr., Orchard Lane, Burt St. and S. Evans St.

$693.60 Raised by Garden Club

Little Garden Club members raised $693.60 Friday for the Adams Park Fund with tag day sales. They were assisted by members of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Students contributed $107.99 of the proceeds in cannisters placed in the schools bringing total contributions now to about $4,000.

Garden Club members hope to proceed with some of the landscaping this spring. They were happy that 3,500 tags were distributed Friday to as many contributors, making it truly a park for all, young people and adults.

2 Injured In Crash

Two women were hospitalized here early Sunday morning when their car crashed into a Consumers Power pole on W. Kilbuck St., shutting off power to a section of Tecumseh for approximately three hours.

Taken to Herrick Hospital were Mavis J. Neville, 30, of 106 E. Kilbuck St., and Rose M. Opel, 17, of 909 Murray Dr. Miss opel, passenger in the car, is still confined at the hospital with lacerations and chest injuries.

Mrs. Neville was cited for failure to have her car under control.

A resume of the accidents is:

April 20 - Henry R. Hendrix, 70, Adrian was cited for failure to yield after a mishap with Alvin R. Myers, 82, of 207 Bidwell, at N. Pearl and W. Shawnee St.

April 20 - Allan A. Ruff, 45, of 9480 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., was charged with operating a car with defective brakes after an accident with Billy R. Engle, 19, Raisin Center Hwy. Mishap occurred on S. Evans St.

April 23 - Fred W. Miller, 32, Petroleum, Ind., was charged with an improper right turn after colliding with Raymond P. Ruff, 50, of 402 N. Union, at the intersection of Chicago Blvd. and Evans St.

April 23 - Patricia D. Cote, 21, of 134½ E. Chicago, was cited for an improper right turn after a mishap with Steven E. Johnson, 23, of 1807 Raisin Center Hwy. Accident happened at N. Evans and Chicago Blvd.

April 24 - Daniel D. Barrow, 28, of 10655 Britton Hwy., was charged with driving left of center after hitting James R. Erb, 31, Adrian, at the intersection of E. Logan and N. Ottawa St.

GONE FOREVER — Familiar second story at the fire station is gone forever as this photo by Cortland Hunt caught a section of the building on its way to the ground. Benedict & Cheever, contractors, already have footers in and blocks laid to ground level for the new addition, scheduled for completion later this year.

Idea Wins 2nd Place

Allen Bordine, former Tecumseh resident and son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bordine, W. Pottawatamie St., was awarded second prize last month in a national contest seeking "The 100 Top Non-Foods Merchandising Ideas of 1970."

As a salesman for J.A. Conley Co. of Canton, Ohio, where the Bordines reside, Allen submitted his "versatile brick house" display idea which proved successful in a Barberton supermarket. His was selected second high among 1,000 entries.

Four more of Bordine's ideas were pictured in Service Merchandisers of America's book of 100 winning ways and the company board recently voted Bordine senior salesman.

He attended Malone College after graduation from high school here and met his wife, Janice, there. The couple have two children, Jimmy, 4, and Sara, 1.

Weather Stops Cleanup

Inclement weather caused the postponement of Saturday's cleanup scheduled here in observance of Earth Week. Although the turnout of workers was good, it was decided to wait until May 1 when the residents are asked to meet at Community Center at 9 a.m.

Representatives of local organizations held a meeting April 26 and mapped out areas of the City where work should be done.

Kids Work For Earth Week

Brisk weather caused Jaycees to postpone the Pollution Parade and clean-up day in the City last Saturday until this Saturday.

However, children from the Tipton Elementary School were not deterred by the weather.

First, second and fifth graders planted 15 seedling trees, a variety of spruce, pine and oak, about the school grounds Friday.

Saturday, they began a clean-up at the River Raisin near the baseball diamond, and worked their way part of the way to the Community Center, filling three large garbage sacks with bottles and trash.

Water samples were brought back form the river to be tested.

The children and their teacher, Robert Pardee, also spent some time around Tipton on Carson, Munger and Beebe Roads, picking up cans and bottles.

Benefit Show Nets $175 Profit

Ticket sales resulted in $175.50 profit from a benefit performance by the Tecumseh Players on April 15 for Adams Park Fund.

Besides entire door proceeds, the Players paid the royalty on the play, and Little Garden Club members sold tickets.

Walt Hochrein donated paper for them to use in making the tickets, and Tecumseh Recreation Department donated use of the Community Center for the one night performance.

Mrs. Earl Baldwin, of the park fund committee, expressed gratitude for the generous donations and said she hoped it would spur others to arrange benefits for "their" park.

"It will belong to the people and we want them to enjoy it," she said.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Mighty heart warming, the Tennessee school teacher who was awarded teacher of the year honors recently. In an interview on the Today show, she said that she attributed her success with children to finding their interests and working with them and being prepared to "take them where you find them."

She had an understanding husband, too, who felt that children are important and helps his wife in her efforts to forward education. She also stated that she visits homes to learn more about her students and welcomes their parents at school. These may be pretty old fashioned ideas but they still work in some places.

History of Adams Park

by Marge Comfort

When is a park not a park?

Around Tecumseh, a park became a schoolyard, a cemetery became a park and a parade ground became a home for rackets and books.

As detailed by Clara Waldron in her book, "Tecumseh - 100 Years A Country Town", public lands' uses have changed, but they have been held securely for the public trust.

Miss Waldron notes sadly that of the four public lands in the original plat of Tecumseh, laid out by Austin Wing and recorded by Musgrove Evans in 1824, not one is now being used for the original purpose, yet, the people of Tecumseh might be the winners after all. They still have those four lands, and one is going back to its original purpose.

Mr. Wing purchased the original town site for the Tecumseh Company, donating four areas for public use. They were:

Military Square: This was the first area to fall to "progress." When the first railroad line came through town in 1838, a three-rod strip (18 feet) on the west side was given for the right-of-way. The site now holds the city's tennis courts and Tecumseh Public Library.

Burying Ground: As the population grew, and epidemics passed through this area, people became nervous about having the cemetery right in the middle of town. After a short feud outlined by Miss Waldron in her book, the graves were all removed to Brookside Cemetery. The site, at Kilbuck between S. Ottawa and S. Evans Sts., now is the site of Scout Cabin and is called Elliot Park.

Court House Square: The furor over this site has lasted for nearly 150 years, but the land was cherished by five generations of Tecumsehites.

Tecumseh's founders won the coveted designation of county seat, a political plum producing – hopefully – profits and prestige.

The court house was built in 1828-29, at the corner of the present E. Chicago Blvd. and S. Maumee St. The jail was immediately in back of the building, about where the city's water stand pipe now rises.

When Adrian wrestled the county seat from Tecumseh and the court house was abandoned, the square was claimed by Peter R. Adams.

Mr. Adams owned land south of the square. He had come to Tecumseh in 1830 with his young bride, and built her a splendid home which still stands at the southwest corner of S. Maumee and Pottawatamie Sts.

He was a bright and able man, from Miss Waldron's research, organizing a bank, editing a newspaper, managing large areas of farm land and practicing his profession of law. He held several public offices, including prosecuting attorney and was a representative to Michigan's original Constitution Convention.

Mr. Wing, who had died in 1849, apparently never had deeded the town site property he bought for the Tecumseh Company to that company. Mr. Adams presented what he said was a deed for Court House Square, given to him by Mr. Wing's heirs. The deed was refused recognition.

After a "running fued with authorities which included even boarding up the entrance stiles" to the land, according to Miss Waldron, Mr. Adams finally gave a quit-claim deed to the area to the town in 1866, on condition that the building be sold to the highest bidder (it brought $150), and the money be used to beautify the land "as a pleasure park forever."

And a beautiful spot Adams Park was, until the graceful trees, wading pool and picnic tables gave way - over many protests - to a new post office.

Public Pleasure Promenade: At last, Tecumseh is going to regain the use of a park as it was meant to be.

The promenade lasted only until 1868, when it was given to the board of education as a site for East Branch School. In 1953, the land was turned over to the city as a site for City Hall.

But now, thanks to the dedication of a few and the hard work and cooperation of many, Tecumsehites soon will be able to promenade through this park again.

The new Adams Park next to City Hall will have several walkways for strollers and benches where they can rest their feet while they watch a decorative fountain and lovely trees and shrubs.

Engagement of Judith Lou Irwin to Philip Lee LaGore is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Irwin, 5382 Milwaukee St. Bride-to-be is a 1970 graduate of Onsted High School. She will enter School of Practical Nursing, Ann Arbor, in the fall. Mr. LaGore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin LaGore, 8284 Slee Rd., Onsted. He is a graduate of Onsted High School and is a senior at Adrian College. An August wedding will be held in First Presbyterian Church.

Tracy Mengerink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mengerink, 207 Pine St., was among 169 students at Kalamazoo College named to the Dean's List for the winter quarter.

Registration Set For Kindergarten

BRITTON--Kindergarten pre-registration for the 1971-72 school year will take place May 13 in the kindergarten room. Parents may register their children from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Kindergarten children entering school in the fall must have reached five years of age before Dec. 1, 1971. Parents of children whose birthdays are later than Sept. 1, should consider whether their child is ready for school.

Registering children at this time will enable the school to organize their kindergarten program for the coming year. Health forms may be picked up so an immunizations program can be begun, which each child must have before he can enter school.

It is important to bring the child's birth certificate. Parents are invited to bring their child in with them when they register.

TRAVEL WITH THE DUNCANS....

....or, CITRUS AND GARDENS. Nothing, no amount of reading or looking or listening, prepares one for the tremendous sight and smell of Florida's citrus groves. Our route, US 27, took us right through the middle of a fruit growing region and it was unbelievable. Row upon row of orange and grapefruit trees for as far as the eye could see.

Dad even zoomed to the top of the Citrus Tower, which is over 200 feet high, and his report was row upon row of orange and grapefruit trees for as far as the eye could see. We never knew there were so many orange trees in the whole world. Interesting to see, orange and grapefruit trees have blossoms, green fruit and ripe fruit all at once.

When a breeze sends a whiff of orange blossoms your way, it is oh, so nice and, as for eating, well, the Duncans drank juice and ate oranges from one end of Florida to the other. Absolutely delicious!

Lakeland proved a good home base from which to take daily drives. Since we could not help the Tigers much, we visited gardens. Our first stop was Cypress Gardens. Magnificent is the only word.

On 220 acres are packed crystal clear lakes, charming canals, eirie stands of water rooted cypress, inviting walkways and the most breathtaking collection of flowers imaginable.

The gardens are, of course, manicured to perfection and camera nuts go absolutely out of their minds. Every three and a half steps offers another 'perfect picture'. Azaleas, bouganvillea and roses were outstanding, so were such exotic things as orchids. It was all too much for one visit.

In addition to its flowers, Cypress Gardens is also famed for its water show. Justly famed. Wheel chairs are well treated in Florida. We found special unloading areas, ramps and consideration most places. Our view of the water show could not have been better, it was in the middle of the front row of the photographers bleachers. The spray kicked up by the skis speckled by glasses.

There are alligators in Cypress Gardens too. Mom was exploring on the other side of the arched bridge, which was a shade too steep for me, and Dad and I were exclaiming over a particular brilliant clump of scarlet azaleas when a complete stranger rushed up and started bubbling with excitement. She simply had to talk to someone.

There was a big alligator just around the curve, she and her husband had spent two and a half days in the gardens looking for alligators and had not discovered any, now there was that giant back there and her husband was at the ballgame, he would meet her in about an hour and a half but she did not know how long an alligator laid in the sun. Her enthusiasm was contagious. We pushed back for a look and a picture – it was a big alligator.

Bock's Singing Tower was lovely but the Gardens and Mountain Lake Sanctuary were one of the few places too hilly and terraced for the wheel chair. There are 53 bells in the tower and a carillon recital is given every day at 3 p.m. We, however, missed that.

The strong winds suddenly turned cold and while the car windows effectively kept it outside, they also muffled the music to silence. The wind was still 'fresh' when we visited the Masterpiece Gardens near Lake Wales; in fact, the breeze plus a fast moving clock sharply curtailed our time there.

The Masterpiece is a reproduction of The Last Supper done in mosaic. More than 300,000 stones in 10,000 different shades of tone and color are skillfully formed into a mosaic measuring 24 feet by 12 feet. Most impressive. Blossoming Bird of Paradise plants were also interesting.

Near Sebring is the Highlands Hammock State Park which we thought was most exciting. Out time there was much too short but it was our first taste of true swamp and jungle wilderness. It was here too that we saw our first anhinga, a water bird whose habit of holding its head and long slender neck out of water when swimming has also earned it the name of snake bird.

Apollo Beach on Tampa Bay was another good base from which to take daily drives. Busch Gardens in Tampa was the destination of one of these. Absolutely fantastic. The beautiful landscaping was as well manicured as was that at Cypress Gardens. Roses!

In addition they have an excellent collection of tropical birds – the parrot and macaw show was amazing and much of our time was spent near the ponds where there were flamingos, swans, roseate spoonbills and scarlet ibis. As with Cypress Gardens, Busch Gardens have just too much to offer for just one visit, they both call for another tour next year.

Win 2 of 3 Games

BRITTON–The Tories baseball squad was in River Raisin action three times last week, and came away with wins over Deerfield and Whiteford and lost a tight game to Summerfield.

Against the Minutemen of Deerfield Monday, the Tories scored three times in the fifth inning and five more in the sixth to break open a close game and went on for an easy 10-2 win.

Greg Hamilton took the win, allowing only five hits. Dan Warren and Hamilton each collected two hits for Britton.

On Tuesday, the Tories were throttled on just three hits by Jack Trombley of Summerfield and dropped a 4-2 decision.

The loss was tagged on Sam Bates, who gave up seven hits.

The Tories did all their scoring in the fourth inning against Whiteford Thursday and held on for a 4-3 win.

Three singles, two sacrifices and an error brought in four runs for the Tories as they came from behind after being down 3-0 at the end of the third inning.

Greg Hamilton got the win in relief, striking out eight and walked one.

The Tories' record is now 2-2 against league opposition and are tied for fourth place with Erie-Mason, 2½ games out of first.

ON TARGET -- Greg Double, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Double, Hudson, is learning to type with his toes. He's able to hunt and peck out his name, capitals and all, numbers and words, under the tutelage of his teacher, Mrs. Robert Kerr, Britton. Youngster with cerebral palsy is learning this unique method of communication at Lenawee Institute.

There's Hope Here — And Laughter Too

By Maxine Calhoun

At Lenawee Institute A's and B's do not measure accomplishment.

Success there is achieved if a child, helpless since birth, whispers his only word, "Hi", to visitors, who watch as he is being encouraged to hold his head up by a therapist's gentle stroking with a brush on the back of his neck. It's working well enough to even surprise his doctors.

This and much, much more participants were shown in the annual official tour of the special education facilities for a representative of the State Board of Education and county educators.

George Eidson, director of Special Education at Lenawee Institute conducted the tour attended by Jan Baxter, Special Education Division, State Board of Education; Dr. Richard Wilson, principal of Adrian High School; Milton Porter, superintendent of Lenawee Intermediate District; Gene Deuel, superintendent, Onsted Schools; Ray Peake, assistant superintendent of Adrian School System; Mr. and Mrs. Nate Knowles, president, Lenawee Intermediate Board of Education; Mrs. Paul Linehan, Lee Stevens, treasurer of Addison High School board of education; Mrs. William Macbeth and Maxine Calhoun of The Herald.

First efforts at offering aid to children with special needs began about 20 years ago in Lenawee County. Earliest programs were with the home bound students and speech correction with aid of the local districts. In 1959, a county-wide half-mill was voted to begin special education program in the Sutton School building on Sutton Rd. and other schools in Lenawee.

With a gift of $150,000 in 1964, a complex of buildings was planned to be known as Lenawee Institute on a 40 acre site near the Sutton School. First building, dedicated in October 1965, had five classrooms, a shop, multi-purpose room or gym, a homemaking room, health room with shower, teacher's room, two storage rooms and two offices.

A second millage vote for 1 ½ mills for operating the county special education program was approved in 1969.

There are 75 trainable children in the main Institute building, with a capacity for 15 more. Goal of the program is largely to prepare the physically handicapped and mentally retarded child to adjust to social living with family, friends and neighbors, with less emphasis on academic goals.

Special ed staff in the county involves 82 persons, including professional staff, aids and business personnel.

Staff member Harold Tesch summed up the credo of the program thus, "Just as each star differs in brightness, so does the child of man- - yet, each deserves the privilege to shine."

Mr. Tesch showed slides of various activities which involve the several farm animals located in a small barn on the school site. Barn was built with a small inheritance the school received. There are eight ponies, cow, lambs, pigs, pheasants, peacock, chickens and rabbits, each cared for by an individual child - - a lesson in responsibility.

Mr. Tesch supervises the farm operation, which last year included a few acres of corn, popcorn, pumpkins and squash, marketed by the youngsters at a small roadside stand. Work with the farming has been useful in training the older boys in many employable skills.

Many examples of students' handicrafts were exhibited, including ceramics, cement yard ornaments, wooden baskets and stuffed animals. Sale of some of the items provides more materials, and youngsters can earn some money from some of the projects.

Students will again participate in Michigan Special Olympics, for the handicapped. In these events, special ed children can achieve rewards for channeling their exuberance into athletic contests.

Visitors were intrigued by a severely disabled youngster who was proudly typing his name "Greg Double," with a pencil grasped between his toes - - a skill he has accomplished since coming to the school in November.

Children's easy camaradarie with members of the staff, and their relaxed, but interested attention to classroom work should assure parents that Lenawee Institute is a happy place for their children.

School social worker Mrs. Paul McKenna, told of her work with parents of the students, who need to be given a deeper understanding of their children's special needs and possibilities for training.

To further this aim, she is helping to form parent's groups, which meet regularly to discuss their mutual problems with these children. A new group is currently being organized for parents of mentally retarded children.

A new program for preschoolers was shown, where already concepts of color and thought association are demonstrated by the toddlers.

Here, Tecumseh's little Andy Hella proudly showed how he was learning to breath properly - - a prelude to speech - - and can already say, "one, two, three" as he exhales, faster than his teacher, Mrs.Bonnie Berkley, can pick up three rings - - a difficult feat for a cerebral palsy victim, who only learned to take his first step in 1970.

That's just one of the small miracles which are taking place daily in this special education program.

Tour included a visit to Tecumseh High School, where orthopedically handicapped children are taught in a Type A classroom, one of 23 located in Lenawee schools, and includes deaf students. As often as possible an effort is made to intergrate these students into the regular classroom schedules.

Some of these high school age youths are also enrolled in the new Vo-Tec program at Adrian.

In this Tecumseh High group is one recently named Tecumseh's most outstanding student, Dennis Schoonover. Another boy, unable to speak or walk, serves as editor of the school paper - - and reads prodigiously.

Tour included a visit to former Sutton School building, now owned by Lenawee Institute, where a Day Care Center is operated. Here 12 severely retarded children, otherwise do not fit into the Institute training program, can be brought together for social direction. This program offers relief to a family from the child's continuous care and provides the child with a varied contact experience.

Day Care Center is operated with a nurse as director, and two aides.

Day Care Center is entirely state supported through the Mental Health Department at an estimated cost of $1,500 per student for year around day care--much less than the $4,000 cost of such care in the State School at Coldwater, Mr. Eidson explained.

Care is without cost to the family, and the children are transported on regular school buses, except during summer months and other vacations when family must bring the children to school.

Two Type A classrooms and a class for the deaf, in the new Sutton Elementary School, adjacent to Lenawee Institute, were visited.

During luncheon at the Vo-Tec Center, Adrian, new concepts of teaching special education were discussed by members of the county special ed staff, Mrs. Judy Vanzo, Tecumseh; Mrs. Bonnie Berkley, James Meyers, Rex Willnow and Mrs. Doris Dolsen.

Mr. Willnow explained the importance of teaching these children good work habits, rather than requiring strict academic achievement. He told how it was recently discovered that children with these special needs, were not distinguished as such by their teachers at mid-term.

At Vo-Tec, the girl students are exposed to mini-courses, such as home economics, health occupations and business office, in order to determine their interests and abilities.

At conclusion of the tour, George Eidson expressed appreciation for community involvement and understanding for the children. He mentioned the helpful gifts of two color television sets which make the watching of "Sesame Street" possible, and other equipment which has aided the school.

Staff members indicated they would welcome an opportunity to talk to local groups about the special education program. It's a story of hope and enthusiasm for their work the staff at Lenawee Institute have to tell.

Evidence of their success is in the many eager students making a determined effort to form a sound–articulate a word or idea–to lift a head–straining to the limits of each one's ability–and achieving.

Diary of Our Destiny

Thus begins the most amazing account of human experience ever written. And so simply, with just a notation of time: the hour, the day, the very moment!

But like a church bell sounding its call to worship, that simple notation of time has become the clarion of a New Life.

So deeply has it penetrated our preoccupation with the routine of every-day existence that millions gather at sunrise to greet the dawn of each Easter Day.

What has given such meaning to one moment in time?

Its PROMISE: Christ is risen. The One Who said, because I live, ye shall live also—He lives!

This tremendous moment, for all who worship Him in faith, became the first entry in the Diary of our Destiny.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Samuel Robison who passed away so suddenly one year ago April 28, 1970.
Little did we know that morning, the sorrow the day would bring
For the call was sudden, the shock severe, to part with one we loved so dear.
God only knows why he had to die without a chance to say goodbye.
Sadly missed by his wife Ruth and family. 4-29p

Indians Leading League

The Tecumseh Indians baseball squad split a pair of Huron League contests last week, but were able to hold on to the league lead with a 4-1 mark.

The Indians traveled to New Boston Huron Wednesday and absorbed their first league defeat. Ron Thompson was in complete control of the game, and was toying with a no-hitter until two were out in the last inning when Dan Gunder stroked a single.

Head Coach Jim Curth said the Indians hit the ball hard throughout the game, was always at someone.

Hugh Conklin was on the mound for the Indians, allowing ten hits, walking one, striking out four and hitting one batter. Gunder worked behind the plate.

Tecumseh got back on the winning track Friday afternoon when they entertained the Royals from Blissfield, taking a close 3-2 victory.

The Royals jumped out to an early 2-0 lead after the first two innings, but the Indians kept chipping away and finally won the game in the eighth, the first extra inning of play.

Tecumseh got their first run in the fourth on a home run by Rich Hierholzer, who also collected two singles.

The long ball tied the score, as Rick Bunch blasted one out in the sixth inning. Steve Camfield and John Merz came through with singles for the Indians.

Dan Gunder hit a two out triple in the eighth inning and Hierholzer followed with a single, driving in Gunder for the win.

Craig Smith pitched for Tecumseh, working the complete game and allowing only five hits, shutting out the Royals for the last six innings. Gunder was behind the plate. Smith upped his record to 4-0 with the victory.

Mike Tilton and Hugh Conklin played a strong defensive game.

Tecumseh has also recorded league wins over Airport, Gibraltar Carlson and Grosse Ile. Their other loss was at the hands of the Adrian Maples.

Next game is Wednesday at Flat Rock.

JV's Mark Falls to 2-2

Nine hits and nine runs usually are enough to win a ball game, but the Blissfield Royals outdid the Junior Indians by one in each category Friday and picked up a 10-9 win.

Tecumseh had a three run lead going into the seventh inning, but were unable to hold it as the Royals came up with four big runs and the win.

Mark Murphy banged out a home run, double and single for the Junior Indians. Mike Eggleston and Gould each collected two hits.

Head Coach Jerry Fox cited Murphy, Bob Beevers and Eggleston for their fine defensive play at centerfield, third base and first base respectively.

Dennis Dermyer was on the mound for Tecumseh as their record fell to 2-2. Greg Williams handled the catching.

Golfers Keep String Going

An impressive string of dual league meet victories during the past three years by the Tecumseh golf squad has now reached 20 with a win at New Boston Huron Friday.

The Indians won by 28 strokes, 176-204, led by senior Frank Geisenhaver's 41, who had only 21 putts in the round.

Bill Bailey, Mark Spohr and Tom LaFerriere carded 45's and Art Lewis shot 46.

Tecumseh's record stands at 2-2 overall and 2-0 in the Huron League. They have also defeated Airport, 175-209, and lost to Adrian, 174-166, and Hillsdale, 157-178.

Player averages through April 23 are, Geisenhaver, 43; Bailey, 43.2; LaFerriere, 44; Ken Forgacs, 45.5; Lewis, 46; Spohr, 46.2; and Ken Baker, 46.3.

Tracksters Run In Eagle Invitational

Three seconds, a fourth, a fifth and a fifth place tie is what the Tecumseh Indians track team came home with from the Eagle Invitational at Jackson Parkside High School Saturday.

Seconds were recorded by Scott Dalton in the pole vault, clearing 11'8"; Ron Randall in the mile run, 4:46; and Jeff Berry with a 10:19.8 in the two mile.

The Indians now stand 4-0 overall in dual meet competition and 3-0 in the Huron League. Wins have come over Flat Rock, Blissfield and Carlson, league foes, and Hillsdale.

Tecumseh will run against Airport Thursday afternoon here, participate in the Albion Invitational on Saturday and travel to Monroe Jefferson next Tuesday. Tuesday, the Indians ran against a strong Monroe Catholic Central team.

All boys living within the city limits and attending a school, other than a Tecumseh one, may register at the try-out.

Pre-registration is not necessary for the pony league.

Township Taxes Hiked by Factors

Factors, amounting from 5 percent to 15 percent increases in tax assessments in three townships of the Tecumseh school district, have probably jumped the district's total evaluation from $58 million to $60 million.

Robert Duhan, assistant school superintendent, says these increases could affect the needs of the schools by one mill. On May 17, the School Board is expected to set the millage requirements for the June election.

The schools will have 14 mills up for renewal, and there are indications that about five more are needed--maybe less now-- to continue the present educational programs.

Since the factors released by the County Equalization Committee apply only to real, and not personal property, and parts of Ridgeway, Raisin and Tecumseh townships are in other school districts, officials here will not have the total district evaluation until a breakdown of figures are released next week from the county.

Raisin Township received the largest factor, 1.15 or 15 percent of any governmental unit in the county. William Mackey, county supervisor who voted against the Committee's report and who also represents Raisin Township at the county level, says James Mitchell, township supervisor, plans to appeal the factor.

Ridgeway's factor is 1.10 or 10 percent hike, and Tecumseh Township, 1.05 or 5 percent increase..

Mr. Duhan reports that these factors and all sections of the county could be affected if the State Tax Commission slaps a 5 percent overall increase for the county. Such an overall increase has been hinted.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says it is not known whether the 5 percent overall hike would be limited to real or would also include personal property. And, it's not known when the state will reveal its intentions.

Last year, the school district's evaluation was approximately $56 million. Recent assessments upped it to $58 million and the factors to about $60 million. If the state levies a 5 percent increase, the district's evaluation could go as high as $63 million, or about $7 million over last year.

Finals in all other running events will start at 7 p.m. and will include Tecumseh medley relay (110-110-220-440), two mile run, 480 shuttle hurdle relay, 880 yard relay and mile relay.

Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring the meet with Don Brazee, meet manager; Bill Hammerstein, referee and starter; and Vic Lawson, clerk.

3 Re-Appointed, 2 Are Elected

Three members were re-appointed to the Planning Commission by Council Monday evening when officials also filed two vacancies on the Commission.

Stephen Illeck, Glen Kohler and Thomas Morgan were appointed to another term, and Cyril Desmet and Mrs. Carlton Cook were elected to fill vacancies created by the resignations of W. James Gillespie and Dr. William Adams, both of whom are now serving on Council.

Youngsters Are Pawns!

In about two weeks the Tecumseh School Board must reach a decision as to the amount of millage to place on the June 14th ballot.

There are 14 mills up for renewal, and the Board already has stated that additional millage will be required. The amount will depend on the finalization of the district's total assessed evaluation - factors are expected to be released next week - and the amount of state aid.

Supt. James McDowell has pictured the dilemma in the following report:

The children of Tecumseh Schools may be the pawns in the battle between the legislature and property tax payers as to the payment of the bill for their education.

Many of the property tax payers throughout the state have rebelled against paying additional property taxes to meet the needs of the public schools. The legislature has dragged its feet in meeting this same need. The population explosion and modern technology have made meeting these additional costs imperative.

Tecumseh property taxes for operating the schools have never been exorbitant, and the electorate has not refused extra millage in the last 10 years to keep its schools open and educational opportunities for children adequate. Pride in buildings and programs for property taxes and increase State Aid, some of the friends of the school may refuse to vote additional millage in the hope that the State will raise the funds necessary through increased income taxes.

Actually, school taxes are the only remaining ones that any voter has a personal chance to reject. Should the electorate refuse to vote the additional monies needed to operate the schools for 1971-72, the children will be hurt immeasurably.

The children in Tecumseh Schools have at present the curriculums, books, supplies, and teachers necessary to present opportunities for learning which meet their needs for the future. The pupil who enters our kindergarten in thirteen years graduates an educationally, well-rounded individual to enter college or the field of work.

Only one class in the last 30 years has been deprived of full day educational opportunities. That class is now in the high school. It was on half days in the first grade.

Since the State requires 180 days of school for every child and 900 hours of classroom activities to receive full state aid, it is not at present possible for the Tecumseh Schools to operate next fall.

Only if a renewal of the millage now levied for operation with a small increase to cover rising costs of living and increased numbers of children, both by growth and the closing of St. Elizabeths, can the Tecumseh Schools open in the fall.

Actually, funds available from the State and the local property taxes allocated within the 15 mill limitation would not be sufficient to run the schools half days, even if the State Department of Public Instruction would allow it.

The parents, grandparents, and friends of the school will have to review their thoughts concerning their vote in the June 14th election, and in addition, apply pressure to the legislature to support the schools more adequately if the children are to receive an education suited to their needs.

Children at home in the fall and winter with no educational facilities open would be less than they deserve.

Friend's Gift for Sanctuary

A large, generous gift was received Monday morning by officials of the Grace United Methodist Church of Ridgeway Township from a friend of the church.

The gift will provide the entire cost of erection of a new sanctuary unit adjacent to the new educational unit, which is nearing completion. The site of the new church complex is at 9250 East Monroe Road (M-50), midway between Britton and Ridgeway.

Contracts are expected to be signed immediately, and construction will begin soon on the new santuary unit. The exterior will be built of limestone and brick.

In addition to the main worship room, which will seat 240 and a choir of 24, there will be a sacristy, a choir room, and an office for the pastor. A tower will be erected on the southwest corner, in which will be placed two bells- -the bells from the two church buildings used by the former congregations that merged to form the present society.

A large stained glass window will be placed at the south end of the sanctuary, facing the highway; and six smaller windows of stained glass portraying scenes from the Life of Christ, will appear along the west side of the church.

Plans for a pipe organ in the chancel area are being contemplated.

Ground was broken for the educational unit last September. This will be opened and consecrated for use the later part of June according to the pastor, Rev. Luren J. Strait.

Grace Church is a congregation formed nearly six years ago by the merger of the Ridgeway and Britton Methodist churches. Howard Haas, Jr., serves as Chairman of the Building Committee.

L. Wayne Dunbar of Britton is the general contractor.

8 Testify at Trial

Trial of Susan Anteau, 19, rural Adrian and former Tecumseh school student, started Tuesday morning before Judge Yale L. Kerby in District Court in Adrian.

Miss Anteau had a baby in the restroom of the Kroger store here in March. It was not discovered until approximately three days after its birth, and reportedly stillborn.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

What happened to Arbor Day, the last Friday in April? Many remember when nearly all school children had some time out from classes just to plant trees in observance of the event. Now Earth Day has taken over, but seems to us it would be well to rejuvenate the old enthusiasm in planting trees since they play such a large role in keeping the air clean and earth in proper perspective.

C.O. Baily brings to attention the fact that trees convert carbon dioxide into oxygen (estimate is that one mature apple tree will produce enough oxygen to supply four persons one year). Trees filter odors and dust from the air, release moisture that cools and washes the air and keep water and wind from carrying away top soil. Besides buffering the wind and serving as noise barriers, also add natural beauty to all the goodies a tree provides.

Well, one individual can do much to wage war against pollution if they but try.

Gift Has Backfired

Last year when William Shiels bought his home at the corner of E. Pottawatamie St. and S. Division St., he unexpectedly gained three feet on the north side of his property.

It was a gift from Jack Osburn, local real estate dealer who owned the land and plans for apartments just north of the Shiels site. The gift has backfired.

Monday night, Mr. Shiels again complained to Council about the apartments, lack of a fence around the parking area, and runoff of water from the concrete parking area. He had complained earlier at the April 19 Council session.

By letter to Council, Mr. Osburn stated that drainage and fencing would be taken care of within 30 days. He expects to start work next week.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says present plan calls for cutting through part of the concrete parking lot for the drain, then east towards Division St., and then south between the curb and sidewalk to Pottawatamie St., and a tie-in with the main sewer.

Mr. Shiels indicated to officials that he might agree to an easement with the real estate dealer, an easement involving the property which he was given.

Two vertical rows of scalloped Venice lace and daisies accented the empire bodice and A-line skirt with further accents of blue French knots embroidered on the lace scallop by the bride's mother.

Her chapel train was secured at the back waistline of the full button down back and was also accented with Venice lace and blue French knots. Her train length veil of French illusion was attached to a ringlet of fresh blue babys breath and daisies.

She carried white roses, daisies and babys breath.

Mrs. Richard Johnston, sister of the bride, wore an A-line floor length skirt of yellow crepe with an empire bodice of sheer floral print chiffon over taffeta with long sheer sleeves accented with cummerbund of matching crepe.

She wore daisies and babys breath in her hair and carried a variety of blooms.

Dunham Is Now Frye

CLINTON–John Frye of Dunham Press is announcing a name change to Frye Printing Company, for the firm located on Tecumseh Rd., south of the village.

Mr. Frye, who resides in Marlboro Apartments, Tecumseh, operates the business here, and will be joined by his father, upon his retirement in the near future.

Firm specializes in commercial and business forms, with about 75 percent of its printing for area industries.

A recent 600 sq. ft. addition was completed with a contemporary roofed front, providing space for a new office and new machinery. An automatic collator can now put 6,000 four-part forms together in one hour. It picks up, gathers, glues and cuts in half four-part forms.

Firm employs two co-op students, Ruth Ann Haft, Clinton, and Mike McNamara of Tecumseh, and two part-time women.

Mr. Frye said he had decided to change the name much sooner than anticipated because "we have been so well received in the area."

Power Failure, School Dismissed

CLINTON–Shortly before nine a.m. Tuesday, a General Telephone workman operating a backhoe to lay underground cable, severed the primary electrical cable to the new Clinton High School shutting off all power to the building.

Workman escaped without injury, probably due to rubber tires on his vehicle, however it was necessary to dismiss school until repairs could be made. Problem was compounded by extreme darkness in the new school, which was constructed without windows.

Some of the children were still at school until 10 a.m., since it took some time to locate all the bus drivers.

It was reported from the superintendent's office, that blueprints of the electrical installations, located behind the school, had been given to the General Telephone workmen before work began with the backhoe.

Now it is up to school officials to determine if another day of school must be made up to comply with state regulations, since the mishap was not an "act of God."

Griffins Leave For Ft. Lee Duty

BRITTON—Sp-5 and Mrs. Clark Griffin spent a 30 day leave with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clare Griffin and family of Britton. Sp-4 Griffin left April 22 for duty at Ft. Lee, Va., and Mrs. Griffin joined her husband Sunday.

Clark met Pramual (Jackie) Punsangar of Udora, Thailand, while he was stationed there with the Intelligence Division of the Army Agency. They were married April 7, 1970, and returned to the States in June.

Pramual has discovered many new and interesting things in the United States and is enjoying everything about them. This winter she saw snow and ice for the first time.

Mrs.Clare Griffin says it has been a lot of fun learning to cook and eat the dishes from Thailand that Pramual prepared, especially trying to eat rice dishes with chop sticks. Mrs. Griffin, in turn, has taught Pramual to cook several American foods.

Clark and Jackie hope to be home in June for his sister Cindy's graduation and to attend the Britton-Macon Alumni Banquet.

Loses Drop Tories To .500 Mark

BRITTON—The Tories saw their record drop to the .500 mark last week as they were defeated in two of three games.

Britton won their only game Wednesday, taking a 7-4 decision against Maumee Valley Country Day. The Tories had to come from behind, scoring six times in the fifth inning on a double, five singles and two MVCD errors.

Sam Bates got the win, giving up only five hits. The Tories banged out ten hits, and committed seven miscues in the field.

On Thursday, the Tories were held to just four hits and were shut out by Adrian-Madison, 4-0. The win was Madison's first of the season.

Britton out-hit Ida Saturday, 7-4, but still lost the game, 3-1. Ida scored all their runs in the first inning and was shut out by Bates for the last six innings, but the Tories could not make up the deficit.

Britton is now 4-4 in league play and tied for fifth place with Erie-Mason, 3 ½ games out of first.

HAIL COLUMBIA, a very humorous book by P. Beatty.

ENCYCLOPEDIA BROWN KEEPS THE PEACE. This is one of a series of books by Donald Sobol. Leroy "Encyclopedia" Brown's head is so full of facts that you might say he is the only library in America that can play second base. He uses these facts to help his father, a chief of police, solve crimes.

HEARTSEASE. The time is the future and people have turned against machines. There have been changes and few people have remained untouched by them. There is good and evil in this book by P. Dickinson.

YOUNG ADULT

FULLBACK FROM NOWHERE. This title by Dick Friendlich is self explanatory. It is the story of a fullback but there is also a mystery connected with him. Why doesn't he want to talk to reporters, etc.

RIDE OUT THE STORM, by M.E. Bell, is a most unusual school story, full of excitement and drama.

IN SPITE OF ALL TERROR, tells about the year of 1940, when London was under constant air attack. This is the story of a girl from the slums, now the enforced guest of the aristocratic Breretons. Life now held a different kind of terror for her but she soon adjusted to her new situation.

River Raisin Race Saturday

Boy Scout Troop 4 will sponsor a canoe and rowboat race covering four miles on River Raisin at 2 p.m. Saturday May 8. Entries are expected from area scout troops, outdoor groups and enthusiasts from the public are cordially invited to compete in the race.

Competitors, two per canoe or boat, will start at timed intervals from Staib Road crossing, 1½ miles north of Tecumseh, and finish at the North Evans Street bridge crossing at the foot of the Red Mill Pond.

Scouts Mark Koscho and Buff Beardsley toured the route on April 20 and report it to be free of obstructions or portages. The first three miles of the river is narrow and winds through scenic forest. The last mile of the race is across the Red Mill Pond, and will require strong paddling because of the lack of current. Teams are expected to row or paddle the course in 45 minutes to one hour.

Entrants should contact Mark Koscho, 423-2497. U.S. Coast Guard approved life vest will be required of each participant.

Troop 4 is sponsoring this race as its 1971 "Save Our American Resources" activity, a National Scout Conservation program. It is intended that the race, hopefully an annual event, will lead to increased recreational use of Raisin River in this area and stimulate efforts to improve the quality of its water and banks.

Scout leaders and committees for the race are publicity, Duncan Judson; registration, Mark Koscho; starter and timer, Gregg Forsthoefel; and safety, Dr. Joseph Bachman, scoutmaster.

To Convention

Albert Tonneberger and Dr. Laszlo Gero, pastor, will represent Gloria Dei Lutheran Church at the Michigan Synod of the LCA annual convention in Kalamazoo May 13-16.

Scouts Ride Cannonball

Fifty boys and 30 adults of Cub Scout Pack 73 and 19 scouts and two adults of Troop 73 rode the Cannonball April 25 from Montpelier, Ohio, back to Adrian.

Due to over-crowded conditions, the boys were invited into the National Railroaders Club Car where they were entertained by the members with stories of bygone days of the railroad.

Many railroaders were in typical dress and their wives were also along on the ride.

Den mothers and Cubmaster and Mrs. Jack Bryan were among the adults made welcome in the special car. Mrs. John Deming arranged for reservations.

Patti Aebersold Is Honored At Kitchen Shower

Patti Aebersold was feted at a kitchen shower April 21 at the home of Mrs. Roger Williams who was assisted by her daughters, Beverly, Janet and Darlene.

Surprisingly, in a group of ladies from 2 years to 40, Patti was able to unscramble more kitchen utensils and appliances than anyone present.

Mrs. Glenn Klingensmith won two other prizes and gave them to the bride-elect.

Salad and crackers were served.

Miss Aebersold will become the bride of Gerald Shultis of Onsted May 15.

TRAVELS WITH THE DUNCANS

....or, THE KEYS AND THE EVERGLADES. Sometime when you look at a map of Florida, especially the southern part, notice how straight many of the roads are. They truly are--they are just unbelieveably straight. And the country is so flat that it makes the area to the east of us, here in Tecumseh, seem hilly. Many of these roads are parallelled by rivers or canals too and oh, my, the people in Florida do fish.

One day we drove to Key West and back. What a thrill. The Overseas Highway zips one along over islands and water in a unique drive.

We spent so much time marveling at the many shades of blue and green water, exclaiming over the every conceivable kind of boat to be seen, excitedly pointing out birds, and just generally enjoying the drive that there was precious little time to explore Key West. Another must for next year.

The Overseas Highway is reputedly one of the longest over-water roads in the world. One bridge is over seven miles long. Quite naturally the most prevalent birds seen are water birds.

Cormorants, dark birds with very long slender necks and fairly long bills, sat on every post or piling; pelicans are the clowns of the Keys and the Everglades; and as we crossed a stretch of marshland I saw this huge bird sailing on broad wings and whose head was pure white, could I possibly have been fortunate enough to have seen one of the few surviving bald eagles?

Now for the Everglades! Quite frankly I don't know where to begin. They were great, so very interesting and completely different from anything we had ever before explored.

The Everglades National Park is, as we have found most of the national parks to be, extremely well planned, maintained and administrated. One feels good about tax dollars spent here.

Flamingo Inn was our headquarters and from there daily excursions were made. The accommodations could not have been better situated; we had a motel type unit, right on the bay—we could see water, islands, sand beaches and palm trees. Wow! Sandpipers, plovers and whimbrels ran along the beach and played tag with the waves.

One morning I watched a lovely, and familiar red-bellied woodpecker explore the palm trees by our front door. (By the way, we were absolutely fascinated with the many different kinds of palm trees; when a breeze rattles the stiff fronds, it sounds for all the world as though it were raining.) Another morning we watched a black eye-masked racoon prowl.

Fortunately for us there is much to see in the Everglades from the road and the elevated boardwalks. The latter were easily negotiated in the wheelchair. One, Mahogany Hammock, winds through a stand of mahogany trees and tropical plants, thank goodness for the ample identification tags because this was all unknown to us.

At the very beginning of the Gumbo Limbo Trail, Mom called my attention to a small bird scratching through the leaves close to the path. We stopped and watched for perhaps three minutes as the little bird stayed nearby, once practically hopping on the toe of my shoe.

The soft looking greenish olive back, a white breast very heavily spotted in stripes, a white eye ring, a top-of-the-head orange crown bordered with bands. Never will we have a better look at an oven bird.

The main attraction of The Everglades, speaking Duncanwise of course, are the water and shore birds. Space will not allow a detailed description but Nine Mile Pond was one spot we visited every day and here briefly is a bit of what we saw.

Little blue herons, tricolored herons with their exceptionally long necks and bills, reddish egrets in both the dark and white phases, yellow-footed snowy egrets, the much larger American Egrets, the yellow legged great white herons; the great blue herons.

Dark glossy ibises with their funny looking long decurved bills, white ibises who have red faces, and the large wood ibises who show dark areas on their white wings and have dark heads.

The marshes which line the pond were absolutely alive with birds–our heads were dizzy and bird books dog-eared but many many still remain unidentified.

Nine Mile Pond was also the place to see alligators. Never did we stop there without two or three and sometimes more being in sight. One afternoon a large gator was practically on the beach in front of the parking area. Most exciting.

As you can imagine I was in a tizzy of joy, so many birds to watch. May we continue with more next week?

SCHOOLS ENROLLING KINDERGARTENERS

'Round-up' Tuesday

Annual kindergarten round-up for parents of children who will be five years of age on or before December 1, 1971, will be held Tuesday, May 18, at Tecumseh Acres School.

Two enrollment opportunities will be given, one at 7:30 p.m. at the Tecumseh Acres, and one from 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., in the Board of Education Office at 304 W. Chicago Boulevard on Monday, May 24.

Daytime enrollment is only for those who do not care to attend the program given in the evening.

It is extremely important that all parents enroll their kindergarten child this spring for classes in the fall. All kindergartens--Tecumseh Acres, Herrick Park, Patterson, Sutton and Ridgeway--will be in operation next fall but each, except Ridgeway, will be full to overflowing, and some children from the city may have to be transported to kindergarten classes outside of town.

Those children whose parents enroll them this spring can be planned for in advance and kept in schools as close to their homes as possible. It is hoped that every parent will attend the kindergarten round-up and enroll his or her child.

Program for the Round-up is tentatively set as follows:

Welcome: James McDowell, superintendent.

The Kindergarten Day: Mrs. Fred Freeman, kindergarten teacher.

Speech assistance: Mrs. Donald Berkley, speech correctionist.

Closed Circuit T.V. of our Kindergartens: Wayne Kaiser, curriculum director.

School readiness: Mrs. Jan Whitney, social worker.

Health requisites: Mrs. Peg Giles, R.N., school nurse.

Enrollment of kindergarten children.

In addition to the usual kindergarten round-up program to acquaint parents with the kindergarten curriculum, and information which can materially assist parents in giving their children a good start in formal education, there will be closed circuit T.V. tapes shown of kindergartners from our schools in their own classrooms.

According to Michigan school laws, a child must be adequately immunized for whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, polio (Salk), polio (Sabin), smallpox and measles.

A current TB test result must be presented at the time school starts, and also the child must have a vision and hearing screening test. School nurse Mrs. Giles will be on hand at the evening meeting to assist with problems relating to these matters.

If parents attend the meeting and enroll their child on May 18th, there will be ample time to complete the youngsters' required entrance conditions before school opens in September.

Boosters Shown Band Uniform

Twenty-three members were present to see the sample uniform shown at the recent Band Boosters meeting conducted by Vice-President Mrs. James Records.

Treasurer Mrs. William Kukral told members sweatshirts and jackets are still available at Flanders Music Co. and at Fabricare Cleaners. Profit made selling these cannot be realized until all are sold.

Mrs. Marilyn Escott, chairman of the senior band banquet, reported the banquet will be May 26. Mrs. William Flanders will be in charge of the entertainment.

Nominees for officers were submitted by Mrs. Betty German, nominating committee chairman. Mr. Kukral was re-elected president, Mrs. Twilla Ives, vice-president, Mrs. Kukral, treasurer and Mrs. Ruth Packard, secretary.

Mrs. Flanders reported Band Boosters will have a float in the May 20 Michigan Week parade. Band members Pat Mannino and Bonnie Flanders are in charge of decorating the float and may be contacted by band members wishing to help.

Tecumseh Band Boosters' Uniform Fund received a boost when the Tipton PTO recently donated a check to purchase a complete band uniform. Any organization or individual wishing to purchase a complete or part of a uniform should contact Mrs. Kukral, Tipton.

Public Inspection of Police Dept.

In observance of Police Week, the Tecumseh Police Station and its facilities will be open to the public for inspection on Friday and Saturday, May 14-15.

First class letters will be raised from six cents to eight cents per ounce; air mail letters, 10 to 11 cents per ounce; post cards, five to six cents; and air mail post-cards, eight to nine cents.

The new increases, authorized on a temporary basis until a newly created Postal Rate Commission can make recommendations on a permanent basis, will enable the postal department to help achieve self sufficiency, according to Mr. Metcalf.

Mayor John Metelski of Allen Park will be guest of the city on Mayor's Exchange Day, May 20.

Michigan Week Plans Completed

Michigan Week is annually a week of fun, parades and visitations, and although it officially opens Sunday, it will actually start Monday for local officials when they will be hosted by officials of Allen Park.

Three Petitions Filed for Board

Three petitions have been filed and three are still outstanding for election to the School Board next month.

Petitions, available at the Board of Education office on W. Chicago Blvd., must be filed by 4 p.m., next Monday, May 17.

William Brown, incumbent, has filed his petition as has Joel Rutherford and Donald L. Judd. Mikell Lynne Hedley, a teacher, has taken out a petition but has not filed it yet.

Mrs. June Stone, former member of the Board, has taken out two petitions but says nothing has been done with them, and nothing may be done. She had hopes that there would be a woman candidate from the Sutton area and that another lady also would run.

There are two four-year terms on the ballot. Mrs. Katherine Cobb, incumbent, is not seeking re-election.

Questions Are Raised in Adoption

Council approved the city's 1971-72 fiscal budget Monday night, but not until after several officials questioned policies in granting salary increases.

Councilman Murray Palmer, who later voted against adoption of the budget, questioned City Manager Cal Zorn on increases given to department heads and pointed out that Tecumseh already was extremely high in wages compared to other communities.

Two others, Mayor Jim Gillespie and Ray Puffer, also questioned the manner in which raises were granted and felt that some classification or basis should be established.

With the exception of Mr. Palmer, all officials voted in favor of the budget - $1,184,881 anticipated income and $1,215,076 anticipated expenditures - and set the millage for the next fiscal year at 14.5 mills, same as the current millage.

While Monday's session was primarily held for public hearing for the community's residents, no comments or questions were raised from the floor.

Birthday Opens Hospital Week

by Sue Gross

Some 50 years ago, the American Hospital Association set the week in May which contains the birthday of Florence Nightingale (May 12, 1821) as their observance of National Hospital Week.

American Hospital Association is the national professional service organization, educational and research agency and public affairs spokesman for more than 7,000 hospitals and health care institutions of which Herrick Memorial Hospital is a member.

During this week, the hospital auxiliary would like to inform the public of the importance of the hospital and the services it renders, - and maybe we can all be a little more sympathetic to the costs and problems the hospital incurs.

Theme for this week is "Who Loves a Hospital". We hope you all do, and if there might be some doubts, ask anyone who regained their health there or recovered from an injury there, or even ask a new mother.

I'm sure the biggest complaint is the cost of being sick enough to have to go to the hospital, and even though two-thirds of the expense dollar goes into payroll, hospital employees are somewhat underpaid compared to most other industries-and how can you replace a nurse with a computer?

We in the auxiliary, 400 members, are proud of our Herrick Memorial Hospital and feel that you should be too. We would like to thank the many employees and friends who would care to visit the hospital this week. Coffee and cookies will be served in the front lobby in honor of Florence Nightingale and National Hospital Week.

TRAVELS WITH THE DUNCANS

....or, MORE EVERGLADES AND FLORIDA TALK. Sorry I could not finish with The Everglades last week but they are just too much. Fantastic. One spot we always stopped and visited was a long lagoon type pond. At the far end stood a tall dead tree, it towered above everything and its top cradled a huge bulky nest.

The ranger told our neighbor that it was an eagle's nest–imagine our excitement when one day we spotted two heads and the next day two hulking young birds crouched outside the nest.

Crows and pelicans are the clowns The Everglades. Around here, of course, crows are very wary creatures but down there they fully realize their protected status. They will obligingly sit on signs to have their picture taken and the one 'assigned' to entertaining in the parking area of Mahogany Hammock was an expert.

When we came back from exploring the hammock, this giant of a crow was on the hood of the wagon. Black on white, he knew he would show up well.

But what was so funny was that he stayed on the hood while I was loaded into the front seat, the wheel chair stowed in back, cameras and thermoses stashed away, Mom and Dad securely seat-belted in, the car started, and backed halfway out of the parking stall.

Part of the time he was right up next to the windshield looking in to see what was going on. Have you ever been eyeball to eyeball with a crow?

The marina at Flamingo was the place to see pelicans. A few white but mostly the brown were in residence. There were always some crouching on the pilings and, in the afternoon when the fishing boats returned, so did the pelicans. A whole flock of them.

The marina was also a great place to see gulls and terns. Since many of the gulls were the handsome laughing gulls, it was also a great place to hear them. What a racket.

Busy bodies of the lakes and ponds were the short bodied, plump, black colored American coots. Their white bills are unmistakable. The sky was also a busy place. A vulture or five could always be seen soaring. We quickly learned to distinguish them from the many hawks, soaring hawks hold their wings straight whereas the vultures raise theirs into a slight V.

The swallow-tailed kites were lovely. Handsomely garbed in formal black and white, they have deeply forked tails which makes for easy identification.

Rain is something southern Florida has not seen lately. The drought is serious. Just one of many problems is the fire hazard. Brush fires were everywhere; one day the whole sky was darkened by smoke and our trip on Alligator Alley was a continuous driving through burned areas, many still smoldering.

In The Everglades, a ranger told Dad that even though pumping all the water they could, they were three feet below normal. A sad situation, a desperate situation.

One of the places we very much wanted to see was Corkscrew Swamp, an Audubon Santuary, but an extremely serious fire there changed our minds.

Fort Myers was most interesting. McGregor Avenue deserves all its fame; Thomas Edison is responsible for the tall, majestic Royal Palms which line mile after mile of the road. These are the postcard palms, they almost don't look real with their cement-like trunk. For the good walkers and step climbers, guided tours through Edison's home, gardens and laboratories are available. The banyan tree near the entrance of the gardens is simply unbelievable–from its limbs drop down roots which quickly grow into trunks and what a dense conglomeration it becomes. Another surprise at Fort Myers was seeing bamboo trees. It is easy to believe that this is "the most tropical of all Florida cities."

Sarasota-Brandenton-Tampa and unfortunately I cannot add St. Petersburg or Clearwater. The old bug-a-boo of time. It was such fun to just drive around and be gawking tourists.

Anna Maria and Longboat Key were dream islands, many places we could see the Gulf on our right and the chanel between the islands and the mainland on the left. Boats, fishermen, sandy beaches, shellers, sunbathers, and shore birds.

All too soon the day arrived when we had to pack the white wagon and point it north. Was it a sign that this particular morning we saw four large wedges of Canada geese and they too were heading North?

So it is that we three Duncans had a marvelous time in Florida; we saw and did many things but there is much left for another trip; we enjoyed visiting many friends but there was not enough time to call on everyone.

We dearly loved our holiday but, as always, Tecumseh and the gray and white house at the end of Logan Street looked mighty mighty good. It is nice to be home!

"Look at the red kite up there! See how high it's flying!"

The little boy follows her finger, and she is warmed and gratified by his smile of appreciation.

It seems as if mothers are eternally anxious to make sure that their children get all there is to get out of life—that they miss nothing.

Mothers would, if they could, show their children all that there is to see and give them everything—time for fun, time for play—new clothes, new toys, a television to watch cartoons, endless red kites and bright yellow balloons and, later, skis and sports cars.

Yet, in this eagerness to show and to give, aren't they in danger of overlooking some of the most important things of all? What of beauty, of serenity, of joy—the knowledge of God's goodness, His love, and familiarity with His house on earth . . . the Church?

Junior High Track Meet This Friday

Annual Tecumseh Junior High Invitational Relays will be held at the high school track Friday, beginning at 6 p.m. with ten schools entered.

All events will be relays with the field events being two man relays and running events four. They include high jump, shot put, long jump, pole vault, shuttle hurdle, sprint medley, 440 yard run, 880 yard run, distance medley and sprint shuttle.

Winners will receive trophies as will the winning school. Second through fifth place finishers will be awarded ribbons.

Junior Indians Shut Out Carlson

Dennis Dermyer hurled a three-hit shutout against Gibraltar Carlson Friday as the Indians' junior varsity team recorded a 3-0 win.

Tecumseh picked up two runs in the third inning and added a single tally in the fourth to close out the scoring. They collected four hits, with Mark Murphy getting two and raising his batting average to .481.

The Junior Indians record now stands at 5-2. They will entertain Adrian Wednesday, travel to Airport on Friday and host New Boston Huron next Monday at the Legion Field.

Frosh Down Grosse Ile

Rick Brooks struck out 12 and allowed only three hits Thursday as the Tecumseh freshmen defeated Grosse Ile, 3-1.

The frosh pushed across two runs in the seventh inning on a single by Jack Van Riper and a walk to Marty Sackett, folowed by Glenn Posky's double.

Tecumseh banged out seven hits in the contest and played errorless ball in the field.

Indians Are 5th in Relays

Cranbrook and Morenci emerged as new champions at the 13th annual Tecumseh Jaycee Relays Saturday. Cranbrook easily upended defending champion Grosse Ile in class B by scoring 83 points while Morenci had to hold off class C champion Napoleon, 65-61.

Two class B records were set and one tied. Marc Stadler of Cranbrook threw the shot 50' 9¾" to break Tecumseh's Bill Thomas' mark of 50'4", set in 1964.

Tom Snyder of Dexter broke the 1959 long jump record of 21'4" by leaping 21'7¾". Cranbrook's shuttle relay team equalled Tecumseh's record of 60 seconds flat, set in 1967.

Sand Creek broke a four year old record in the distance medley with a time of 11:10.0. Old mark was 11:27.3. High hurdles mark of 15.4, set first in 1960, was equalled by Skip Hall of Morenci.

Scoring points for Tecumseh were, Dave Biscupski, long jump, fifth, 19'5"; Greg Burns, high jump, third, 5'9"; high hurdles, Gary Hannibal, third, 15.4; Brown, shot put, fifth, 45'3"; Brown, pole vault, fourth, 11'3"; distance medley relay, fourth; two mile relay, fourth; and shuttle hurdle relay, third.

Team standings were:

Readers Write

Dear Editor:

I recently submitted a letter to your paper for publication concerning sex education along with a challenge to the residents of the community to research such a program. As of my present issue of the Tecumseh Herald, no publication of this letter has appeared.

Are you afraid to allow the people of the community to think for once? I am beginning to see why such books as A Nation of Sheep have been written depicting our present day society.

Do we really have freedom to express our own viewpoints to our fellow man? I have expressed my feelings but have been silenced through the press without any rational reasons being given. Everyday people are silenced in the same manner.

It's a hard road to stand up for what you mean and be ostracized by those around you. So in essence, the average citizen blends into the walls because of social pressures....a nation of sheep has emerged because of this reason.

Our country would not be what it is today if somewhere along the way all those expressing their opinions faded into the mass because of social pressures concerning controversial problems.

Yesterday I had the opportunity of attending a lecture given by Mr. Santucci, a member of the John Birch Society. This group feels that the parents alone should be the sole educators of their children concerning sex education.

However most parents don't assume this responsibility because of their inadequacy and fear, of the total subject. He also stated that there was no future problem of overpopulation facing our country. He felt that there was no need for educating the youth on contraceptives.

Can you imagine what the world would be like if a child was conceived everytime the sex act was performed by a man and woman?

I have seen ads in your paper concerning the John Birch Society-why not present the other side of the spectrum-my views? Sex education should be a total process encompassing such people as the parents, church, and the schools. However what are the children of today getting-information from their peers filled with misinformation and half-truths.

Look magazine recently published an article concerning illegtimate pregancies and what some schools are doing to educate the prospective adolescent mother. What's your opinion?

Thank You,
Debbie Goldsberry

Dear Editor:

If you have never been concerned about inconsistencies, don't start now because you will be very miserable many times. I thought that in my senior years I would be through watching for them but what I read in last week's Herald about the City of Tecumseh refusing to dispose of the residents' plastic bags of leaves really threw me - a project introduced last fall by the City and had the cooperation of most people.

Here is the inconsistency one breath the City pays $750 for the services of a landscape engineer from the University of Michigan for his advice and guidance in developing Adams Park. In the next breath the City will not pay for the disposal of plastic bags which the residents had filled with leaves because they believed in clean air for the sake of fellow-man.

Now I ask you "Aren't well kept lawns just as important to the beauty of our City as Adams Park?" Shall we rebel and burn these leaves which we lovingly bagged. I for one am tempted because I cannot afford to pay $10-15 a load to have the bags carted to the land-fill. These plastic bags were filled before the word reached me. The City could have saved money by letting the people share their shrubbery, bulbs, perennials etc for the park. They know the local soil conditions and how to treat it. It is alright to have professional advice when you can afford it. All of this could have been done under the supervision of the Little Garden Club and a little sentiment would have gone into the park. I am not the only one who is troubled about all of this.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)

Parade, Banquet Top Features

Michigan Week's biggest day in Tecumseh will occur this Thursday with the visitation of Mayor and officials from Allen Park, parade and banquet at the Union Hall.

For the public, the annual Michigan Week parade at 5 p.m. today will highlight the festivities. The local Rotary Club is in charge of the parade with Charles O. Butler, general chairman, and Paul Roekle, assistant.

Judd Arnett, Detroit Free Press columnist who will be the principal speaker at the banquet, will be honorary parade marshall.

Portion of today's schedule is:

9:30 a.m. - City officials meet and welcome visiting mayor and party from Allen Park at city hall. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

10:45 - Tour public library and other city points of interest.

12:00 - Lunch

1:00 - Tour Community Center, wastewater plant, Tecumseh Park and other areas in and around the city, including Tecumseh Country Club.

5:00 - Annual Michigan Week parade through downtown district.

6:30 - Banquet at Union Hall for guests of the city and public.

JULIE'S HOME — Julie Parrish bubbled into The Herald office Monday en route to rehearsal in Toledo for her new play, "Sunday in New York" opening June 10 at Repertoire Theatre on 10th St. Before rushing on, she said that Brother Jim Wilbar is much improved at his California home and was able to walk without limping before she left. Jim has been suffering symptoms resembling rhuematoid arthritis or divers syndrome but physicians say now, it is neither and they are treating him as best they can.

18 Mills - 4 New - Are on June School Ballot

When schools run out of money, they usually have one alternative - go to the polls and pray.

For the first time in three years, Tecumseh School Board will seek additional operating millage. Monday night the Board passed a resolution for renewal of the current 14 mills plus an additional four mills.

The last time Tecumseh schools sought more operating funds occurred in 1968. Since then, the spiraling economy has sent costs soaring - some call it inflation.

Robert Duhan, business manager and assistant superintendent who will take over the schools July 1, cited increased operational costs, salary adjustments and a lease-purchase plan for 10 portable classrooms, as the basis for need of more money.

He said needs for the 1971-72 school year will require approximately $290,000 more than what the present 14 mills will provide. While the additional four mills will make up about $240,000 of the total, improved state aid assistance and recent factors assigned by the county and state are expected to make up the balance.

Appeals by the townships who have been saddled with factors - Raisin, for example, received a 1.15 factor or 15 percent increase in equalized assessments - and negotiations between county and state officials could offset some financial gains for the schools.

The state slapped a 6.33 percent hike overall for Lenawee County last week. Officials understand that this figure is to negotiated with hopes that it will be lowered. All factors reportedly are assigned to real and not personal property.

Although Tecumseh schoolmen have a fairly good idea of their financial picture, the exact situation is impossible to determine at this time.

Mr. Duhan pointed out that final assessment figures for the school district have not been released, although they were expected late last week or early this week. It is not known if appeals and negotiations will be successful, nor is it known what the legislators at Lansing will do about state aid.

Information at Monday evening's session indicated that state aid might be increased from $15 to $25 per student. Since the Tecumseh school district jumped some $4 million, the local schools, however, would not benefit entirely from a sizeable hike in state aid.

According to the present state aid formula, state aid drops when local evaluation goes up.

It was apparent and discussed that a defeat at the polls would create additional problems for the Board. Questions pondered were: if the millage is defeated, can we come back to the polls before school opens in September? If defeated again, how long can we run on the fixed 8.5 mills?

Mr. Duhan said that it was possible to vote again early in August. As to running the schools on 8.5 mills - and probably without any state aid which stipulates a certain amount of voted millage at the local level - the schools would not remain open long, if at all.

If the electorate approves the millage, Tecumseh is still apt to be considerably below that state average. At the present, the average operating millage for schools is 26.5. Tecumseh is currently operating on 22.5 mills or four mills less.

Millage average is expected to jump for the next school year. Adrian, for example, could be operating on 28 mills next year if voters there approve a hike.

2 Injured In Accident

Two motorists were injured shortly after 3 a.m. last Thursday when their cars collided headon in front of Ruhl's Citgo station on W. Chicago Blvd.

Victims were Wynonah J. Smith, 36, of 702 E. Chicago Blvd. and Donald F. Seiser II, 32, of Adrian. Both were taken to Herrick Hospital, and Seiser was then transferred to Ann Arbor. She was discharged Tuesday but Seiser is expected to be confined at St. Joseph Hospital for several weeks.

According to the Tecumseh police report the Smith car was traveling east and crossed the centerline. Mishap was observed by Officer Richard Royal of the local department.

Mrs. Smith was cited for driving left of center.

A resume of the other accidents is:

May 12 - William W. Smith, Maybee, backed into Anabel Cadmus, 5920 Centennial Rd., of E. Chicago Blvd.

May 14 - Mark D. King, 16, of River Acres Dr., struck a parked car owned by Shirley Whelan, 13470 Whelan Rd. Accident occurred at E. Logan and Southeastern Dr.

May 15 - James Groover, 502 Outer Dr., attempted to pull between two parked vehicles at Bud's A&W and hit both. Other cars were operated by Harold Jeffers, Britton and Janet Bird, 510 E. Chicago.

May 16 - Richard C. Clewis, 19, of 312- E. Chicago Blvd., was chased by police at a high rate of speed to Raisin Valley Golf Club, where he drove across the golf course, struck a ditch and flipped his motorcycle. Clewis was charged with reckless driving. The club had some damage to sod and a nursery.

May 17 - Warren R. Crane, 48, Pittsford, was cited for following too close after a mishap with Delora G. Anderson, 34, of 308 E. Pottawatamie, at the intersection of Adrian St. and Russell Rd.

Purchase Depends On New Millage

Acquisition of 10 portable classrooms was approved by the School Board Monday night– providing 18 mills for operation is passed by the electorate.

Purchase of the new units, costing $11,700 each, was approved contingent on the passage of the millage. In the motion to buy the units, cancellation was also authorized for June 15, day after the election, if the millage is turned down.

If the millage passes and the classrooms acquired, six units will be installed at Herrick Park and four at Sutton. Each unit will be heated electrically, air conditioned and fully carpeted.

Estimated cost for water and sewer hookup is $800 each.

Recommendation Turned Down

Although it was recommended that the schools add one more principal, money shortage apparently resulted in a decision to stick with three full principalships Monday night at the School Board session.

Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent, recommended principalships for Sutton, Herrick Park and Macon, Tecumseh Acres and Tipton, and Patterson and Ridgeway schools.

Reason for the recommendation is the planned addition of 10 new classrooms for the fall and the enrollment of over 158 youngsters from St. Elizabeth, which is closing in June.

One elementary principal is yet to be hired, replacing Ralph Block, who has resigned.

Freeman, Mead Are Appointed

Dr. Fred Freeman was picked by the School Board Monday evening to represent the Board and vote at the County Board of Education elections on June 7.

Flees Police

Abel Valdes, 19, of 217 Herrick Park Dr., was arrested by the Clinton State Police here early Sunday morning after the youth fled from both the State and Tecumseh police.

The chase started at N. Evans and Brown Sts. where both patrol units observed a near accident, involving Valdes and his brother Adam. He barely missed his brother at the intersection, and then took off when officers approached.

He sped north, turned into the Herrick Park branch parking lot of the United Savings Bank and then through the A&P lot. On Water St. he turned off his lights.

When he drove onto the unpaved portion of Water St., his car and a patrol car barely avoided an accident. Valdes then wheeled his auto into the drive at 217 Herrick Park Dr. and fled.

State Police summoned a police tracking dog, and they found the youth hiding beneath an abandoned car behind his home and garage. The spree started about 1:30 a.m. and ended with his apprehension about three hours later.

Valdes, lodged in the county jail, has been charged with reckless driving, possession of alcohol, fleeing arrest and violation of probation. He has been released on bond.

A seven-year-old, John Hernandez, was a passenger with him during the chase.

JIM HARRELL

Racer Jim Harrell Burned in Firey Accident at MIS

"Five years of racing luck caught up with us."

That's how Jim Harrell's wife, Mary, described his firey accident during practice at Michigan International Speedway Saturday morning for the Sports Car Club of America's opening event.

Harrell suffered first, second and third degree burns on his arms, legs and back when leaking gasoline was ignited on his second lap of practice.

In addition to the burns, covering 30 percent of his body, it is believed that Harrell may have fractured his right arm, injured probably when he leaped from his car while it was still rolling. X-rays, however, can not be taken to determine the extent of the injury until the burns have healed.

Doctors believe that the third degree burns, on his shoulder blade and back of the right arm, will heal properly enough so that skin grafts will not be necessary. necessary.

It is thought that the accident, which occurred in the number nine turn, a sharp left just before returning to the oval track from the road course, was caused by gas splashing through a vent and being ignited by the headers.

Harrell was first taken to Foote Hospital, Jackson, but later transferred to Bixby Hospital, Adrian, where he is in isolation.

The engine in Harrell's car had arrived only Friday morning and was performing even better than expected Saturday before the accident.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Michigan residents are spoiled when it comes to water, and oh, how we suffer when there is no rain as now. We think we are about to dry up with the grass and foliage but really it's no wonder when you realize that in our great state, one is never more than six miles from a lake or stream.

Yes, it is true or at least that what Greater Michigan Foundation publishes. They also say that the Great Lake State has 11,000 inland lakes and 36,000 miles of streams, over 38,769 square miles of water surface. Of course, we look for water when we visit Nebraska and Iowa and some of the others less blessed with the life giving fluid.

We are resolved to do all that we can to respect and keep clean this wonderland of sparkling blue aqua, if only for the pleasure of taking little Merry for a ride in Gramp's new boat.

GOLDFINCHES AND CHICK-A-DEES

The goldfinches did not quite make it to have their new spring feathers in time for Easter this year but they are all gloriously garbed now. The Dapper Dans are brilliantly yellow with shiny black markings on head, wings and tail; the Subtle Sals are a soft light yellow in front and a peculiar mixture of hard to describe tan-yellow-green on their backs.

This color is light on their heads but gradually shades darker until, low on their backs, it is almost a chestnut brown. They wear no hats.

The best of all is that, at this writing at least, our winter flock of goldfinches is still coming to the near-my-window feeder for breakfast, lunch and dinner–they even drop in for tea-time snacks too.

This is the first spring that these little five inch long birds have enjoyed the feeding station's bill-of-fare so late in the season. Others have reported the same happy occurrence.

Usually about the time they are half-molted their nibblings at the feeder cease. What fun it has been, however, to be a close-up eye witness to the complete change of color process.

Close-up is the key word. Often, when the males were parked in the nearby trees to look the situation over before scalloping down to enjoy some sunflower seeds, we were sure the molt was finished. When they reached the feeder though, it was surprising how spotted and ragged they looked.

Once in a while so loose would be an old feather that at the slightest movement, even while the bird was eating, out it would come. How delicate and light these little feathers were. Imagine, a bird shedding right on the feeder.

The warbler show has been as confusing as ever. Year after year the tiny travelers seem to delight in playing tormenting games of hide-and-seek with us. Just as we zero in and think we are about to have a good look at one of them, he hops behind a newly popped-open leaf and disappears. Every warbler who comes our way is a master at this game.

But, if the truth is to be known, we are not playing with quite the enthusiasm, passion, or dedication of old. There is really not the incentive to practically work oneself into a nervous breakdown trying to sort out four to five inch birds, who play in the tree tops and are not a bit obliging, when there is a first class goldfinch show going on right outside the window.

A first class show it is too. Late one afternoon Mom and I counted nine on the feeder all at once. Four Subtle Sals and five Dapper Dans. Believe me, that is a feeder of gold! An oh, but those new spring feather suits looked soft, soft, soft.

All winter we bemoaned the lack of chick-a-dees. Occasionally one or two would bounce in but they were far from the faithful regulars we hope and expect them to be each winter. Well, guess who is surprising us these days? A chick-a-dee.

He doesn't always come to the feeder, sometimes he flits from twig to twig looking for insect snacks in the maple and mulberry trees. What fun.

This cocky black-capped character is every bit as full of high spirits and the joy of living now as he is when the wind howls and the snow flies. What he is not as [illegible] good looks. A winter chick-a-dee is impeccably dressed in formal black and white with much complimenting by two shades, light and dark, of gray.

Now, however, the colors seem less definite and the change from one color to another is markedly less sharp. I cannot bring myself to use such terms as 'slightly grubby' and 'ragged' but our springtime chick-a-dee certainly is not a smooth, slick bird.

So it is that vacation is over but how nice to come home and be entertained by the unusual and interesting antics of the goldfinches and chick-a-dees.

Open House Well Attended

CLINTON--Open house at Clinton's new high school was well attended Sunday for the guided tours throughout the building.

Built at a total cost of $2,165,846.88, or $22.96 per square foot, the 72,000 square foot, one-story masonry and steel structure is designed to accommodate 600 to 700 students.

It has 27 teaching stations, a gymnasium that will seat 1,650, an auditorium with 291 theatre type seats, a cafeteria to seat 220 and a learning resources center to accommodate over 120.

Site comprises 45 acres of land, with 28 acres currently under development with provisions being made for a bowl-type field, a baseball diamond and student and faculty parking lots.

Football area was seeded last fall and the grounds adjacent to the school building were seeded recently, all by Clinton Rotarians and other volunteers, at a cost saving of several thousand dollars.

Lester Proctor, vice president of Board of Education, was master of ceremonies at the dedication during the afternoon.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Fr. Leon O. Kennedy of St. Dominic's Church.

High School Band, directed by Richard Jorgensen, played "Star Spangled Banner" and the High School Ensemble, directed by Mrs. Donald Geiger, sang, "Born to Be Free."

Richard Wegner, superintendent, introduced members of the school board and guests. He briefly reviewed the five year history of the building project, and gave considerable praise to local banks, State Savings Bank of Clinton, United Savings Bank of Tecumseh and Bank of Commonwealth, Detroit, who assisted with the investment of building funds in such a manner that $225,000 was realized in interest, permitting the board to go ahead with Middle School construction much sooner than expected.

Milton C. Porter, Intermediate superintendent, said he reviewed the progress of the growth of the Clinton Community School district and said the taxpayers support of this building "has shown their faith in education in Lenawee County."

Timothy Busch, president of Student Government, responded for the students, saying, "Every student is satisfied. We do not feel the money was wasted." He expressed confidence that the students would strive to be careful of the property, and expressed their gratefulness for it.

Presentation of the building was made by Thurstan Jahr of T.R. Jahr, Associates, Architects. He remarked that he liked to come back to the schools he had built many years later to see how they stood the test of time. "A good school is a product of a concerned community," he said.

Dr. Edwin V. Wight, president, accepted for the Board of Education.

State Representative Jack S. Mowat made the presentation of the State of Michigan Flag. State Senator Gilbert E. Bursley pointed out how the seal on the new flag differs from the detail on the previous flag at the school.

Mrs. James Wallace, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, Frederick E. Pieper Post, presented a new United States Flag to the school.

The Rev. Russell J. Cooper, St. John's Episcopal Church, gave the benediction.

Visitors were served cookies, punch and coffee in the cafeteria.

Give Reports at Luncheon

CLINTON--Year end reports were given at the potluck luncheon meeting of the Clinton Woman's Club last Wednesday at the Community Center.

Scholarship committee is working on the presentation of this year's award, which will be announced at the school awards assembly.

Mrs. Mabry retiring president, read "The History of the Gavel" by Jane S. Clark, then turned the gavel over to the new president, Mrs. John Monaghan.

Next meeting will be in October.

5 File Petitions for School Board

CLINTON--Five persons have filed petitions for the one vacancy on the Clinton Board of Education, to be filled at the June 14 annual school election.

They are Mrs. William A. Johnson, Norman Randall, Glenn R. Clark, George R. Wolf and Henry Louwerens.

Mrs. Henry Louwerens, whose term on the Clinton Board expires, has filed a petition as a candidate for a position on the Lenawee Intermediate School Board. Board members are elected by one representative of each school board in the county at an election June 7.

Board Decides To "Hold Line"

CLINTON--Board of Education has decided to hold the line on total millage at the present 29.72 mills for the Clinton Community Schools.

However, it was determined that it will be necessary to transfer 3.5 mills from the debt retirement total of 10.5 mills, reducing that figure to seven mills, to use the 3.5 mills for operation.

This procedure will be possible because a fixed sum is needed each year to meet debt obligation. As the state equalized valuation of the school district is increased, it takes fewer mills to raise this needed amount for the principal and interest.

Clinton School District voters will be asked to approve the transfer of 3.5 mills from debt retirement to operational budget. It cannot be done without a vote of the people.

Annual School Election is June 14 and all registered voters in the district are eligible to vote.

This transfer of debt retirement to operation is necessary because state legislation has not approved a state aid bill that would be of any appreciable benefit to Clinton Community Schools, Superintendent Richard Wegner explained.

Board accepted with regret the resignation of two teachers, Mrs. Kevin Leaman, home economics; and Barbara Turner, art.

Cause of the fire is underdetermined.

Chief Asks for Help

Spring is annually Tecumseh's highest vandalism period and Murell Clark, police chief, is seeking cooperation from both the youngsters and the parents to curtail damages.

He points out that the police patrol area is over four square miles, and it's not possible to cover this area with the present force and be at certain spots at all times where most vandalism occur.

Schools, Tecumseh Park, ball diamonds and Community Center are principle objects of vandalism in the spring. He asks parents or residents to report immediately any damages, done or being done, to the police.

Chief Clark says residents are paying high taxes now, and their tax dollars are being used to pay for vandalism when they could be used for something else.

He warns youngsters against using B-B guns inside the city without a permit and riding bicycles in the posted, downtown business district. The guns will be confiscated, and illegal bike riding downtown will result in issuance of tickets.

Jaywalking also is a violation, according to the officer, and subject to tickets.

First Place Finish For Elfie Buell In Spanish Test

Elfie Buell rated first in the state in a National Spanish test April 5 at Siena Heights College.

More than 30 students of Mrs. Luz Coba's classes of Tecumseh High School competed in the half hour test of oral interpretation from tapes, grammar and reading comprehension.

Elfie, a senior, received a fully paid scholarship to study in Mexico this summer from Youth For Understanding Exchange program.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Buell, Tipton.

Joe Bailey, also in Spanish IV, was second in state competition. He received a half scholarship for six weeks study at Institute Internacional de Clutura in Saltillo, Mexico.

Other high performers were Laurie Hohenstein, second place, and Virginia Madrid, third place in state scores for Spanish II students. They will receive appropriate books as honorable mention.

Elfie Buell, first in state national Spanish test, top left, Joe Bailey, second, and seated Virginia Madrid, third, and Laurie Hohenstein, second, in state scores.

Luncheon Held By Garden Club

BRITTON—Twelve members and one guest of the Ridgeway Garden Club enjoyed a light luncheon May 11 at the home of Mrs. J.V. Ferman with Mrs. Carl Auten assisting.

For the program, Mrs. Bert Moore and Mrs. Harold Osterhout gave highlights of their recent weekend trip to Nashville, Tenn., taken with the Tecumseh Recreation Dept.

Plans were made for a trip to Hidden Lake Gardens and a dinner for the next meeting June 8.

Scouts Plant Petunias

BRITTON—Britton was the scene of unusual activity Saturday as 50 Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Webelos, citizens and Scout leaders planted over 3,000 petunias along M-50. Each home owner that participated paid for their own flowers.

Refreshments were served by some of the mothers. Saturday evening the Britton Fire Department put over 2,200 gallons of water on the flowers.

Mayor Richard Linn expressed his appreciation for the beautification project.

Baseball Tourney At Britton

BRITTON—Britton High School will be playing host June 5 to the state's first baseball tournament, in an effort to determine Class A, B, C and D state champions.

Britton will hold three games in Class D district competition Saturday, June 5, beginning at 10 a.m.

In order for a team to be in tournament play, they must first win a pre-district game, as only four teams will compete in the districts.

Britton will play their pre-district game Monday at home against Pittsford beginning at 4:15 p.m. Other games pit Whitmore Lake against Deerfield and Camden-Frontier and Waldron.

The Britton-Pittsford winner will then advance into district competition against North Adams, which drew a pre-district bye. Game time is 10 a.m. Second game is scheduled for 1 p.m. and the district final will be played at 4.

The winner will then advance into regional play, also to be held at Britton the following Saturday, June 12, with winners from the Potterville, Climax-Scott and Lawrence districts. State finals are set for June 19 with the Britton champion joining other class D regional winners at Mt. Pleasant.

All tournament games will be seven innings and the ten run rule will be in effect, game will end if a team is ten or more runs behind after five innings and has completed its time at bat.

Initiated By Tau Beta Pi

BRITTON—David W. Reeck was initiated into the Michigan Zeta chapter of Tau Beta Pi National Honor Society May 8.

Initiation was held at General Motors Institute of Technology, Flint, where Dave is a senior electrical engineering student, and a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Reeck, Britton.

Bureau OKs Bank for Britton Branch

United Savings Bank of Tecumseh received word Wednesday morning that its application had been approved for a branch bank in Britton.

Tha bank's application, submitted March 16, was approved by Robert P. Briggs, commissioner of Financial Institutions Bureau of the Department of Commerce.

Bank officials say plans for the new branch should be completed by the end of June with construction starting as soon afterward as possible. Completion is expected in the fall.

A full service bank is promised. The building will comprise approximately 1,000 square feet and will include drive-in facilities.

With approval of the Britton branch, plans for a new branch at the corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental Rd. are being delayed.

Poppy Days To Remember the Veterans

"Honor the Dead and Help the Living" is the 1971 slogan for Poppy Days this weekend, sponsored by American Legion and Auxiliary Underwood-Orr Unit 34.

The red poppy signifies reverence in the heart for the servicemen who died for America during the two World Wars, the Korean and present Vietnam conflicts.

American Legion Auxiliary members in Tecumseh annually purchase nearly 8,000 poppies regardless of whether they sell them or not.

They ask that donors think of the veteran in the hospital or workshop who made the flower they purchase.

Funds from the sales enable the local organization to contribute directly to the rehabilitation and child welfare programs. Families in this community are aided by the contributions.

Early Copy

With Memorial Day falling on Monday this year, The Herald will need early news and ad copy to meet its deadlines next week. Most shops will be contacted either Friday or Saturday for their advertising.

Cooperation from all will be appreciated by The Herald staff.

Two Seek Inspections

Two downtown Tecumseh taverns, Dick's Bar and Jerry's Bar and Grill, have requested inspections of their businesses in hopes of obtaining Class C liquor licenses.

Both were turned down previously by city officials after initial inspections.

Earlier this month, Richard Crandall completed extensive remodeling of his tavern. Improvements include new paneled walls, ceiling, lighting, entry, bar, kitchen, furniture and restroom remodeling.

ERNEST CAMPBELL

He had been in ill health for two years and a patient for 15 months at the Home where he observed his 90th birthday anniversary Christmas Day.

Memorial Day Parade, Program Next Monday

Tecumseh will pay tribute to its war dead Monday at a special Memorial Day program at Brookside Cemetery.

The program will follow the annual Memorial Day parade, scheduled to start at 10 a.m. at city hall. A salute to the Veterans' Monument at city hall is planned at 9:45 under the direction of Donald Withrow, commander of the American Legion, and Donald Wiley, commander at the VFW.

The auxiliaries from the two service organizations will place a wreath at the monument. Firing squad will be composed of members from the VFW.

The Rev. Donald Porteous will deliver the Memorial Day address at the cemetery, and will be introduced by Mayor W. James Gillespie.

Program will include the invocation by the Rev. Dane A. Ruff; music, THS band, directed by Don Johnson; placement of wreaths at the monument for Civil War veterans; Evans Creek, Navy; Boulder, World War I and II, Vietnam and Korea; salute to the dead, American Legion firing squad; taps by Pat Mannino and Craig Davis; and the benediction by the Rev. Ruff.

Communications for the program are being provided by Abner's Service.

Donald Woods is again marshal of the day with Don Morse assisting. Both are appreciative to those who have given time and equipment for making the parade a success.

Tecumseh's Memorial Day parade is by far the finest of the year here. There are 41 units scheduled to make the trip from city hall, west on Chicago Blvd. through the downtown section and to N. Union St., and north to the cemetery.

The parade will consist of the usual vehicles, including bicycles, but no mini-bikes or go-carts will be allowed this year.

Jaycees Planning Caravan, Gift

Jaycees are organizing a caravan and a fund raising project for Tecumseh, Ontario, our sister city which will be celebrating its 50th anniversary on July 3-4.

Officials from both cities have already met and discussed plans for the two-day observance.

The Jaycee plans would call for a caravan to leave here Friday evening for camping at the Ontario city, or for those who prefer motel rooms. Another caravan is tentatively planned to leave here Saturday morning and in time for Saturday's parade and festivities.

Anyone wishing to participate in the parade or other events should contact Dyke Helms, 423-4458.

Some of the events will include a Little League baseball game for youngsters from both cities, waterball fight between the two Tecumseh fire departments, carnival and dance.

Jaycees are also promoting a gift for the Canadians and canisters will be placed in downtown Tecumseh shops for donations. A delegation from the local organization expected to visit the Ontario city Wednesday night with the purpose of obtaining gift ideas.

Gift goal is $700.

Schools Enroll 185 Youngsters

Enrollment of kindergartners reached the 185 mark Tuesday, about 100 short of the predicted number.

School officials hope parents will register their youngsters before the end of school in June. Registrations are being taken at the Board of Education Office on W. Chicago Blvd.

John Surratt Is Re-appointed

John Surratt, member of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Board, was appointed to another term by Council Monday evening.

Kenneth Herrick, Board president, requested via letter that Mr. Surratt be re-appointed.

Pond's Dam Questioned

Although unexpected problems have arisen in construction of a new dam for Globe Mill Pond, completion is still expected in July, according to Cal Zorn, city manager.

Zorn, Robert Hamden, building inspector, and an Ann Arbor engineer were in Lansing Tuesday to answer questions from an inspector of the Water Resources Commission. The inspector had questioned sheeting under the old section of the former power plant and suggested that the city might consider a large spillway.

Officials hope to expose the old sheeting as soon as possible for the inspector, and tie in new sheeting to meet certain requirements. Plans for a dam, not a spillway, are still in effect, Mr. Zorn explains.

Officers Elected by Planners

Leroy "Buzz" Betzoldt has been re-elected chairman of the Planning Commission with Tom Morgan, vice-chairman.

Mrs. Carlton Cook is the new secretary, succeeding Dr. William Adams, who was elected to Council in April.

Schools' Financial Crisis Necessitates New Millage

Few are aware of the critical, financial situation of the Tecumseh schools. It is one that parents, especially, should become familiar. They and their children are the ones who will be affected most drastically, if operating millage is not approved on June 14.

The local schools, like many others, are asking for additional millage - renewal of 14 plus four new mills. Without passage of the millage, the schools would have no other alternative except to close. It is this possibility that parents should realize.

In the next three issues of The Herald, as many facts as possible will be published. If any reader has a question, feel free to write the newspaper and your question will be answered.

Following is a list of questions and answers from the schools about the millage:

Tecumseh Public School district registered voters will be asked to vote upon a request for a 18 mill tax levy for school operations for one year. The request includes the renewal of 14 mills and the addition of four mills.

1. When is the election?

The annual school election is set for Monday, June 14, 1971. The polls will be located at the Tecumseh High School cafeteria and will be opened from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

2. Who can vote?

Every registered elector, whether a property owner or not is eligible.

3. Are other items on the ballot?

Yes, election of two Board of Education members for 4-year terms. The candidates are: William K. Brown, incumbent, Hugh A. DesErmia, Mikell Lynne Hedley, Claire Helms, Donald L. Judd, Joel D. Rutherford and John J. Walper Sr.

4. Can a person who will be out of town on election day vote?

Yes, this is a simple process. If a person is going to be out of town on election day he may pick up an application at the Board of Education Office at 304 West Chicago Boulevard and vote by absentee ballot.

5. Why is this millage important?

Without the renewal of the 14 mills and the addition of the 4 mills, it will be virtually impossible to operate the Tecumseh Public Schools in 1971-72. It not only means the loss of tax money, but also reduction of State Aid because it is now necessary to levy 12 mills to receive full State Aid.

6. What effect, if any, does increased state equalized valuation have upon State Aid?

As the valuation per pupil goes up, State Aid per pupil goes down, for example:

S.E.V. Per Pupil	State Aid Per Pupil
$14,000	$343.50
15,000	323.50
16,000	306.50

It is estimated that the Tecumseh Public Schools will have a total enrollment of 3,800 in 1971-72. If the State equalized valuation had remained the same as in 1970-71 the S.E.V. per pupil would have been $14,634. Because of increased valuation as of May 17, 1971 the S.E.V. per pupil is $15,947. (It may go higher if State Tax Commissions factor is applied)

S.E.V. Per Pupil	State Aid Per Pupil
$14,634	$330.82
15,947	307.24
Loss per pupil	$23.58

Thus, because of increased valuation we have a loss in State Aid of $23.58 per pupil or a total of $89,604.00

7. What was the effect of the Michigan Supreme Court decision last summer?

It prevented the school district from charging book fees, towel and locker fees, and also provided that supplies must be provided to the students.

This decision came after millage had been set and State Aid approved, so a loss of revenue of about $45,000.00 had to be absorbed and an additional $5,000.00 provided for paper, pencils etc.

8. Was there a reduction in State Aid during the 1970-71 school year?

Yes, early in 1971 an executive order reduction in State Aid amounted to $19,043.00 to the Tecumseh Public Schools. This reduction came about because of lower State revenues as a result of the General Motors strike.

9. Was the millage for operation increased at last year's election?

No, the last time the millage was increased for operation in the Tecumseh Public Schools was in 1968. In both 1969 and 1970 just the renewal was asked for and passed. In those years as well as this year the millage is only being asked for 1 year because there has been hope that the State Legislature will create the fiscal reform necessary to properly fund education in Michigan.

10. Does the State control the length of school year and school day?

Yes, the Attorney General has ruled that the length of the school year must be 180 days. The minimum hours of student instruction is 450 hours for kindergarten and 900 hours for grades 1 through 12.

If a school does not have 180 days in its school calendar the State Aid is reduced by 1-180 for each day missed.

FETED AT BANQUET — Judd Arnett, center, popular Detroit columnist who appears here with "sideburns," gifts from Betty Flanders and Karen Morgan, was greeted by Mayor W. James Gillespie and Mrs. Gillespie of Tecumseh, and Allen Park Mayor John Metelski and his wife. The banquet, held at the Union Hall last Thursday evening, ended the city's busiest day for celebration of Michigan Week.

200 Attend Michigan Week Banquet

Approximately 200 attended the city's annual banquet for Mayor's Exchange Day last week when Tecumseh hosted officials from Allen Park and Judd Arnett, Detroit Free Press columinst who was featured speaker at the banquet.

Mr. Arnett boasts a large number of followers locally and his remarks about Tecumseh, Michigan and reminiscents were well received.

Handling most of the introductions were Ward Eardley, recreation director who was chairman for Michigan Week activities here, and Betty Flanders and Karen Morgan, Lenawee County co-chairwomen for the Michigan Week.

Others on the program included Leona Weeks, Michigan Week executive director; Dike Helms, Product of the Year chairman who announced Faraday's Cartrette as Michigan's winner; and the Rev. Herbert Nation.

Dancing followed the banquet's program.

Ralph Sager and Bill DePuy, had all the comforts of chairs last weekend when they were fishing from a 12 foot boat but comfort proved to be their undoing. Bill hooked a big one from Timber Lake and he leaned back too far in pulling him in. The boat upset and Bill and Ralph went in. When Ralph couldn't find Bill by yelling, he turned the boat over right on top of Bill who had just managed to get out from under it from the first ducking. All ended well with only losses, Bill's glasses, Ralph's shoes and all of the fish except seven. Those two could write a book about the thrills and spills of weekend fishing.

To The Editor:

Not long ago a young boy from the Saline area was struck and killed by a car while riding his bicycle. It had just been a few months earlier that the boy's father died and the family was just recovering from the tragedy.

Well, as you can imagine the family is in very tough straits financially. To aid this cause a few of the students of Saline are presenting a rock benefit on May 29th from 8 p.m. 'til ? in the Saline High School gym. All proceeds will go to the Hines Memorial Fund.

Featured will be five bands which attended the Jaycee Band Battle a few weeks ago. Among these are Orange Fred, Mumbles and the Monotones, Geneside, 24th Judge and International Dateline. Master of ceremonies will be Tiny Hughes of WNRS and WNRZ.

We are asking that you help us promote this project, so that the benefit may prove to be a success. We cannot thank you enough for your cooperation.

Sincerely,
Mike Brennan

To The Editor:

In regards to your article of May 6, entitled "Gift Has Backfired", your statement that Bill Shiels received a gift of three feet on the north side of his property from Jack Osburn was incorrect. There was no gift involved. Although at one time, Mr. Osburn may have been uncertain as to how much footage was required for his apartment building, he received ample consideration for every inch of property now owned by Mr. Shiels.

As for his complaints at the Council Meeting, Mr. Shiels did indeed complain about the runoff from the concrete parking area. I have personally inspected the premises and fully 60 percent of Mr. Shiels backyard has been ruined from the drainage. Mr. Shiels objected to the lack of the fence simply because various vehicles have been driving across his backyard. At present, there are tire tread marks some three feet into his property. As for his complaints about the apartment, he complained, and rightfully so, that the apartments were in violation of the city building code in several respects. These buildings have been rented without inspection by the city building inspector, there are no trash containers and the gas meters are situated in such a position as to present a potential danger.

Mr. Sheils complaints, whether as the private individual home owner directly affected or as a citizen of Tecumseh, were legitimate and justified and I wish to correct any impressions to the contrary.

Very truly yours,
Henry A. Crudder III

(Editor's Note: The Herald information was obtained personally at Council meetings and from interviews with Mr. Osburn and Cal Zorn, city manager)

To The Editor:

Since some do not understand the value of a landscape architects plan and services we feel a brief explanation is due.

A landscape design architect plans for the future use of land. The council as well as individuals know it is much more expensive to remove a tree in the wrong place than it was to plant it originally. Maintance of public and home grounds is scarce and expensive. Hence a park planned with the right size and space for plants, walks, lights, drainage, traffic control and weather and people proof required the skills of a L.D.A.

The landscape architects detailed drawings show exact location of all the above plus quality plant specifications and construction specifications. He will also supervise construction as necessary.

The Council realizing that most people would rather donate a tree than plans allowed us up to $750 for this. Professor Cares as chairman of the Dept. of L.S.D. at the University of Michigan is a busy man and we will be billed only for the time and labor requiring his talents.

With the construction of a 5 foot stone wall sheltering a sunny fountain and benches with night lighting and walks ahead of us we are quite a ways from planting. When the site is ready donations will be gratefully accepted. A list will be published soon.

Professor Cares has recommended a recirculating fountain which can be removed in the winter. He suggests a community Christmas tree be placed there and decorated by local youth groups to feed the birds.

We learned a great solution to the leaf disposal problem from the Tecumseh Garden Club. Pile them in a contained area. One yard square will do it. Or leave them in the bags with some exposure to air permitted. One years pile from decomposes to about 6" in height in two to three years.

This is the best compost for returning nutrients to the soil around trees, in beds or lawn. It would be great if some youth groups would donate their leaf raking services to the senior citizens of Tecumseh as there is only one way to clean a yard.

We thank everyone for their interest and support of Adams Park Fund and all 28 members of The Little Garden Club will do all they can to see the park completed, including digging when the time comes. We need all the help we can get.

Sincerely,
The Little Garden Club

"Grow old along with me . . . the best is yet to be," the sundial seems to say. It's a nice thought—but is it true?

What is best in life? Childhood? Adolescence? The Middle Years? The peace that should come with the twilight of life? Who is to say?

Life is full of many questions and very few answers. The hours bring with them unexpected contrasts of happiness and sorrow—of assurance and dismay—of wealth and poverty, both spiritual and material.

Because of this very uncertainty, we need something far more stable than a sundial to "grow old along with." We need substance, endurance, solidity. We need faith.

Where to find it? How about looking, first, in the church of your choice? Next Sunday?

Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

A WINNER

Once she decides to warm up, May is without a doubt one of our loveliest months. The sun is warm, the breeze is soft, and oh, this can be outdoor living at its very best. I will admit to being prejudiced but when everything is green and blossomy, when the thermometer hits that magical mark which says Marda can go outside, and when the sunshine hollers hurry up, I am happy. These are my kind of days and each one is good.

Some, of course, are better than others. Two Sundays ago a case in point. I had just been pushed into the front yard, Dad was in back giving Missie a drink of cool water and Mom had skipped upstairs to change her shoes, when my attention was caught by a bird flying across the road and landing about half way up in the walnut tree. This slow poke of a walnut had just started leafing out and so my view was unobstructed.

At first I thought my eyes were playing tricks, a bird simply could not be THAT brilliant a red. After all, I tried to reason, looking up into a dazzling blue sky was playing tricks with what I saw. As the bird twisted and turned however, I knew there was no optical illusion involved. I was seeing a scarlet tanager!

Now there are brightly colored red birds and then there are scarlet tanagers. There is just something very special and very different about their color–it is scarlet to be sure but it is almost a dark iridescent with an inner glow. Bright is a dull way of describing it.

At first the bird showed me his solid red breast, then he twisted and cocked his head showing me its full red glory; a quick jerky turn and a jump to a lower branch presented a side view and the distinctive black wings.

Had there been any question at all as to who the visitor was, these wings would have made it definite. A catchy description in the National Geographic's SONG AND GARDEN BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA quickly came to mind. "– a fireball with sable wings and tail!" How true. And yes, the bird did seem to be reading my thoughts because this was when he turned around and flicked his black tail at me.

Well, here I was enjoying this all-too-uncommon visitor by myself and such things should be shared. Dad was out of range but a quick whistle brought Mother. Speaking softly so as not to frighten the bird, I told her to look in the walnut tree.

She spotted the 7¼ inch beauty immediately. How nice – he ignored the squeaky front door and allowed her to stand on the porch, he was even happy to let her walk into the yard. Anything so gorgeous must be vain, our admiration must have been pleasing his ego.

Finally, remembering his reputation of being shy and secretive, the bird left his showing-off spot and flew across the creek. Mom hurried across the yard, stood quietly at the top of the creek bank, and was rewarded - imagine, playing Peeping Tom to a bathing scarlet tanager!

He even permitted her to see the drying off process and what, according to her excited report, a shaking, ruffling and preening of feathers it was.

So it is that any day in May is good but when the weather is perfect for outdoor living and we see a scarlet tanager too, that day goes down in the books as truly a winner.

W. G. Elwartowski was among 200 persons to hear Dr. Reginald Gold speak at a seminar as part of the Michigan Chiropractic Council convention in Flint.

Dr. Gold stated his criticism to what he calls the indiscriminate use of perscription drugs claiming that much of the drug abuse in college and high schools today is the result of the ready acceptance by the public of the pain killiers, tranquilizers and weight reducing pills and many other cumbersome medication.

Dr. Robert M. Kribs, council president, stated the organization's opposition to abortion reform in that the entire concept of chiropractic is related to maintenance of life and health.

Trip to the Farm Museum in Waterloo area was discussed. Group tours are being taken there but official opening is May 30.

Mrs. Pearson led a discussion on conservation stressing "People Pollution" saying that man is destroying birds, butterflies, fish and letting hydrocarbons get out of hand.

A walk in the Pearson gardens concluded the afternoon. Next meeting June 11 will feature "Flag Day" with Mrs. Purnell Osburn, leader.

Heimerdinger Is Boosters Prexy

CLINTON--George Heimerdinger was elected president of the Band Boosters Club at the dinner meeting preceding the Senior High band concert last Tuesday.

Other officers elected are Dr. George Wolf, vice-president; Mrs. George Ford, secretary; and Mrs. Roy Richards, treasurer.

Members discussed the purchase of blazers to be worn by the Junior High bandsmen. Dr. Wolf, Mrs. William Stout and Mrs. Ford were appointed to a committee to price blazers for consideration by the club in the fall.

Residents of the school district will be contacted by Junior High band members this summer for listings in the band calendar, a project for fall sale.

Announcement was made of two $50 scholarships to summer music camps of their choice to Melanie Way and Robert Dowling.

Banquet was followed by the concert in the new auditorium, under the direction of Richard Jorgensen. Accoustical properties of the room and the theatre seats added to the enjoyment of the concert by the audience.

Concert included selected marches, "Night Beat" by Walters, played by the senior symphony band, and concluded with Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Dance band was featured in two numbers "In the Mood" and "The Stripper."

Seniors who are graduating from the band were introduced. They are Sandy Redman, Megan Feldkamp, Kay Greenfield, Linda Rynd, Rita Peters, Joyce Reiser, Carol Studnicka, Joe Shouse, David Herndon and Terry Calhoun.

Mr. Jorgensen presented the John Philip Sousa award to Megan Feldkamp, which places her name plate on the school plaque, and she received a personal desk trophy. Sousa award is given by vote of fellow bandsmen to the senior student who has contributed most to the band during four years in high school.

Lynn Hawkins received the trophy as an undergraduate who contributed the most to the band.

Marching award, a lettered sweater, was presented to Linda Rynd.

Pins were presented to the first chair members of the band, Sandy Redman, Linda Rynd, Charlie Mende, Lynn Hawkins, Kim Rhoades, Dan Olson, Vic Humble and Dave Herndon.

Attack Is Fatal to Bill Hanna

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the First United Presbyterian Church for Charles William "Bill" Hanna, well known local insurance businessman who died suddenly late Saturday afternoon at his home in Herrick Park.

He was apparently stricken by heart attack shortly before he and his wife, Ruth, were to leave for a dinner engagement.

Mr. Hanna was a native of Tecumseh, born here Feb. 20, 1915, the son of Joseph M. and Bessie Poole Hanna. He attended school here and graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1934.

On Sept. 5, 1939, he and the former Ruth Thielan were married at the Presbyterian Church by the Rev. E.M. McGehee, pastor. At the time, Mr. Hanna was manager of the Allison Clothing Shop.

He later was a representative for the Cities Service Oil Company, and the family lived then at Clare.

In January 1952, he became associated with the F.C. Hanna Insurance Agency, owned at the time by his uncle, and joined his brother, Jack, in the business. The two brothers became owners of the 40-year-old agency shortly after the death of F.C. "Charlie" Hanna in 1957.

The two brothers combined to make the agency one of the largest and most successful in this area.

Mr. Hanna was a member of the Presbyterian Church, Masonic Lodge, Elks Lodge in Adrian, Tecumseh Club, and was a member and former director of the Tecumseh Country Club.

Survivors, besides his wife, include a daughter, Mrs. William (Linda) Wood, Washington, Mo.; sister, Mrs. Frank (Joan) Barritt, and two brothers, Robert and Jack, all of Tecumseh; and two grandchildren, Mathew and Jennifer Wood.

The Rev. Edmond Watkins officiated at the services, and Proctor Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Judge Kerby Sentences Girl to Jail

Judge Yale Kerby sentenced Susan Anteau Friday morning, 19-year-old rural Adrian girl to six months in jail and two years probation for having a baby in the Tecumseh Kroger store, and then concealing it so that it could not be determined if the child were born dead or alive.

She was found guilty in District Court on May 5.

Besides the jail and probation sentences, Judge Kerby assessed her court costs of $300.

In passing sentence, he noted that this was the first conviction by any court of law for Miss Anteau. He announced that it was very important in the case that some substantial jail sentence be meted out to deter others from concealing newborn.

The two-year probation was a very important part of the sentencing, Judge Kerby said. He also pointed out, when passing sentence, that the unused portion of the sentence should make probation effective. Maximum sentence was one year in jail.

Judge Kerby assigned a volunteer from the community to assist Miss Anteau. He said the community volunteer is still another important part of the sentence and could improve the chances of rehabilitation.

The young girl is a former Tecumseh student.

NEW FIRE CHIEF — Tim Neill's dog went along with a gag in Monday's Memorial Day parade, sporting a fire chief cap and taking in spectators gathered along the streets leading to Brookside Cemetery. The pooch is not the fire chief, however, and there's really no similarity between him and the real chief, Wally MacGeorge?

Olds Agency Sold by Bailey

Keith Bailey, Oldsmobile dealer here for the past 17 years, has sold the agency to Stephens-Alldredge Olds-Cadillac of Adrian.

Lee Stephens, Olds-Cadillac dealer there for 16 years, started with the dealership when it was located in downtown Adrian. In 1961, he built a new agency showroom and service department on US-223, at the west edge of the city.

The Olds agency in Tecumseh will be closed, although the exact date has not been determined yet by GM officials. Until the closing, Mr. Bailey will operate here as usual.

Upon completion of the sale and termination of the agency here, Mr. Bailey will join the sales staff at the Stephens-Alldredge.

The sale marks the third Tecumseh agency to move out of the city in less than 10 years.

John Underwood picked up the Pontiac franchise from the late Gale Fisher, and George Underwood holds the Ford franchise once held here by C.O. Butler, E.L. Simmons, Robert Vaillancourt and Jim French.

Mr. Bailey purchased the Oldsmobile agency in 1954 from Jack Osburn.

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary is planning a tea to honor the 30th anniversary of its founding Saturday, June 5 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the lounge of Presbyterian Church.

They have raised almost $100,000 for hospital equipment and landscaping in addition to volunteering many thousands of hours to provide sewing, tray favors, books, puppets for child patients, sponsorship of home nursing service, candy stripers, Red Cross nurses aides during the war years, Future Nurses Club, visitors check and manning hospital gift cart and shop, TV rental and lobby vending machines and providing programs and parties for the nursing home.

Donors of complete uniforms will have their names on an inside label. Cost of each uniform is approximately $115.

Schools State Needs for Millage

1. Why is increased millage needed?

Increased millage is needed because of three major factors.

a. Tecumseh Public Schools are spending about 1½ mills or $90,000.00 more than they are receiving this year. When the millage request was set a year ago it was anticipated that $20,000.00 would have to be spent from the fund equity balance. Then in July the supreme court decision on free textbooks and supplies cost the district $50,000.00 in expected revenue and supplies. Then in January State Aid for 1970-71 was cut $19,043.00 and trailer tax of $3,500 was withheld. The Tecumseh Public School expect a fund equity balance of approximately $30,000 at the end of this year.

b. Increased student enrollment caused mainly by the closing of St. Elizabeth School and new additional students.

c. Increased cost in operations, cost of living increase and cost of materials and supplies.

2. Will the increased millage be used for new school programs?

No, the increased millage is needed to maintain the existing educational program and provide for the increased costs for the additional expected students as well as increased costs of materials, supplies and salaries of school personnel.

3. Why is it so urgent that the millage be approved in June?

Without the renewal of the 14 mills and the addition of the 4 mills it will be virtually impossible to operate the Tecumseh Public Schools in 1971-72. This millage is needed to maintain the present program and time is needed to plan and schedule in order to open the school doors in September. Also special elections cost money and time. It would be better to spend both in educating children rather than on special elections.

4. What effect does Governor Milliken's plan to eliminate property tax for schools have on this millage election?

None, this millage is being asked for one year to maintain the present program and if the governor is successful the new plan would not be in effect until the school year 1972-73.

5. What are the effects of St. Elizabeth School closing?

With the closing of St. Elizabeth, the public schools will have an additional 157 students.

This year all classrooms are being used, plus one kindergarten room is being used for three sections and one second grade class is using a music room as their classroom. Therefore it is necessary to buy relocatable classrooms to have adequate housing for this fall.

Also, with the additional students from St. Elizabeth six additional teachers will be needed along with books and supplies, etc.

6. What are the sources of School Revenue?

The sources of Revenue for the Tecumseh Public Schools come from local taxes, state aid, federal and other. The following table shows the percentage of the budget from local taxes, state aid, federal and other grouped together.

	Local Taxes	State Aid	Federal, Other
1968-69	49.92 pct.	41.38 pct.	8.70 pct.
1969-70	47.14 pct.	44.14 pct.	8.72 pct.
1970-71	48.64 pct.	44.96 pct.	6.40 pct.
Estimated 1971-72 with millage approval	50.75 pct.	42.11 pct.	7.14 pct.

7. How much will the extra millage cost a person owning a home?

Examples of the increased cost to the homeowner for the extra four mills for next year would be as follows:

Home Cost	State Equalized Valuation	Increased Cost
$10,000	$ 5,000	$20
15,000	7,500	30
20,000	10,000	40
25,000	12,500	50

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

How many mushroom lovers were disappointed again this year as we were? Poking under leaves, rolling over logs, searching the area for elms and the southwest corner of a hundred woodlots, we looked and smelled and look some more only finding a few of the succulent Morels.

If it hadn't been for Bob and Donna Sampley searching the Cadilac area all last week, we would not have had delicious wood charcoaled steak and mushrooms late Friday night, May 21, that we did and they were good. Maybe it is because they are more evasive than a raindrop on the Sahara, but it seems to us, that just nothing tastes as de-ee-ee-licious.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Life Span

If heart disease could be eliminated as a cause of death, the life expectancy of white male Americans would be stretched by more than six years. And if all major diseases of the kidney and circulation system could be prevented that would add more than 11 years to their life span.

The ladies would gain slightly less than the men, but they already live longer than men, anyway. There is also a distinct difference in life expectancy between our white and non-white population.

These figures were gleaned from new Life Tables by Causes of Death, recently published by the U.S. government. They update earlier calculations made in 1941 and 1951, and provide a stimulus for those attacking the most common killers of our time.

If cancer were eliminated as a cause of death, it would add about 2.25 years to our life span, and an end to the major disease of early infancy would give us another year of life.

At birth, the life expectancy of the white male American is now 67.5 years; for white women, it is 74 years. For the non-white male, it is 61.5 years and for the non-white females, it's 66.5 years.

Life Tables such as this provide us with a way of analyzing vital statistics to figure out the probability of death from a specific cause at any given age. Or to find out what happens when you eliminate one major cause of death.

Board Is Seeking Millage Renewal

CLINTON—Board of Education of Clinton Community Schools recently established that the total school millage is to remain the same as last year, 29.72 mills or dollars per thousand of state equalized valuation.

Board had assessed the community attitude to be that an additional millage would not be approved at this time.

Due to increased valuation of district, it is possible to lower the debt retirement millage from 10.5 mills to 7 mills.

This would make it possible to increase the operational millage from 19.22 to 22.72, or an increase of 3.5 mills and still maintain the total millage at 29.72.

Therefore, at the June 14 annual school election, a proposition is being placed before the voters for this 3.5 mills increase in operation millage.

A yes or no vote will be required to the ballot question: "Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Clinton Community School, Lenawee and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, be increased by 3.5 mills on each dollar ($3.50 on each $1,000) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in said school district for a period of three (3) years, from 1971 to 1973, both inclusive, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating expenses?"

Board wishes to emphasize that although legal terminology requires that proposition read as an "increase" this is only on the operational. Through other action taken by the board the debt retirement amount will be reduced by the same 3.5 mills.

Superintendent Richard Wegner outlined several areas which would require adjustments if the proposed millage vote is not approved by the voters:

District would not be able to operate the Middle School as presently projected for this fall upon the completion of the remodeling program.

Therefore, the seventh and eighth grades would have to continue to be mixed in the high school.

Board would have to consider curtailment of some of the educational program and review faculty, custodial and secretarial staff employment.

There would have to be a cut back in extra curricular activities.

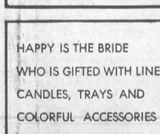

All registered voters in Clinton School District are eligible to vote in the June 14 election. Polls will be open in Clinton Township Library from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

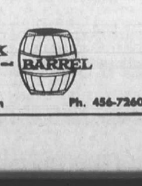

Also on the ballot will be the election of one member of the school board for a four-year term. Candidates are Glenn Clark, Mrs. William Johnson, Henry Louwerens, George Wolf and Norman Randall.

CLINTON–Suzanne O'Fiaro and Nancy Calcese visited Miss O'Fiaro's mother, Mrs. Grace O'Fiaro May 21-23. The young women are Red Cross program directors assigned to Great Lakes, Ill.

'Rejoice' Staged by Youth Singers

The "Rejoice", a modern way of youth worship, was presented Sunday evening, May 23, in Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

Young adults Paula Macbeth, Julie Shough, Sharon MacGeorge, Elaine Mason, Sharlene Rentschler, Susan Baaske, Doug Dillon, Rita Pace, Gloria Lathrop, Carole Ann Christman, Marianne Bush, under director Mrs. Earl Mason, explained and demonstrated the changing and challenging meaning of the worship in songs, scripture readings and words.

Through My Window

A WATCHDOG

No, this is not going to be an article about our big black shepherd even though she is a mighty fine watchdog. When something is not exactly as she feels it should be, her deep loud bark booms a warning and, believe me, there is nothing very ladylike about our Missie's voice then. However, Missie is not the only watchdog in the neighborhood--there is a bluejay who has apparently taken lessons from her and is absolutely marvelous.

Unfortunately, we are in the midst of another session of prowling cats. They are about to drive us out of our minds, to say nothing of driving the birds out of the area. One of the cats belongs down the creek a way and is a pet whereas the other one looks and acts as though he were strictly on his own.

Both are bad news because both apparently have an insatible appetite for birds and their favorite hunting spot is my bird feeder. They lurk beneath it, just waiting.

Sam, the clown of a cat who, until this current seige, had me half convinced that cats can sometimes be funny, used to 'rest' here too but he soon learned about certain places being out of bounds. These two murderers are either slow to learn or just plain stubborn. Chasing away means nothing, our hope now is a can of cat repellent.

The first indication that we were in for trouble came one morning when Mom whisked the drapes open and exlaimed. Her stricken cry was that a cat had a bird!

She saw him, with a grackle in his ugly mouth, disappear over the creek bank. Grackles are far from our favorite birds but we don't like to see them become cat food. The next morning the cat had a sparrow.

While we were on vacation, Auntn and Rog enjoyed the flock of gold-finches who came to the near-my-window feeder. They said it was a daily treat until a cat nabbed one of the birds and, from then on, the remaining goldfinches very wisely shied away from the banquet board.

I had a first class demonstration of this sneaky snatching-from-the feeder. It was in the morning and my first look outside – for a moment I could not make out what was happening. The bluejay was on the feeder frantically beating his wings and trying to pull back. Just as I looked, he made it. He pulled his head out of the cat's mouth!

In order to reach the feeder tray, a cat has to jump or climb at least four feet and so there is no room for miscalculation. Thank goodness the morning I was a witness to near murder, there had been a slight mistake in judgement made. I breathed a sigh of relief as a very frightened bluejay flew away.

For the past week, however, a most effective warning system has been in operation. Early each morning a screaming bluejay wakes us up, Mom goes to the window and opens it, she uses our long handled dipper to start the branches of the yews dancing, and almost immediately out shoots one or the other of the marauding cats.

The bluejay stops screaming. It is a rude awakening but a worthwhile one because, since the jay has been keeping his vigil, we have had no fatalaties at the feeder. At least we have seen none.

And this brings me to a question I have discussed before. Dogs must be licensed and kept under control–why are there no restrictions on cats? They can be terribly destructive and horrible nuisances. We try hard to attract birds to our yard; it is not fair, however, to invite them to dine with us merely to have a cat breakfast on them.

So it is that, while we hope the cat repellent sprayed beneath the near-my-window-feeder is effective, we are thankful for the bluejay who sounds the alert by screaming, "A CAT". He is the greatest as a watchdog.

Memoriam

In loving memory of Charles McCarbury who passed away June 5, 1963.

Farewell, Dear Dad, life's cares are over.
Your willing hands will toil no more;
For us you always did your best,
God grant your soul eternal rest.
You had a cheery smile, a heart of gold,
The dearest dad this world would hold:
Kind and thoughtful, ready to aid,
No better dad ever was ever made.
Dad, you know how much we miss you.
And mother is so blue;
We lost our best and dearest friend,
The day we lost you.
Sadly missed by us all.

Tracksters Place In ATII Meet

Tecumseh tracksters concluded their season at the annual ATII at Adrian High School last week, and while they did not capture any first place finishes, they did record a second, two thirds, seven fourths and three fifths.

Craig Brown picked up the second by clearing the bar at 11'6" in the pole vault. Ken Brown threw the shot 47'2", good for third place. Greg Burns had a third in the 440 yard dash with a time of 54.0.

Fourth place finishes were captured by Burns in the high jump, 5'8"; freshman 880 relay team, 1:46.7; 880 relay team, 1:41.4; Ron Randall, 880 yard run, 2:11.1; Gary Hannibal, low hurdles, 21.9; Jeff Berry, two mile run, 10:23.1; and the mile relay team, 3:39.6.

Recording fifth place finishes for Tecumseh were Dave Biscupski, long jump, 19'9½"; Greg Cote, pole vault, 11'0"; and Bob Merz, hurdles, 22.1.

Mrs. Neri Collingsworth returned May 24 from Washington, D.C., where she flew, for the first time, with her son, Arthur, to attend ceremonies and a reception honoring Arthur for earning his masters degree from Georgestown University. She was the houseguest of the Joseph Satterthwaites from Thursday to Monday.

Indians Title Hopes End, 6-2

The Tecumseh Indians saw all hope of a Huron League baseball title disappear Wednesday afternoon as they were defeated by Monroe CC, 6-2.

Monroe scored their runs in pairs, getting two in the first inning off Dan Gunder and added two more in the fifth and sixth innings. Gunder was touched for seven hits.

Five different Indians collected hits in the game, Rich Hierholzer, Steve Camfield, Mike Tilton, Hugh Conklin and Gunder with Hierholzer and Gunder driving in runs.

Tecumseh has now lost its last three league games, dropping a 12-4 decision to Blissfield May 19 and losing 4-2 to the Flat Rock Rams May 21.

The Indians and Monroe Jefferson hooked up in a defensive struggle May 24 that nobody wanted to win and the game was finally called after 14 innings.

In addition to pitching the 14 innings, Craig Smith chipped in with two hits and drove in both runs. Camfield and Rick Bunch also had two hits and Conklin added one.

Tecumseh played errorless ball in the game and Jefferson committed only one miscue.

The game will be made up either Wednesday or Thursday and the Indians need a win to finish in a tie for second place. A loss would drop Tecumseh into third place behind Airport and Gibraltar Carlson.

Indians Knocked From Tourney, 2-1

It was a short baseball tournament for the Tecumseh Indians this year, as they were knocked out by Marshall May 29 in pre-district play, 2-1.

Marshall jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second inning on a pair of singles and a sacrifice.

Tecumseh tied to the score in the fifth on Dan Gunder home run, but a home run by Willis of Marshall the next inning provided the margin of victory.

Craig Smith hurled for the Indians, allowing only four hits, striking out five and walking none. Dan Gunder handled the catching.

Tecumseh collected six hits in the game, paced by Hugh Conklin's two.

Tories Win Tourney

BRITTON–The Tories emerged on top in Maumee Valley Country Day's baseball tourney May 22, rolling over Deerfield in the first game, 11-1, then taking an extra inning affair from New Baltimore, 2-1, for the championship.

Sam Bates was on the mound for Britton in the first game and was touched for a single run in the sixth inning, while holding Deerfield to just three hits. He struck out eight and walked none.

The Tories pushed across five runs in the opening inning, and that settled the outcome. They added two more in the second and four in the fourth to close out their scoring.

Britton got only two hits in the championship game, but made the most of them, plus some defensive lapses by New Baltimore.

First run of the game came in the second inning on Gary Maska's home run. New Baltimore tied it in the fourth, forcing the game into extra innings.

Maska reached base on an error with two out in the ninth inning and attempted to steal second base on the next pitch. The catcher's throw was high, went into center field and got by the center fielder, allowing Maska to score the winning run.

Greg Hamilton was the winning pitcher, giving up nine hits and one run.

The Tories came home with a trophy and two wins which pushed their overall record for the year to 8-8.

Girls Win Two Games

BRITTON–GAC softball team traveled to Ida May 27 for a double header and came from behind to win both games by 15-14 scores.

Peggy Taylor and Kim Gall each pitched complete games to record the victories.

Mr. Sisson Stricken

Harold Sisson, well known substation manager here for over 40 years for the Detroit Free Press and News, died suddenly Tuesday at Herrick Hospital.

Working parttime in the pro shop at the Tecumseh Country Club, Mr. Sisson was preparing to leave his home on E. Pottawatamie when he was taken ill. He was then taken to the local hospital, where he died.

He started here for the Detroit dailies in 1927 and retired in 1967. He trained many newsboys, many of whom are grown adults and citizens here today.

After retiring, he continued handling the Free Press, and then later worked for a short time at Lamb's Rexall Pharmacy. He worked in the pro shop for the past two years.

As of Wednesday morning, funeral arrangements had not been completed. Additional information may be obtained by calling the Dunn-Purse Funeral Home.

New Permits Are Now Available

New permits for using the Walker Landfill are now available at city hall for Tecumseh residents.

Keep Our Schools Open!

Keep the Tecumseh schools open or close them - that's the issue facing voters here next Monday. Is the cost of four mills to high for educating our youngsters - that's the question.

It has been three years since the local schools sought additional millage from the district's electorate. Without new millage during this span of time, the Board and administration must have performed quite a feat during an era of inflation.

While other schools have repeatedly sought new millage, the Tecumseh school officials merely sought renewals of existing millage. The time has come that an increase has become necessary.

Opening or closing schools for the 1971-72 term is in balance. No millage, no money, no schools, it is quite simple.

We don't like new taxes and feel that our tax burden already is too high. Our assessments have been increased and the state is anticipating a raise in the state income tax.

Some will show their disgust by voting no at the polls on June 14th. We hope that there are enough to vote yes, enough citizenry valuing the education for our children.

Parents will play a vital role in the passage or defeat of the millage - 14 renewal and four new. If the parents get out and vote, they can pass 18 mills and keep the schools open. They may not like the additional millage, but they're willing to give up a minor per day cost to provide their youngsters with an education.

For most property owners, the cost will be 10 cents a day, give or take a few pennies, for the four new mills. Is this asking too much to send your child to the Tecumseh schools.

We urge the electorate to study the proposal and its advantages.

We have little choice, higher taxes or not, but to favor passage of the 18 mills on June 14th. We need our schools.

18 Mills, 7 Candidates Before Voters Monday

A request of 18 mills and election of two candidates to the School Board are expected to send a large number of voters to the polls next Monday in a critical election for the schools.

The millage, 14 renewal and four new, comprises all of the schools' voted operating millage. Board officials have stated that without the 18 mills, the Tecumseh schools could not possibly open next September.

Voting on the millage is expected to be close, based on comments heard from folks in the district. Some encouragement, however, was gained Tuesday when it was learned that nearby Adrian approved 19.5 mills, of which three were new.

If the school millage is passed here, Tecumseh's operating millage will still be 1.5 mills less than Adrian and approximately five mills less in total millage collected for operation and bond indebtedness.

Recent evaluation increases and applied factors are expected to cut Tecumseh's millage for bond indebtedness from 1.62 to 1.5 mills. This millage is being collected for the new Sutton Elementary School.

The last time officials sought additional operating millage was three years ago in 1968.

At that time 1,152 cast ballots, about 22 percent of the district's 5,200 registered voters. A larger turnout is expected next Monday.

Candidates seeking two four-year terms on the Board are William Brown, Hugh Des Ermia, Mikell Lynne Hedley, Claire J. Helms, Donald Judd, Joel Rutherford and J.J. Walper.

Mr. Brown is the sole incumbent. Mrs. Donald Cobb, currently a member of the Board, is not seeking re-election.

Board office will be open 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday for absentee ballots.

School Board Candidates

WILLIAM BROWN

Incumbent has eight years experience on the Board and is currently vice president. He graduated from Tecumseh in 1948 and from Michigan State University in 1952. He is president of Kitty Kurtis, Inc. and Kitty Kurtis Angus, and is a member of several state and national organizations. Mr. Brown and his wife have five children, two of whom have graduated from THS. One is attending MSU and the other is at Eastern Michigan University. He says the present method of financing schools by property tax is outmoded, and we need tax reform. He cites demands for quality education, increased state controls and inflation have placed a burden on the tax payer. Mr. Brown states control of the schools should continue to be in the hands of local taxpayers, and that they should see that their tax dollars are used wisely for education.

MIKELL L. HEDLEY

A graduate of Wheeling College and an elementary teacher for two years at St. Elizabeth, she is now working towards a masters degree in curriculum and instruction at Siena Heights. Mrs. Hedley, 32, taught previously in the Toledo school system. She and her family of four children have lived here about three years and reside in Newburg Court. Her husband is controller and assistant secretary for DST in Clinton. Mrs. Hedley feels her experience as a teacher and parent would be of value as a member of the Board. In light of her profession as a teacher and a desire to learn and improve her position by earning a masters degree, she is education conscious and "very interested in education for our children."

CLAIRE J. HELMS

A resident of Tecumseh since 1954, she is well known for her activities with the Jaycee Auxiliary and Jaycee Follies. Mrs. Helms, 39, was selected Tecumseh's outstanding woman in 1966, and the state's outstanding Jaycette in 1967. She is treasurer of the PTA at Tecumseh Acres school, a member of the PTO at Sutton, and is hostess here for the Welcome Wagon. She also is licensed by the state for Day Care for Working Mothers. Mrs. Helms was urged to run for the School Board by members of the Sutton PTO. Having three children of her own, she stresses her interest in the schools and children. Her husband, Dike Helms, is a local businessman, operating Helms Furniture.

HUGH DES ERMIA

He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1941, and after two and a half years in the army during WW II, he attended and graduated from Michigan State University in 1949. In the early 1950's, he was associated with his late father, Lyle Des Ermia, in the Des Ermia furniture store. He was a charter member of Tecumseh's Planning Commission. Mr. Des Ermia, 47, has worked many years in the field of public health, which placed him in close contact with schools, and is familiar with the use of public funds and expenditures of such by schools. In operation of the schools, he favors financing through an income tax rather thatn a property tax. A member of the Presbyterian Church, he and his wife have three children, two in the local schools.

JOEL RUTHERFORD

He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1965, and then attended Stautzenberger College of Professional Drafting at Toledo for two years. At the present, he is employed in the material control department at Tecumseh Products. Mr. Rutherford, 24, is a member of the Raisin Township Fire Department and has worked three years in Tecumseh's recreation department. He feels that fresh ideas are needed, and points out that he has not been out of school too long, and is aware of the problems with students, especially at the high school level. He believes many of these problems with students can be resolved.

DONALD JUDD

Tecumseh High School graduate is married and lives at 607 Blanchard St. He is an accountant, having attended Michigan State University and holds a diploma from International Accountants Society. Mr. Judd was once an insurance agent for Elmer Eberhardt Insurance and later was employed in the accounting department at Tecumseh Products. He is currently a cost, payroll and budget accountant for Gelman Instrument Co., Ann Arbor. His civic affairs here include four years as secretary of the Kiwanis Club; member of formulating committee for Community Center, chairman of Community Center dedication, and working in Jaycee activities. If elected, he hopes to do some research in the light of high taxes and the bind in which the working man is placed by these taxes. All answers of possible solutions to the school problems should be explored and explained.

JOHN J. WALPER, SR.

He has lived in the Tecumseh School District for 26 years and is a graduate of the local high school. He is also a graduate of the University of Michigan. Mr. Walper is owner of J.J. Walper and Sons, Inc., at Britton, and is a director of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh. He says the present system of financing our schools from property tax is antiquated, that we must provide adequate facilities but not monuments for our students, and we must consider using our facilities for more than nine months out of a year. He cites a need for better communication among students, teachers, administrators, parents and the taxpayer, and this is especially necessary to minimize the polarization of those who want more money for education and those who have to pay for it.

224 To Graduate at 105th Exercises

Tecumseh's 105th commencement will be held Sunday afternoon for 224 members of the Class of 1971.

The class is one of the largest to graduate here. Last year 216 seniors received diplomas. The 1969 class boasted 248 members, the largest number ever.

The Rev. Herbert Nation, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, will give the commencement address, "Valley of Vision."

Vicki Cook, class valedictorian, will give the valedictory, and John Dustin and Mark Roberts, co-salutatorians, will each speak to the class and audience.

Neville Hart, high school principal, will present the class to Supt. James McDowell for diplomas. Sunday's commencement will mark the last time the local superintendent will present diplomas. His retirement becomes effective July 1.

A musical selection, "It's Only Begun," will be presented by the senior class chorus under the direction of Diane Mannino, accompanied by John Dustin.

Coupled with the musical selection will be an interpretative reading by Lee Ann Schneider.

For the second straight year, the once numerous and valuable Herrick and Sage scholarships will be absent. Mr. Hart says some scholarships will be presented, but nothing to compare in number and value of three years ago when scholarships valued over $40,000 were awarded.

The Rev. Edmond Watkins, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation and benediction.

Commencement exercises are scheduled to start at 3:30 at the football stadium and are open to the public. In case of rain, the exercises will be moved into the gymnasium, and admission will be by ticket only.

Plans Rejected for Globe Dam

A representative with the state's Bureau of Water Management has rejected the city's plans for construction of the Globe Mill Pond dam.

Floyd Fanselow, state official, inspected the dam site recently and apparently rejected the plans which included use of old concrete.

An Ann Arbor engineer discussed the issue with Council Monday night, and feels the present plans may still be employed. He told officials that he would meet with Lansing officials late this week.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the rejection has temporarily halted work at the site.

The engineer feels the concrete can be patched. The part involved would hold only some eight feet of water, and such a small amount of water did not cause any problem, he reported.

State officials recently have urged the city to build a spillway, although present plans were originally approved for construction. If a spillway is built, it would have to be at least 50 feet in length and costs would soar.

Mr. Zorn and the city's engineer have objected to a spillway from the beginning. Officials here are hoping that the state will reconsider its rejection and allow construction to continue under present plans.

2 Approved for Liquor

Council approved applications Monday night for two downtown Tecumseh taverns for Class C liquor licenses.

Based on inspection reports from Murell Clark, police chief, officials approved licenses for Jerry's Bar and Grill and Dick's Tavern. Both had applied previously and were rejected.

Since then, according to the reports, both had corrected situations and Dick's Tavern was completely remodeled.

Council has now awarded licenses to three establishments since voters approved liquor by the glass last fall. Cedar Shack restaurant was the first to receive approval and has had held a Class C license since January.

SEWS UP A STORM — Cynthia Kusmierz, II, earned a first place certificate with her navy rain cape, lined in red print, in 4-H Class II Young Miss division at Greenfield Village Country Fair, Dearborn, May 22.

Arson Suspected In Barn Fire

Suspicion of arson is being investigated in a fire which destroyed a barn and some machinery early Wednesday morning, at the corner of Taylor Rd. and N. Adrian Hwy.

Fire was noticed by a motorist and Clinton Fire Department was called at 4:45 a.m.

Barn was recently purchased by Carl Pierkarek, Tipton, and contained tractor, car and farm tools owned by previous owner, Elmer Phillips, and a combine owned by another party.

To The Editor:

The passage by Adrian of the operating millage for the schools gives me confidence that the Tecumseh voters will show the same concern. I feel that the building and support of a public school system is testimony to the love of society for its children.

The important supports for the child are the home, the school and the church. Perhaps none of the three has been as effective as desired, but all three need to be a part of the child's life to combat today's insidious influences.

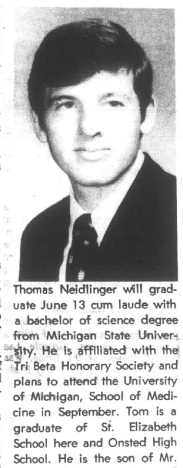

Definitely I feel that the school system must remain strong through public support. This is no time to cut back programs. The child needs this support as well as the others.

Yours truly,
June N. Stone

Judge Sees Alcoholic Problems In county

Lenawee County has a serious problem with alcoholism, according to District Judge Yale Kerby. Like any other disease, he believes, a major effort must be made to combat it.

"We all know people who are alcoholics but because of the stigma attached to the illness we either ignore the problem or are afraid or ashamed to seek help for them," Judge Kerby said.

An advisory committee will consult with major employers in the community and recommend a program to help victims and their families.

The goal, Judge Kerby said, is to establish and operate an alcoholism treatment center to benefit those in need who live in and around Lenawee County. It is the committee's hope the center will be in operation within the next six months.

Judge Kerby is chairman of the advisory committee. Robert Sage of Tecumseh is vice-chairman and Paul E. Nelson, Adrian, is secretary.

Members of the advisory committee are John D. Backman, The Rev. Fr. William Carolin, Sue Denger, Edward P. Fisher, Sheriff Richard Germond, the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, Judge Ralph Kohn, George Mead, William Mullinix, Angel Rivera, Dr. D.F. Sarapo, Kahle Sebring, George Spencer, Elsie Thelander, Dr. Patricia Wentz and Mrs. James White.

Through My Window

THE OLD FAITHFULS

How easy it is to overlook or ignore the everyday and commonplace things. This time of year it seems especially easy. We become so excited about a brilliant Baltimore oriole streaking past, enthusiastic over the rare appearance of a scarlet tanager, or completely engrossed in trying to spot a bird singing an unfamiliar song that the comings and goings of our old standbys are hardly noted at all. The other day I decided to block out the newcomers and focus my watching on what the regulars were doing.

The first treat was afforded by, of all things, a drab little English sparrow. The poor little thing was about beside herself trying to feed her three hulking kids. It was a raw nasty day and the youngsters were all fluffed up to about twice their natural size.

Two of them huddled side by side looking pitifully unhappy. The third was a bit braver and once or twice tried to pick up scratch feed himself. Quickly tiring of this, he ran straight to his parent even though it meant climbing over his huddling-together brother and sister. Puppies scramble over each other but it is always a surprise to see birds do it.

Suddenly, in spite of the unseasonably cold weather, it was bath time. Pretty Mama Cardinal was the first brave soul. Fortunately, we did not see her dipping in the creek, that would really have made us shiver.

Once clean however, she came to the yews, beneath the near-my-window feeder, to shake, preen and dry. Oh, but her head was wet, such a bedraggled looking gal.

The next bather who came into our view was a water-logged bluejay. Yes, water-logged is the right word–he was absolutely soaked and his feathers were so wet that his flight was actually slow and lumbering. He was ragged and rumpled up, a most untidy bluejay. Untidy but clean.

Being in the water always does something for the appetite. Mama Cardinal was hungry when she came back to the feeder, she ground open sunflower seeds as if they were going out of style. So intent upon eating was she that even when a bluejay zoomed down to the feeding tray, there was no trouble.

In fact, she hardly batted an eye, she just kept right on eating. And, strange as it may seem, the bluejay took no offense. He was hungry too. Ordinarily, of course, the shy cardinal would have practically fallen over herself hurrying to get away from the bluejay and the bully jay hardly ever will consent to sharing the feeder. Hunger makes strange feeder-mates.

The next regular who had a surprise for us was a cocky little tufted titmouse. From across the creek came a reasonable facsimile of "whip-er-will". This was the middle of the afternoon. No self respecting whip-poor-will would be calling in the broad daylight.

But the loud clear whistle continued and we were about ready to some fast bird-book checking. Then from the jungle across the creek, a gray bird came scalloping towards the feeder.

After zooming in and making a perfect landing, the slick tufted titmouse took a stance in the middle of the feeder, checked to make sure we were watching, opened his bill slightly and–good gracious, this was our whip-poor-will. Well, of course, the bird did not really check to see whether we were looking or not, he probably doesn't even know we exist.

So perfectly though did he show us who was making the noise that it certainly looked deliberate. Had he actually been trying to answer our question he could have done no better.

So it is that this time of year does indeed bring many new and exciting birds but we should not forget that nice things are being done and good shows are being put on by the old faithfuls too.

5 Are Seeking 1 Board Seat

CLINTON–Names of five candidates will appear on the ballot at the annual School Election of Clinton Community School June 14 for the one school board position, a four-year term.

Each candidate has prepared a resume of his background and a statement of why he wishes to serve on the board of education.

MRS. WILLIAM JOHNSON

Mrs. William (Marie) Johnson is a native of Detroit. She lived most of her life in Muskegon. She attended Muskegon Community College, where she majored in English and psychology.

She is a professional nuismatist and promoter of collectors' shows. She writes for several trade journals and is a world traveler.

Mrs. Johnson and her husband reside on Van Tuyle Rd. They have a daughter, Mary, who is in eighth grade in Clinton Community Schools.

Mrs. Johnson stated, "I am strongly in favor of a closed campus. I believe when you hire qualified educators and administrators you should back them up. They should be given the support of the community. As a member of the community, a person should participate and take an interest in things."

NORMAN RANDALL

Norman Randall, a local dairy farmer, resides with his wife, Marilyn, at 11500 Clinton Rd. They have a teen-age son who attends Clinton school.

Mr. Randall and his wife have lived all their lives in the Clinton area and both are graduates of Clinton High School. He is a graduate of Michigan State University. He serves as a trustee of Bridgewater Township, Washtenaw County.

Mr. Randall said, "Besides paying taxes and complaining about how high they are, people should get involved in their community. I chose to run for the Clinton school board because educational goals and objectives are confused when board members play partisan roles while being members of the school board. This can only lead to ill feeling between board members and the public alike.

"Running for this position, I reserve the right to make my own decision as I see fit, regardless of who wants what for the good of the school."

GEORGE R. WOLF

George R. Wolf has been a resident of Clinton for six years. He is employed by the Technical Department of Stauffer-Wacker Silicone Corp. His doctorate was earned at the University of Pennsylvania.

George and Nelia Wolf have five children enrolled in the Clinton Community Schools. His community activities revolve around children since he assists in the Cub Scouts and was an officer of the Clinton Elementary Parent-Teachers Organization.

He is a member of the Britton Bethel Baptist Church.

Mr. Wolf said, "My reason for striving for a position on the Board of Education reflects my interest in children, their education and their development into desirable citizens. If elected, I will work with the board and the administration to provide the quality of education and training that has been the heritage of our community.

"I am also of the opinion that we taxpayers should receive a dollar's value for each dollar invested in the education of our children. My scientific training, my technical and management experience, I believe, qualify me to serve our community on the Board of Education.

"Please exercise your privilege to vote June 14. Your vote will be appreciated."

GLENN CLARK

Glenn Clark has been a resident of the Clinton area for the past seven years. He resides at 12140 E. Michigan Ave. with his wife, Martha, and four children. The children attend Clinton Community Schools. Glenn is 36 years of age and is owner of Meadowlane Golf Course. Meadowlane is the home course for the Clinton High golf team and also the site of Clinton's cross country matches.

Mr. Clark received his high school education at Huron Valley High, Milford, and received his BA degree in Business Administration at Cleary College. He worked for Ford Motor Co. for several years as a production control scheduler before building the golf course.

He has been active in Clinton Rotary Club for five years and is presently sergeant of arms.

Mr. Clark stated that with his business background and his college training that he could prove himself as a real asset to the Clinton Board of Education. He has no particular "beefs" with the present administration and desires, only that our children get as good an education as we, the taxpayers, can afford to give them. As to the upcoming bonding issue, he hopes that the local taxpayer will grant the transfer of funds from the debt retirement fund to the operational fund. He said he feels that we are very fortunate to maintain a "status quo" in these days of rising costs.

Mr. Clark stated, "I am not a candidate because of persuasion by any individual parties. I am an interested citizen who would like to be of service to my community."

HENRY LOUWERENS

Henry Louwerens, 46, resides at 224 Sunset Dr. with his wife, Marilyn and four children.

Mr. Louwerens said, "I served in the United State Army for 32 months during World War II and shortly after my discharge on Oct. 1, 1946, I joined the Michigan State Police. I am still with the Michigan State Police as Sergeant and Post Commander of the Clinton Post.

"My reason for seeking a position on the school board are primarily in the interest of students and secondly for the taxpayer. For the student I'm interested in the field of drugs, discipline and morale. I'm interested in the taxpayer, of which I'm one, in getting the most and best for your and my money.

"I've been involved in administrative duties for many years and believe that I can use my experience and objectivity with the school board to formulate policy to the benefit of the school.

"I wish everyone to know that I have had no previous connections with the school administration either by doing business with them or working for the school and consequently could be objective in my judgments and decision making. I feel that I could assist and contribute to leadership."

Objections Slow Proposed Sewer

CLINTON–A setback to plans for connecting Clinton's wastewater treatment to Tecumseh was reported at the meeting of the Village Council last Wednesday.

Because two property owners, Burleson and Mohr, have objected to the sewer lines crossing their property, Council decided to reappraise the entire sewer treatment program. A request will be made for Mr. Swan of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, engineering firm, to submit alternate proposals for Clinton's wastewater treatment.

A group of citizens who own property at the eastern end of Washington St. were present to object to the proposed installation of sidewalks in that area. Council decided that such sidewalks would not be installed.

Another group of property owners from the Underwood subdivision were present regarding the proposed rezoning in the subdivision from residential A (single residence) to residential B (multiple residence). Their objections were considered by the Council and the rezoning will not be permitted.

Council authorized Richard Sharpe, village engineer, to purchase paint spray equipment for street lining and curb painting.

Clerk John Fox was instructed to write the Michigan Department of Highways concerning the bridge at the west end of the village on US-12, which is hazardous because of the four-lane highway narrows there into two lanes. Because of the recent fatality at the bridge, the urgency of having improvement made will be called to their attention.

BLOW STRIKES OLD FRIEND — Clinton's 1905 three-story school falls under the wrecker's ball, wielded by Selders Excavating workers. Structure became familiar to 66 years of high school students as they studied in its high-windowed rooms and climbed the labyrinth of oak-paneled stairways. No building is planned for site, only a new facade of brick will enhance the Middle School remaining in the section behind.

Park Will Be International

Tecumseh's new Adams Park will have a truly international flavor.

More than a dozen varieties of trees and shrubs are recommended by Charles W. Cares, landscape architect. He selected them because of their easy care and long seasons of attractiveness, as well as the way they fit into the park's design. The international sources of the plants he chose are reflected in the names: London Planetree, Japanese yew, Austrian pine. There also will be ten White Pine trees, Michigan's official state tree.

Prof. Cares suggests using good-sized trees and shrubs, so the park will have a "finished" look, but realizes the cost of full-grown specimens is high. Retail cost of the recommended sizes could hit about $2,000.

Mrs. Carlton Cook, chairman of the park project for the Little Garden Club, commented that the club may do the work of planting the park, to save costs.

"We would like to buy the plants from one supplier, to save money, and even start some of the plants ourselves, such as the groundcover," she added.

"If anyone would like to contribute a specific plant from the list, we would be happy to have it. Copies of the plan are on display at City Hall and at the Tecumseh Public Library," she noted.

Some $4,000 has been collected so far, about half the expected cost of the park, which is to include a fountain, walks and plantings in the area west of City Hall. In addition, several businesses have indicated they will contribute materials.

Bids are being prepared now for the fountain area and walks.

Construction should begin this summer.

Mrs. Cook noted that any organization which would like to know more about the park can contact Little Garden Club, which will provide a five or ten minute program at a club meeting.

Recommended plants include a large number of evergreen trees and shrubs and evergreen groundcover plants. Spring-flowering shrubs and trees, summer-flowering plants and trees with striking fall color are included. Some have berries or fruits attractive to birds.

Prof. Cares recommends also that the trees and shrubs be "balled and burlapped." The larger the plant, in general, the more care is needed in transplanting to prevent shock and possible loss of the plant.

His suggested plant list includes: three Red Maples, 3-3½ trunk diameter; six Cornelian cherry (Dogwood) 5'-6'; 15 Winged Euonymus, 3'-4'; three Bigleaf Wintercreeper, 24"-30".

Seven Forsythia "Spring Glory", 4'5'; 27 Pfitzer's Juniper, 24"-30"; one Star Magnolia, 5'; five Japanese flowering crab, 2"-2½" trunk diameter.

Five Zumi Crab, 2"-2½" trunk diameter; six Austrian Pine, 6'; ten White Pine, 5'-6'; three London Planetree, 4"-4½" trunk diameter.

Fifty-seven Japanese Yew, 18"-24" (Substitution of named cultivar, e.g. "Browni" or "Wardi" desirable.); four Little Leaf Linden, 2"-2½ Seedless cultivars of Green or White Ash are good alternates; 11 Black Jetbead, 4'-5'; 2,000 Japanese spurge, one year rooted cuttings. Interplant with daffodils & spring bulbs.

Church Message Comes to You by These Sponsors

Here comes the winner! Can he hold that first-place position? Or will he fail? Victory is the most important thing in the world for these youngsters right now. Everything hinges on the outcome of this contest.

Enthusiasm is an important part of successful living. It can stimulate the imagination and inspire the mind. And it can be a contagious thing, too. It can affect your co-workers, your friends and your family. That is why it is so important to instill enthusiasm in any successful organization, as well as in individuals.

One of the greatest institutions on earth, the Church, has inherited a rich spiritual enthusiasm which has been handed down through the centuries. Its members, working together, fired by the enthusiasm of Faith can give you renewed inspiration which you in turn, can pass on to others.

Plan now to attend church next Sunday. Become a part of this great fellowship of believers who can instill and impart enthusiasm into our lives, our community, our world.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Gout

Gout used to be the subject of comic-strip humor, but doctors and their patients are now taking it seriously. For example, it now appears that some form and degree of blood vessel disease can be found in most gout patients. And an acute attack of gout may be the first symptom or leukemia, endocrine diseases, and various metabolic disorders.

The body normally produces uric acid from high-protein foods, and excretes it through the urine and sweat. In some persons, there is an over-production or under-excretion (or both) of uric acid. Urate crystals form in one or more joints, causing a swelling and severe pain: gout.

For some reason, 10% of those with high uric acid levels don't develop gout. But the disease isn't found without concentrations uric acid.

At present, there is no known cure, but gout can be controlled with diet and drugs that reduce uric acid levels. This requires self-discipline on the part of the patient, and a long-term interest on the part of the doctor.

Despite the recent attention paid to gout, it was noted that a famous Midwestern clinic that only 12% of gout patients were correctly diagnosed before admittance. This suggests that gout is still rarely recognized, except in its acute stage.

Also, recent reports support the theory that heavy drinking may be related to the disease. It's been found that alcohol can produce compounds in the kidney which interfere with uric acid excretion, raising levels to the critical point.

Big Margin for Millage; Brown, Des Ermia Win

Value of education and the Tecumseh schools received overwhelming support here Monday when voters approved 18 mills for operation, 1,130 to 689. Of the 18 mills, however, only four were new.

Incumbent William Brown, an eight-year School Board veteran, and Hugh Des Ermia, newcomer, were elected to four-year terms.

Turnout at the polls was higher than expected with 1,840 casting ballots or about 35 percent of the district's 5,200 registered voters. Only the February 1970 vote, which crushed hopes for a new Tecumseh High School, has been larger in many years. Last year's tally was over 1,900.

Although the schools sought 18 mills, not all of the new four mills may be collected from the taxpayers. Both Supt. James McDowell and Robert Duhan, successor to the superintendent on July 1, say that increased state aid per pupil and increased assessed evaluations could allow the Board to collect less than the four new mills approved by the electorate.

Such a possibility may not be known for another four or six weeks, as the district's evaluation has yet to be determined - although it's known that it will be considerably higher than the $60.6 million used for a tentative budget - nor have the legislators in Lansing determined state aid for 1971-72.

Tecumseh school district could have an evaluation of about $2 million over the budget's figure. Official reports have not been received, but the entire district will be affected by a reported 6.3 factor for the county. This would hike assessments by 6.3 percent on real estate property only.

This factor, plus those levied by the county on some governmental units, could boost the district's evaluation into the neighborhood of $63 million. For example, Raisin Township, socked with a 15 percent increase by the county, would also be rapped with the 6.3 factor, assigned here by the state.

If state aid is not increased appreciably, despite the factors, it is unlikely that the Board will be able to operate the current school programs without the 18 mills, including the four new passed Monday.

In the race for the Board, Mr. Brown topped all candidates with 971 votes. Mr. Des Ermia collected 731.

Totals for other candidates are, in order, Claire Helms, 560; J.J. Walper, 549; Donald Judd, 293; Joel Rutherford, 254; and Mikell L. Hedley, 139.

Other members on the Board are Aden Mead, president, William Macbeth, Dr. Fred Freeman, Dr. Donald Phelan, and Dr. Harold Ocamb.

A close margin had been predicted for the millage with approval or rejection hanging in the balance. It would appear that parents heavily supported the millage, and quite likely parents who sent their children to St. Elizabeth in the past but will be enrolling them in the public schools next September.

The Board had publicly stated at its May meeting that rejection could close the schools. If the millage had failed, a special meeting of the Board was tentatively scheduled for Wednesday night. Such a meeting undoubtedly would have dealt with the millage and a probable election on the same millage early in August.

Passage Monday assured the schools will open next fall. Defeat would have left the schools with only 8.5 mills on which to operate, and not even enough to qualify for state aid.

Eugene Cooley Is New Assistant For Duhan

Eugene Cooley, 31, currently superintendent of the Hanover Horton schools in Jackson County, has been hired by the School Board as Assistant Superintendent and in charge of business affairs for the Tecumseh schools.

He will succeed Robert Duhan, who will head the local schools July 1, replacing Supt. James McDowell, who is retiring after 20 years as the top administrator.

Mr. Cooley, a former professional baseball player in the Pittsburgh Pirate organization, has a bachelors degree from Western Michigan University and a masters from Michigan State. He is presently working for an education specialist degree at MSU.

Before assuming the superintendency at Hanover Horton last year, he was an elementary principal for two years. He started at Athens where he was a teacher and later became an elementary principal.

A native of Charlotte, he plans to move to Tecumseh this summer. Mrs. Cooley is a part-time physical education instructor at Adrian College.

They have two children.

Work on Dam at Standstill

Work on a new dam at Globe Mill Pond has come to a standstill with officials awaiting for a decision from Lansing.

A state inspector for the Water Resources Commission recently rejected the city's plans for the dam, due to a crack in a section of some old concrete. He has suggested a spillway in place of the dam.

Neither Cal Zorn, city manager, nor Louis Winklehaus, Ann Arbor engineer, are in favor of a spillway. Both feel that the concrete can be corrected and the present plans, previously approved by the state, can be carried out.

Last week at Council meeting, Mr. Winklehaus told officials that he would seek an appointment with the inspector on Thursday or Friday. Monday, he informed the city manager that he was unable to contact the inspector, reportedly on vacation and unavailable.

While work has stopped at the dam site, a considerable amount of dirt is being hauled out of the pond's basin for cover around the city's new million-gallon holding tank at the wastewater plant.

Mini-Bikes in Mishaps

Mini-bikes and MIS traffic topped a busy week for Tecumseh police who investigated eight accidents.

Leonard Wotring, 14, and Robert Williams, also 14, were riding their mini-bikes last Wednesday in a field south of Russell Rd., when both rode over a hill and collided head-on. Their injuries were minor.

Not to be out done, Michael Wotring, 9, was riding a mini-bike Tuesday on the sidewalk on S. Union St. and smacked into the side of a car turning into a driveway. Driver of the auto was Marion O. Webb, 51, of 106 Hiawatha.

Mother of the young boy, Etta M. Wotring, 205 Russell Rd., was ticketed by police for allowing an unlicensed driver operate an unlicensed vehicle. The boy was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

MIS race fans, Doris P. Gwitt, 35, Belville; Harry R. Reidy, 51, Britton; and Robert A. Wilcox, 40, Columbus, O. were in a chain-type accident with Wilcox cited for violation of speed restrictions. Four persons suffered minor injuries.

About the same time Jeff Marsh, 43, LaPlace, La., ran into the rear of a car driven by Darryl R. Brown, 18, Trenton on W. Chicago. Three people complained of injuries.

3 Vacancies

Three teaching vacancies must be filled before the 1971-72 school year, according to Supt. James McDowell.

The vacancies include a sixth grade at Herrick Park, high school math instructor, and a teacher for Type A, special education, at the high school.

JACK ABBOTT AND JIM BAKER UNLOAD 125,000 POUNDS OF HONEY FOR HUBBARD APIARIES

125,000 Pounds of Honey!

By Bill Whiting

If the air has been smelling a little sweeter lately, you can give the credit to Hubbard Apairies of Springville. The beekeepers unloaded the first of five railroad cars of honey here last week and expect another shipment Thursday.

Dick Hubbard, part owner with his father, Lee, of the Springville honey outlet said the shipment is the largest single order ever delivered in Michigan and the only one ever delivered in bulk. A special freight car leased to the railroad brought 125,000 pounds of the sweet gold syrup to Tecumseh June 9.

"We're the largest single processor of honey in the United States," said Hubbard. He added his plant produces up to 175,000 pounds in one day, although this is their slow time of year.

"Housewives aren't baking now," he said. "People are going out on picnics and such, so everything's impromptu."

The giant load was ordered from the Ralph J. Stone Honey Co. in Billings, Mont., which is the only bulk honey shipping plant in the world. Much to Hubbard's surprise, the train pulled into Tecumseh only five days after it was shipped out.

Rolled onto the track siding at Hayden Fuels, the tank car, painted with bees and flowers, was unloaded into a large-capacity delivery truck to be transported to the plant. The operation took nearly an entire day, although the truck held 4,000 gallons.

Once at the Springville destination, the pure clover honey,having originated in Montana and Saskatchewan, is bottled for distribution throughout the country to chain stores under 125 different brand labels.

BUSY WRENS

The wren tree is finally a wren tree once again. Years ago the largest maple on our creek bank earned its nickname because of the little redwood birdhouse which hung from a lower branch. But as trees grow they occasionally have to be pruned, wren houses are remodeled by downy woodpeckers, new houses are hung elsewhere, and for many seasons the maple was a wren tree in name only. This year, however,Frank Gray's gourd wren house is proudly positioned so that, as we said before, the wren tree is indeed a wren tree.

At first we wondered if the wrens would be interested in a dumb bell shaped home. It looked cute to us, we only hoped it did to them. They did not keep us in suspense long; the pair who came to look it over did a thorough job of inspecting and signed the lease immediately. The next day they started moving in.

The business is always fun to watch. The energy of these tiny birds is amazing, day after day they lugged and hauled building material until one wondered where in the world they were putting it. After all, the house was only just so big.

The coarser material went in first and often it took expert maneuvering to get the long twigs and sticks through the quarter sized doorway. When bits of kleenex, globs of webs and other fluff were carefully carried in, the nest was in the final stage of preparation.

What fun it would have been to peer in and watch Mrs. Wren arranging this soft lining. She is such a little fuss budget that I imagine the finishing touches to the decor were not accomplished easily.

In addition to the pleasure of seeing these industrious characters so engrossed in making the careful preparations necessary for successful family raising, there is the sheer pleasure of being entertained by their almost-before-daylight-to-darkness serenading. That such loud singing can come from such mites of birds is a never ending source of wonder.

Their song is full of joy, happiness, and bubbly good cheer. It is also contagious. One day though we noticed a sudden change in the wrens' talk. The singing became scolding. Shrill harsh scolding. It did not take long to discover why – a nervy wren stranger had dared to venture unforgiveably close to the gourd-house and the rightful tenents were quickly giving him to understand that his trespassing was not appreciated.

Another day the inquisitiveness of a very young red squirrel caused all sorts of commotion. As the Little Red crept down the tree trunk he unknowingly took that one step which put him too close to the wrens' house.

Screaming at the top of their lungs, the two birds rushed to the defense of their home. It was almost a coordinated attack; one bird took the south side of the tree while his mate was responsible for the other. They dive-bombed the squirrel, sometimes even making contact.

The youngster beat a hasty retreat to the top of the tree, the wrens ceased their attacking, but when Little Red did not know enough to make his escape via the next tree and tried to reach the ground by sneaking back down the trunk of the wren tree, the two wrens took after him again.

This went on for the better part of forty-five minutes. The squirrel simply did not know where to go but the wrens most definately knew where he was not going to go. I am sure it was not our imagination that after this horrendous battle was so valiantly won, the wrens' songs seemed even more zealous and bursting than before.

So it is that things are never dull, not when the nearby wren tree is the home sweet home of two busy wrens.

Next Week: More Wren Talk.

Indian Baseball Results Released

Final statistics for the Tecumseh Indians baseball team have been released by Jim Curth, head coach.

Tecumseh finished the season 10-6 in the Huron League, good for a second place tie, and 10-8 in all games as compared to 3-13 league and 3-16 overall records one year ago.

Curth attributed the won-loss reversal to the improvement of Indian fielders. Last year, Tecumseh committed 76 errors, but this season they nearly cut that total in half, making only 39.

Another major factor in the Indians resurgence was the strong right arm of senior Craig Smith. Smith, who was named the team's most valuable player, finished with a 10-4 record. He worked a total of 107 innings and averaged better than one strikeout per inning, 114, while walking only 21. His earned run average was a fine 1.80.

Smith beat every league foe at least once and decisioned league champion Airport twice.

Leading hitter on the team was Steve Camfield with a .333 average. Rich Bunch followed at .317 and Rich Hierholzer was at .300. Lack of hitting by the other players, however, pulled the team average way down to .219.

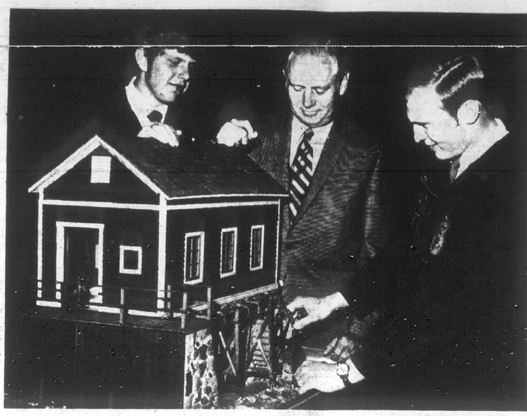

Hugh Conklin was cited for his outstanding defensive play at first base, committing only one error during the season, coming in the last game. He finished with a .998 fielding average. Outfielders Steve Vargo and Robin Hatch were also cited.

Hugh Conklin and Bunch were selected as co-captains for next year's squad. Only four players were lost through graduation for next season's team, Smith, Hierholzer, Hatch and Paul Randall.

All-League

Rick Bunch was named to an infield position on the All-Huron League's first team. Bunch, played shortstop for the Indians, and hit .317.

Receiving honorable mention were Craig Smith, pitcher; Rich Hierholzer, outfield; Dan Gunder, catcher; and Steve Camfield and Hugh Conklin, infield.

On the arm of her oldest brother, John J. Her chapel length mantilla edged with matching lace was secured to a Camelot headpiece and she carried a nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and babys breath.

APPROVE THEN REJECT — Cal Zorn, city manager, is shown at the left with the one "wide crack" running down the inside of the old structure, which is included in the city's plan for a new dam. Although the state has cited this "wide crack" and other objections, local officials do not feel that they form a real problem. Regardless, the state has now rejected plans for a dam and suggests that a spillway be designed. Officials here are hoping to reach an agreement with the state and continue work on a dam. Plans once were approved — now they're rejected!

State's Letter Rejects Plans for New Dam

Six months ago city officials were confident that the Globe Mill Pond dam would be completed and the pond filled with water in July.

Unfortunately, the pond may be filled with water in July - but not this year. And, the dam may never be developed.

Officials received a letter from the state's Bureau of Water Management Tuesday, refusing permission for construction of the Globe Mill Pond dam. Work at the site was halted several weeks ago when a state inspector became critical of existing construction and suggested the city build a spillway instead of a dam.

The state's letter to City Manager Cal Zorn cited objections from the Bureau - lack of reinforcing steel in the footings of the old structure, eroded sidewalls to the depth of six inches, and considerable flow of water from beneath the spillway floor.

Zorn has questioned these objections and seeks a meeting with state officials to refute their charges. Louis Winkelhaus, Ann Arbor engineer who has been in charge of the new dam construction, told Council in the past that there was nothing seriously wrong with the old structure that repairs would not solve.

If the city is forced to abandon its plans for a dam and construct a spillway, some $23,000 already spent could well be wasted. Cost of a spillway has not been determined, but a span of some 50 feet would be required to handle the flow of water.

In regards to this, a portion of the state's letter reads:

"It is not our policy to tell people how their dams should be designed, but in this instance we would recommend that any new design provide a spillway of sufficient capacity to be more or less self-operating."

City plans for the dam were previously approved twice by the Department of Natural Resources.

Handys Sell Local Motel

Veteran Tecumseh business couple, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Handy, will bring a 20-year career to a close July 1 when they turn over ownership of the Jack Pine Motel to the Gerald Quinns, owners of Jerry's Bar and Grill.

The Quinns plan to continue operating both businesses, living in quarters at the motel. Their plans for the motel include additional rooms and services and a swimming pool for the future.

The Handys purchased the Jack Pine Drive-in from Vern Manwaring in 1950 and in 1956 built the motel on the adjacent Chicago Blvd. lot. In 1961 the drive-in was converted into a beauty shop which is still being operated.

Mr. and Mrs. Handy are moving to a new residence at 916 River Acres Dr. They plan to be semi-retired and enjoy their cottage at Houghton Lake until Handy retires from his position with the Internal Revenue Service.

Anesthetist Joins Staff

A registered nurse specializing in anesthetics joined the staff at Herrick Memorial Hospital June 14 to serve in a capacity formerly handled only by local physicians.

Mrs. Ralph Walker, CRNA, of Adrian, is the first non-physician to administer anesthesia in surgery at Herrick Hospital on a regular basis. She served in that capacity at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor for five years prior to coming here.

Recent resignations on the hospital staff left them somewhat short-handed, according to Administrator William Groover, and Mrs. Walker will join several other physicians who still do anesthesia. Groover added that several other area hospitals, including Ypsilanti, Saline and Jackson have registered nurses serving as anesthetists.

Mrs. Walker lives with her family at 1317 Anthony Court, Adrian.

Taken to the hospital for injuries were Eileen R. Hizer, 60, of 503 Herrick Park Dr., driver of the automobile; Nora Schultz, 78, of 312 N. Maumee; and Rena Hubbard, 71, of 814 Outer Dr. None of the injuries was considered serious.

According to the police, Mrs. Hizer was headed north on Maumee, and Nelson N. Buck, 54, Pittsford, west on E. Chicago Blvd. The Hizer car ran a flashing signal light and directly in front of Buck's pickup.

Mrs. Hizer was charged with disobeying a red flashing signal.

A resume of the other accidents is:

Board Organizing On July 12th

Tecumseh School Board voted Monday night to hold its annual organizational meeting - along with its regular monthly meeting - on Monday, July 12.

Aden Mead is currently president; William Brown, vice-president; and Mrs. Donald Cobb, treasurer. Mrs. Cobb did not seek re-election and was succeeded at last week's election by Hugh Des Ermia.

'Mac' Ending 20-Year Reign

By Bill Whiting

Jim McDowell has a grin that seems to stretch as long as a line of June graduates. The sparkle in his eyes belies the fact that he has been an educator most of his life and superintendent of the exploding Tecumseh school district for the last 20 years.

On July 1 McDowell will turn over his duties to his successor, Rober Duhan, and join the ranks of the retired. "I always liked what I did," he said. But his reflective glance betrays a little sadness at leaving the post he has held during the district's most expansive years.

"So many things are different," he said. "But we've gone ahead. Holy smokes! The kids just get so much more today then they did 20 years ago."

When he came here as high school principal in 1945 in what is now the junior high building, McDowell said classes were being held in every spare corner. Extra rooms in the Baptist, Presbyterian and Episcopal churches were used for instruction along with the Brownville and West Branch school buildings.

At that time the school district was considerably smaller and many rural children were unable to come into town to continue their education through high school. There were no busses then and parents' attitudes were a good deal more conservative.

"I was told that they had never had a dance in the school gym until I came here in '45," recalled McDowell. "They told me, the parents will never let you have it. Well, we had it, and now nobody thinks about it."

McDowell probably set the tone for his future career in Tecumseh with that dance since his administration covers the most dynamic years in the system's history. He succeeded Earl Wallace, who moved to St. Joseph, in May 1951.

Only 1,218 students attended Tecumseh schools then, which were operated under a $294,000 budget. By contrast, today there are nearly 3,800 school children in the district with operating expenses amounting to $2,935,000.

Construction has skyrocketed with the present high school building and three elementary schools rising in Tecumseh – not to mention elementary schools built in Macon, Ridgeway, Sutton and Tipton.

Much of the building was precipitated by the annexation of 18 rural school districts in 1956-57 - an achievement McDowell points to with pride.

"It really did the kids the most good," he said. "It wasn't the happiest thing for me, though. I pretty near got fired." In addition to the extra revenue made possible by the annexations, McDowell said it provided rural children with the opportunity to continue their education in the local high school.

On the other hand, the retiring administrator recalls that his bleakest period came in the early 60's when a millage vote rejection forced cutbacks in art, music and physical education classes at the elementary level, along with half-day sessions for first grade.

"That was the saddest thing I had to do," he said. "However, that was the only time we've ever been turned down by the voters. People in Tecumseh and this locality have always provided pretty good educational facilities."

"Of course we do need a new high school and ought to move out of that old (junior high) building," he added. Financing has become education's biggest headache in recent years, but McDowell has been fairly successful in seeking to keep the dollars flowing to keep Tecumseh standards high. He said local people have been very cooperative.

"This (recent) millage surprised me," he said. Although he expected it to pass, the big margin of victory was contrary to much of the prevailing anti-tax sentiment. "It looks like the people have given us a real vote of confidence."

McDowell is likewise confident when it comes to the youth of today.

"These old fogies can knock kids all they want, but they're not so dumb," he said. "The biggest thing you notice about them today is that they are bigger, healthier and more knowledgeable than their parents. Kids today will run a tighter ship than we did.

"I'm not discouraged at all," he continued enthusiastically. "I look for a heck of a lot better nation. There are better ways to do things than we did them.

"The one thing we lack most today," he pointed out, "is some way to sit down and review with the kids what they think they need for the future, because they do know what they need.

"We've been lecturing to classes the same way for generations, but teachers are going to have to change their attitudes. You can talk until you're blue in the face, but the object is to keep kids in school.

"The vocational program, for instance, meets their needs much better now. Today kids go to Vo-Tec who don't go to college, and they get a lot more out of school."

Although he sat on the other side of the bargaining table for a good many years, McDowell also had high praise for Tecumseh teachers. "Bargaining has been a good thing for education," he concluded. "There's more quality coming into the field and the teaching is better."

The tremendous gains in teacher's wages over the past few years were much deserved, said McDowell, pointing to the fact that 10 years ago a teacher made only $4,000 a year. Today they make as much as $1,000 a month.

"They have to be a lot sharper today because the kids are so much sharper and they have to be able to cope with them," he said.

He believes, however, that a different method of financing education will have to be found in the near future which will certainly mean some state help.

"Now we have to go to the polls every year," he complained. "It's a waste of time and money. Costs won't go down and the people will have to pay for it. But there's a limit to how much you can tax on property."

A devoted educator, McDowell confided that he once studied to be a dentist. He changed his college curriculum, however, and taught in the Bloomingdale system after his graduation where he was their first basketball coach.

"I had too much fun working with the kids to quit after that," he said, "although I probably would have made five times more than I did as a teacher."

"Mac," as he is called by friends, is looking forward to his first extended vacation in years. "Only once in my life since I was 14, have I been able to take more than one week for a vacation," he said.

He and his wife, Frances, an elementary school teacher, plan to travel and visit with relatives for a month along the west coast. Following that, they intend to remain at their residence on Evans Creek Dr.

SUPT. JAMES McDOWELL

Dinner Is Tonight

Supt. James McDowell, ending a 20-year reign as head of the Tecumseh Schools, will be feted this Thursday evening at the United Products Workers Union Hall with dinner to be served at 7 p.m.

Some tickets are still available and may be purchased at the door.

Aden Mead, president of the School Board, will be the toastmaster. Remarks are scheduled from David Dick, junior high principal; Milton Porter, county superintendent; and Norman Kuijala, of Pontiac.

Last month, members of the Tecumseh Education Association recognized their "boss" with over 300 in attendance.

Supt. McDowell retires June 30 with Robert Duhan, assistant superintendent, taking over the top administrative post. Although records are not available, Mr. McDowell has probably served longer as Tecumseh superintendent than any other man.

Cheryl Moll was the organist.

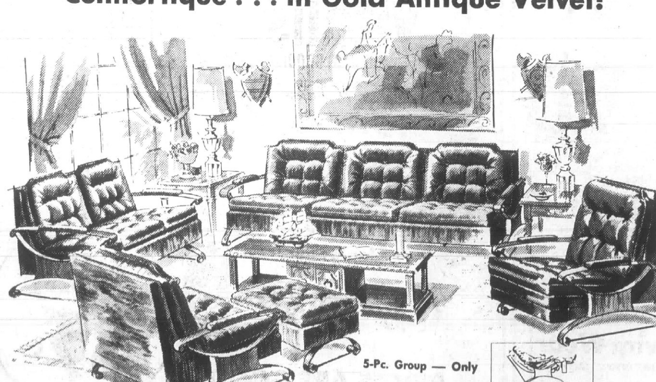

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in a floor length bouffant silhouette of chantilly lace over angel mist taffeta, styled with fitted bodice, natural waist line, tiered lace bouffant skirt, scalloped Sabrina neckline with sequins and seed pearl accents and long lace sleeves. The chapel train flowed from the shoulders. The matching head piece of lace petals, pearls and crystal secured her shoulder length veil of illusion.

Mrs. Kenneth Rice of Adrian was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Doug Poll of Manitou Beach and Mrs. Jerry Scott of Adrian. All attendants were attired in floor length A-line silhouette gowns with empire waist, scooped neckline, long bishop sleeves with lace appliques and satin ribbon accents. Gowns were powder blue with white trim and matching headpieces. Each girl carried one long stem white rose.

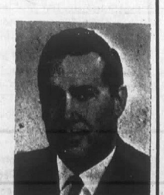

The bridegroom asked his brother Gary Marks of Britton to be best man. Ushers were Kenneth Rice, Adrian; and Thomas Forgacs, Palmyra. Richard Steih of Riga was ringbearer.

Reception for 275 guests was held at United Products Workers Union Hall. Rehearsal dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents.

The bride works for Rex Glover Real Estate of Adrian. Mr. Marks is employed at Tecumseh Corrigated Box Co. The couple will reside at Parkview Apts., Apt. 2, Palmyra.

Legion Drops 2 of 3 Games

Tecumseh Legion baseball team opened play last week with two games in the Adrian Twilight League and another Sunday afternoon against the Ypsilanti Legion.

The Adrian Legion pushed across a run the top half of the seventh inning last Wednesday to defeat Tecumseh, 5-4. Dan Gunder was on the mound and allowed only four hits, but Adrian was aided by four Tecumseh errors.

Gunder had Tecumseh's only hit, a triple driving in a run. He then stole home. Mike Tilton handled the catching.

Tecumseh scored three times in the seventh inning Friday, but then had to hold on as Blissfield rallied to within one run before falling, 7-6.

Rick Brooks, who will be a sophomore at THS next year, was on the mound, striking out ten, walking none and allowing eight hits. Gunder was behind the plate.

Tilton had two triples in the contest and drove in four runs. Blissfield was paced by Craig Smith with two hits.

Tecumseh ran up against a strong Ypsilanti Legion team that was runner-up in the state Legion tournament last year, and although the teams matched hits in the contest, 7-7, they came out on the short end of the score, 11-5.

Ypsi scored eight times in the first inning against Dennis Dermeyer and that pretty well decided the game. Tecumseh was shut out until the sixth inning when they pushed across one run, then added four more in the seventh.

Rod Cole and Tilton each collected two hits for Tecumseh while Bob Beevers had one hit and scored a pair of runs.

Rick Bunch, Fred Sisty, Mark Murphy and Steve Vargo were cited by Jim Curth, Legion coach, for their outstanding defensive play during the first week.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Backache

Backache is now one of America's most common physical complaints and "the membership of the Aching Back Club runs into the millions," according to the Journal of American Insurance.

They suggest four major reasons for back pain:

- Injury — About 400,000 workers suffer disabling back injury each year, and this number is increasing. A large number occur while objects are being lifted or handled improperly. Any part of the back—the spine, the muscles or ligaments—may be hurt and treatment depends on the area and nature of the injury.
- Abnormal spines—Some people are born with spinal defects so minor as to escape detection, but which can cause trouble when the body is exposed to extra strain. Studies suggest one American in four has a spine that is abnormal in some way.
- Poor posture—The continuous strain of standing or sitting improperly can damage the back by stretching the ligaments and tiring the muscles. Overweight, pregnancy and high heels can cause poor posture, and so can standing for long in one position.
- Aging—As we grow older, our joints and ligaments aren't as resilient as they once were, and our muscles can be weakened by too little use. The problem may be helped by more frequent rest in a firm bed, the use of belts or other back supports (though you don't want to become dependent on these), massage and heat.

Since there are so many varieties and causes of back pain, it's something that demands careful diagnosis by your doctor and your careful following of his instructions.

Readers Write

To The Editor:

Last fall we received our letters from the city saying we were to put our driveway in. One neighbor and I wanted the city to come last fall and have it done before cold weather. They couldn't do it then.

Last Monday the city was notified we weren't having ours done. Tuesday morning I looked out the window and the men were digging up our driveway. I had to go out and tell them again.

Last summer we worked hard in our yard putting almost two loads of dirt in our yard after they put the road through. After the rains we have had since, we have a nice water hole in our front yard now.

Some of the neighbors aren't satisfied with the city's work. I'm glad we didn't have ours in. Our driveway suited us fine. Now we have more work to do, what a mess.

Anyway, what is one driveway out of 80. We'll put our driveway in when we have the money and we don't want to see the city men in our yard no more. They've wrecked it enough.

A BOY THAT MISUNDERSTOOD

As a boy, I was always disturbed by this Biblical passage in Matthew: "For I have come to set a man against his father and a daughter against her mother . . . He who loves father and mother more than me is not worthy of me."

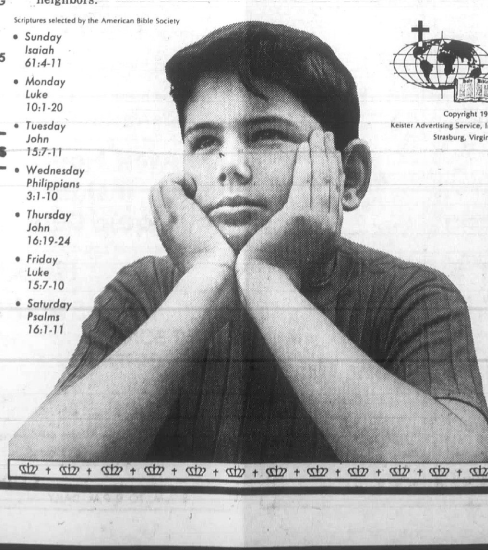

In those days of innocence, it seemed that my greatest love should go to Mother and Father. They gave me life, love and visible physical needs that seemed all-important.

But what I did not understand was that this life of mine came directly from God through my parents. I had tried to separate God's love from the love of Mother and Father. It was through Him that they received the great gift of human love. And because a mother has God's love implanted in her heart, she will instinctively love me. Matthew was emphasizing the fact that God's love must come first and that human love will then follow in its proper perspective.

Take your child with you to church and church school so that both may gain a better understanding of God's will. One who really loves God supremely will invariably develop a deeper love for family, friends and neighbors.

Altar was flanked with bouquets of snow-white gladioli and giant crysanthemums, and matching bouquets, centered with lighted candles were placed in the church windows.

Mrs. Larry Dicks, Saline, was the organist and the soloist was William Hetrick, Monroe.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Venice lace and organza gown styled with fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and bishop sleeves trimmed with seed pearls and iridescents. She wore pearl earrings, a gift from the groom.

Bride's cathedral length mantilla belonged to the Wegner family, and identically matched her bridal gown. She carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath and a white lace handkerchief that had been her maternal grandmother's.

Maid of honor, Deborah Grossman, wore peach organza A-line gown with short puffed sleeves. Matching velvet ribbon accented the empire waistline, choker and was worn in her hair.

Bridesmaids, wearing identical gowns, were Sandi Schaefer, St. Joseph in lavendar gown; Leslee Niethammer, Ann Arbor, cousin of the bride, mist green; and Carla Wegner, sister of groom, in yellow. Attendants carried wicker baskets of pastel colored daisies and baby's breath.

Best man was Paul DuFresne, Ypsilanti, brother-in-law of the groom. Ushers were Steven and Bradley Shelley, brothers of the bride and Tom Wegner, cousin of the groom.

Groomsmen were Glenn Shelley, brother of the bride, Ronald LaSovage and Albert Roberts.

Flower girl and ringbearer were Shelly and Bradley Schmidt, Lyons, Ohio, cousins of the groom. Shelly's dress was identical to the bridesmaids' gowns in pale blue. Dale Niethammer, cousin of the bride, was the bell ringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laubengayer, Ann Arbor, aunt and uncle of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brees, Brooklyn, were the hosts at the reception attended by 400 guests at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall.

Assisting at the reception were Judy and Sandy Niethammer, Ann Arbor, cousins of bride; Carla Girbach, Sherry Richardson, Lori and Brenda Niethammer, Ann Arbor.

Bride and groom are 1970 graduates of Clinton High School. She is a June graduate of Davenport College and is a member of Sigma Iota Chi sorority. Mr. Wegner is a student at Ferris State College.

Couple will reside at Apt. A-4, East Campus Heights, Ferris State College.

MURELL CLARK

37 Years in Law Enforcement

By Bill Whiting

After nearly 37 years of police work, a small post like Tecumseh should be a comfortable place to take it easy, but not for Tecumseh's Chief Murell Clark.

Clark took over the city's top law enforcement post June 15, 1961. Since that time the local department has undergone considerable expansion and revision.

In ten years, Clark said, the department has experienced a 250 percent increase in its activities and doubled in size. An increase in patrol cover to 16 square miles along with expanded office space and modern communications equipment have highlighted other areas of improvement.

In addition to his ten years here, Chief Clark served 27 years with the Michigan State Police. He resigned from the Marquette post where he was lieutenant, to take his Tecumseh position.

Clark is particularly concerned with juvenile problems.

"The cooperation of the family is the only way to help children," he said, "If you can correct the juveniles, the rest of the problems are easy.

"Juveniles and dope lead to larcenies, beatings, stealing and car thefts," he observed. He added, however, that compared with other cities of similar size, Tecumseh has relatively little drug traffic.

"We have a good squad and a lot of information with assistance from the sheriff's department, state police and other posts," he said.

Clark has made a point of not appointing any specific juvenile officer, feeling "all the patrolmen should know what's going on."

He said that the department once had funds for a juvenile center, but were dropped when the functions were transfered to county social workers.

"Sooner or later we'll get back to having a juvenile center here, where we can get back to the parents," he said. "Knowing the people, we're better able to get into a child's supervision and family background.

"We have a lot of juvenile destruction," he noted. "But by interrogating them here we can find out what's going wrong in the family and take care of the problem."

Clark seeks to keep an efficient professional force behind him. Patrolmen must take at least one course in Police Administration and are urged to carry on their education. Under the National Crime and Safe Street Act, the federal government offsets the cost of the courses.

The department carries on an active community information service with patrolmen and the chief going to schools and service clubs to talk on drugs, bicycle safety and baby sitting tips.

High accident and vandalism areas are subject to what Clark called "selective enforcement." Patrol areas are assigned by the desk according to heavy accident patterns. Schools and Tecumseh Park have been particular headaches recently along with high accident areas at intersections along Chicago Boulevard and Russell Road. He said the number of personal injury accidents is way down, however.

"Tecumseh's a quiet community, but we have a lot worse crime than there has been," said Chief Clark. "Most of the increase is due to the fact that transportation is available to almost everyone now."

Car Skids, Hits Camper

Linda Lee Gabriel, 16, 9500 Adrian Hwy., was the driver of a car which collided with a pickup camper driven by June E. Metcalf, 47, of Taylor at 10:20 a.m. Sunday on US-12 just east of Tipton Hwy.

Miss Gabriel told Clinton State Police she observed a vehicle slowing to turn left onto Tipton Hwy., so she attempted to pass on the right side. Her vehicle started skidding as she attempted to pull back onto the pavement, losing control and skidded across the centerline, striking the Metcalf camper, which was coming from the opposite direction.

Miss Gabriel and her passenger, Vicki Lynn Wellingham, 16, Westland, and Mrs. Metcalf, and her passenger, Darlene J. Metcalf, 16 also of Taylor, were treated for cuts and brusies at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Miss Wellingham was later transferred to Wayne County General Hospital.

Through My Window

SINGING AND FIGHTING

Oh, those blessed wrens! The Grand Opera they sing becomes grander every day. We have been most pleased that many of the 'stages' from which they like to perform are in plain sight. This makes it possible to enjoy watching as well as listening. And yes, a serenading wren is well worth watching.

As the tiny bird begins his mighty trill his head goes back and his bill pops open, his throat expands and vibrates. Finally his whole body seems to quiver. To say that the wren throws his whole self into his song is no exageration.

It is always a thrill when the near-my-window feeder becomes a wren's stage. At a distance these characters merely look like little birds with light fronts, dark backs and cocky stand-up tails. However, Mother Nature would never garb one of her own in such plainness but it does take a close-up look to truly appreciate a wrens markings.

There are perfect ladder-type stripes on both the upper and lower sides of the tail, the wings are marked by narrower black stripes and the upper sides of the breast are even slightly streaked. Exquisite subtleness. Nothing subtle about hearing their song at this close range though – it is unbelievably loud!

The roof of the covered feeder is another nice singing spot as is the top of the post on the creek bank. The latter serves a duel purpose, it is a great look-out perch too.

Our happy nester will light on the post and just stay there, looking at the pretty scenery, for much longer than I have ever known a wren to sit still. Curving out of the top of the gourd house is a stringy twist of a stem and this is a good place for short songs. Frequently a wren announces his presence from the stem before popping into the house.

This pair spends much time on the ground. Is this unusual, I wonder – we have never seen it done so much before. At first there were sticks to be found now, I suppose, it is tasty bugs. But, back to the singing and resting perches.

And no, I shall refrain from saying anything about singing for their supper. Even though they do. Perhaps the cutest 'stage' is the small decorative fence around a bed of red impatients. How the wrens love to cling to the white wires – I am sure they feel the fence was put there expecially for them.

I am sure they must also feel that this neighborhood is full of dangerous trespassers. No sooner had they successfully driven the little Little Red out of the wren tree than the peace and quiet was shattered by a corn eating red-headed woodpecker.

He did not bother the tree but just to have him in the area was too much for the wrens. We first realized that something was amiss when the serenading suddenly became shrill scolding. What a racket.

And what a persistent divebomb attack they mounted. At first the big red-head did not seem to take it very seriously, he merely flew to a nearby branch and, when the birds followed, he hopped to the trunk of the mulberry tree. Persistently they stayed in hot pursuit. It was a ridiculous sight – tiny birds pestering a veritable giant. They kept at him however and moved him out of four trees.

This was a woodpecker with a passion for corn. When his tormentors tried to carry their attack to the corn feeder, he bristled the feathers on the top of that lush head and stood his ground. Finally a compromise must have been reached.

The wrens gave up the corn feeder and the woodpecker avoided the trees which the wrens considered their own personal property. This settled, the red-head embarked on an orgy of corn eating which continued the rest of that afternoon and most of the next day.

Picking up one kernal at a time, he swooped up to a dead limb of the walnut tree, used his bill to split the kernel, gulped it down in two bites and glided down to the feeder. It was a continuous back and forth pattern – never have we had such a long and good look at a handsome red-head.

So it is that wrens and woodpeckers meant singing and fighting.

Next Week: Still Many Unanswered Questions.

3 Business Areas are Involved

What needs to be done to Tecumseh's central business district to keep businesses there, draw more shoppers into it, to become more people-oriented and make the downtown area more attractive?

Vilican-Leman and Associates, community planning consultants, have sent a memorandum to Tecumseh's city planning commission concerning improvement of the city's central business district.

The memo dealt with three areas of improvement, central business district development and improvement associations, improvement programs and business district expansion.

The CBD associations, according to Vilican-Leman, may be part of an existing businessmen's organization, such as the Chamber of Commerce, and may be established either as a nonprofit or profit corporation.

If long term improvements of a business area are to be made, owners and renters of business properties must be involved in the planning process as major forces in land and building purchase, and land assembly for parking or new store additions.

The consultants went on to say that this organization must, "be a spearhead toward improvement and maintenance of existing business buildings and is the big element in undertaking improvement of the street scene in general."

Although they are important, painting buildings or remodeling store fronts are not the total answer. According to Vilican-Leman, new sidewalk paving, street lighting and furniture, tree and landscape planting are also needed.

It was stressed that initiative of the business community is essential as any improvement program will require financing. A method which has the support of the entire business district is mandatory.

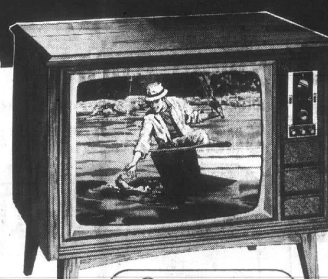

Tecumseh's past parking acquistition and improvement program is one of the best in small Michigan cities, it was felt. It is necessary, however, to continue efforts to consolidate some additional parking and to beautify present lots through landscaping and possibly, decorative lighting and walls.

Provision for coordinated store entrances directly to parking lots should also be undertaken, for this side of the building, they feel, can be its most important entrance.

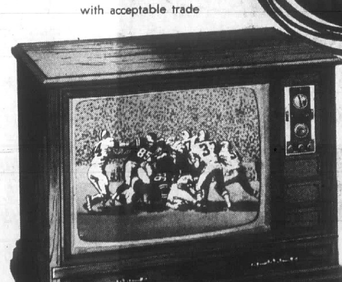

Of immediate concern, says Vilican-Leman, is improvement of pedestrian areas through the use of street furniture, street tree planting and pavement surfaces which would provide an atmosphere, setting Tecumseh apart from other communties. Plain concrete sidewalks, they say, though serving the utility of easy maintenance, add little to an attractive people-oriented business district.

They consider the high quality of store front maintenance on many of the CBD buildings as one of Tecumseh's most attractive features. They go on to say that, "The buildings that are not well maintained or have not attempted to reflect the style of original construction, add little to the character of the business district."

Dear Sir:

You have an officer on your staff I would like to thank personally but I won't be able to for some time so I would appreciate it very much if you would do it for me as I don't even know his name.

"On Monday night June 7, 1971 at about 10:30 I was sleeping in my car in back of the bowling alley out by the airport and he shined his light in the car and woke me up. He wanted to know what I was doing (my first thought was he had me cold on a vagrency charge and I told him so). Well, I told him the truth, that the car was about out of gas, the battery was dead, I didn't have any money and I didn't have anywhere to go.

I figured Adrian here we come and at that stage of the game I didn't much give a damn. I hadn't had anything to eat for two days and had been sleeping in the car for over a week. He questioned me a little and when I told him I was a vet he insisted he could help me.

About that time he got a station call and he told me to sit tight, that he would be back. In about an hour here he comes. He has a can of gas and a set of jumpers. He told me the Salvation Army was going to put me up for the night and get me something to eat.

Well we put the gas in my car and got it started. He told me to go directly to the Hotel Lenawee and see the Salvation Army in the morning.

Well I did and next morning I went to the Salvation Army and they referred to the welfare. When the welfare found out I was a vet they referred me to the office of Veterans Affairs down the street but they told me if I didn't do any good to come back.

A Mr. Thoms at the vets office asked me a lot of questions I told him I was a Michigan vet, 52 years old, was a diabetic had had a heart attack and couldn't get a job. He asked me about income, I told him all I had was the $51 I got from the V.A.

He asked me if I would like to go to the home for Michigan vets. I told him, hell yes but I had no money. Out of some fund he gave me $20 to get my car fixed and to go to Grand Rapids. By that time it is late afternoon and I didn't want to chance driving after dark so I went back to the welfare and they put me up for the night and gave me a $2 meal ticket.

Next morning with a red hot battery and a tank full of gas I took off for Grand Rapids. I arrived after dinner and after some questioning by the commandant, was admitted. They insist my V.A. pension will be raised from $51 to about $130 and I will get maximum social security disability also, until my pension and disability comes through or for the rest of my life.

I can live here or leave and come back if I like. This sure has changed my whole outlook on life and can't get out of my mind what might have happened if it hadn't been for that officer of yours. Again many thanks to him.

Very Truly Yours,
Robert Neal

P.S.-Too bad all the people in the world aren't like him.

P.S.-In as much as Mr. Thoms of the Veterans Affairs in Adrian was instrumental in my getting into Grand Rapids Vet's Home, please call him and let him know that his 20 bucks didn't go over a bar or down the sewer.

To The Editor:

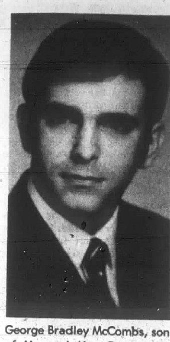

They deserved better, after 12 long years of schooling, our high school kids deserved a brighter send-off speech than the one they were forced to endure Sunday afternoon.

Religion is vital to most of us, but an old fashioned, long winded, church sermon was not the way to celebrate this important event.

How much better to have said how proud we all are of this fine class—a class that has broken all records for scholastic achievement. How much better to just assure them of our continuing love and support and wish them well.

The most remembered speech in American history, "The Gettysburg Address," lasted exactly two minutes.

SKY DIVING AT TECUMSEH AIRPORT

Sky Diving Big Sport in Tecumseh

By Bill Whiting

Sunday afternoon parachute-watchers sit up and take note! If you think you've seen a few more people than normal sailing down through the clouds lately, you're right.

According to Harold Lange, owner and chief instructor at the Tecumseh Parachute Service, "Tecumseh is the most active sport parachute center in the Midwest."

What started out as a temporary arrangement to use Tecumseh Airport facilities for "three or four weeks" some eight years ago has now mushroomed into one of the better parachute jumping schools in the nation and a mecca for competing record holders.

At their recent eighth annual Memorial Day Meet, the Tecumseh high flyers hosted 144 jumpers from throughout the United States and Canada, including representatives of the U.S. Army's Golden Knights parachute squadron and several other national champions.

During that meet, with cash prizes totaling $2,400 some 1,105 sky dives were made with only two reported injuries. Two others landed in some of the many trees in the airport vicinity.

Competition is held in four general categories, although the target remains a small metal disc inside a 90 foot circle.

In accuracy jumping, Lange explained, sky divers jump from an altitude of 2,300 feet and aim directly for the three-and-a-half centimeter disc. Style jumpers, however, must not only aim for the disc, but perform a series of delicate aerial acrobatics after jumping from a height of 6,600 feet.

Among the winners in the Memorial Day Meet were Doug Metcalfe, national style champion from Ohio, in style competition; Dave Sauve, head staff jumpmaster in Tecumseh and four-time overall Michigan jumping champion from East Lansing who made his 2,500th jump in capturing the senior accuracy honors; Clayton Schoelpple, of the Golden Knights with 2,000 jumps to his credit, in the overall jumping category; and Gary Potter in junior accuracy jumping.

The Tecumseh meet stands out as one of the top money meets in the country and the Tecumseh Sky Divers have the facilities and training to keep it that way and increase their prestigious position.

"Tecumseh has the only truly good parachuting facilities in the state," said Lange. "Ours was the first facility built for parachuting in the United States.

"We're trying to get a lot of people out and make contact with the sport. We've even tried to arrange to hold meets in other parts of the state, but they always keep coming back here because of our facilities."

Lange jokingly lamented the parachutist's close proximity to the city. "We're a little too close," he said. "All people have to do is sit out in their backyards to watch our meets. We don't collect much money that way."

Lange added, however, "Our main goal is to teach good parachuting–and maintain good relations with the people in the area."

The jumping school, headed by the rugged chutist, boasts some 250 students with 125 making their first attempts at sky diving. Some 3,500 jumps have been made at the airport so far this year alone, although June is generally considered the first month for parachuting.

"We're always on the field," says Lange. "Rain, snow, sleet – we're always there to jump."

As chief instructor of the jumping school, Lange has trained over 1,400 parachutists, more than anyone else in Michigan. He moved here with his family from Taylor to direct the school and the 11 other chutists who work with him. These include experts to serve as master rigger, senior rigger and nine staff jumpmasters among whom are champion jumpers Dave Sauve and Jerry Marklin of Detroit, also area safety officer.

Lange puts a heavy emphasis on encouraging college students in the high flying sport. He says he feels sky diving has something to offer people in that age group who are searching for something. Tecumseh now serves as host field for the University of Michigan parachuting team and Lange hopes to have Eastern Michigan and other nearby colleges jumping here in the near future.

Jumping Wednesdays through Sundays, the Tecumseh Sky Divers draw most of their chuting enthusiasts from the Detroit area. However, Lange is careful to emphasize and enforce good conduct and cordial relations with neighbors. "We will be happy to pay for any damage that might be caused accidentally," he said, although he emphasized that happened rarely.

"People are welcome to come out and watch us pack and train," he noted, and added they might be interested in a new series of jumping recently introduced at the airport. It involves jumping with three chutes, with the first being cut away in mid-fall.

Lange said that he communicates with students while they are in the air by means of citizen band radio. This allows him to correct students as they come down.

He said they recently changed from channel 10 to 4 on the radio to aid in better communication with the sky divers and hopes radio operators will cooperate when they broadcast on Saturdays and Sundays.

Statements are Delayed

BRITTON--Village Treasurer Christine Fairbanks announced Monday that Britton Village tax statements will be late in arriving at property owners this year, due to an appeal being made to the State Tax Commission regarding the factor added to Ridgeway Township assessments. The County Equalization Board has added a factor of 1.1 mills or a flat 10 per cent increase to all assessments in Ridgeway Township.

The ruling is being appealed, but until a final judgement is made, statements cannot be sent out.

Usually in the mail by July 1, a delay at least two weeks can be expected in the mailing of statements.

Taxpayers are advised to plan for payment, however, as the final collection date will remain Aug. 31.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all of my friends and neighbors for the cards and gifts which they sent me while I was in Oakwood Hospital. I appreciate the many calls I have had.

Words are inadequate to express our thanks to all those who have done so much for us during the illness and passing of our dear husband, dad, and grandpa. McDowell Honored by Friends

Accolades and gifts were the highlights of a dinner Thursday in honor of retiring school Supt. James McDowell. Held at the Products Worker's Union Hall, the dinner was attended by nearly 150 friends and acquaintances.

Recollections were offered by Norman Kuijala, a Pontiac college friend; David Dick, junior high principal; and Milton Porter, county superintendent. Aden Mead, school board president, was toastmaster.

Other presentations were made by Bob Moore for the Rotary Club; Ralph Comfort, Bill Brown for the school board; Robert Duhan and Dr. William Adams for the city council. Ken McElroy presented McDowell with a gold inscribed wristwatch from his friends.

In expressing his appreciation, McDowell said, "I know of no other community that has so many graduates come back to live. I think that says a lot for Tecumseh."

Builder of Globe Dam Refutes State's Charges

By Bill Whiting

Little progress was made this week as city officials met with representatives of the state Department of Natural Resources in a last ditch effort to reach an aggreement over plans to construct a new dam at Globe Mill Pond.

City Manager Cal Zorn, Robert Hamden and engineer Louis Winkelhaus went to Lansing Monday to refute charges made in a letter to Zorn from the Bureau of Water Management last week. The letter spelled out reasons for refusing permission for the city to continue construction at the site, according to current plans.

Work at the site was halted several weeks ago, although approval of the plans had been obtained on two prior occasions.

State engineers based their reversal on an inspection made by Floyd Fanselow and a Mr. Hanes from Water Management, June 2. Their objections were included in the letter of June 18:

"It was found that the footings of the old structure consisted mainly of large rock held together with concrete, and with no reinforcing steel. The foundation footings were resting on sand. No cut-off sheeting or concrete walls were in evidence below the footings of the retaining walls or floor of the spillway. The easterly wingwall was broken off and large cracks had opened up in the sidewalls."

"There is no effective reinforcing steel in any portion of the spillway. Large areas on the outside face of the sidewalls have eroded and spalled off to a depth of approximately six inches, revealing a very poor quality of concrete."

Zorn said, however, that he thought the state objections were innacurate - and he isn't the only one.

According to Perry Satterthwaite, life-long local businessman and builder of the old power station at the pond 50 years ago, state officials were indeed inaccurate in their assessment of the old structure.

Satterthwaite, a licensed engineer, designed the footings and foundation for the power station soon after his discharge from the Army Corps of Engineers in 1919. At that time it was to supply electricity to Detroit Edison and the old Hayden Mill which stood on the site of the present community center.

Although he admitted that better ways of making concrete had been developed over the last 50 years, he said the building is structurally sound.

"It will never move," he said.

Satterthwaite stated that sheet pilings were driven 16 feet deep "clear around the property." Twelve-inch concrete was poured for the footings which were heavily reinforced with matting, consisting of ¾-inch steel rods. This contradicts the statement that the footings have no reinforcing steel.

The active owner of Hayden Fuels also agreed that the structure stands on sand.

"That's correct," he said, "but that's water sand, and water sand confined is just as hard as stone. That 16-foot piling was locked in place and heavily reinforced.

"We never had more than an eighth of an inch of settlement," he added.

PERRY SATTERTHWAITE

City officials submitted plans in May to deal with a wingwall which broke off in February flooding. Small cracks in the sidewall and eroded concrete were to be patched according to engineer's specifications.

Zorn said that he and consulting engineer Winkelhaus believe that the small amount of erosion and pencil-thin crack in the wall can be adequately repaired without any undue weakness to the structure. A new spillway was to be extended south of the old structure for the flow of water.

Zorn said that in working to remodel the power station to fit plans for the new dam, part of the 50-year old building had to be blasted with dynamite, because there was no other way to clear it out.

The alternative to present plans for the dam would probably be a new and costly spillway to the east of the present site. If this were the case, some $23,000 already invested would go down the drain.

Tax Statement Delivery Friday

Property owners' annual gift from the city will probably arrive in the mail Friday - the annual summer tax statements.

Vera Zornow, city clerk, said she expected the statements to be in the post office Thursday for delivery on Friday.

SPLASH! — With temperatures soaring past the hundred mark this week, most folks were heading for the nearest air conditioner or making a headlong dive into a cooling pool of water. These cool kids were among 1,800 who spent part of "Melting Monday" at Tecumseh Park beating the heat in the spring fed depths of the pond.

Harrell Recovers, Returns Now to Race Tracks

Jim Harrell is back - back behind the wheel and racing again.

Harrell, burned in an accident at Michigan International Speedway May 15, will return to MIS this weekend to compete for the first time in seven weeks.

Endurance races are being conducted at MIS this weekend and Harrell will drive in one of two hours duration.

He will then travel to the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course in Lexington, Ohio, to compete in a Sports Car Club of America national points race. Of the three Central Division races which Harrell missed while injured, two were won by drivers from outside the division. Therefore, he is still very much in the running for the divisional championship.

Services Held For Merchant

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church for Jerry W. Coffey, 41, well known Tecumseh grocer, who died suddenly early Wednesday evening of last week at Herrick Hospital.

Cause of death apparently resulted from a heart attack. He had not been feeling well for a couple of days, and early Wednesday morning, shortly after 2:00, his daughter, Cindy, drove him to the hospital.

About two years ago he had suffered a heart attack and was away from his business, Jerry's Market, for a number of weeks. Until that time he had more or less operated the market by himself, putting in many hours seven days a week.

Since then his daughter Cindy and son, Robert, worked almost regularly for their father.

Before he purchased the market from the late Eddie J. Aebersold, he had worked for Mr. Aebersold and once was manager of the Kroger store here.

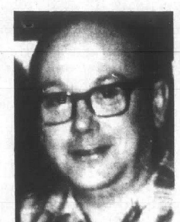

Mr. Coffey was a lifelong resident of Tecumseh, born here Jan 29, 1930, son of Elmer and Grace Ellis Coffey. On April 1, 1949 he married the former Mary Patricia Spohr of Britton.

He was a member and former president of the Tecumseh Club.

Survivors, besides his wife, daughter and son, are another daughter, Mrs. James (Nancy) Oberlin, Saline; three brothers, Charles of Tecumseh, Lee, Adrian, and Elmer, Port Clinton, O.; six sisters, Mrs. Fred (Vera) White of Toledo, Mrs. Herbert (Thelma) Gronnening of Grosse Pointe Farms; Mrs. George (Vivian) Liddell of Saratoga, Calif.; Mrs. Carl (Wenonah) Price of Monroe, Mrs. Earl Betty) Spangler of Northville, and Mrs. Mariella Lockwood, St. Louis, Mich.

Two brothers, preceded him in death. Robert died in 1952, and Jack, earlier this year.

The Rev. Edmond Watkins officiated at the services. Arrangements were handled by Proctor Funeral Home, and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

JERRY COFFEY

Car Knocks Off Porch

A spectacular crash late Monday afternoon fortunately did not cause any personal injuries, but damages were inflicted on two cars and a house.

Clarence B. Brock, 68, of 415 W. Logan St., told police that he backed into a drive on W. Pottawatamie, struck a car owned by J. James Munro, Ann Arbor, and then lost control of his auto.

The vehicle started east, went through the stop sign at S. Evans, jumped a curb, crossed railroad tracks and then slammed into a porch, knocking it loose from a house owned by Leland Fogelsong.

Mr. Brock, uninjured in the mishap, was cited by police for failure to control his car and for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Another accident, involving two citations, occurred Monday night when William B. George, 32, Sarasota, Fla., backed out of the Cedar Shack restaurant parking lot and struck a passing auto driven by Marion L. Pease, 57, of 736 N. Union.

The George car bounded off the other auto and into the restaurant's sign. He then sped west away from the accident.

Clinton State Police later discovered the car in Clinton and arrested the driver. It was discovered then that a passenger in the George car had suffered a facial laceration.

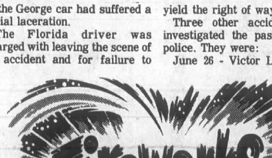

The Florida driver was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and for failure to yield the right of way.

Three other accidents were investigated the past week by police. They were:

June 26 - Victor Lawson, 508 Cairns St., reported backing into another vehicle in the Kroger parking lot. Other car is owned by Norris M. Pentand, Adrian.

June 29 - Gregory Jude Forsthoefel, 39, of 404 W. Kilbuck, was cited for an improper left turn after running into Larry E. Beckey, 22, of 412 E. Logan, at the intersection of E. Logan and N. Maumee. Beckey suffered minor injuries and was taken to Herrick Hospital.

June 29 - Richard D. Moore, 33, Adrian was cited for failure to yield after colliding with Selma E. Kennedy, 42, of 6704 Raisin Center Hwy., in the intersection of S. Evans and Russell Rd.

Sunday Night

Tecumseh's annual fireworks display will be held Sunday evening at the high school athletic field.

The display, amounting to $650 of fireworks, purchased by the Chamber of Commerce, will start about 8:30 p.m. In case of rain, the display will be held Monday night.

Jim Fielder will again be in charge of setting off the fireworks.

In the past, thousands have crowded the bank and ball diamonds along N. Evans St., and there have been many near-miss serious accidents. Parents are asked not to let their youngsters light sparklers.

Often, the children end up throwing the sparklers into the air, and many folks have come close to some serious burns.

Little Damage by Two Fires

Two fires caused little damage here Tuesday, although one threatened to before it was extinguished.

Tuesday noon, a roof fire, apparently caused by painters burning paint off a porch at the Jerry Robinson home, 105 W. Pottawatamie, inflicted an estimated $50 in damages.

Tuesday evening firemen responded to the Carmen Murphy residence, 200 E. Pottawatamie, where a smoking air conditioner was causing the family some alarm. No damages were reported.

Tucker Elected to State Board

Virgil C. Tucker, corporate secretary of Tecumseh Products Co., was elected to Board of Directors of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce with duties beginning July 1.

Harry Hall, head of the state organization, commented that new members would contribute in development of policies aimed at maintaining Michigan's prominence as a major industrial state.

Bank, 1st Federal and Most Stores Closing Monday

United Savings Bank, 1st Federal and most Tecumseh shops will be closed next Monday in observance of July 4th.

Although the holiday falls on Sunday, it is being observed nationally on Monday.

Postal Services Are Cut Monday

There will be no window service at Tecumseh Post Office and no delivery of mail on city or rural routes, July 5. Mail deposited by 3 p.m. Sunday, July 4 and Monday July 5, will be dispatched that day.

All special deliveries arriving Sunday or Monday will be delivered.

BOY WAS IT HOT! — You didn't need a thermometer to know it was hot here Monday, but the sign at First Federal didn't make it any easier to bear when it registered a high of 103 about 2 p.m. Downtown merchants did a brisk business in fans and air conditioners as Gambles reportedly sold 23 units Monday morning alone. That's all right, Wally, half a fish is better than none, we always say. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Whiting have returned from a trip to Lake Gogebic where news sources tell us that the TP retiree spent an unheard sum of money to fish in Lake Superior and only returned with half or was it a quarter of a fish for his efforts.

20-Year Vet Likes Job

When Sgt. Eugene Skinner joined the Tecumseh Police Department in 1951, he was "Lucky to handle three or four complaints a month." Today department files record 9,935 complaints made since the first of the year.

Yet in spite of these dismaying statistics, Skinner still likes and is proud of his job.

"It's been a long, rough road, I'll tell you," he said. "But if I had to do it all over again, I would.

"My boy, Doug, is going to join the state police," he added in a soft proud voice.

Skinner's is the voice most people get on the phone when they call in a complaint. He is responsible for the second shift–4 p.m.-12 a.m.– which includes assigning patrolmen to duties and taking incoming calls. By his estimate, that shift handles more complaints "than the other two shifts put together.

Many of the complaints result from people returning home from work and finding something wrong, according to Sgt. Skinner. Calls concern anything from sick cats to drunk drivers to larcenies.

This doesn't seem to bother Skinner, though. His main problem lies with those people who don't call the police–who may have information that would aid an investigation perhaps.

"Our biggest handicap are the people who do not turn in information, he said, "-information which might help clean up a larceny or something like that. We get our information from the people and if the people don't give us that information, we're sunk."

He noted, however, that the department has been trying to cope with this problem.

"The public has got a bad impression of police right now and you've got to straighten that out somehow," he said. "You've got to present yourself to the public eye."

"We're not out to arrest everybody, we're out to help them," he added.

Police Chief Clark and other patrolmen have talked with several civic and scout groups and other school-age children are taken on tours through department facilities as part of their public relations effort.

However, a patrolman still runs into problems.

"Today, if you take a juvenile home, you've got his parents to contend with," said the 20-year police veteran. "The majority of the people cooperate pretty well, but it's those others who can really hurt you. They are the ones who spread the word to other people about 'no good cops' and such."

Skinner says he believes this can be seen in other parts of the community as well.

"I can remember years ago you could go into a beer garden and tap a drunk on the shoulder, tell him he was under arrest and he was under arrest," he recalled. "Now you have to fight him.

"I believe sincerely that the reason for much of this is that a lot of laws are misinterpreted by people. They believe they can do this and that and get by with it."

Skinner said youths have been a particular headache recently; "We never used to have that problem until the last few years. Oh, we had pranks–the Halloween stuff–but I can't recall having problems like we do today."

When Skinner was accepted on the village force, he was issued a partial uniform, a ticket book and the keys to a car and sent out on his own. He said he didn't write his first ticket for six weeks, afraid it would turn out wrong.

"Now they send a man to school for six weeks," he noted.

Bookwork has piled high, too, said Skinner, as judges, attorneys, complaints and warrants take up more and more of the policeman's time.

There were days, he said, when the police office was the old fire barn, when folks handled most of their complaints themselves and patrolmen walked slowly down quiet Tecumseh streets checking the stores to see they were secure and check after forgetful proprietors.

"We can't do that anymore," he said, "because we have to keep in touch with the police all the time. There are just too many complaints."

BEHIND the COUNTER with

Home Remedies

Every once in a while somebody reminds us of an old "home remedy" or herb medicine that worked wonders for their great-grandparents in the days before "miracle drugs."

Garlic was supposed to be great for high blood pressure, and herb tea was recommended for diabetes and rheumatism. Poultices of lard and black pepper were used to treat asthma, while chestnuts and molasses were a sure cure for the croup.

Most folk medicines sound funny (or revolting) today, but even in their heyday they were so weak as to be of little value. When a doctor couldn't treat his patient in any other way, they were better than nothing. Now, of course, he has safer and more effective drugs at his command.

This doesn't mean there are no values in herb medicine. One whole field of pharmacy is devoted to this subject. We have obtained digitalis from foxglove, and atrophine from belladonna; quinine from a bark, and morphine from poppies. These medicines were used long before their true nature was recognized, because our forefathers were shrewd and perceptive enough to observe their effects.

Also many diseases (such as the common cold) are self-limiting in nature, so the home remedy would be given the credit for a cure that was just the normal outcome of time and rest. The tragedy today is when home treatments are used instead of seeking the proper medical care that would save the patient's life.

Safety Course Is for Hunters

BRITTON--A hunter safety course is being organized at Britton-Macon High School to give knowledge about the care that can avoid gun accidents.

It will cover a demonstration of guns and ammunition, proper gun handling, shooting form and firing, hunting responsibilities and some test firing at a range.

The course will be held four evenings for one hour, including a final exam. Successful completion of the course would permit youngsters to purchase a Michigan hunting license. This is the only way a young adult (17 years and younger) may qualify for a license unless he has been previously licensed.

Application forms have been sent out to students of the Britton-Macon area. If interested in enrolling they are to fill out the application and return it to the high school office before July 1.

CENTURY OLD METHODIST CHURCH IN RIDGEWAY IS COMING DOWN

104-Year Building Near End

Demolition will begin in several months on the old Ridgeway Methodist Church building which has stood on its Ridge Rd. sight for 104 years. The proud red brick structure approaches the end of its long service as the congregation moves to a new building on M-50.

The Ridgeway congregation merged with the Methodist Church in Britton to form the Grace United Methodist Church of Ridgeway Township. Building at the new sight began last September and the new Christian Education unit was consecrated June 20.

All meetings have been transferred to this new building and the old structure has been retired.

The cornerstone to the old church was laid June 7, 1867. When the brick building was new, an organ was installed in the balcony, from which the choir also sang. In 1882 a new pipe organ was purchased from a Detroit firm and the chancel was remodelled to receive it and bring the choir down from the balcony.

The stained glass windows are memorial windows installed in 1905, replacing glass installed when the church was built. Over more than a century of service, the church was remodelled several times. Fire damaged the structure seriously at least once at Christmas in 1943.

Stemen, Reynolds Are Top Racers

Louie Jay Stemen and Harold Reynolds continue to dominate the win column at Manchester Speedway as each week finds them picking up several checkered flags.

In the sportsman modified class, Louie Jay was again fastest qualifier at 18.88. the first heat saw the cars closely bunched with Harold Reynolds beating out Louie for the win.

The caution flag was thrown in the second heat when Jim Martin and Larry Shellenberger locked wheels on the front stretch and had to be untangled. Butch Moull picked up the checkered flag.

Bill Kopka took the lead on the ninth lap of the third heat for a win.

The pursuit was wild as cars were spinning all over the track, hailing the yellow on lap No. 2. with five cars left, Louie Jay took the win on the fifth lap.

In the Semi with only five cars finishing Bill Cattell picked this one off.

Louie came from the back to take the lead on lap No. 12, in the feature, and was never headed as he picked up his ninth straight feature win.

In the stockers class, Harold Reynolds was quickest with a time of 19:83. He also took the checker in the dash by a large lead.

The feature had the fans on their feet as Don Dunn and Brenner battled it out wheel to wheel for several laps. Dunn finally edged away enough to pick up the checkered flag by a tire over Brenner, Dick Slade, Wilkes and Bob Flagg.

11 Youngsters Circle State

CLINTON—Eleven youngsters, all members of Mrs. Donald Baker's special education class, Madison Schools, returned early in June from a 11-day Michigan jaunt, which youngsters may be talking about for the rest of their lives.

Children, ranging in age from 13-18, traveled in a nine-passenger station wagon, loaned by John Underwood, and a pickup camper, driven by Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Lidster, Blissfield, Mrs. Baker's parents, and they slept in tents and cooked their own meals all the way.

Entire cost of the project was only $360 or $2.74 per person, per day. Special Ed class earned $175 toward the trip by making craft items and selling them, and there were other donations.

Only mishap was first night out when one youngster ate nearly a quart of pickles and was ill.

Trip started up the west coast of the state, touring Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Holland's wooden shoe factory, atomic energy plant at Charlevoix; and ended with camp at Crystal Lake.

Next day, they saw Fort Michelimackinac and crossed the Straits of Mackinac.

They visited the Seney Wild Life Refuge and fished and swam at the Baker's cottage near Blaney for five days.

Onward they went to Copper Harbor, Porcupine Mt., and Taquammonon Falls. Returning, they had a glimpse of G. Mennen Williams, while on Mackinac Island. They followed the east coast down to Tawas City and stayed in St. Helena.

In Lansing they talked with Rep. Jack Mowat and saw both House and Senate in session.

Return home was June 3, and the youngsters are already looking forward to more such trips this fall and winter, a program encouraged by the school.

Children were so cooperative, helping with the tent and cooking, and helping each other, that there wasn't any fighting. It was a wonderful experience for all of us, Mrs. Baker reported.

And, they all know a lot more about Michigan, the subject for the year in her class.

Dear Editor:

I failed to see a retraction in the June 24th paper that you assured my husband would be in about our accident on June 13th.

Why don't you print facts and a total report?

As we told you we are not Michigan International Speedway fans as you printed and don't give a hoot about racing. We are local people on our way to graduation open houses when we were hit by an Ohio Driver.

By the way, I was a passenger in the truck with my husband and have been hospitalized with a back injury.

If a little criticism doesn't hurt you too much, maybe you will print this letter.

(Editor's Note–Retraction was set and put in Behind Page One column. Unfortunately, this column was omitted for lack of space.)

To The Editor:

Our son was home on a 10 day leave last week from the Navy. While he was here he had the misfortune of losing his wallet with $37.00 and all of his papers.

Thursday the Post Office called that one of the Postmen had picked it up with the mail from one of the drop boxes.

I would like to thank who ever found it for mailing it. So that we at least got his leave papers back before he had to return to his ship.

But don't you think that $37.00 is pretty high for a reward even for a service man to pay?

I do.

Through My Window

SHE KNEW

The joke is on me and somewhere along the west side of Intermediate Lake there is a quiet lady robin who is laughing her head off. I was so smug and, as it turned out, I was so wrong. It happened this way --

We spent a few days with Auntn and Rog. On the drive home I mentally roughed out an article telling of this silly robin who had built her nest in their back yard. Actually the article nearly wrote itself.

Just think what I could say about a bird who foolishly had built her nest on the lower branch of a small ornamental spruce tree. She obviously was woefully inexperienced as a mother, she had not even read the books. Oh, for about 250 miles I thought of things to say about this gal.

Once home, however, I checked one of my trusty old bird books, just to be on the safe side and that bright red glow at the west end of Logan Street is my red face. Listen to what the Audubon Bird Guide says about the location of robins' nests. "Anywhere from on the ground to tree tops....evergreens are favored for first nests...." Oh my, our up-north gal was no inexperienced novice and she most definitely had read the books. In fact she might have written this one.

How very embarrassing. But also, how vividly this demonstrates the easily made error of taking the commonplace for granted. Now I must have looked at, browsed through and studied this particular bird book hundreds of times. I use it for checking specific matters and I also have it put on my reading table for just pleasant reading at random.

However, I must always have by-passed the robin. Everybody knows about their mud nests and for more years than I care to count there were robin families raised in the elm tree by our back porch. The nest was always high on some of the lower limbs. Whoever heard of one about a foot off the ground?

But enough berating Marda, Marda; get back to the business at hand. This apparently rather typical nest was most interesting. The blue spruce in which it was nestled cannot be more than four feet tall. Very pretty.

The nest itself was fastened to one of the lower branches and tucked back towards the tree trunk. It was completely sheltered by layers of upper branches. Perfect protection. (Auntn and Rog confirmed that the area was comparatively cat-free.)

I had one look at the nest and what a sight it was. Speak of a full house, this was it! Four big baby robins were jammed so close together that we wondered how they breathed. They were actually wedged into the little mud and grass nest.

As Rog carefully lifted one of the 'roof' branches, bright black eyes popped open and two bills, broad-based as only baby birds' bills can be, looked like red caverns. Unfortunately we were not Mother Robin bringing home the worms. Happily none of the foursome objected to our Peeping Tom tactics.

From the size of the birds, their well feathered out stage of development, and their heavily spotted coloration, it was apparent that the time for leaving home must be near. Besides, that nest simply was not going to hold them much longer.

Everyone, of course, was very careful about not disturbing the kids, but a daily peek seemed to be tolerated. Actually, on the last day they were home there were two quick nest checkings. That morning one of the kids left home and by afternoon all were gone. The Mother Robin undoubtedly took them across the drive and into the woods. An ideal place for baby robins, safe and plenty of food available.

So it is that foolish me–I worried that the mother robin did not know what she was doing but she knew, she certainly knew!

Scout Troop 32 Canoes

Quiet rush of the river, warm sun, call of birds and occasionally cheerful banter of the scouts as they sighted one another around bends of clear, cool Manistee River were sights and sounds as Scout Troop 32 took its annual canoe trip.

Again the stretch of the Manistee between Frederic and Sharon was traveled by Scoutmaster Paul Kruse and his boys. They camped overnight at Lenawee Conservation Grounds Thursday and put into the river early Friday morning.

They were met at CCC Bridge campgrounds by Scout Moms who ferry cars from the put-in-spot to take out destination.

For several hours Saturday night boys and adults huddled in cars and trucks to wait out a storm. This did not dampen enthusiasm for the final 10 mile stretch where the boys took their Moms and Dads on a ride to Sharon. A community cookout was held before the caravan headed home.

Some new scouts along with veterans on the trip: Tom Davis, Bob Meyers, Leroy Sprow, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Skinner, son Kerry; Mr. and Mrs. Dick James, sons John and Robert; Wayne Sprow, son Danny; Mr.and Mrs. Wayne Griewahn, sons Todd and Gary Scott who celebrated his birthday while on the trip. His mom provided a huge, decorated cake.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frank and son Bob; Mrs. Barbara Marsh, son Mike; Linda Breckel, Wayne Reno, Richard Cook, sons David and Mike; William Berry, son Kenneth; Ronnie Pierce and Tony Nuber.

State Ok's Work, Council Says Stop

Following a Tuesday morning meeting between Cal Zorn, city manager, and the Department of Natural Resources, at which time approval to continue work on the Globe Mill Dam was given, Council ordered work halted while the project was re-bidded.

E&B Company, which originally had the Dam contract, has been dissolved and Council agreed Tuesday evening to re-bid the work rather than give it to another company.

Changes in dam construction which brought about the work continuation approval by the Natural Resources Dept. are a bubbler system which will prevent the gate from freezing in the winter, an alarm system to the police station for high water emergencies, installation of a pilaster on the east side joint to stop channelling and underpinning the northeast corner to prohibit further sinking.

Construction was first stopped by the state on June 22 in a letter sent to Zorn citing several objections to construction.

TECUMSEH MANIA — Well over the 50 cars which were officially entered in the caravan to Tecumseh, Ontario, finally arrived at the Canadian sister city to help celebrate their 50th Anniversary. Church bells sounded to greet the Michigan folks who took part in the big parade through the town to the fairgrounds for a fun-filled day of baseball, waterball contests, carnival rides, swimming and good times. The only event to mar the day was a four-car pile up in the caravan in Windsor, which resulted in no injuries but at least one car towed back to Michigan. Tecumseh, Ontario Mayor Don Lappan, right, is shown here with dignitaries including Michigan Mayor William Gillespie and all living past mayors of the small Canadian town of 5,000. 35-Year Merchants Are Closing Shop

By Bill Whiting

Mike and Phyllis Hite came to Tecumseh back in the 30's-just for a visit. Now they are closing their little hardware store downtown after 35 years as Tecumseh merchants.

The Hites, still friendly and personable in offering their service after so many years in the family store, are retiring – for the moment.

"We're going to stay in Tecumseh," the white-mained merchant emphasized. "I'm going to do whatever I want to, though. I have no plans at all."

Coming to Tecumseh from Toledo in 1936, the Hites started with a Western Auto franchise located in the Tecumseh Office Supply building. They opened their store in October, having just arrived in town in July.

In 1945 they moved their store to its present sight, which was then occupied by Des Ermia's Furniture. The switch was made with record speed, thanks to an old-time small town caper.

"Des Ermia's was here Wednesday and we were in Saturday morning," Mike recalled. "All at once the store was full of people–giving orders, stacking shelves. The only one I knew was Bill Spreeman, who brought down the crew from the Products. To this day we don't know who some of them were."

That night they were washing windows until 2 a.m., he said.

Mike said his business has gone through great changes over the past 35 years. He recalled the big fall rush when stove pipes, stove boards and space heaters were in big demand.

"Those are things we couldn't give away today," he said.

W.D. Hite Hardware has always been a family project for the Hites. Their son Jim came into the business for several years and their daughter, Mrs. Arlis (Suzie) Spivey, was always ready to come in and help.

"At one time we used to hire a lot of help," Mike noted, "but gradually the heavy stuff was all fazed out and after that Phyllis and I have just run it alone."

"We've made so many nice friends," Phyllis said. "We've enjoyed a lot of good business with a lot of nice people."

3 Accidents Minor

Only three minor accidents were reported to police over the long July 4 weekend, with no personal injuries.

Sharon Buku, 27, of 316 W. Michigan Ave. in Clinton, was cited July 2 for improper passing going south on Pearl St. She hit the side of a vehicle driven by Diana R. Hartwig, 23, of 1431 Hudson Rd., Hudson, when she tried to pass between it and a parked car. The Hartwig car was also headed south when the accident occurred.

Mrs. James Spooner, 9364 Pleasant Dr., told police her car was damaged while parked in the A & P Store parking lot July 2. She said she did not notice the damage to her trunk until she arrived home. There were no suspects.

No citation was issued in a July 6 accident involving Wallace Brown, 207 Iroquois St., and Herman Radant, 210 Iroquois St. Brown was pulling out of his driveway when his vision was obscured by bushes and he ran into the left side of the Radant car travelling east.

Coffey Family Reopens Market

Bob Coffey and his sister, Cindy, reopened Jerry's Market, Monday, and will, with the assistance of their mother, Patricia Coffey, attempt to keep the family business operating.

Bob, 15, and Cindy, 17, worked regularly for their father, Jerry Coffey, prior to his death last week. Two years ago they operated the store alone when their father suffered a previous heart attack.

Bob plans to return to high school in the fall. Cindy is a June graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Harrell On Track, Wins at Mid-Ohio

Jim Harrell put in a lot of time behind the wheel last weekend, both at the track and on the road.

Harrell, and other members of the Doug Shierson Racing team of Adrian, traveled to Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course in Lexington, Ohio, Friday to check in for Sunday's Sports Car Club of America national point race.

Saturday, they returned to Michigan International Speedway where Harrell competed in a two hour endurance race for all formula cars, qualifying second.

He had the lead late in the race until a problem in the fuel cell developed and was forced into the pits. The problem allowed him to draw approximately only three gallons of gas from his eight gallon tank.

That evening, Harrell returned to Mid-Ohio and during qualifying Sunday morning, captured the pole position, turning a lap in record time of 42 seconds flat, bettering the old one of 42.8.

On the last lap however, the car in front of Harrell spun out, striking his car and ripping off one of the sides. Fast repairs by the Harrell crew, plus replacement of the suspension system, got him ready for the afternoon's race.

Harrell led from start to finish, thrusting him into contention for the Formula Ford championship in the SCCA's Central Division.

Truck Bids Approved

City Council approved bids from Tecumseh Equipment Monday for a new dump truck and pickup.

Council also approved the low bid of Brady Sand and Gravel for construction of a storm sewer on Conklin Rd.

Businessman Dies Tuesday

Frank M. Rice, president of Central Tube Products in Brooklyn, died Tuesday morning at Bixby Hospital after admission Sunday evening.

Rice, 60, of 1875 Wamplers Heights, moved the Central Tube company to Brooklyn in 1969. He came to Tecumseh in 1938 and was a partner in the firm known as R.and S. Manufacturing until the move. He purchased it in 1966.

Born July 25, 1910 in Morenci, he married Kitty Randall March 19, 1966 in Minot, N.D. She survives.

He was a member of Elks Club and served as president of Tecumseh Country Club for four terms. He was a former member of Tecumseh Exchange Club.

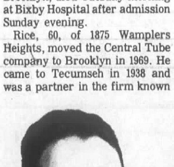

One son, Michael Rice, of Middletown, Conn.; two step sons, Rick and Alan Randall, and one stepdaughter, Nicolette Randall, all at home and one grandson, Stefan Rice, survive.

Others surviving are his mother, Mrs. Blanche Krause of Flint, two sisters, Frances Rice, Woodside, Long Island and Mrs. Paul (Rose Mary) Rovnan, Toledo.

One sister, Mrs. Otis Spencer, and his father preceded him in death.

Private services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at Stevens Funeral Home, Milan with the Rev. Blair Bashore officiating.

Burial will be in Roseland Cemetery, Jackson. Those wishing may contribute to the Heart Fund or a charity of their choice.

NEW BAPTIST CHURCH — Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Baptist Church will be Sunday at 1 p.m. at the construction site across from the Tecumseh Country Club on Milwaukee Rd. Tentative plans for the 14,000 sq. ft. structure, a memorial to the late Hazel M. Herrick, include the church, with a seating capacity of 270, 12 classrooms, and a fellowship hall. A minister's study, offices and kitchen will also be included. Construction on the new facility, which will have an exterior of Indiana limestone, is scheduled for early August.

Tecumseh residents were surprised June 30 when youngsters rapped on their doors and offered to do odd jobs free. The youths were from the Lutheran Camp at Killarney Lake. Mary Klanke of 320 N. Pearl was overjoyed at the offer since she had cherries which needed picking and just returned home from the hospital with a new baby. These are future leaders and with young people like these our country should be in good hands.

It was hot, hot, hot last week and - wouldn't you know it - the Herald's "old faithful" air conditioner picked the hottest day to konk out. Forest Abner came to the rescue in time to see that we got the paper out, though. It was his busiest week in 25 years.

It was a bad day for the old Herald crew Satruday, too. If it hadn't been for Jim Fielder and friends, we would probably still be in Tecumseh, Ontario. The flag-bedecked van coughed to a halt just as we were getting into the parade, but it did give us a chance to meet some helpful Canadian folks.

15 Youths Work In Appalachia

Fifteen youths from the Tecumseh Methodist Youth Fellowship traveled to Kentucky recently to participate in a summer work program at Union College. The high school students worked on home rebuilding and other service projects in the Appalachian region during their week-long stay June 20-26.

Part of a group of 77 students from all over the country, the youths made both minor and major house repairs for widows, retired poverty-stricken miners and others unable to help themselves.

The interdenominational program was inaugurated last year at the Methodist-affiliated college and attracts students from 28 states. Having repaired 25 homes in last year's program, they are aiming for nearly 200 this year.

Those attending the program from Tecumseh were Mike Collier, Catherine Criss, Craig Davis, Jeff Downing, Kent Downing, Luann Hand, Barry Heifner, Colleen O'Brien, Paula Packard, Donald Porteous, Kathy Porteous, Mary Records, Sally Records, Dianne Schooley and Chris Stanifer. Counselors for the group were Mrs. Merlyn Downing, Charles O'Brien and the Rev. Donald Porteous.

Law Job Varied

By Bill Whiting

A policeman is many things to many people and Patrolman William Meni would be the first to agree that he has to be a little bit of everything. From traffic control to marriage counselling, the small town patrolman is by necessity, integrally involved with the community.

Though obviously concerned with the risk, frustration and heartbreak involved in police work. , Meni seems to understand his job in a special way which gives it a direction of purpose. He should, since he comes from a family of policemen, lawyers and guards in his native Marquette.

The young intent patrolman came to Tecumseh in 1966 after serving a year and a half with the Marquette City Police. Prior to that time he served four years with the U.S. Air Force stationed in California.

A patrolman on the busy 4 p.m. to midnight shift, Meni has a part in much of the action which accounts for the busiest period of the department's day. On patrol during the city's peak accident periods, he spends most of his duty hours on traffic control, although he also handles a steady stream of personal complaints.

"Our main objective is protecting people and their property, " Meni stated.

He noted that one aspect which distinguishes the smaller police agency is that local patrolmen follow through most cases on their own, whereas a bigger department would assign detectives to follow through on an investigation. He pointed out that Tecumseh patrolmen stay with a case until it is through the courts.

"If we get a complaint on a breaking and entering in progress," he said, "we respond, make contact with the property and follow through with the investigation. This includes taking photos, listing all damages and items taken, taking fingerprints, and checking witnesses and clues for evidence."

Breaking and entering accounts for Tecumseh's biggest felony complaint, according to Patrolman Meni. Homes are number one targets for thieves in search of small items and cash. Car and store thefts are also occasional targets, he said.

Although much criticism has been leveled at the amount of time patrolmen must spend in court, Meni said that is subject to a great deal of fluctuation.

"It will run in cycles," he said. "Sometimes you will make a bunch of arrests with guilty pleas entered and no trial. Then you might hit a time period when you're in court almost every other day."

He said his shift is likely to be in court more than the others because they deal with more people. However, the day shift patrolmen are the only ones likely to spend duty hours in court, while others go on their own time with "time and a half" overtime pay.

Meni said he likes the friendlier attitude of people in a small town, although he admits it can lead to complications.

"Many times you're dealing with personal friends," he said, "which can cause a conflict with the friendship. That's one drawback in a small town where you know everybody.

"On the other hand, if there's a problem, we usually get a person quicker because the information leaks out faster."

The tall, sharp-featured patrolman is particularly attuned to the emotional problems involved in police work. He is, for instance, especially wary of family fights, which he termed; "the touchiest and most dangerous situation a police officer has to put up with."

He said in such instances he acts as a peace officer-marriage counselor with his only objective to restore peace in the family-unless an assult has been made. It is potentially dangerous, he said, because one or more parties have usually been drinking.

"In six years I have never handled a family fight where liquor was not involved," he said.

Summer months and major holidays are the high points for family trouble, he observed.

"Our worst time is Christmas Eve," he said downcast. "It's heartbreaking for a police officer to see a kid over in a corner crying, his toys broken and his parents yelling. I've gone into places where the Christmas tree has been knocked down, the presents all ripped up and the toys broken into pieces."

For Meni, the hardest aspect of his job is handling fatal accidents, especially where children are involved and relatives must be informed.

"It does something to you, "he said softly, with a shadow of anguish. "And then they wonder why we hand out tickets for speeding. There is no easy way to break the news–all you have to say is 'dead'."

For Meni, a policeman is "just as human as the next guy." However, he makes one exception–he can't hold a personal grudge.

"If someone calls on me for help," he said earnestly, "I still have to help as much as I can."

Readers Write

To the Editor:

In letter to the Stated Clerk and the Council on Church and Race local Presbyterian protest.

The Session of the First United Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh seriously question the wisdom and propiety of the grant to the Angela Davis Defense Fund, and protests with all vigor.

In a special meeting, June 27, Session voted unanimously to register its protest with the Office of the General Assembly and with the Council on Church and Race. Furthermore, Session directed that the communication should be sent to the local papers for publication.

It is the studied conclusion of Session that this grant did not fall within the three basic principles on which the Emergency Fund for Legal Aid was established in 1970.

1. Equal justice is an unalienable right of every citizen of the United States.

2. Equal justice is too frequently equated with dollar value.

3. Our poor brothers and sisters are not always treated as 'innocent until proven guilty' because of lack of money for bail bonds and, in many cases, inadequate legal representation.

According to these principles and known facts, it seems to Session that the Angela Davis Defense Fund is not eligible for such aid.

Owing to the overtones of association with a revolutionary ideology having an avowed purpose of destroying both church and state, Session feels more strongly against this grant that the questioning action of the 183rd General Assembly. Merely to communicate to the Council on Church and Race "Its serious questions concerning the propiety of allocating $10,000 to the Marin County Black Defense Fund" is not adequate! Especially when the allocation was subsequently designated for the Angela Davis Defense Fund!

Session feels this grant was a misappropriation of church funds, and strongly repudiates such use and misuse!

Session also voted unanimously to commend the General Assembly for the establishment of the Emergency Fund for Legal Aid, and for continuing it another three years. But Session demands the Council on Church and Race disburse aid in strict agreement with the basic principles for which the fund was established!

As moderator of the Session, I concur with this action of Session. As an individual pastor, I regret the schism and divisiveness this action has set loose in the Church. Moreover, there is spreading distrust among laymen, and serious questionings of the Church's leadership as to their commitment to Christ and His kind of Mission, the intent and goals they have, and their wisdom in pursuing them.

The "grass-roots" laymen finance the faith and pay the bills of Mission. Many are voting against these leaders and their actions with their dollars and by becoming drop-outs from the United Presbyterian Church. Personally I think this particular grant was wrong in all ways! It is alienating rather than reconciling! It is more harmful than helpful! I am recommending they write their views to the office of the General Assembly and to COCAR.

Most Sincerely and Most Disappointedly,
Edmund I. Watkins,
Moderator of Session,
First United Presbyterian
Church of Tecumseh

Settlement Reached

Fred J. Kluin, president of Faraday, Inc., announced that a settlement of the Faraday patent infringement charge against Bell & Howell had been negotiated.

Faraday contended that Bell & Howell were infringing a basic patent describing the formula for lubricating magnetic tape owned by Faraday.

Both parties have agreed to permit Bell & Howell to continue production with the cash settlement payment by Bell & Howell to Faraday.

Kluin stated that the invention covered by the patent has made the use of the endless loop tape cartridge practical, and thereby has been responsible for the phenomenal growth of this segment of the music business.

"We will continue to press other patent infringers and will work toward settlements with each and every one of them," he said.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Three cheers for local Presbyterians. Finally they are taking a stand against the hierarchy in their denomination who with other National Council of Churches members have been selling their people down the river.

By her own admission, Angela Davis is doing all in her power to tear down Christianity. Certainly it seems inappropriate for the churches in this land of freedom of worship to help her at all, much less with thousands of dollars that God loving people gave for the furtherance of His work.

We have suggested in this column before that a look at some of the NCC mutually supported programs would not be amiss such as UNICEF but no one wants to believe that there is anything wrong within the churches and if there is - they don't want to hear about it. Again we suggest that readers make sure their dollars are used to support their faith, not undermine it.

THE KIDS

Early summer is the exciting time of year when an entirely new show is presented on the near-my-window feeder. The list of characters is young, young, young! There is a tendency to call them babies but they are a bit older than that; they are shaggy, gangly, awkward, unsure, long legged adolescents. The oldsters are still around of course, but being tired and worn out from the exhausting session of child rearing, they seem almost glad to be upstaged by their youngsters.

With a brash squawk and a loud thud a young bluejay plunks himself down on the feeder. His landing is far from perfect although improvement is noticeable every day. On one of the first tries he came in too fast and skidded off.

The appearance, however, of these young jays is what keeps us constantly amused. They are so funny looking with their shaggy feathers and disproportionately long legs. And then there is one who earns star billing by coming up for a quick snack straight from a splashingly good dip in the creek. His soft feathers are plastered tight to his body and oh, his waterstained breast is so dark. The ordinarily light gray feathers get splotchy and almost black when soaked. Quite a kid.

The tufted titmice are great entertainers too. At this age they have yet to acquire the trim neat slickness so characteristic of an adult. Their little topknots are hardly more than brushes, their legs too are long and skinny and about the only thing which is 'full grown' is their voice.

The other day one vocalized from center stage and we half expected the glass in the window to shatter. Another favorite is the titmouse who sunbathed on the feeder. Crouching down and hugging as close to the floor as possible, he spread his wings wide, ruffled the feathers on his back, fanned out his tail and even bristled up his topknot.

It was rather frightening to see and had we not known what was happening, it could have been very easy to think the poor little fellow was in trouble. Perhaps having a stroke or something.

Other birds have picked the feeder for their sunbathing spot too and perhaps an upside-down nuthatch put on the most shocking performance. We were truly worried the first time we saw him.

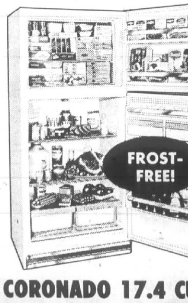

He went into the usual 'spread eagle' position and then proceeded to add his own personal touch – head flopped to one side, bill gaped open and even eyes rolled back. I was about to alert the rescue squad when the long billed bird righted himself and flew away. What a relief it was to see that he was all right.

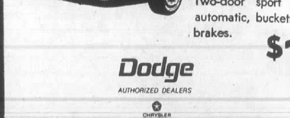

This year's leading nuthatch is a handsome fellow when he shows us his back. His feathers are smooth and the colors beautifully rich. When he turns around, however, all his grown up dignity is shattered. His light colored breast is full of dark spots and ragged feathers.

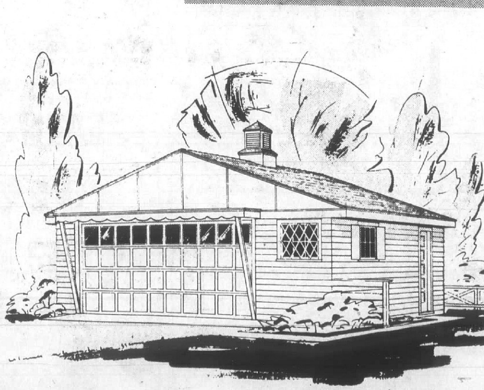

The super star of this whole adolescent review is a very very young male cardinal. He made his first appearance this morning and oh, how charming! His topknot was positively tiny, his face mask was absolutely nonexistant and his broad bill was still dull black. But it was his color that made us laugh. At first, young cardinals look much the same as their mothers. This little guy was just beginning to acquire his adult red and his soft fawn breast was peppered with bright red spots. Overgrown measles.

So it is that early summer is indeed the time of year to be royally entertained by the excellent show which, each and every day, is performed just outside my window by the kids.

Farmer Beats The Heat

By Bill Whiting

In these desert-dry days Lenawee farmers are highly susceptible to long cloudless days which send temperatures soaring. Under the sun's burning rays, rich soil cakes and cracks and bright green plants wither and turn to a bleak brown.

However, one Tecumseh farmer has decided he's going to beat the heat, even if it means starting something new.

Elmer Schultz bought a "small" 124-acre farm at 1796 E. Monroe Rd. two years ago - about a mile west of Tecumseh - and is just getting into production--with an operation unique in Lenawee County.

Taking his cue from city dwellers who pour gallons of water on their parched lawns during the summer, Schultz decided it might be worth his while to turn sprinklers on his plants. He dug a 12-inch well 151 feet deep on his property and now pumps up to 1,000 gallons per minute over 15 acres at a time. Light movable aluminum tubing makes his fields easily accessible to the 40-degree water.

However, the most unusual aspect of Schultz's farm is its produce. Unlike most other farms in the area, which grow feed and cash grain, Schultz is placing his bet on fruit and vegetables. For the time being, he is trucking produce to his own barn market until his fields are in full swing, but in the future, he says, it will be the other way around.

"Right now we're starting with the stuff that's available," said Schultz. "We didn't want to start until mid-July, but some items are getting scarce--like melons--because it's so dry this year."

"Later we'll be taking stuff to Detroit, too," he noted.

The short, browned farmer, slightly bent from years of caring for his demanding crops, came to Tecumseh from Cherry Hill, near Belleville, to realize a dream he has had for the last 25 years. He has been in the produce business for more than 40 years.

"I've been in produce ever since I could walk," Schultz said. "I've been in business for myself since '32. Before that, I worked with my dad, driving his truck and produce."

"I sold my place down there and got the small place here to see what I can do," he added.

Schultz seems to relish his new role as a retailer, especially since his is the only truck farm in the area. His small produce market, set up in a renovated barn is a source of particular pride. He made sure the old timber beams were left in place, as if he felt more at home with the old barn atmosphere.

Schultz is not nailed down to tradition, however, as the sparkling spray in his fields attest. But problems developed in addition to the high expense of starting his new venture, as a hard dry spell with hot winds whipping through his fields has resulted in the loss of many crops, particularly melons.

Jim Lentz, Schultz's son-in-law, said a hang-up in their well created problems.

"The well set us back three weeks," he said "So we couldn't irrigate as soon as we really needed it."

The pumps are working overtime now, though, and the first crops are being placed out on the tables of Schultz's small market. Soaked by the underground spray, the melons, corn, tomatoes, beans, cucumbers and squash make a tasty sight fresh from the earth.

Schultz estimates he will have "eight or nine" plantings of corn during the summer, which will allow for a fresh crop right up to the first frost. He also planted five kinds of beans, three types of peppers and two varieties of melons.

Although several generations separate him from his young helpers, Schultz has high praise for the high school age youths who work for him tending his fields.

"If it weren't for those high school kids, the rest of the people would starve to death," he noted. "You can tell the difference in the market when they start back to school in the fall – it drops off right there."

Schultz doesn't put all his faith in modern technology, though, "This well water isn't as good as rain water," he admitted. "One inch of rain would do a lot more good."

On Detroit Bench

Judge Yale Leland Kerby presided over 14 felony cases during the month of June in Detroit Recorders Court.

Judge Kerby stated it was quite an experience to preside over felonies of major and violent crimes. He noted crime was not lacking in Detroit and could not be compared to a comparative peaceful Lenawee County. Judge Kerby also observed that jurors of Lenawee County were more conscientious of their juror oaths than the Detroit jurors.

The cases Judge Kerby presided over were jury trials involving murder, rape, armed robbery, kidnapping, breaking and entering, possession of burglary tools and felonious assault crimes. Out of the 14 cases there were two convictions, murder and larceny from an auto.

On July 21, Judge Kerby has been assigned to the Detroit Recorders Court by the Michigan Supreme Court to pass sentence on the convicted felons.

'Y' Plans 8 Bus Trips

Lenawee YMCA's Summer trip Program gets into full swing July 9 for boys and girls 6-12 years of age by going to Toledo Zoo.

John Shaw, director, reports that YMCA will offer eight weekly bus trips to recreational and educational areas: July 16, Hayes State Park; July 23, Edgewater Amusement Park; Frontier Village, July 30; Greenfield Village on August 6 and a Tiger Ball Game Saturday, Aug. 21.

Taking his cue from city dwellers who pour gallons of water on their parched lawns during the summer, Schultz decided it might be worth his while to turn sprinklers on his plants. He dug a 12-inch well 151 feet deep on his property and now pumps up to 1,000 gallons per minute over 15 acres at a time. Light movable aluminum tubing makes his fields easily accessible to the 40-degree water.

However, the most unusual aspect of Schultz's farm is its produce. Unlike most other farms in the area, which grow feed and cash grain, Schultz is placing his bet on fruit and vegetables. For the time being, he is trucking produce to his own barn market until his fields are in full swing, but in the future, he says, it will be the other way around.

"Right now we're starting with the stuff that's available," said Schultz. "We didn't want to start until mid-July, but some items are getting scarce–like melons–because it's so dry this year."

"Later we'll be taking stuff to Detroit, too," he noted.

The short, browned farmer, slightly bent from years of caring for his demanding crops, came to Tecumseh from Cherry Hill, near Belleville, to realize a dream he has had for the last 25 years. He has been in the produce business for more than 40 years.

"I've been in produce ever since I could walk," Schultz said. "I've been in business for myself since '32. Before that, I worked with my dad, driving his truck and produce."

"I sold my place down there and got the small place here to see what I can do," he added.

Schultz seems to relish his new role as a retailer, especially since his is the only truck farm in the area. His small produce market, set up in a renovated barn is a source of particular pride. He made sure the old timber beams were left in place, as if he felt more at home with the old barn atmosphere.

Schultz is not nailed down to tradition, however, as the sparkling spray in his fields attest. But problems developed in addition to the high expense of starting his new venture, as a hard dry spell with hot winds whipping through his fields has resulted in the loss of many crops, particularly melons.

Jim Lentz, Schultz's son-in-law, said a hang-up in their well created problems.

"The well set us back three weeks," he said "So we couldn't irrigate as soon as we really needed it."

The pumps are working overtime now, though, and the first crops are being placed out on the tables of Schultz's small market. Soaked by the underground spray, the melons, corn, tomatoes, beans, cucumbers and squash make a tasty sight fresh from the earth.

Schultz estimates he will have "eight or nine" plantings of corn during the summer, which will allow for a fresh crop right up to the first frost. He also planted five kinds of beans, three types of peppers and two varieties of melons.

Although several generations separate him from his young helpers, Schultz has high praise for the high school age youths who work for him tending his fields.

"If it weren't for those high school kids, the rest of the people would starve to death," he noted. "You can tell the difference in the market when they start back to school in the fall – it drops off right there."

Schultz doesn't put all his faith in modern technology, though, "This well water isn't as good as rain water," he admitted. "One inch of rain would do a lot more good."

On Detroit Bench

Judge Yale Leland Kerby presided over 14 felony cases during the month of June in Detroit Recorders Court.

Judge Kerby stated it was quite an experience to preside over felonies of major and violent crimes. He noted crime was not lacking in Detroit and could not be compared to a comparative peaceful Lenawee County. Judge Kerby also observed that jurors of Lenawee County were more conscientious of their juror oaths than the Detroit jurors.

The cases Judge Kerby presided over were jury trials involving murder, rape, armed robbery, kidnapping, breaking and entering, possession of burglary tools and felonious assault crimes. Out of the 14 cases there were two convictions, murder and larceny from an auto.

On July 21, Judge Kerby has been assigned to the Detroit Recorders Court by the Michigan Supreme Court to pass sentence on the convicted felons.

Dennise Ivan, David Grinnell Wed

Dennise Eileen Ivan and David Gary Grinnell were united in marriage July 3 by the Rev. Gustav O. Hannevik at Congregational Church, Britton. Following a wedding trip to Northern Michigan, the couple will live at 446 Hampshire Drive in Belleville.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan, 12204 Monroe Rd., Britton and Mrs. Charles Grinnell of Clinton and the late Mr. Grinnell.

William Hetrick was the soloist, Thomas Koman played "Trumpeter's Wedding March" and Mrs. William Raeburn was the organist.

On the arm of her father, the bride wore an empire gown of peau d'ange lace and organza accented with clusters of pearls on the bodice and appliques of lace on the A-line skirt and train. Her floor length veil was secured to a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with pearls and she carried eucharist lilies, pompons, stephanotis and white roses.

Nine attendants preceded the bride to the altar. They were Mrs. David Csokasy, sister of the bride of Colorado Springs, as matron of honor; Mary Lee Duda, Mt. Clemens, maid of honor; Rita Vershum, Mrs. Ken Ivan, Melody Grinnell, sister of the groom, Judy Prochaska, Vicki Becker of Dearborn, cousins of the bride, and Ana Carlotta Gonzales of Oviedo, Spain, exchange student with the bride, as bridesmaids. June Cevora of Allen Park was junior bridesmaid and Wendy Benedict niece of the bride, and Kelly Grinnell, niece of the groom, were flower girls.

All wore Victorian gowns of silk chiffon with bishop sleeves, stand up ruffle collars and print pant skirts. Mrs. Csokasy's was lavendar with aqua print and so were the flower girls and the others were aqua bodices with aqua print skirts.

All carried topiary balls with flowers matching their dresses.

George Nagel, of Dexter, was best man and Michael, Lynn and Jeffrey, brothers of the groom, Al Roberts, Ken Ivan, brother of the bride, Tom Horton and Phil Blatchford were the ushers. Chuck Grinnell, nephew of the groom, was junior usher.

A reception for 700 guests was held at Hickory Park Hall, Ida.

The bride, a 1969 graduate of Britton High School, attended Western Michigan University for two years and is affiliated with Sigma Kappa Sorority. She has been employed at Tecumseh Country Club for the past two summers.

A graduate of Clinton High School in 1967, the groom has completed his first year at Washtenaw Community College after spending three years in the U.S. Marine Corps. He is employed at Ford Motor Co. Saline plant.

The groom's mother hosted the rehearsal dinner at Rock Inn.

DR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS KIRBY

Pamela K. Calhoun, Douglas F. Kirby Wed

CLINTON–An original ceremony composed by Earl Lawrence, pastor of the United Church of Christ, united in marriage Pamela K. Calhoun and Douglas F. Kirby, DDS, Friday evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Calhoun, Clinton-Macon Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kirby, Hillsdale.

Thirty-five members of the immediate families were present for the candlelight ceremony in the church. The altar was enhanced with a bouquet of white gladioli, pompon chrysanthemums and accents of yellow daisies.

Mrs. Larry Dicks, of Saline, played a prelude of organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a daytime length dress of white georgette crepe over angelskin taffeta. Lace appliques accented the empire waistline and the cuffs of the long full sleeves. She wore a shoulder-length mantilla.

Yellow rose buds were scattered through the bride's bouquet of daisies, chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

Mrs. John Seay of Tecumseh was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a lemon yellow daytime dress of shadow-striped sheer. White lace appliques edged the empire waist and cuffs of the long full sleeves.

She carried a white basket filled with yellow and white daisies and chrysanthemums.

Gowns worn by the bride and her sister were made by the bride's mother. Floral arrangements were all by Mrs. Seay.

David Kirby, Kalamazoo, was his brother's best man.

Guests were seated by Terry Calhoun, brother of the bride, and John Wakeford of Tecumseh, brother-in-law of the groom. Johnny Seay, nephew of the bride, was the bell ringer.

Reception for 35 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Seay, 605 Adrian St., Tecumseh. Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Adams, Tecumseh, assisted the hosts. Bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Follis, were among the guests.

Lace-edged daisy bowls held yellow candles in glass hurricane lamps, which centered small tables on the patio. Mrs. James Miller, Manchester, poured punch.

Bride's cake was topped with a nosegay of fresh daisies. The cake, made by Mrs. Robert Hunt, was decorated with yellow and white daisy motif. Mrs. Wakeford, sister of the groom, served.

'King' Production A Royal Success

By Maxine Calhoun

Woes of the world seemed to blow away as "Whistle a Happy Tune" set the pace for the charming presentation of "The King and I" at the Croswell Opera House in Adrian.

Tecumseh's versatile couturier, hair stylist and professional dancer, Evel Garrido, demonstrated another dimension of his talent, in his first dramatic role as the lead.

Evel's portrayal of the King of Siam gained authenticity by his native Spanish accent, and his adept gestures, stance, and facial expressions gave continuity to the role in the few places where his words could not be understood.

Suzie Hickman maintained a poised and authoritative command of her role as Anna, the English school teacher, who went to Siam to teach the language to the King's household, and ended up educating the King in the ways of the World.

Miss Hickman, only 18, and a June graduate of Adrian High School, last year starred in the lead in "Carousel" at the Croswell summer theatre. Her outstanding music ability has earned her a scholarship to the School of Music at Depauw University for this fall. It was no small task to retain a British accent throughout the lyrics of her songs, as well as in her spoken lines.

Richly hued, lavish costuming, designed by Garrido, added flesh to the bones of the stark oriental setting, and made it all come alive for the audience.

Point in time for the musical is during the American Civil War. One sequence has a slave girl, Tuptim, reading from Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," as a stylized ballet entitled "Small House of Uncle Thomas" featured Bill Heimerdinger as the Angel-George who rescues Eliza from King Simon of Legree.

Princes and princesses are scene stealers as they march out for their presentation by the king to their new teacher. Jason Woods, of Britton, was a little prince and his mother, Kim Woods, was one of the royal wives. Philip Gamer, Tipton, also played a young prince.

Michael Sharpe was one of the priests, and Mary Tooman, also of Tecumseh, was an Amazon.

Audrey Wight, Clinton, one of the graceful dancing snowflakes, will have one of the lead roles in the upcoming "Sweet Charity."

"King and I" has been extended for one more weekend, July 9, 10, 11, with all performances starting at 7:30 p.m.

Great entertainment for a summer's eve, and you'll come away humming all those lovely melodies you remember so well.

2 Escape Injury As Car Hits Tree

CLINTON–Dennis Thomas, 18, 2340 US-12, and his passenger, Michael Baldwin, 18, 13997 E. Michigan Ave., escaped injury when Thomas failed to negotiate a sharp curve on Mull Hwy., north of US-12, and his car hit a tree.

Mishap occurred Saturday at 6 p.m.

Robert Kiebler of Wamplers Lake, received his masters degree at Michigan State University in education. He is a graduate of Clinton High School and received his BS at Western Michigan University. He also attended Eastern Michigan University. He is a former Tecumseh teacher. Mr. Kiebler resides at Wamplers Lake with his wife and family. His mother is Mrs. Harold Kiebler of Clinton.

Original ceremony was held in a lakeside setting at Paw Paw Lake. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson, Paw Paw Lake.

Full Circle

By Maxine Calhoun

How imponderable are the ways in which we come full circle to the ways of our forefathers.

We are ever changing our modes of living to accomodate to fashion's decree.

Our daughter Pam's wedding had no measured march to "Here Comes the Bride," instead a popular melody was the groom's choice for the stroll down the aisle by our "now" generation, mini-skirted bride and her father.

Ceremony was specially composed by the pastor with this particular couple in mind. An intimate, meaningful service, which had a more personal message than the familiar "Dearly beloved--" routine ceremony used at weddings for generations.

Then, midst all this evidence of the new–suddenly, it seems a full circle has been made–as the wide, wide, plain gold band was slipped on our slender bride's hand. Her choice of ring is one which exactly matched the ring worn so well for 64 years on her grandmother's hand.

Memoriam

In Memory of Alfred H. Jewell who passed away 7 years ago July 10.
The day you passed away Dad
We thought our death-struck hearts would break with pain;
But that was just the overture to grief;
And missing you, the life-long
sad refrain.
Sadly missed by your wife, children and grandchildren. 7-8c
